WHEELING, JUNE 1, 1892. NOTICE TO REPUBLICANS.

The Republicans of Ohio county will meet in their reveral districts, Monday evening, June 5, 1892, at 8 o'clock, to suggest names for district officers and delegates to the county convention, to be hold Saturday, June 11, 1892, between the rs of 3 and 8 o'clock.

Each district will cleet five delegates to the county convention, said convention to nomi-nate candidates for county officers and members of the Legislature and elect delegate to the State and Congressional conventions and senstorial

The county convention will meet Monday June 13 at 2 p. m. The suggestion meetings and primaries will be held at the following places: Washington—Vigitant Engine House. Madison—Squire Potermann's office. Clay—Old Court House.

Union-Atlantic Engine House. Centre—Hook and Ladder House. Webster—United Engine House. Ritchie—Eighth Ward Hose House.

Richland-Brick School House.

West Liberty—Centre School House.
Triadelphia—Triadelphia.
The primaries will be held at the same places and in Madison district at the Island Hose House and in Triadelphia district at Robinson's, Elm Grove and Toll Gate. By order of the Ohio County Republican Executive Committee.

T. C. MOFFAT, Chairman.

H. C. RICHARDS, Secretary.

THE approaching contest is rendered Will Mr. Blaine Write Another Letter? The anti-Harrison men who are using

Mr. Blaine as a cover, broke the news gently that they knew Mr. Blaine would accept a nomination. They were confident that before the assembling of the convention he would make known his willingness to serve. As the time draws near they are not so sure of their ground. Some of them even think it necessary to deny that they ever said that they had reason to know that Mr. Blaine would accept. To-day they are less sure than, ever and seem in a more reasonable frame of

Among those who have never doubted the sincerity of Mr. Blaine's letter, who took it as he intended it to be taken, who think it bad politics to try to pull him into the contest, among these are some who look daily for another letter from Mr. Blaine confirming the first.

It is true that a letter from Mr. Blaine at this time saying that he will not accept a nomination would add to the conviction that he meant nothing less in his letter to Mr. Clarkson and under the peculiar circumstances would clouds it.

But Mr. Blaine may well reason that he has already done his full duty by all aspirants and, what is of higher moment, by the party, and that he cannot be expected to keep on writing letters as long as other people keep on springing sensational movements.

He has has had his say and his old friends take him at his word. If his old friends do not it may be that they will learn wisdom from the great representative council of the Republicans.

The Syracuse Convention.

According to the telegraphic reports the Syracuse convention, composed of delegates representing two hundred thousand New York Democrats who were opposed to David Burglar Hill's snap convention early in February, disposed of their business in an orderly and easy manner yesterday; which is not exactly the Democratic way of doing things.

There were only two issues before the convention. One was to send a delegation to Chicago to protest against the Hill delegation and demand the nomination of Grover Cleveland, pledging the support of the two hundred thousand voters the protesting element represented. The other proposition was to elect a full contesting delegation, and to promise fealty to the nominee whoever he might be. The latter appears to have been the more business-like and effective method of dealing with the problem, and the convention endorsed it. The war is now on, and the music that will be heard in the rooms of the committee on credentials will be as loud and discordant as a boiler yard. symphony. In either case Cleveland and Hill will suffer, and in the language of our eminent friend, Sir Lucius O'Trigger, "it is a very pretty fight as it stands." The platform is the same old monologue that emanates from all Democratic bodies-denouncing the "abuse of power" by the Republican party for the past four years, undying hatred of the ic convention at Syracuse showed up in McKinley bill and fulsome praise for good trim early yesterday morning af-the beauties of free trade. It is the same old party, no matter what skin

Still the Good Work Goes On. Another new industry is to be revived in this country owing to the McKinley bill—the manufacture of flax stuffs. Thus the beneficient operations of the measure are being shown every day.

A New York dispatch says that "last year this country imported flax products worth $20,000,000, and at the same time the farms of the United States destroyed 1,070,000 tons of flax straw as being useless to them, and yet it has been shown that the American flax equals in quality, in fibre and in texture any grown in Russia. The American tarmer raised the flax for its seed only, which was made into linseed oil, and after the seed was threshed out the straw was burned as boing useless. The McKinley bill put a duty of 55 per cent on imported flax products and has made it possible for the United States to man-

Still that "infamous measure" that promised to ruin our country has made it not only possible for the United States to make use of what before was waste, but, by the introduction of improved machinery, we shall be able to export flax stuffs to all the rest of the world. Will the "poor farmer" suffer here? Our Democratic free traders will tell you he will, but the intelligent farmer will reply that he will take that kind of suffering in the largest doses it can be administered in.

ufacture flax worth $20,000,000."

Couldn't Have Happened Here.

However much we may talk of the wickedness and the immunity enjoyed by law breakers in this country, the brutal exhibition given by the prize fighters Slavin and Jackson in London Monday night could not have occurred in this country under the same conditions. It was fought in a public hall and police were there to "preserve order." Here is a choice excerpt from the report of the fight:

the report of the fight:

Jackson, realizing the piliful condition of his opponent, thrice turned to the referee to ask:

Jackson, realizing the piliful condition of his opponent, thrice turned to the referee to ask:

Jackson, realizing to refer the condition of his opponent, thrice turned to the referee to ask:

Jackson, realizing to refer the condition of the london prize ring, "you must knock him out to win."

