IS GOOD IN CHINA?

Dr. Lewis Takes a Decided Negative on the Question.

HIS EXPERIENCE AND LESSON.

He Has Learned From It Detailed in His Lecture Against Young Lady Chinese School Teachers—China-men Who Wanted to Debate the Question Barred Out.

New York, Jan. 7.—The Rev. Dr. N. A. Lewis, who has been conducting a crusade against the teaching of Chinese in Sunday schools by young ladies, delivered a lecture in the hall of the Young Men's Christian Association building, Fulton street, Brooklyn, last night under police protection. There did not seem to be any need for police, but they were there just the same. Four of Brooklyn's stalwart officers were in the hall when Dr. Lewis walked on the stage, accompanied by the Rev. Dr. Fulton. There was a small audience, but it was deeply agitated when five Chinamen stalked down the middle aisle and ostentatiously took front seats, carefully laying their overcoats across the seat backs.

There was a painful pause. Dr. Lewis looked at the Chinamen. The latter returned the gaze. The policeman moved toward the front. Then one of the Chinamen, who wore glasses, solemnly arose and asked Dr. Lewis if they would be allowed to debate the Chinese question with the lecturer. Dr. Lewis emphatically said they would not. He had not come there to debate, but to lecture. The Chinamen had the same means of replying. Then the five Chinamen solemnly donned their overcoats and walked out.

Two policemen executed a flank movement and followed the Chinamen out. The Chinaman with the spectacles is said to have been the Rev. Mr. Thomas, the Chinese preacher who last week made a spirited reply to Dr. Lewis' previous lecture. He said with a sneer as he passed the doortender: "That man is a coward."

The policemen remained in the hall throughout the lecture and escorted Dr. Lewis to the street at its conclusion. Dr. Lewis said he did not need any further protection and the officers disappeared.

Dr. Lewis spoke for two hours. He was frequently interrupted by applause. He had decided to address the public, after having been assailed by the Chinese and their teachers, from a lecture platform and through the press, and not before a gathering of excited Chinamen and their equally excited teachers. He had received letters commending the stand he had taken from every quarter of the country. He spoke of his eleven years of missionary work among the Chinese on the Pacific coast, and in the South Seas. During his work among the Chinamen he had been led to ask himself whether it was wise to admit them into the church, or even the country. He had learned their vices, and questioned this wisdom. He was convinced that a change must be made in teaching them, and men or mature women must be chosen as their teachers. They should be taught rapidly, so that they could return to their home soon as missionaries.

Dr. Lewis told of his work among "the heathen" in California and of the indorsement of his labors from China, at home and in Tahiti, where he had labored. In Tahiti the young girls could not go to church or to see the green fields, because they would be stolen by the Chinamen.

The speaker was opposed to the giving of presents by teachers or their pupils. He saw a costly silk shawl given to a young lady teacher by a Chinaman pupil recently, and thought it would be better had the money been given to poor Chinamen. He was opposed to costly picnics gotten up by the young lady and girl teachers of the Chinamen. A Chinaman recently said to a fellow clergyman: "No girl teacher, no come to Sunday school." If Irishmen, Hungarians and Italians were invited to attend Sunday school on the guarantee of having pretty girl teachers, there would be a public outcry.

The speaker declared that the Chinamen were immoral, and dangerously so. He protested against the exposure of young girls and women to their contact. He said that the rich Chinese merchants were notorious bigamists. Their immorality was so terrible that it constituted a menace to the country. In California slavery was openly practiced by the Chinese. Girls were sold from $500 to $2,500 apiece.

He told of the fights made by Christian societies to rescue these girls, and never heard of Dr. Thomas or any other Chinaman assisting in the work. High-binders even offered rewards to kidnap these rescued girls.

Dr. Lewis is bitterly opposed to intermarriage between American girls and Chinamen and Chinese immigration.

The First Execution.

The execution creditors are W. L. Taylor and John Satterfield, of Buffalo, N. Y. This is the first execution on the judgment of $23,000 which was secured against Mr. Sanderson.

THE BELGIAN WORKINGMAN.

His Pay, His Bill of Fare and His Hours of Work.

London Truth of December 17, 1891.

I was talking some time ago to a Belgian who has a manufactory in a Belgian village. The working hours are from six in the morning until six in the evening, with about one-half hour for meals. The men work for six days a week and a half and earn about 39 francs (or, say, $7.50 American money). There is a sick fund and an old age fund, to both of which the subscription is obligatory. Almost all the workmen have bought themselves homes with large gardens, and they work in their gardens after six during week days and on the Sunday afternoons. The man has some coffee and bread before going to his work. He takes some bread and lard with him and eats it at nine. At twelve his dinner is sent to him by his wife. It consists of bread, lard and a large dish of vegetables, which come from his garden. On his return from work he has his supper, which consists of bread and soup. As he keeps a pig and fowls and rabbits, on Sunday he adds to this some bacon, or a fowl, or a rabbit. All this, said my friend, is based upon the house and the garden. The men's aim is to become owners as soon as possible, for they say that with a garden no man need starve. "How do they save enough to get a house?" I asked. "Some of the houses here do not cost them £20. They first buy the land. If there is a house on it they leave its value on mortgage, which they gradually pay off. When it is paid off they add to the house. If there is no house they build one. At first it is a mere hovel, but gradually it gets better and larger. But whatever it is, they like it, because it is their own." "And do they drink?" I asked. "No," he said. "The wife manages everything. The entire wages are handed over to her. She gives her husband 10 centimes (a penny, or 2 cents American money) each day to buy beer. On Sunday evenings he has a trifle more, and goes to an establishment where beer is sold out of a cask, and the men play games to see which is to pay. They never drink spirits. The only luxury that they permit themselves is smoking; but were a man to spend more than 4 pence per week in tobacco he would be regarded as a reckless spendthrift." "Do they complain of long hours in the factory?" I asked. "Far from it," he replied. "If they had their way they would work longer for more pay; but this we would not permit, as we wish them to be healthy and to have time to work in their gardens."

FINANCE AND TRADE.

The Features of the Money and Stock Markets.

New York, Jan. 7.—Money on call easy, ranging from 2 1/2 to 3 per cent. Last week 3 per cent. Money on time, 4 to 5 per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 6 to 7 per cent. Exchange quiet and firm at $1 1/2 for gold. Sales $27,000 shares.

The stock market to-day was by all odds the most active we had had since the revival of business last fall, but while displaying a strong upward tendency during most of the day yielded throughout to a list in the last hour, and all the early gains were wiped out. The movement started by a sudden drop in the price of the railroads, which were believed to have been the result of a settlement with the shorts in that class of stocks. The movement was followed by a sudden drop in the price of the whole list, which the bulls did not appear to make any strong resistance, the more prominent among them expressing the opinion that this reaction would bring in a fresh lot of buyers.

The forenoon's doings were marked by great strength all round, but the upward movement in the afternoon was not so strong. The list was very large, and that stock rose above 50 on heavy transactions, bringing the whole list along with it. Other particularly strong stocks were American Express, which advanced 1/2, and St. Paul, together with many of the low priced specialties, among which Louisville, New Albany and Chicago & Texas were prominent. The market was not so strong in the afternoon, but the list was very active, but weak generally at the lowest prices of the day. The important increases include Chicago Gas 1/2, Louisville & Nashville 1/2, Chicago, Cleveland & Western 1/2, Erie 1/2, and the following: Railroad bonds mostly steady at $124.00. Government and state bonds steady.
