City Yesterday-The Address of Welcome The twenty-third annual session of the Medical Society of the State of West Virginia opened at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the chamber of the Second branch of the City Council at the City Building. The attendance was fairly good, twenty-two doctors answering to heir names at the opening roll call.

The President, Dr. S. H. Austin, of Lewisburg, not yet having arrived, Dr. L. D. Wilson was chosen Temporary Chairman, Dr. L. F. Stifel, as Chairman of the local Committee on Arrangements, intile fellow, lying in the grass with his face down. Thinking he was leigning sleep and knew of their presence, one of them gave him a kick. He did not move, and they examined him and found that his head was baddy hurt.

They carried him home, where an irregular hole two inches wide and nearly as long was found in his skull. Dr. Robert J. Reed and Dr. George Baird were called. They found that the skull had been lifted away from the brain and was hanging by shreds of skin in three places, leaving the brain exposed. Ten splinters of bone were taken out of the brain and a number of sharp projections had to be cut away from around the hole. The only explanation of how the accident could have happened is that the horse kicked him, and the shoe calk cutting through the skull, lifted out the whole piece. The boy has not been conscious yet, and cannot tell anything about the occurrence. He is in a very dangerous condition.

MR. PRESIDENT AND GENTLEMEN OF THE MEDICAL SOCIETY OF WEST VINGINIA:
On the part of my colleagues of the Committee of Arrangements I bid you a cordial welcome at this, your twenty-third annual session. Of the sixteen physicians who signed the circular, seven were from Wheeling.

Of the sixteen physicians who signed the circular, seven were from Wheeling, and of those seven only two are with us now to take an active part in our proceedings. One of these two presided when the Society was organized in 1867, and the other was elected President for the ensuing year at the same meeting. The former is Dr. W. J. Bates and the latter Dr. John Frissell. The deep concern of the physicians of this city for the well-fare of our Society is also evidenced by the large, number of papers by Wheeling the large number of papers by Wheelin physicians published in our transaction

It is particularly gratifying for us to It is particularly gratilying for us to welcome you because of the progress made by the Society during the past four meetings, held in a portion of the State which heretofore was hardly represented. Some of the older members were not entirely free from misgivings when it was decided at Weston that the Society should meet the following year at a city where we had but one member, but the missionary work proved successful the missionary work proved successful, and to-day the Society is stronger, not only as to number of members, but in the acquisition of men whom we hon for their ability and high profession for their ability and high professional standing.

To-day the Medical Society of the State of West Virginia is worthy of its name, as it now represents not only a particular section, but the entire State.

Our State has now reached a stage of prosperity which is indeed gratifying. And this sur-face is being pierced to reach the lower tures are springing up. And this surface is being pierced to reach the lower strata, to bring the mineral wealth with which nature has so richly endowed us from the darkness in which it has been slumbering to the light of day. While these rapid strides of progress do not interest us as an organization directly, yet it behooves us to stop and reflect and rsk if the highest stratum, the intellect, the brain of our State, is keeping it pace with the progress apparently made in other directions. We, as members of a liberal profession, should take a deep interest in this portion of the progress of our State.

do what we can towards a normal development of the brain.

While not wishing to underrate the value of that wonderful storage battery, the memory, yet has not the time come when we should enter our protest against that system of education which is converting human brains into music boxes? This method of education is putting forth all its efforts to train the brain to play as many tunes as possible. And when wound up at the examination these tunes are repeated with an accuracy which at first is startling and with a monotony which soon grows accuracy which at first is startling and with a monotony which soon grows wearisome. Often the fine mechanism of our music box breaks down when worked too much, and it soon becomes rusty when not in use for a short time. Would it not be well that we remind our educators that the human brain has other functions to perform than simply to exercise memory, and that the grandest, the most sublime function of man is to think?

were preceded up the aisle by the bushers, Mr. Louis Blue, a brother of the groom, and Mr. H. W. Paull, of Wellsburg, Mr. A. W. Paxton, of Washington, Pa., and Mr. Arthur Hubbard, of this city. The bride's-maids were Misses tyrrginia, Florida and Ellen Hoge and Miss Annie Blue.

The bridal party was met at the chancel roul by the groom, who advanced from the side, leaning on the arm of his best man, Dr. E. A. Hildreth.

Rev. R. R. Swope officiated, and the ceremony was the impressive one of the Protestant Episcopal Church. Mr. Hoge gave away the bride.

The ceremony over, Mr. and Mrs. Blue were made the recipients of an impromptu reception, at which congratulations were showered upon them. They left in the afternoon for a tour of the lakes, and on their return will reside in Wellsburg, where Mr. Blue and his brother are the owners of the Wellsburg foundry.

formation of no little value to persons troubled with indigestion:

"For years the Editor of the Post, has been subject to cramp colic or fits of indigestion, that prostrated him for several hours and unfitted him for business for two or three days afterward. About a year ago we called on S. J. Butcher, druggist, and asked for something to ward off an attack, that was already making life hideous. Mr. Butcher handed us a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhora Remedy. We took the medicine according to directions, and not only found relief on that occasion, but have several times since tried it's virtues and found relief in every instance. We take this method of acknowledging the benefits derived and recommending the cure to all others subject to indigestion." For sale by C. R. Goetze, John Klari, W. W. Irwin, W. E. Williams and C.
