PICK OF THE CROP—GEO. M. SNOOK & CO.

"PICK OF THE CROP,"

Or a better expression would be "Choice of the Season's Production," but it matters little what we call it, our idea is to get you interested in this announcement. We want to explain to you that it has been a part of our business policy to secure the Best Things Produced. This we can only do by making EARLY PURCHASES, sometimes months before the goods are wanted. Our new Spring and Summer Goods are now arriving. They are select, fresh and attractive, and placing these on sale now, will in no wise interfere with our Grand Clearance of winter stock, previous to removal.

OUR Half Price Sale,

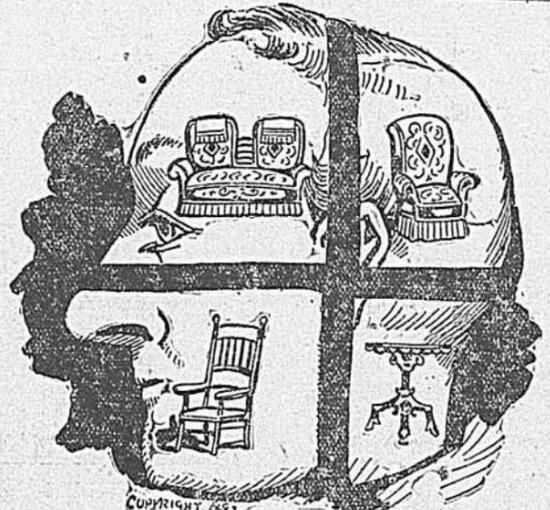

As advertised last week, still continues.

Specially worthy of attention are the following: Figured India Silks, Fine Pattern Dresses, Bedford Whip Cord and Plain Weave Suitings, Black and Cream Silk Laces in demi flounce and narrow match widths, Cambric Nainsook, Mull and Swiss Embroideries in matched and unmatched widths, Chiffon Laces, all colors, the cheapest Lace Curt'n stock ever shown, French and American Dress Gingham, Outing Cloths, the well-made "W" brand of Muslin Underwear, and many other goods.

Twenty-five shades and mixtures of A. W. Novelty Cheviot Suitings at $3 59 a pattern.

We advise our patrons to do as we do: Buy Early and Secure Choice!

Notice to Boys and Girls.
Mrs. Isaiah Warren, of Wheeling, offers a prize of $5 for the best essay on temperance, written by a boy or girl from fourteen to eighteen years of age, black or white. The essay must not contain more than 500 words and may be either prose, poetry or story. The same is to be sent, with real name of writer, to Mrs. Warren before April 1.
A prize of $3 will be given to the second best.

A Significant Advertisement.
In another part of this morning's paper is an advertisement from Mr. C.
P. Hamilton, the architect, for bids for the erection of six new houses in the city and vicinity in the coming season. They are all of a good quality, and as they represent but a small part of the building operations already decided on for the season, it is very apparent that Wheeling will enjoy this year the biggest boom in building that she has ever had in her experience.

Mr. Nevill's New Factory.
Mr. Asa T. Nevill, a well-known glass man and inventor of the Nevill glass melting pot, was in Martin's Ferry yesterday at the bedside of his father and on business. He will be largely interested in the Asa Nevill glass works, to be erected at Blairsville, Pa. There will be one twelve-pot furnace, and chimneys, electrical supplies and bottles will be made. Ground has been broken, and Mr. Nevill says they expect to have the works completed May 1.
The capital stock will be $30,000, all paid in. Blairsville gave a big bonus.
Indiana, its rival neighbor, tried hard to secure the works.

Transfers Recorded.
Clerk Hook yesterday admitted to record one deed of trust and transfers of real estate as follows:

January 27, by Elizabeth Hartenstein to William Hartenstein, for $2,250, the north half of lot 82 on the east side of Main street in North Wheeling.

November 25, 1891, by the Nail City Brewing Company to the Schmulbach Brewing Company, for $10, the brewery and real estate attached.

January 26, by T. J. Frame and wife to Mary, wife of Frank Genthner, for $650, part of lot 1 in square 1 in Church-hill's addition, on the south side of Twelfth street.

January 14 by Joseph Seybold, trustee, and others, to Dr. S. L. S. Spragg, for $1,250, part of lot 52 and 70, on the east side of Main street north of Ninth.

Admitted His Guilt.
The man arrested by Lieutenant Gans yesterday on suspicion of being the man wanted at Washington, Pa., for robbery, yesterday admitted that his name was not Fred Wilson, as he had said it was, and that he had stolen a gold watch and an overcoat last Friday from Mrs. Urtman's boarding house, at Washington. Officer Todd Orr, of Washington, came down yesterday forenoon and took the prisoner there for trial, he agreeing to go without a requisition. Last evening's Washington Journal says of the case: Inquiry at the police headquarters reveals the fact that the man wanted is named Wetzell, who was formerly engaged at tank building at Meadow Lands. He is accused of robbing the Rush House, on West Chestnut street, taking overcoats and other clothing.
Chief of Police Orr went down to Wheeling Wednesday morning, and will bring the prisoner to this city this evening.

In the Circuit Court.
In the Circuit Court yesterday the petition of T. J. Hugus, guardian of Anna Amelia Guyon, and Frank William Guyon, for the sale of a part of his ward's real estate, came up, and W. J.
W. Cowden was appointed guardian ad item and the matter set for a hearing February 8.

Henrietta Bistel was called on the indictment No. 2 against her for robbery, and failing to come, a capias was directed to issue for her arrest.

