

MITCHELL'S REVOLVER

Very Brave Before He Lost It, then He Ran from Corbett.

NOT EVEN A BARROOM FIGHTER

When Corbett Made a Rush at the Blustering English Pugilist He Escaped by a Side Door--Slavin Stood By and Saw Him Chased.

New York, March 23.—Events which transpired Monday night went to show that Charles Mitchell, Esq., is not even a barroom fighter. He and Jim Corbett had a run-in in the barroom of Miner's Bowery Theatre, and the English boxing champion turned tail and ran.

Mitchell and Slavin arrived in town Monday afternoon. They visited several sporting resorts, and, as usual, talked "big." About 6 o'clock the two pugilists were in the Hoffman House playing pool. They got into a very hot argument about pocketing a certain ball, and would have come to blows but for those who were in the room.

About 10 o'clock Mitchell and Slavin visited Miner's Bowery Theatre. They were to have sparred there, but broke their contract, probably because they feared that their reception from the Bowery young man would not be very pleasant, and Jim Corbett was given the opportunity to make some money.

Mitchell was feeling very sore at the thought of the good American dollars he was to lose, and in his usual style began backguarding Corbett and Sullivan in the choicest Billingsgate he could command.

And Mitchell is an adept at Billingsgate. A crowd in the barroom listened to him and tumbled lest Sullivan or Corbett should stumble into the place and be annihilated by Pony Moore's son-in-law.

Jim Corbett suddenly appeared on the scene. As soon as Mitchell saw him he called him "a stuff," and told him he was no fighter. Slavin stood by and said nothing. Mitchell poured forth a torrent of abuse until Corbett could stand it no longer, and moved toward him. The two men were kept apart by those in the barroom, and Mitchell slipped out the side door.

He came back again in a short time and continued the abuse. "I'm gentleman and not a barroom fighter," said Corbett. "You had a chance to meet me in a ring once and you did not see fit to take it. I won't fight you here."

"You're a big stuff and no fighter at all," shouted Mitchell in an excited way. "I can lick you here—right here among your friends—or any place else."

Corbett tried to reply, but the irate Englishman went on. "You're a big faker. You never intend to meet Sullivan, and are only working a big advertising scheme. Sullivan is a big stuff, and you're another. I can lick both of you in one ring. A fine champion of the world you would make."

Corbett, angered beyond endurance, and forgetting his resolution not to take part in barroom brawls, made a dash for Mitchell. Corbett's friends barred the way and told him to keep his temper, and that he would gain nothing by engaging in a fight with the blackguard who was vituperating him.

As Corbett came toward him, Mitchell stuck his hand in the right-hand pocket of his overcoat, and when he saw that Corbett was held, took it out again. A bystander in the crowd put his hand in the pocket and pulled out a revolver.

Corbett, when he saw that Mitchell had been prepared to shoot if attacked, completely lost control of himself, and made a mad rush for the Englishman, tossing to one side the persons who stood in his way. Mitchell, however, showed his sprinting ability again.

It was well for him that he could run, or it would have gone ill with him, for Corbett was simply furious. He ran out of the side door of the barroom, across the street, and jumped on an uptown car that was passing. Slavin, who had watched the trouble, quietly followed and the two were soon lost sight of.

Corbett was very indignant. He said: "I'm no barroom fighter, but have always acted as a gentleman. I can whip Mitchell, and to show that I can do so, I will fight him for $5,000, the fight to take place before I meet Sullivan. Mitchell won't fight. He will find more excuses. He had better leave this city before it goes too hot to hold him, and go back to his English tonels."

STANDARD OIL AFFAIRS.

The Enormous Surplus to Be Distributed. A Trust and Yet No Trust.

New York, March 23.—Report has been busy in Wall street with Standard Oil affairs since the dissolution of the trust. There have been rumors of a big surplus, and the Tribune learns that yesterday there was reported to be as large as $30,000,000 over and above the capital of $95,000,000 in outstanding certificates. Part of this surplus, it was said, will go as additional capital to the minor companies into which the trust has been broken, and the remainder will go as a cash return to the certificate holders.

Another report was that there would be but twelve linked companies remaining when the trust had been readjusted. It was further said that small holders would not get fractional lots of stock, but would get a certificate specifying the various amounts of stock and the companies in which they were. In this way the holder will be able to deposit this omnibus certificate in getting a loan and it will be in shape for exchange dealings.

REMARKABLE INCIDENT.

A Grain of Wheat Lodged in a Man's Eye and Started to Grow a Crop.

