

A QUORUM OBTAINED.

By Council and the Police Rules Ordinance Passed.

FRANK GRUSE'S LITTLE BILL PAID.

G. P. Wharton Gets His License at Last--No. 927 Market Street to be an Italian Saloon--The Mayor Denies a Charge of "Jaunting" about.

The members of the City Council seemed to be in earnest about having a meeting last night, and got to work promptly at 8 o'clock, as a quorum was present in both branches.

A license to keep a saloon at No. 927 Market street was granted to Nicholas Asselta, who formerly kept a candy store in Evangelistic hall.

The report of the committee on petitions recommending the annulment of G. F. Wharton's license at No. 927 Market street, the place for which a license had just been granted to Nicholas Asselta, and the granting to Wharton of a license to keep a saloon at the Dennis house, Wharton's application for the Dennis house was referred back to the committee on petitions and remonstrances.

The second branch had already granted a license at No. 927 Market street, the very place that the committee had recommended to be closed.

G. F. Wharton, the man whom the committee wanted a license granted to, got left by Council.

The report of the committee had been misunderstood by most members of the second branch, and as soon as they discovered that they had acted in opposition to the report of the committee, they voted to reconsider their action on Wharton's application.

On reconsideration Mr. Wharton got his license and Ed Dennis his rebate.

To confer with the Board of County Commissioners on the election booth question, a committee of eight, one member from each ward, was appointed.

The report of the committee on accounts was received and filed. According to this report, Frank Gruse got $150 for his attendance as judge of the police court during the absence of Mayor C. W. Seabright.

The committee found that Council had appointed Mr. Gruse as police judge during the mayor's absence, and that he therefore ought to be paid for his services.

There was some opposition to the payment of Frank Gruse's bill in the first branch. Captain Otto thought that the amount paid to Mr. Gruse should be deducted out of the mayor's salary. He didn't think the city should pay for the "jaunting around" of one of its officials.

Mayor Seabright objected to the term "jaunting around," and claimed that he left the city only in cases of necessity, but that even if he left the city for four months at a time that was his business and not the city's.

Mr. Emsheimer moved that the payment of Mr. Gruse's bill be refused. In calling the roll Captain Otto voted against the city paying Mr. Gruse's bill. He thought Mr. Gruse ought to be paid, but he claimed it ought to be deducted from the mayor's salary. The bill was finally ordered paid.

The city clerk was authorized to have 500 copies of his annual report printed, and to have it published once in each daily paper in the city.

Council granted the fire committee's request, that the city solicitor be instructed to draw up an ordinance, placing the fire plugs under the charge of the fire department.

A communication reciting the thanks of the widow and children of the late Dr. Baird for the resolutions adopted by Council on the death of the doctor was received and filed, and the committee having in charge the preparation of the memorial was discharged.

The ordinance establishing grades in the territory torn up by the Terminal company in the neighborhood of Caldwell's run passed its first reading and was laid over under the rules.

The first branch formally adopted the ordinance providing:

RULES AND REGULATIONS for the police department, with several amendments of minor importance. The second branch concurred in all the amendments and the ordinance was passed.

Mr. Kenney offered a resolution instructing the committee on fire department to consider the advisability of abolishing the extramural system, and in lieu thereof appoint for every house having two sets of apparatuses one additional paid man, and the chief, when in need of help at fires, to employ as much help as necessary at so much an hour, as the committee may see fit.

Mr. Emsheimer handed in a communication from H. L. Freisler, in which he offers to deliver natural gas into the city. It was referred to the proper committee.

Mr. Freisler's offer has already been printed in the INTELLIGENCER. The following department bills were ordered paid.

Board of Public Works.....$2,612 83
Accounts.....57 56 00
Fire.....788 72
F. L. Hoge (making grades).....183 30

The Challenge Accepted. Yesterday's Washington, Pa., Journal says: Washingtonians who enjoy exhibitions of good shooting will have an opportunity of seeing something fine in this line this winter. The Washington Gun club recently received a challenge from the Wheeling Island club for three team shooting matches, and has decided to accept and endeavor to show the West Virginia people a thing or two about the use of a gun.

