

CLEVELAND NOT IN IT.

He Has Lost All Hope of Winning in New York,

AND WILL RETIRE FROM THE RACE.

His Friends Vainly Trying to Organize a Move to Control the Delegation, But Cleveland Himself Says the State is Against Him—The Hill Men Think the Cleveland Men Are Trying to Deceive Them—Some Secret Political History Coming Out.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 27.—The history of the secret and most recent political movement in this state, told now for the first time, confirms in every particular the story published the other day that ex-President Cleveland has contemplated for some time writing a letter announcing his withdrawal as a possible candidate for the Presidential nomination by the Democrats. That he still intends to write such a letter is believed by his friends. They will not be surprised if it is made public within three weeks. A letter would have already been published but for the protestations of friends. He is now believed to be merely awaiting developments which these friends hope may attend the movement they have put under way.

Two weeks ago in the city of New York there was a conference of some of the most prominent Cleveland men in this state. Since then these gentlemen have had other meetings in different parts of the state and a sort of an agreement was reached to consider what could be done in the way of making a fight for the control of the New York delegation to the national convention. There was no explicit agreement that a fight should be made, but they resolved to see what could be done—what the prospects were of getting at least a sufficient number of delegates to refute the claims of the friends of Hill that New York was unanimously for his nomination as President.

At the very first meeting they were dismayed by the statement that Mr. Cleveland so far despaired of success that he had made up his mind to withdraw from the race. To at least one personal friend here in Albany he was reported to have said that the whole state seemed to be against him. Since then Cleveland men have been holding secret conferences in most of the cities of the state and presumably in some of the country towns and comparing notes as to what they can do at the primaries.

Whenever they have been asked about the prospects they speak in a most despairing tone. Most of them say it would be folly to begin a contest. Mr. Cleveland has been quoted as advising them that if the majority of the party seems to be against him they must not seek to create any fractional differences, as he is too good a Democrat not to cheerfully bow to the will of that majority. Now the Hill followers don't believe a word of all this. They are in something of a flutter and say that their rivals are seeking to create the impression that they have no chance for success for the purpose of deceiving their adversaries and winning by a sudden dash on the primaries from under cover. It is certain that the Hill men believe that an organization is going on in secret for a contest, and that part of the plan is to deceive them. It is hard to say whether these fears are well grounded, though they are probably born of ignorance as to the real intention of the Cleveland men.

A gentleman who has the very best sources of political information in this state says that he is confident Mr. Cleveland will write and publish his letter of withdrawal from the Presidential race within three weeks. He says the feeling of Mr. Cleveland is that nothing should be done which might by any means tend to disrupt the party, and that he will insist upon his friends following his advice.

CATHOLIC CHANGES.

Priests Transferred by the Council of the Passionist Order.

Pittsburgh, Jan. 27.—Rev. Father Sebastian, first councillor of the Passionist Order of North America, has just arrived in the city from the monastery at Hoboken, N. J., and ordered the following changes in the location of priests: Father Ferdinand, of this city, will go to St. Louis, and Father Anselm, of Cincinnati, will be stationed here. Fathers Simon and Andreas, now at the Mt. Oliver monastery, are also to be removed, the former to St. Louis, the latter to Cincinnati. Father Bernardino, formerly of St. Michael's church here, but now in St. Louis, will be removed to the monastery at Toluca, Mexico.

THE METAL POLISHERS

Organize an International Union—A Conference Committee.

TOLEDO, OHIO, Jan. 27.—Delegates from 23 large cities between Pittsburgh and Omaha, organized the International Metal Polishers' Union in this city last night. The constitution adopted permits the acceptance by unions of Knights of Labor cards, and asks Knights of Labor assemblies to recognize union men. Labor men say this is the commencement of the amalgamation of both bodies. The conference committees appointed at the late general meeting of these bodies will meet in New York this week, with the object of effecting a combination. Resolutions seeking the enactment of laws in the interest of metal polishers were also passed.

WILL PUSH THE SUIT.

Philip Hahn's Wife Refuses to Compromise With Him.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 27.—Philip Hahn, whose wife came from Germany on the Ohio, and was sent to this city from Philadelphia by Commissioner of Immigration Rogers yesterday, was committed to jail for a hearing on a charge of bigamy to-day. Hahn left his wife twenty-five years ago and came to this city, where he married again. When arrested he offered his wife $1,000 to return to Germany, but she refused to accept less than $3,750 and will remain here to push the suit.

Caused by Liqueur.