GOSHEN, Ind., March 23.—The illness of John Souley, a farmer living near South Bend, is attracting much attention. Souley follows threshing in season, and quit last September with a badly inflamed eye. It has pained him continually since until yesterday an oculist found that a grain of wheat had lodged in his eye, and in its growth had forced a passage up between the scalp and skull and had found an outlet near the right eye. The wheat was carefully removed and transplanted in a hot bed where it is expected to grow. Souley is doing finely.

The Painesville Bank Failure.

CLEVELAND, O., March 23.—A dispatch from Painesville, O., says that the excitement caused by the failure of bank has not yet abated. A large number of the depositors were laborers who were attracted by high interest paid, and threats of violence to R. K. Paig have been freely made. The depositors are not easily satisfied with his statement and developments of the next few days are awaited with interest. The assignee estimates the bank's assets at $80,000 and Mr. Paig's assets at $25,000. The liabilities are from $300,000 to $500,000.

SEVENTEEN INJURED

But None Fatally by a Side Collision on the Illinois Central.

ODIN, Ills., March 23.—While the Ohio & Mississippi passenger train was crossing the Illinois Central tracks at this place, a freight train on the latter road ran through it, carrying away the day coach and the "fish" car of the sleeper. There were seventeen passengers in the day coach, all of whom were injured. It was at first thought some were fatally hurt, but later investigation shows they will all recover. The injured not being able to travel were cared for at Odin. Most of them continued their journey.

Among the injured are: H. B. Andrews, Lawrenceburg, Ind., injured about head. A. C. Francher, Tror, Ills., seriously. Mrs. O. R. Jenkins, Flora, Ills., temple cut.

R. F. Worth, Lancaster, O., slightly. J. H. Ward, Lawrenceville, Ind., head and face cut. The Illinois Central engineer claimed that he could not control his train.

THE LAST VESTIGE

Of Imprisonment for Debt to be Wiped Out in New York.

New York, March 23.—There has been introduced in the legislature a bill to repeal all provisions of the code relating to imprisonment in civil actions. The bill abolishes the last remaining vestige of imprisonment for debt, and, with it, the debtors' prison, Ludlow street jail, which is directed to be turned over to the city authorities for public uses. The penal code is to be amended so as to provide for the punishment as a misdemeanor of all cases of actual fraud in commercial transactions.

On a Parole of Honor.

KANSAS CITY, March 23.—It develops this morning that the three Cass county judges who are serving a term of imprisonment here for contempt for refusal to arrange a settlement of their county's indebtedness, and who mysteriously disappeared from the jail last night, were out on their parole of honor by courtesy of the court martial. The judges have many friends in this city, the guests of one of whom they were last night. They returned to jail this morning and placed themselves under the charge of Marshal Stewart. The marshal has fitted up rooms in the jail for their use.

Harrison Endorsed.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 23.—Republican county conventions were held at Altoona, Blair county, and Huntingdon, Huntingdon county, yesterday. Both conventions endorsed the administration of President Harrison and instructed the delegates to work for his re-nomination.

The East Jordan Explosion.

CHARLEVOIX, Mich., March 23.—The great mill explosion at East Jordan still continues the all absorbing topic of conversation here. The number of dead is seven, Peter Sheldon having died of his injuries. The testimony at the coroner's inquest tends to show that low water in the boilers caused the explosion.

Victory for the Publishers.

New York, March 22.—Stephen P. Nash, who was appointed arbitrator to settle some matters of difference between Jacob H. Payne, of New Orleans, La., and S. Addis Hays, jr., of Colorado Springs, Col., as executors of the will of Jefferson Davis, and D. Appleton & Co., publishers, of this city, has reported to the supreme court in favor of the publishers.

Indignant Negroes.

MEMPHIS, TENN., March 23.—A meeting was held last night by about 2,000 negroes, who passed resolutions condemning the lynching of Moss, Stewart and McDowell, on the 19th inst., as a foul and unjustifiable murder and outrage. Negroes are leaving this locality in large numbers for Oklahoma and other points, and a general exodus is apprehended.

Edward Field's Case.

New York, March 23.—Judge Van Brunt to-day signed an order directing that Edward M. Field, under indictment for forgery, be produced in court to-morrow morning in order to be committed to an insane asylum, where he will be watched to find out if he is shamming.

Blew Out the Gas.

LIMA, O., March 23.—Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Stewart, of Millersburg, O., stopped at the Buchtel hotel on their bridal tour. They blew the gas out. Yesterday morning the door to their room was forced open and they were found asphyxiated.

All for Grover.

GRAND FORK, N. D., March 22.—The delegates to the Democratic convention, arriving to-day, are unanimous for Cleveland.

It is absurd to suffer from Dyspepsia when Dr. A. S. Todd's Liver Pills will cure you.

