Marriage Licenses Issued. Marriage licenses were yesterday issued to the following named parties: John L. Wright, aged twenty-two, and Ella B. McEntee, aged eighteen, both natives and residents of Wheeling. Anthony Korn, aged twenty-four, and Hannah E. Ebberts, aged twenty-one, both of Wheeling.

Transfers Recorded. Clerk Hook yesterday admitted to record three deeds for cemetery lots and other transfers as follows: January 11 by Martha M. Burt to William P. McKelvey, for $5, a lot on the north end of the Island.

December 24 by John H. Hobbs, C. W. Brockunier and William Leighton and their wives to the Schmulbach Brewing company, for $1,200, lots 5 and 6 in square 40 in Spring & Ritchie's addition to South Wheeling.

A Warrant Issued. Yesterday Squire Arkle issued a warrant for Constable Stanton McMasters, of Jefferson county, Ohio, on the charge of kidnapping the Hungarian, Henry Molnar, whose case has been narrated in the INTELLIGENCER. Chief of Police McNichol will go out to Mt. Pleasant today to arrest McMasters. If possible he will be induced to come to this state without a requisition, but if not then he will be locked up in Ohio and a requisition obtained from Governor Fleming.

Employment for the Puddlers. Notices were posted in the Benwood mill last Saturday notifying the employes that thirty puddling furnaces will start up this week, on double turn. The company will start up as soon as the metal arrives. The news that the puddlers were going on spread like wildfire, and a number of faces not seen for many months in Benwood were to be seen yesterday. There will be plenty of men to take the furnaces, and some will be disappointed. The resumption of operations means a new era of prosperity for that town.

In the Circuit Court. In the circuit court yesterday the case of Mrs. J. Klaphack vs. Charles V. Scott was dismissed on plaintiff's motion.

In the case of the First National Bank of Detroit vs. D. M. Campbell et al. the demurrer was overruled.

In the case of Charles Theiss vs. the Wheeling Butchers' Association a verdict was rendered for the defendant, and the plaintiff entered a motion for a new trial.

In the case of Edward L. Miller vs. Harry L. Wheat, late H. L. Wheat & Co., a verdict of $329.41 was rendered for the plaintiff.

The case of B. T. Bowers vs. John and William Shepherd was docketed, having been sent here from the Wetzel county court, the judge there having been counsel for the defense. In the same case an amended answer was filed.

Up to the Times.

Bedilion & Co. announce in another column that they are now making the royal flour at their mills, east of this city, at the rate of seventy-five barrels a day, all from selected wheat. Their mill was established in 1782, by Moses Sheppard, and it is to-day one of the best equipped in the country, using the latest improved centrifugal machinery, the same as is used in the great north-west mills, and the cleaning machinery is the best in the land. The flour is not only made by the best process yet invented, but it has stood the test of use, which is the decisive test of flour. Bedilion & Co. also manufacture a high grade of corn meal. Housekeepers will find it to their advantage to try their products, and they will be found to compare favorably with the fancy Minnesota brands.

The Broom Maker.

The New York Times speaks as follows of James Reilly, who commences at the Grand to-morrow evening, in his fine drama, "The Broom Maker of Carlsbad." Mr. Reilly is a true artist on the stage and cannot fail to please any audience. "Etta" and "Hans" were also pleasing characters withal. It is thought that a return date can be given in several weeks, and if the arrangements can be made the company may depend on a hearty reception.

OH, MY! WHAT WEATHER

About the Worst Spell Experienced Here for Years.

FEARS OF A FLOOD ARE AWAKENED

And the Reports from Above do Not Alay Them—Ice, Rain, Slush and Everything that is Unpleasant Make the Day Memorable for Wheelingites—The Creek.

ESTERDAY was a day that will not soon be forgotten by the people of Wheeling. In the early morning the streets were so icy that walking was impossible on the sidewalks and dangerous in the streets. As the day wore on the weather became even more disagreeable without making the streets less dangerous. Rain fell a large part of the day, and far into the night, and almost without cessation after dark. Slush was everywhere, and the temperature was just cold enough to be unpleasant.

It was known that there was a good deal of snow in the mountains, and not a little in the valleys, and the rain coming on top of this caused no little uneasiness in the minds of residents of the Island and other low grounds. The reports from above did not ease these fears much, although so far there is no reason to apprehend anything more than an ordinary freshet.

When the rainfall began to impress itself on the minds of people as unusual, the first thought was for the safety of the Main street stone bridge. There were rumors afloat that it was in danger, but the grounds for fear were slight. The ice in the creek was light, and it ran out early in the day without doing any harm. The running out of the creek could do no harm unless the current carried with it a large amount of heavy logs and other debris, and that would not probably do worse than to carry away the false work, leaving the arch uninjured.

There were falls innumerable yesterday, and the man who escaped altogether, if he was outdoors at all, was in great luck. The number of serious accidents was, however, remarkably few. In the early part of the day the telephone and telegraph wires were cut out of use altogether, but by noon or a little later this was remedied. The street cars could not run in the first few hours that they usually come out, and they ran with difficulty all day, but they managed to do some sort of service for most of the day.

PECULIAR DECISIONS

Made by the Mayor in the Police Court Yesterday Morning.

In the police court yesterday morning there were but four cases. Thomas Madden and D. Park, of Martin's Ferry, who called Joe Korn, a North Wheeling saloon keeper, a vile name, were brought up for disorder. The mayor decided that to call a man by that epithet did not make him what he was called, and that the men were not disorderly unless blows were struck.

A tramp, arrested by Officer Scalley, was fined $1 and costs for being drunk, and not having the money was given fifteen days on the hill, but the sentence was suspended on his promising to leave town in fifteen minutes.

A woman testified that she had bought and drank beer in Pat McGinley's place on Sunday, and that half a dozen others were drinking there. One man said he was in the place and got a glass of ginger ale, and another man said he was there, but was so drunk he did not know what he had got. McGinley was pronounced not guilty.

The State Line Railroad.

President A. E. Succop, of the Pittsburgh, Canonsburg & State Line Railroad Company, is closing up the right of way plans of the company and expects to have the road under control early this spring. The part of the road that will be first completed is between Pittsburgh and Wellsburg. The road, as now located, keeps down the right bank of the Chartiers creek, from Canonsburg to Van Eman's station, thence up the south branch of Chartiers creek, and then east via McMurray, Library and Castle Shannon, entering South Side, Pittsburgh, through a tunnel under Mount Washington. On the 15th of October, 1891, ground was broken for the road on the farm of John D. Little in Chartiers township, Washington county, Pa., and work was continued until bad weather compelled cessation.

The Most Pleasant Way of preventing the grippe, colds, headaches, and fevers is to use the liquid laxative remedy Syrup of Figs, whenever the system needs a gentle, yet effective cleansing. To be benefited one must get the true remedy manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only. For sale by all druggists in 50c. and $1 bottles.

DRESS GOODS, Cloths, Silks, Black Cashmeres—some about one-third regular prices. Remnant Sale Friday. STONE & THOMAS.
