WHEELING, MARCH 1, 1892.

Thanks to the Police Committee. On Friday night last the police committee of Council ordered the reinstatement of a policeman dismissed for drunkenness. On Sunday morning following two policemen, men of good record, went into two saloons, induced the breaking of the Sunday law and got drunk.

If the police committee cannot see its handiwork in these delinquencies it must be because it is unable to perceive the intimate relation between cause and effect. The action of the committee in the Shanley case was a suggestion to the police force to go and get itself demoralized and rely on the committee for protection.

There are some extenuating circumstances which may be taken into account in the cases of Officers Terrill and Frohne. They have both been good officers. Terrill has been one of the very best men on the force. When he realized what he had done on Sunday he disregarded the bad advice of his friends to try his luck before the police committee. He showed the man by confessing his wrong, tendering his resignation and acknowledging that he had forfeited his place.

Frohne and Terrill had been at work at the fire, were wet and thought they needed stimulating drink. The result shows how great a mistake they made, but when everything is taken into consideration their offense is not beyond forgiveness. They should by all means be punished by suspension, but from the character of the men, the record they have made and the good there seems to be in them it does not appear that the discipline of the force requires their dismissal.

They are not likely to repeat the offense, nor, if the chief be allowed to govern his men according to the rules he has laid down, is it probable that other members of the force will be tempted to follow the bad example.

Hard On Mr. Cleveland. Democratic newspapers outside of New York are calling on Mr. Cleveland to put a stop to the Democratic revolt in his state. They say they hope he has had nothing to do with it and will show his lack of sympathy with the movement by calling off the movers, who are his friends.

One of the leaders of the leaders is Mr. Fairchild, Mr. Cleveland's secretary of the treasury. Another is Mr. George William Curtis, a worshipper of the Cleveland idol. Men who held office under the Cleveland administration are in the thick of it.

It is no secret that the movement is in Mr. Cleveland's interest. The aim is to show that Hill cannot carry New York and that the presidential nomination would be thrown away on him. To ask Mr. Cleveland to stop the proceedings is to make a demand on him which puts him in an awkward plight. He will be blamed if he does and he will be blamed if he doesn't, and blame is a mild word to use in this connection.

By all the signs the Cleveland bolters have done for Hill. Only a convention of idiots would nominate him in the face of the well understood fact that no Democrat can be elected without the vote of New York. This Hill cannot get. The Cleveland men will see to that. On the other hand Cleveland would be taken care of by the Hill men, who have not the least thought of throwing away all they have and allowing the fat man to come to the front again.

Mr. Cleveland is in a fix, and his friends have done almost as much as the Hill machine to fix him. If New York were not necessary the convention might go ahead on the Cleveland line, but it is the misfortune of the Democratic party as well as of Mr. Cleveland that without New York the Democracy's cake is all dough. It is hard lines for an idol, but so the lines are drawn.

Work and Wages Transferred. If 12,000 Austrians are out of work by reason of the McKinley tariff it must be because that tariff has given to American hands employment hitherto enjoyed by Austrian hands.

However this may embarrass Austrian laborers, it must be admitted that it is a distinct gain for American laborers and for this country. We legislate for our own people, not for the people of Austria or of any other country. This is practical patriotism. It strengthens the solid foundations of the republic. It tends to make the country self-sustaining and self-supporting.

We may give aid to the suffering Austrians as we give it to the suffering Russians, but we shall do this as a matter of charity, not in the line of business.

Piling on the Agony. The Albany Journal, a vigorous Republican newspaper, pays its compliments to Hill's legislature in this way: The present legislature is the most disgraceful that has assembled in Albany since the days of William M. Tweed.

The New York World, an aggressive Democratic authority acknowledges the corn in this fashion: The events at Albany during the past week show the existence of a dangerous power in the hands of four men.

It is evident from these proceedings that as matters now stand any legislation desired and agreed upon by Lieutenant Governor Sherman, Edward Murphy, Jr., Richard Croker and Hugh McLaughlin will pass, and that any measures opposed by these men will fail.

These men have in different ways rendered the Democratic party valuable services. They are splendid organizers and hard fighters, and without organization and fighting there can be no party victories. But they are essentially party bosses. Their rule at home is to boss rule. They practice politics for a living—and something more—to themselves and their followers.