Siavin tottered up against the ropes once, and sir John Asteley whose humane instainets overcame even his respect for the rules of pugilism, held him with both hands to prevent his failing over among the spectators. Twice Slavin went down so far as to seize the lower rope with both hands to prevent going to the floor, while his black opponent, with arm drawn back, awaited his rising to again batter him down.

When the big Australian finally fell into the aswdust, his face and body were covered with blood and his form was quivering. It was three minutes after his seconds dragged him to his corner before he gave any signs of life. His left eye was closed and awelled up to the size of a line's egg, his left ear was split up for half an inch and bleeding profusely, as were cutton and his above and dips. It will be weeks before he is the same man again.

So called glove fighting in this country

Socalled glove fighting in this country is very zealously guarded, but this contest at London was nothing more nor less than an out and out prize fight. What a sickening sight it must have been! And what a time it was for Sir John Astley's humane instincts to overcome him!

Some Inconsistencies.

Chairman Kernan, of the Democratic Snap convention at Syracuse, is hugging a delusion if he meant what he said in his speech yesterday. This is the way he assaults Hill:

the way he assaults Hill:

This convention is a balt on the march to the National Democratic convention as Chicago of as many more dulisified sympathizers. They go to wage war against their distranchisement in that convention by leaders who have made unvise and crafty use of party machinery for personal ends, and who have over-ridden time-honored customs and usages of the Democratic party. The February convention was a mistake from every standpoint; in some aspects it was a crime, indictable at Chicago.

Euchor on its his represents the headenses.

Further on ia his remarks he become warmed up but seems to have forgotten what has gone before, and would have us believe the following "happy family" state of affairs:

State of allairs:

Our Republican friends will not, in the end, derive comfort from our Democratic dissensions in this state, which at present they roll under their tongues as a sweet morsel. Democratic disquiet will end at Chicago. Thereafter New York Democrats will accept the decision of that tribunal as final, and will stand with their brethren everywhere for the nominee who fully and frankly accepts the pladges of the platform.

Hardly. Mr. Hill and his friends will not forget. He will not forget that at a mass meeting of these same "Anti-Snay pers," ex-Mayor Grace, one of the chief instigators of the Syracuse convention, designated him as a political skirt dancer and applied to him other choice and loving epithets. Hill has a good memory. There will be no harmony.

TAMMANY is all at sea for a favorite son for the presidency. Flower and Whitney come pretty near the mark, while they detest Cleveland and are indifferent to Hill. It is not known how high in their graces Daniel Webster Voorhees will stand. The Syracuse convention of dissenters also complientes the situation.

In an application for a new trial in a case in Jackson, Tennessee, one of the court officers said the jury was the most temperate he ever saw, notwithstanding the evidence that they drank two gallons of whisky, pitchers of beer and gallons of wine, and one juror was proved to have been drunk.

CONGRESSMAN DALZELL, of Pittsburgh, was renominated yesterday under rather pleasant circumstances. The convention was held in the elegantly appointed Alvin Theater, and the delegates dined at the Seventh Avenue hotel. Mr. Dalzell deserves all the pleasant things that may come to him.

Time flies. Yesterday was the third anniversary of the Johnstown flood. A monument over the graves of the unknown dead was dedicated yesterday with appropriate ceremonies.

DR. RAINSPORD, the advocate of "church saloons," half redeemed himself last Sabbath by warmly eulogizing Dr. Parkhurst and his recent crusade against vice.-

CONTINENTAL anarchists attempted to blow up a railway station in London yesterday. Short shrift should be meted out to such villains when caught.

ter a night of conferences and other et ceteras that usually go with such bodies. It is something surprising to for a Democratic convention to be in that condition.

Voornees' candidacy would be peaches and cream for the Republicans. "Mr. Lincoln's hirelings" would get in their work with a vengeance then.

The Aroostook (Me.) Republican mentions a diary now in possession of Rev. Mr. Moore, of Boston, and written by that gentleman's great-great-grandiather in 1053, at which time the latter commenced his sixty years' labor as a min-ister in Portland. The good man re-corded in the diary, how one Sunday, his opening prayer lasted an hour and a quarter, and remarked that he was "wonderfully sustained throughout."

Five women decorators have been engaged to design interiors for new boudoir cars at Wilmington. One of them, Miss Dunlap, is a graduate of the Philadelphia School of Design. Women excel in that kind of labor. Mr. J. C. Elmore, of Pullman, says that there are several young women employed in the art designing at Pullman, and some of their work is finer than any yet produced by man.

We believe the West Virginia delegation wil do their party a great service and themselves credit by voting to morrow to postpone the consideration of the bill at this time. Such a vote would not commit them for or against free coinage. It would simply put them on record of placing the question on the shelf for the present, and where it belongs until more vital and important legislation is considered.
