Syrup of Figs

The misgivings creep up from the feet—The cold rays that shroud the earth; The shadows deepen in the gloom; The day is done—the day of mirth.

The twilight falls, and faint and low Is heard the night-bird's lonely song; That sob is a symphony of woe; Sobs and bewails the night along.

Then as we sigh for vanished day, And watch the darkness settle slow, Through the dense shadows darts a ray, A flash—it is the after-glow.

The gathering night rolls sullen back As the pale planets come and go, As follows close the evening's track The glory of the after-glow.

So, when the world seems dark and drear, And Fate no more thurs gifts bestow, Perchance a brighter day is near, Perchance—who knows?—the after-glow!

THE AFTER-GLOW.

ALBERT PATYON TERHUNE.

The misgivings creep up from the feet—The cold rays that shroud the earth; The shadows deepen in the gloom; The day is done—the day of mirth.

THE HOUSEHOLD.

Baked Omelet and Other Seasonable Recipes.

Rice and Raisin Pie.—Boil half a cup of rice in two quarts of water until tender, or for about 20 minutes. Drain until thoroughly dry. Beat four eggs until light. Add half a cup of sugar and beat again; then add one pint of milk, one tablespoonful of vanilla and the boiled rice. Line two pie dishes with good light paste, cover the bottom of the dishes with seeded raisins. Fill with the rice mixture and bake in a quick oven about 30 minutes, or until the custard is solid. Beat the whites of two eggs until light, add two tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar and beat again until very stiff. Spread a thin covering of this mixture over the pie, dust with powdered sugar, put back in the oven and bake until a golden brown; serve when cold.

Chicken Pates.—Chop meat of cold chicken fine; season with salt; make a large cupful of rict drawn butter, and while on the fire add two hard boiled eggs minced fine, a little chopped parsley, and the meat of a chicken; let this mixture almost boil; have ready some pate pans of good rich paste; remove the covers with edge of knife; fill in with the mixture and arrange on a hot platter; in baking the crust it is a good plan to fill in with a square of stale bread, which is easily removed, as soon as it comes from the oven. This keeps the crust from falling flat, as it would otherwise do without the chicken mixture.

A Boiled Turnover.—Make a crust of one quart of flour, three teaspoonful of baking powder, a small spoonful a salt, two tablespoonful of butter and sweet milk enough to make a dough to roll. Roll the crust a quarter of an inch thick, in an oblong sheet, and spread with fruit; one quart of chopped apples, canned fruit, jam, preserves, marmalades or fresh fruit in its season. Sprinkle well with sugar and roll up. Lap the end over like the flap of a pocketbook, pinch the ends firmly together. Put in a bag similar in shape, but larger; then boil for one hour and a half. Serve hot with cream and sugar or sauce, cut in slices.

Baked Omelet.—Beat separately and extremely light the yolks and whites of three eggs, and then stir together until they are partially mixed. Add half a teaspoonful—no more—of corn starch, dissolved in three tablespoonfuls of milk, and a little salt. Pour into a well-buttered dish, and cook in a quick oven from five to eight minutes, or until firm. Serve immediately. When a very small omelet is required, a single egg may be prepared in the same manner and baked in a good sized scallop shell. The quantity of milk and corn starch must, of course, be reduced in proportion.

French Orange Jelly.—Squeeze the juice from five oranges and one lemon, and remove every seed. Rub two of the oranges with lumps of sugar so to make each lump very yellow and oily; in this way you obtain the flavor of the peel. Add half a pint of boiling syrup made by boiling one scant cup of granulated sugar with two tablespoonfuls of water for five minutes. When nearly cold add an ounce of Cox's gelatine that has been dissolved in a little water; stir well. Turn into a wet mold, and set in a cold place until firm.

Chicken broiled in the oven.—From a young chicken, cut a drumstick and second joint, or, if the invalid prefers light meat, the wing and part of the breast. Should there be any doubt as to the tenderness of the chicken, lay the piece on a gridiron or toaster, resting over a pan of boiling water, set on top of the stove and let it steam, closely covered, for half an hour before broiling. This done, lay the portion in a clean, warm dripping pan, and set this in a moderately hot oven; turn two or three times, rubbing with butter at each turn, until the chicken is done.

Fried Spring Chicken.—Clean, joint and soak in salt and water for two hours; put in a frying pan equal quantities of lard and butter, in all enough to cover the chicken; dip each piece in beaten egg, roll in cracker crumbs and drop in the boiling fat; fry till brown on both sides; serve on a hot platter, garnished with parsley; pour the most of the fat from the frying pan, and thicken the remainder with browned flour, adding to it one cupful of boiling water.

Queen's Pancakes.—Two eggs; one tablespoonful of butter; two cupfuls flour; one and a half cupful milk. Beat the eggs, add to them the milk, slightly warmed, the butter melted, a little salt and flour. Bake in cakes on a griddle, and when done spread them lightly with jam, jelly or honey, roll up, sprinkle with sugar and serve hot.

Beef Kidney Stew.—Wash, remove all bits of skin and fat, cut into small pieces and soak in salt and water for an hour or more; brown a lamp of butter in a stew pan; drain the kidney and put it in a stew pan; nearly cover it with water and allow it to cook slowly for two hours; thicken with a little flour and butter; serve hot on toast.

Orange Custard.—Take a pint of orange juice, into which the juice of one lemon has been squeezed. Put to it the yolks of six eggs very well beaten, a pound of granulated sugar, and the grated peel of one orange. Stir these over a slow fire till they are just ready to boil, then pour into custard cups.

HEALTH HINTS FOR SUMMER.