It is time to call a halt in this business. Boss rule at Albany exercised for personal advantage, as unchecked power is very apt to be, will mean Democratic defeat at the polls. No reappointments, no record of good things done, can secure the next legislature to the party if the proceedings of the past week are to be an index to the work of the session.

Elsewhere the World says: To count on a Democratic victory in November without New York would be foolish; to deprive Democracy of the vote of New York would be crime.

This is going to be a great year for the Republican party.

Vindicated by the Supreme Court. In the light of the decision of the supreme court the fierce Democracy has much to take back. Speaker Reed's course in counting a quorum present when there was a quorum before his eyes and before the eyes of everybody in the house, was denounced as revolutionary and subversive of popular government.

Tons of paper and miles of talk have been wasted in a vain effort to convince the country that Speaker Reed did a heinous and unconstitutional thing when he ruled that members of the house could not be constructively absent and obstructively present.

The supreme court holds that the speaker had a right to do what he did. This ought to stop the months of ranting Democratic orators, but if they enjoy the ranting let them keep it up. The day will come when no party will profess to take any other view than that taken by the Republicans in the Fifty-first Congress. The people will not consent to pay men to sit in the house with no higher aim than to obstruct the public business.

Must Be a Joke. The Martinsburg Independent hears that the INTELLIGENCER's representative at the Parkersburg Republican League convention wrote the reports for the Register as well, and wants to know whether this is true.

It is not a great matter, but in order to keep the great tide of history within its banks we take pleasure in saying that there is no foundation in fact for the report that the INTELLIGENCER correspondent was on double turn on that occasion.

From this it is not to be inferred that we would not have been glad to furnish our neighbor a duplicate of the INTELLIGENCER's report if that had been desired. In this vicinity we delight in good and neighborly deeds.

Will Have Him on the List. Dashing young Democratic Governor Russell, of Massachusetts, whose presidential boom is to be trotted out at Chicago, is under the grave suspicion of standing in with the anti-Hill crowd in New York.

The Hill people will find time to attend to Mr. Russell's case if he gets the nomination. As in that event they will not be trying to carry the state, the Hill men will be able to attend to a great deal of miscellaneous business.

The Debt Question in Virginia. The debt question being up in the Virginia senate, and it being proposed to take steps to compel West Virginia to pay her share of the old state's debt, a senator made the point that "this proposition would arouse the people of West Virginia and might result in serious party complications."

What these serious party complications might be was not revealed. Virginia has never been willing to face the music squarely on her West Virginia certificates.

MANY of the state papers in copying from the INTELLIGENCER the resolutions adopted by the State League at Parkersburg have overlooked a serious error made in telegraphing the report, and print the immigration resolution, as it appeared in this paper, as follows: Resolved, That as having intimate relation to the protection of labor and our citizenship, we urge upon national legislators such prudent measures as shall tend to relieve the country of the odious and of the present quantity and quality of immigration.

For the word "ends" in this resolution read "ovils" and you will have it.

BESIDES giving the colored race its freedom and the ballot the Republican party has given that race fair representation in the public offices, as witness a detailed statement elsewhere in to-day's INTELLIGENCER.

The supreme court of the United States has placed a new and coruscating crown on the brainy head of "Czar" Reed. Hurrah for the Big Fellow from Maine!

EX-GOVERNOR CAMPBELL, of Ohio, thinks the head of the Democratic ticket will come from the west. About as far west as Ohio, Mr. Campbell?

In three decisions handed down yesterday the supreme court reaffirms the vital doctrine that is the United States of America.

MR. SPEAKER—When you see a quorum, count it. Yours truly, Supreme Court of the United States.

MR. CLEVELAND is in a regular whoa-Emma dilemma. Any way he turns the sledding is rough.

FEBRUARY leaped over and snatched a day out of March. It seemed to be the 17th.

ROYAL IS THE Best Baking Powder

The Official Government Reports:

The United States Government, after elaborate tests, reports the ROYAL BAKING POWDER to be of greater leavening strength than any other. (Bulletin 13, Ag. Dep., p. 599.)