MANFIELD, O., Jan. 27.—To-day at noon Dan Secrist shot his wife with an old army musket loaded with shot. The lead entered the left side of the woman's back, producing a serious, if not fatal, wound. She is now at the point of death. A quarrel arose this morning on account of his refusal to support his family, and he threatened to kill her. As he had often made similar threats without executing them, the woman practically had no warning until the shot was fired at her with the above result. Secrist was immediately arrested and is now imprisoned. He was under the influence of liqueur.

THAT COAL BOYCOTT.

General Spillman says His Company is not Concerned in the Alleged Proposal to Retain, and He Knows Nothing of It.

Sir:—I was surprised to see in your issue of January 20th, the dispatch from Fairmont stating that the merchants and coal companies of that region were about to inaugurate a boycott on the jobbers of Wheeling unless the boycott on Monongah coal in Wheeling was removed.

I desire to say that so far as the Monongah coal and coke company is concerned no such movement has been contemplated, and further, I do not believe that the dispatch was authorized by any responsible parties. If there was any concerted action on the part of the coal companies, as stated in the dispatch, I would have been informed of it. I have paid more attention than any one else in our region to the Trades Assembly, because their boycott was on Monongah coal, and, of course, I understand that the jobbers of Wheeling have no influence with them. Nor do I believe that the Trades Assembly will influence the people of Wheeling against the coal of the Fairmont region. Those who have tried it like it and all the boycotts in the country can't keep it out. It is like the waters of the Little Kanawha, when once you have tried it, you will always come back to it.

So far as the manufacturers and their coke supply is concerned, that is another matter. We are not suffering for their patronage, as we could now sell double the amount of coke that we produce.

The time will come, however, and at no very distant day, when the manufacturers of Wheeling will want Fairmont coke and want it badly. When they do we will build more ovens to accommodate them.

You must give the business people of Fairmont and vicinity credit for their due proportion of business sagacity, and when you have done that, you must admit, as you have done in your very sound and able editorial, that they would not express themselves as per your correspondent, who I think has been reading the recent war news. The dispatch does not appear, however, to have passed through a cabinet meeting before it was given to the press.

Very truly yours,
B. D. SPILLMAN,
Gen'l Manager M. C. & C. Co.

GLASS STRIKE THREATENED.

Employees of the U. S. Glass Company Object to a New Rule.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 27.—There is trouble between the flint glass combine, known as the United States Glass Company, and their employees, and a general strike may result. The blowers are dissatisfied with an order recently issued by the combination stipulating that all employees must remain in the factory four hours and thirty minutes in order to constitute a full turn. The men claim that they can make a turn in three hours and a half, and it is needless to have them wait about the shop in idleness for one hour.

The employees of Doyle's factory, numbering 200 men, girls and boys, quit work to-day on account of the obnoxious order. The twelve other factories in the combination are affected and the employees may follow Doyle's men if the trouble is not settled.

The Strike About at an End.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 27.—The end of the electric street car strike is believed to be close at hand. The strikers have resorted to no violence for forty-eight hours and cars were run regularly to-day on all branches. The strikers are growing weary of the struggle. They appear anxious to resume work and the trouble will more than likely be compromised in some way. The cars are still under police protection, but are poorly patronized.

Faulkner a Candidate.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., Jan. 27.—Senator C. J. Faulkner is here to attend the meeting of the Democratic state executive committee. He says he is a candidate for re-election to the United States senate.

Brakeman Fatally Hurt.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., Jan. 27.—J. A. Bushong, a Baltimore & Ohio brakeman, residing in this city, fell from his train this morning near Eaton and was fatally injured.

Moved to a New Trial.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 27.—Attorney Willis F. McCook filed a motion in the county court to-day for a new trial in the case of Senator Quay against the Post Publishing company, A. J. Barr and James Mills. The reasons upon which the motion is based have not been drawn up, but will be filed to-morrow. The case will probably be argued on Saturday.

Painters Fatally Injured.

Pittsburgh, Jan. 27.—While two painters named Wenck and Wood were painting a furnace cupola at the Black Diamond steel works this morning, the scaffold upon which they were standing gave way, and they were precipitated to the ground, a distance of 50 feet. Both men were fatally injured.

GEO. M. SNOOK & CO.'S New Spring Stock is now arriving.

The Best Coal.

The fact that the Monongah coal, handled by me, gains in popularity in spite of the effort to boycott it ought to satisfy anybody that it is the best coal. The Monongah miners are paid as well as any miners anywhere, are satisfied and prosperous, and there is no strike or lockout there. Orders to telephone No. 604 will be promptly filled.