NO THINGS have yet been received of the body of Mr. D. M. Carey, who was drowned in the creek last week. All along the river searching parties have scoured and dragged the bottom for the remains, but without any result so far.

A curious accident happened to a passenger engine on the C. & P. road the other evening. The boiler sprung a leak and gave completely out just above the Bellaire nail works. It was the last train down and it was an hour getting in from there, and many of the passengers had a very uncomfortable wait.

The interest taken by the public in the engagement of Richard Golden at the Opera House Saturday night in "Old Jed Prouty" has not been exceeded by the popular interest in any amusement event for a long time. Unless all signs fail he will have a packed house. The sale of seats opens at C. A. House's music store to-morrow morning.

The old fashioned and very acceptable winter weather which prevailed for some time reasserted itself yesterday, and a great deal of snow fell, and remained on the ground, making good sleighing. Last night the predicted cold wave seemed to be getting here. All the cutters were out, and there were a number of fine coasting tracks crowded with boys, big and little, and some girls, on the steep streets of East Wheeling.

HEIL'S DOG THE WINNER.

The fight comes off at Etnaville after several failures

AND IKE SMITH'S CUR LOSES QUICK

Only a Small Crowd Present in the Hall to Watch the Event, and Many Sports were Disgusted because they got no Tip--Only three Pittings Necessary for the Smaller Dog to Liek.

A dog fight in which Wheeling dogs were the participants took place at Etnaville yesterday morning. The fight, said to have been for a purse of $500, was witnessed by from sixty to seventy-five persons.

Wheeling sports have been taking considerable interest in the fight for the past week, and it was announced to take place at the Baltimore & Ohio tunnel east of the city on Monday night or yesterday morning, but for some reason it did not come off there.

Some of the boys say the weather was too cold to have it at the tunnel and they unexpectedly decided to go to Etnaville, while others assert that it was originally intended to have the fight at Etnaville and the tunnel story was merely a blind. Those who went to the tunnel were fooled. A number were seen going in that direction Monday night.

The Wheeling crowd met at several places on this side at an early hour yesterday morning and left for Etnaville, going by way of the new bridges and making the trip in cabs and other vehicles.

The party arrived in the town with the big mills about 3 a. m., and spent some time hunting for a well known sport, intending to have the fight in his house, but they failed to find him and went to John Peltz and made arrangements to have the fight come off in his hall, in a large three-story brick building, the largest in Etnaville. Peltz has a saloon and pool room on the first floor. The second floor is occupied as a dwelling and the entire third floor by the hall, which will accommodate several hundred persons.

With Patsy Gavin as timekeeper, the fight commenced about 3:30, and lasted for nearly two hours. The dogs were owned by ex-Policeman Martin Heil, and Ike Smith, a colored sport. The former won in the third pitting.

The dog of the ex-policeman had the best of it from the start, and carried off the honors in the first, second and third pittings. The first was a long one and hotly contested throughout. The second lasted nearly as long and was a fierce one, the dog owned by the colored man doing better work than in the first. In the third and last scratch the loser turned and walked back to his pitter, and this ended the fight. The referee declared the dog owned by the ex-copier the winner. Much kicking was done, but this did not count with the referee.

Both dogs were badly used up, but no bones were broken. The winner is almost white in color and the loser a black spotted animal, weighing about one-half pound more than the victor. The dogs were carefully wrapped in blankets and the party returned to Wheeling soon afterward.

It is said that the major part of the spectators were from Wheeling. Only Wheeling sports were supposed to be in it, but a large number of the employees of the Etna and Standard mills caught on and a portion of these were admitted. That the fight had taken place was generally known in the city as well as over in Martin's Ferry, Etnaville and Bridgeport yesterday, and the authorities kicked all day because they did not catch on until after the fight had occurred.

