

LUCK FOR MCKINLEY.

A Southerner Sends Him the Left Hind Foot of a Graveyard Rabbit.

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Sept. 30.—Robert R. Murray, a prominent attorney here, yesterday received a letter from William H. Hazeltine, conductor on a railroad at Pine Bluff, Ark., with an enclosure addressed to Hon. William McKinley, Jr., requesting that Mr. Murray should forward it. The enclosure consisted of an open letter to Major McKinley and a gold mounted left hind foot of a rabbit. The concluding portion of the letter was as follows: "To prove to you that you have at least one friend in the solid South I send you this mascot which I assure you is the left hind foot of a graveyard rabbit and is sure to bring luck to its owner. Hoping it may retain its virtue while in your possession and that you may win the gubernatorial race in a gallop as well as any other race your friends may enter you in, I remain your friend, Wm. Hazeltine."

"HOLD YOUR CROP."

Alliance Officials Out With Two More Circulars—Donnelly's Argument.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 30.—Two more wheat "hold-your-crop" circulars are out. The first is from Ignatius Donnelly, president of the Minnesota Alliance, who urges farmers to hold their wheat for thirty days longer. In the second, he says: "I think every intelligent man in Minnesota knows that wheat is now selling at far below its actual value, but the Alliance, as an organization, has not taken the responsibility of giving any advice on their function to do so, and a hazardous experiment to make in an official way. But it is clear that if not a bushel of wheat is sold in Minnesota by the farmers during the next thirty days, that the wheat pits of Chicago, New York and London would be full of dead wheat, and the farmers would get for their wheat crop what it is really worth."

The State will come out on Friday with another circular. The contents of the circular are much the same as those of the last one. This one simply takes up the wheat situation where the other left off. The crops of the ten years from 1880 to 1890 are taken as the basis of computation, and the circular holds that there is danger of exporting too much wheat.

The circular argues that higher prices for wheat does not necessarily mean more expensive bread.