The Canadian Official Tests, recently made, show the ROYAL BAKING POWDER highest of all in leavening strength. (Bulletin 10, p. 16, Inland Rev. Dep.)

In practical use, therefore, the ROYAL BAKING POWDER goes further, makes purer and more perfect food than any other.

Government Chemists Certify:

"The Royal Baking Powder is composed of pure and wholesome ingredients. It does not contain either alum or phosphates, or other injurious substances. EDWARD G. LOVE, PH. D."

"The Royal Baking Powder is undoubtedly the purest and most reliable baking powder offered to the public. 'HENRY A. MOTT, M.D., PH. D.'"

"The Royal Baking Powder is purest in quality and highest in strength of any baking powder of which I have knowledge. 'WM. McMURTRIE, PH. D.'"

Thoughtful Pupil—"Is it true professor, that nothing is ever really lost?" Professor (of mathematics)—"Such is the opinion of our most advanced students and thinkers. The indestructibility of matter, the sensitiveness of the all-pervading medium we call ether in responding to the slightest impression, and the infinity of space, all point to such a conclusion."

Thoughtful Pupil (in consternation)—"Then those lost books of Euclid will turn up some time!"—Chicago Tribune. I write him with the richest, who having but bare necessities, A loaf, crusts, no luxuries, Has love to shed a roseate hue On his possessions poor and few.

And he is of the poorest, he, Whose countless coffers show his gain, Whose ships skim o'er the farthest main, If, with his pomp and luxury, He knows not love and charity. SUESS M. DESR.

A decided novelty in footwear is the "Oregon boot," so called, with one of which a train robber who lately arrived in St. Louis was manacled. The boot weighed eighteen and a half pounds, and a detective spent fifteen minutes in opening the combination by which it was secured to the prisoner's foot. Thus hobbled, there would seem to be a small chance for a malefactor to effect his flight from custody unless he should somehow learn the combination. Practically he might as well be anchored to a fire-proof safe.

Even rattlesnakes live to a wonderful old age in Eastern Oregon's healthful climate. The East Oregonian states that Mr. Darnell has the tail of a rattlesnake in his possession containing 54 rattles and a button. It seems incredible that a rattlesnake could attain the age of 54 years, yet the rattles were there to prove it and were seen by numerous citizens.

Hundreds of imported song birds were turned loose a few days ago near Beaverton, Oregon. "They seemed delighted to regain their freedom and at once rose high in the air, singing gaily, and then made a wide circle and settled along a creek which runs through the meadow."

Freddy—"He awakened me if I had a chaperon! Baw Jove, I'm going to give him a piece of my mind." Cholly—"Do it! It will paralyze him, ole chappie—it will paralyze him!"—Chicago Tribune.

There is talk of putting a fleet of electrically propelled launches on the lagoons at the Chicago World's Fair. The gold handle on an umbrella is not admired when it is raining hard.—Ran's Horn.

STATE POLITICS.

Would Make a Good Treasurer. Cereola Advance (Rep.). Hon. W. M. O. Dawson, secretary of the Republican state executive committee, would make an excellent state treasurer. The state's funds would be safe in his hands.

A Good Choice. Grafton Sentinel (Rep.). Grafton's Republican League club was honored at the Parkersburg convention by the election of its president to secretary of the state league. Mr. Allen is an energetic worker and will make an excellent secretary.

Keep on Organizing. Huntington Commercial (Rep.). It is plain to be seen that the Democrats of the state are making the greatest effort of their lives to thoroughly organize for a hot contest. The Republicans should remember this fact, and not let up in their efforts to meet them with the boldest front ever presented. There is a Republican majority in the state to-day, but every vote must be polled in November. Keep on organizing, and the ballot will do the rest.

How Wilson Serves His Constituents. Grafton Sentinel (Rep.). Fairmont held a mass meeting on last Saturday, the object of which was to take steps to have Congress make a large appropriation for the improvement of the river to Fairmont. Congress should by all means open the river from Morgantown to Fairmont, but it won't while W. L. Wilson is the representative from this district. The river should be opened, and the road to the national cemetery in West Grafton should be improved, but you can rest assured that no aid for either the one or the other will be given by Congress.