WHO SHALL PROPOSE?

An Indefensible Something Which Forbids Women to Take the Initiative.

St. Louis Globe-Republic. I must confess it is no little question whether both men and women should have the right of the initiative in love—at least, whether it should be so habitually or by common custom, without any restraint of sentiment. Perhaps something might be lost by such a common participation—something delicate, tender, poetical, valuable. It may be that an inexpressible, indefinable, but very valuable sentiment may depend on some patience, anxiety, cautious delicacy, conventional reserve, on the one side, to meet action, judgment, choice, decision, initiation, on the other.

It may be that an equal, unrestrained, similar and open access to each other for initiative or confession of love might wear away much bloom, wonder, sanctity, which is preserved by the difference of relation of the two to the beginning and avowal.

A seeker and a sought, a proposer and a considerer, a leader and a follower, a petitioner and a giver, may be a fairer sight and more wholesome to love than two who may challenge each other equally, who, therefore, have no defined duties or sweet reciprocities regarding each other, who, perhaps, may delay for each other—a stupid situation—or may strive to get the start of each other—an utterly demeaning and undoing rivalry—or may scramble to forestall each other—a profane haste which often is bad enough now.

HEALTHY RULES.

Nineteen Simple Ways of Keeping Well, New York Sun.

At a recent meeting of the Twilight club the question for debate was: "How Do You Keep Well?" and twenty members of the club gave their answers to it:

- No. 1.—Keeps well by taking Turkish baths. No. 2.—By horseback exercise. No. 3.—By resisting disease and avoiding doctors. No. 4.—By keeping clear of colds and never working when tired. No. 5.—By obeying all the laws of hygiene. No. 6.—By open air exercise and oatmeal porridge. No. 7.—By keeping the mind content and taking a month's rest every summer. No. 8.—By boating. No. 9.—By never thinking about illness. No. 10.—By athletic exercise and refraining from overwork. No. 11.—By moderation both in work and play. No. 12.—By daily sponge baths and outdoor enjoyment. No. 13.—By horseback riding, cold baths and discreet dieting. No. 14.—By thorough mastication of all food and by genial companionship. No. 15.—By heading the doctor. No. 16.—By guarding the health in such a way as to give promise of a hundred years of life. No. 17.—By avoiding extremes, eating carefully and sleeping as long as possible. No. 18.—By dieting. No. 19.—By all-around development, virtue, exercise, temperate living, the Turkish baths, agreeable society, and a fair share of hard work. No. 20.—Can't keep well anyhow, and always forever ill.

Receiver Appointed.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 22.—The controller of the currency has appointed Mr. Otho L. Hayes, of Galion, receiver of the Lima National Bank of Ohio, insolvent.

Deafness Can't be Cured.

by local applications, as they can not reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases-out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that we can not cure by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75c.

A Remarkable Cure of Rheumatism.

Messrs. Cage and Sherman, of Alexander, Texas, write us regarding a remarkable cure of rheumatism there as follows: "The wife of Mr. William Pruitt, the postmaster here, had been bedridden with rheumatism for several years. She could get nothing to do her any good. We sold her a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and she was completely cured by its use. We refer you to one to her to verify this statement." 50-cent bottles for sale by C. H. Goetze, W. W. Irwin, John Klari, C. Schnepf, C. Menckmiller, W. S. McCullough, M. W. Heinrich, W. E. A Plain Precaution. Either to adopt a plain precaution, one sanctioned by experience and approved by medical men, or to incur the risk of a malady obdurate and destructive in its various forms of intermittent or bilious remittent fever, or dumb ague, which of the two? For every type, for every phase of malaria, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a specific. It acts promptly—does its work thoroughly. As a defence against the malarial taint it is most effective. Emigrants to and denizens of regions in the West where malarial complaints are perennial visitors, should be mindful of this and use the Bitters as a safeguard. For constipation, biliousness, rheumatism, "la grippe," kidney and bladder troubles the Bitters will be found no less useful than in cases of malaria. Against the injurious effects of exposure, bodily or mental fatigue, it is also a valuable protection.

I have been a great sufferer from catarrh for over ten years; had it very bad, could hardly breathe. Some nights I could not sleep and had to walk the floor. I purchased Ely's Cream Balm and am using it freely; it is working a cure surely. I have advised several friends to use it, and with happy results in every case. It is the medicine above all others for catarrh, and it is worth its weight in gold. I thank God I have found a remedy I can use with safety, and that does all that is claimed for it. It is curing my deafness.—B. W. Sperry, Hartford, Conn.

CASTORIA for Infants and Children.

Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me. H. A. Ancker, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.