This was the fight which was to have taken place at Elm Grove last week, but did not, and after the failure to meet there the owners tried to pit them on the South Side, in this city, but though they caused some commotion the fight was postponed. A good deal of money changed hands.

ARION LEAP YEAR BALL.

A Very Pleasing Affair There Last Night--Balls There in the Future.

The leap year ball given last night by the young ladies of the Arion society was not so much of a success in the matter of attendance as it might have been. Owing to recent bereavements in the families of some of the members the latter were unable to attend. Those who were there enjoyed themselves very much, and danced until a late hour to the music of the Opera House orchestra. The hall was beautifully decorated.

At midnight a splendid supper was served by Mr. Kraus, to which all did full justice, the ladies acting the part of beaux and leading the gentlemen to the supper table.

The following young ladies had charge of the ball: The Misses Amalie Schwertfeger, Emma Schults, Mary Stifel, Mary Keim, Emma Breidenstein, Maggie Campbell, Carrie Erb, Emma Leonhart.

To-morrow evening the German Krieger Verein will give a select ball at the Arion hall, to which only the families of the members and a few friends have been invited.

The employing butchers will give a select ball on Wednesday, January 27. They expect to have a great time. Mr. Kraus, who has charge of the supper, has already ordered two hundred pounds of turkey.

The Harmony Club.

The annual masquo ball given by the Harmony club at Teutonia hall was an unqualified success. Some very beautiful costumes were worn. In the grand march led by Prof. Meyer, over sixty five couple paraded. At 11 o'clock masks were ordered off, and a good deal of fun resulted, when friends recognized each other.

Prof. Killmyer played. A special motor left the hall at 2 a. m. and carried most of the crowd to the central and upper part of the city.

JULIUS JACOBS ARRESTED.

He is Held in $1,000 Bail by Squire Phil-Tips on a Charge of Attempt to Commit Arson--He Protests His Innocence.

It was announced in the INTELLIGENCER yesterday that the authorities were investigating the attempt to blow up the dry goods store of Jacobs & Harburger, on Main street, Sunday evening, and that action would be taken in due time. Yesterday, after considerable inquiry and investigation, the chief of police laid before Prosecuting Attorney Howard the evidence which he had obtained, and the latter directed that a warrant be sworn out for Julius Jacobs, of the firm, on the charge of attempting to commit arson. Arson being a capital crime, the attempt to commit it is a felony.

Squire D. Z. Phillips issued the warrant and Chief McNichol went to Mr. Jacobs's store and arrested him. The bail was fixed at $1,000, and the prisoner's nephew, Morris Jacobs, of Jacobs & Isenberg, went on the bond, but only after Julius transferred to him all his stock and other property in the stores. Jacobs & Isenberg already had a judgment for nearly $5,000 on the stock.

Mr. Jacobs had nothing to say when arrested but to repeat his declaration that he is innocent. The authorities think the evidence is very strong against him, however, and about a score of witnesses have been summoned to testify at the preliminary hearing, which was set for 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The authorities are reticent as to what they expect to prove. Mr. Jacobs has asked to have two or three witnesses summoned for his defense. It is said that he will prove by the value of the stock in excess of the insurance that he could have had no motive to destroy it, as it would have entailed an irreparable loss.

pure alcohol to make WOLF'S ACME BLACKING. Alcohol is good for leather; it is good for the skin. Alcohol is the chief ingredient of Cologne, Florida Water, and Bay Rum the well known face washes. We think there is nothing too costly to use in a good leather preservative.

Acme Blacking retails at 20c. and at that price sells readily. Many people are so accustomed to buying a dressing or blacking at 5c. and 10c. a bottle that they cannot understand that a blacking can be cheap at 20c. We want to meet them with cheapness if we can, and to accomplish this we offer a reward of $10,000 for a recipe which will enable us to make WOLF'S ACME BLACKING at such a price that a retailer can profitably sell it at 10c. a bottle. We hold this offer open until Jan. 1st, 1893.