Sheriff Steenrod presented sworn accounts for the following sums, which were allowed and directed to be certified to the auditor for payment: Wages of guard at jail at $1 per day, 356; keeping and boarding prisoners with felony, $2,423 50; clothing for such prisoners, $90 55; keeping and "dieting" lunatics, $148 55; conveying prisoners to Moundsville to the penitentiary in accordance with the sentence of the court, $13 35; bringing William Wittsberger, a fugitive from justice, to this state from Ohio, $40; conveying Lee Harris, an insane person, to Baltimore by order of the court, $69 50; arresting J. H. Westbrook, charged with felony, $31.

Another One Yet?
Washington, Pa., Journal.
The Commercial Gazette reports a rumor to the effect that the Wabash railroad system is engaged in making a survey from Wheeling to Washington, thence east to the Monongahela river. There are still a few good locations for railroads across this county not appropriated, for which we would like to see claims filed.

The Most Pleasant Way of preventing the grippe, colds, headaches, and fever is to use the liquid laxative remedy Syrup of Figs, whenever the system needs a gentle, yet effective cleansing. To be benefited one must get the true remedy manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

THE MARCH OF IMPROVEMENT.

An Addition to a Hotel Begun Yesterday.
Trade Growing.
Yesterday work was begun on a large addition to the Hotel Vankouren, on Twelfth street. For some time past the proprietor, Mr. Charles E. Vankouren, has been embarrassed for want of room to supply the demands of his increasing trade, and he decided to build another story in the rear to meet this demand. The new addition will consist of twelve large rooms, built directly on the old roof, which will be allowed to remain, being covered with iron to form a fire proof protection over the ceiling of the second floor.
Two flights of stairs will be placed at each end of the building, making all the rooms easily accessible. Each room will be supplied with a separate fire escape. The whole affair when completed will be quite an addition to the hotel, making the entire building three stories in height, the same as the front on Twelfth street.
Mr. Vankouren is to be congratulated on his successful management, which has made his hotel so popular. The fact is, all the Wheeling hotels are doing a good business, and the trade could stand a decided increase of facilities.

The Boss Butchers' Side of the Case.
To the Editor of the Intelligencer.

JANUARY 26th, 1892.
In reply to the advertisement of the journeymen butchers in some of the papers I would say that the public is not aware of the facts in relation to the difficulty between the butchers' bosses and the journeymen butchers.
The fact is, in the first place the journeymen butchers came to the bosses and asked them to sign a scale of twelve hours for a days' work, beginning at 6 o'clock a. m. and quitting at 6 o'clock p. m., with time enough to eat three meals. The boss butchers did not refuse to sign a twelve-hour contract, but the public knows that the butcher is expected in the markets long before 6 o'clock in the morning. Now, if we are to comply with the journeymen's request of working from 6 to 6 we will have to go to the City Council to draft an ordinance requesting them to open our markets at 7 o'clock a. m. instead of 5, as it is now; to accommodate the journeymen, and if that becomes a law the market business will surely prove a poor one.

Arbitrating committee heard both sides. That committee saw that it was impossible for the two butcher committees to come to any conclusion, and subsequently instructed the journeymen at their next meeting to get up some other feasible scale which was more to the point, which was accepted by the journeymen. We would ask the public to imagine the surprise of the boss butchers last Friday, when a committee of the journeymen butchers went from butcher to butcher and asked him to sign the scale, and imagine surprise also when they asked the Trades Assembly to boycott thirteen butchers of this city without first (as is the general rule) bringing the matter up in all the local unions of this city.

There are sixty-five boss butchers doing business in this city. Of that number eight of them have signed the scale (one of the number was drunk and not responsible at the time), leaving fifty-seven butchers who did not sign. Now the boycotted ones would like to know from the local union of the journeymen butchers what is the matter.

Further, in summer, when the retail butcher has to kill and dress his stock for market so that it is sweet and palatable, and to prevent it from getting fly-blown, he must kill it when the sun is setting or after dark, consequently the man he employs must be prepared to do the work accordingly. Say, for instance, a butcher goes to market at 5 o'clock; in the market for one hour he and his employe have considerable work to do to make his stall look respectable; after that the sales begin, in which the boss takes the greatest burden of the work, which lasts until 9 o'clock a. m.
At 10 o'clock they drive home, and by noon everything is done, until 4 or 5 o'clock in the evening, when probably one beef, one calf and two lambs are to be dressed for the next morning's market, which should be only one hour and fifteen minutes' work for a fair journeymen.

Last Saturday a week the Trades Assembly arbitrating committee met a committee of the journeymen's union and also a committee of the butchers doing business in our city, after this for the forty-four remaining butchers doing business in this city. Among the thirteen boycotted there is one that has an apprentice who is not eligible to join their union for six months to come.
Then there are others who do not employ neither union nor non-union labor, but does his work with his own family.
Now, before this journeymen's committee keep up this boycott, let them come out like honorable people and state their reasons why they do things by halves, and explain the facts of the case.

If further explanations are wanted, I will answer any communication in the future. ONE OF THE BOYCOTTED.

Convey no Idea of the Awful Reductions at the HUB'S Red Letter Sale.

It is a sale without excuses; it is a sale without consideration as to prices or losses; it is a sale that means the clearance of the goods only. The low prices at which we have marked not one, but all kinds of goods, cannot fail to astonish the most persistent bargain hunter.

It is an absolute truth that the Men's, Boys' and Children's Suits and Overcoats we show this week are the best for the money ever shown in Wheeling. The tremendous trade we have done since the inauguration of our Red Letter Sale cleaned us out of many styles of medium and low price Suits and Overcoats.
To fill their places we have selected many lines of much more expensive goods, and have Cut the Prices to the Quick. The man who comes early enough to secure one of these Suits or Overcoats will get the best bargain he ever secured in his life.