To Remove the Odor of Perspiration.—Bathe the parts with an alkaline preparation, preferably ammonium solutions. The "Aromatic Spirit" or the "Household ammonia," a teaspoonful of either, added to a pint of bathing water, is sufficient usually, or a teaspoonful of borax to a quart of water. In all attempts to remove odors of whatsoever kind always remember to use cold water. Hot water fixes the scent. Prove it by throwing a perfumed handkerchief in which the odor is scarcely perceptible into hot water, and you will quickly find the odor quite pronounced. Another scented handkerchief placed in cold water afterward gives off little or no perfume.

For Tired and Tender Feet.—After a weary day of tramping, when the burning, itching and aching of the feet are intolerable, no more grateful remedy can be offered than alcohol. Wash the feet in hot water or cold, whichever is the more soothing, thoroughly dry and then sponge of the cleansed part with equal parts of cold water, permitting the feet to dry without wiping.

Sweating Feet.—Mrs. M. Scarles writes giving an additional remedy for sweating feet, which is both simple and harmless. She says: "One-fourth teaspoonful of alum should be put into just enough water to cover the soles of the feet; the feet should be kept there half an hour."

FAIRMONT.

Crusade Commandery's Trip to Denver.
The State Normal School.
Special Correspondence of the Intelligencer.

FAIRMONT, W. VA., June 11.—Crusade Commandery Knights Templar, of this place, has concluded its arrangements for the transportation of its members and friends to Denver, in August, to attend the Triennial Conclave of the Grand Encampment of Knights Templar of the United States, which will convene in that city.

In view of that interesting event, this Commandery is aiding largely to its membership. Last night seven candidates were given the orders by Past Grand Commander Jesse R. Purnell.

The programme for the laying of the corner stone of the Normal School building is being arranged for the event, which takes place next Wednesday, June 15. The Masonic fraternity here, the matter in charge, and nearby lodges and sojourning Masons have been invited to join Fairmont lodge in the conduct of the ceremonies. A special communication of the Grand Lodge of the State of West Virginia is called to meet in this place on the 15th instant for the purpose stated above, at which K. D. Walker will officiate as Grand Master. Hon. Rankin Wiley has been invited to make the principal address on this memorable occasion. Crusade Commandery and visiting Grand Knights will act as escort to the Grand Commandery.

The executive committee of the Normal school have invited the different lodges of I. O. O. F. and Knights of Eithyas to join in the procession.

All Master Masons and Knights Templar are requested to meet promptly at Masonic Hall at 1 p. m. The procession will be formed on Madison street, marching from there to Jackson street, out Jackson to Quincy down Quincy to Main, through Main to Fairmont avenue, thence to the Normal building, where the corner stone will be laid with appropriate ceremony.

Capt. T. A. Fleming will be chief marshal, to whom all organizations invited to take part will report at the time specified, and will be assigned their positions in the procession.

A Wonderful Machine.

There is no doubt that man is a fine mechanism, but like every other machine he wears out by friction. It is said that he is born again every two or three years. His body is virtually rotten from food. To retard this making over is radically wrong, as a man loses so much vitality in the delayed process that it takes a long time to recuperate. The process of making anew is accelerated by purging with Brandreth's Pills, as it were, and the change in the mechanism is such that the worn out part is replaced by the new without the usual running down of the entire machine. You don't have to stop for repairs. Purge away with Brandreth's Pills the old, diseased and worn out body. They are purely vegetable, absolutely harmless, and safe to take at any time.

The Doctors Are Guilty.

Grave mistakes are made by physicians in treating heart disease. The rate of sudden deaths is daily increasing. Hundreds become victims of the ignorance of physicians in the treatment of this disease. One in four persons has a diseased heart. Shortness of breath, palpitation and fluttering, irregular pulse, choking sensation, asthmatic breathing, pain or tenderness in side, shoulder or arm, weak or hungry spells, are symptoms of heart disease. Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is the only reliable remedy. Thousands testify to its wonderful cures. Books free. Sold by Logan Drug Co.

She Committed Suicide.

Mrs. F. C. Boe, at Watkins, left this letter: "My husband—Forgive me if I cause you trouble, but I suffer so. You do not know what these long, wakeful, wretched nights are to me, and I am so tired, darning—the pain will never be better. It is not easy to take my own life, but I have been sick so long. Good-by, my husband, I love you—your wife." This is but one of thousands that gives up, instead of using Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, and being speedily cured of their wretchedness. FINANCE AND TRADE.

The Features of the Money and Stock Markets.

New York, June 11.—Money on call easy, with no loans; closing offered at 1 1/4 per cent. Prime mercantile paper 2 1/4 per cent. Sterling exchange quiet but steady at 84 1/2 and 84 1/2.

The stock market to-day was unusually active and decidedly strong, displaying the most pronounced tone it has shown for weeks. The bulls were in complete command, and the market soon faded away and prices took a rapid upward movement. The bank statement was of an encouraging character, but it would have been of more value had it been accompanied by the buying of their specialties by both London and Chicago, especially the latter. Chicago orders to buy were in the market in great quantities, but were once more the least of the market, both in activity and strength, though the other grangers followed closely. A few specialties, like Manhattan, Wheeling and Lake Erie, were in demand, and the market for the movement of the day was in the grangers. The close was active and strong at the top figures.

Breadstuffs and Provisions.

Chicago, June 11.—This was a field day for the bear characters of the market, and the market fell lower. It all grew out of the extremely bearish character of the government wheat crop report. Even the most radical bearers were not so far apart as they were yesterday. The market was appointed with the showing made. In the face of the reported wholesale destruction of fields by the floods and the rotting of the seed, the market was not so far apart as they were yesterday.