In reply to the Miners' Committee, would say that I never averaged five cars of coal a day at any time, because I could not get it. I am selling over a car a day and getting two orders where I got one before the boycott was ordered. At Monongah the miners are better paid than any other place in the valley, and I defy the committee to prove the contrary. Besides this they are paying $1.50 for labor out there while at Clarksville Union mines they pay but $1.10. I would like to know the names of the mines that are paying 40c per ton. I will sell Monongah fork coal, delivered right into your coal house, from Monday next and every day thereafter, for 8c per bushel, and on the Island at 8c. Messrs. McCune and Crowe are the only persons authorized to haul my coal.

THE SHEEP BREEDERS.

Alleged Injustice Done Them by the World's Fair Management.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

STUEBENVILLE, O., Jan. 27.—The session proper of the United States Merino Sheep Breeders' Registry Association met here to-day. Representatives were present from a half dozen states. The work of the executive committee was approved and J. B. Hervey selected as president pro tem. The unusually dry session was enlivened this morning on hearing a recommendation and report from W. B. Pollock, of Canonsburg, Pa., who was a delegate of the National Delaine Association to a joint meeting of sheep breeders with the World's Fair directors. He reported that American breeders were discriminated against, as there was considerable red tape connected with exhibiting which would have to be done as individuals as against English, Austrian and Canadian sheep breeders who could exhibit by states or counties, also that larger premiums were offered for dogs than sheep. He said the $25 initiation fee asked for went to pay expenses of fat salaried officers. This caused considerable stir in the association, whose members are alliance men and oppose fat salaries. A committee of five was selected to look after the interests of the association at the Columbian Exposition. A resolution was also passed asking that the World's Fair be closed on the Sabbath and that no "quors be sold on the grounds.

Arrangements were made to publish Vol. 3 of the Register. Sheep to be registered must be presented by July 1, 1892, and "102" lambs by October 1, 1892.

HE IS NOT FORGOTTEN.

How the Anniversary of Gordon's Death was Observed in London.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—The seventh anniversary of the death of Gen. Charles Gordon occurred yesterday.

The base of the statue of Gordon, which was erected in Trafalgar Square shortly after his death, shows that his memory still lives in the hearts of many Englishmen. As has been usual upon every recurrence of the anniversary of General Gordon's death, the base of the statue was literally covered with floral offerings from those who loved and honored the man and soldier.

There were also splendid wreaths from the inmates of the Gordon Boys' Home, the institution founded to perpetuate the memory of General Gordon. A large number of the offerings were from the church and the army.

Cardinal Richard Disobeys the Pope.

PARIS, Jan. 27.—M. Richard, cardinal archbishop of Paris, who a few days ago received a letter from the pope in which he was requested to instruct the French clergy to cease all opposition to the republic and to follow to the utmost the pope's policy of conciliation, has written a letter to his holiness declaring that he is unable to communicate to the French bishops the requests contained in the pope's letter. Cardinal Richard gives as his reason for not obeying the mandate of the pope that he does not consider it opportune to do so. This reply of Cardinal Richard has made a bad impression at the Vatican, where it is believed that the action of the cardinal is due to the influence of the royalists.

Mortality in London.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—The deaths in London last week were at the rate of 46 per 1,000 per year of the inhabitants, an increase of six over the record of the previous week. The births during the week were 2,623, and the deaths 3,301. The births were 258 below those of the week before. The deaths during the past week were 1,762 above the average of the past decade. At Brighton the death rate was 60.9 per 1,000, the highest in any town in Great Britain.

Makes the Weak Strong

The marked benefit which people in run down or weakened state of health derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla, conclusively proves the claim that this medicine "makes the weak strong." It does not act like a stimulant, imparting fictitious strength from which there must follow a reaction of greater weakness than before, but in the most natural way Hood's Sarsaparilla overcomes that tired feeling, creates an appetite, purifies the blood, and, in short, gives great bodily, nerve, mental and digestive strength.

Fagged Out

"Last spring I was completely fagged out. My strength left me and I felt sick and miserable all the time, so that I could hardly attend to my business. I took one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it cured me. There is nothing like it." R. C. BREGOLE, Editor Enterprise, Belleville, Mich.

"I derived very much benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla, which I took for general debility. It built me right up, and gave me an excellent appetite." ED. JENKINS, Mt. Savage, Md.
