

FLINT GLASS WORKERS

Puzzled by the Action of the U. S. Company Still.

THE CENTRAL POSTS THE NOTICE

Which was sent out by the Hobbs the Day Before--Nobody Knows what it Means--Managers at Findlay Re-sign--Talking up a new Factory. Other Glass News.

The notice issued by the United States Glass Company to its workmen, discharging them at the end of the present fire, which was mentioned in the INTELLIGENCER exclusively yesterday, was still the leading topic of discussion in glass and labor circles yesterday, and all concerned admitted that they knew nothing more about it than appeared on the face of the notice.

NOTICE

All glass house employes are hereby notified that their positions are vacant after July 1. Applications for positions must be made on or before July 20.

Mr. Scott said he had no information to the effect that he was to be made manager of both the local factories of the U. S. Company, although he thought one man could easily manage both factories.

There was interesting talk afloat yesterday of a movement to form a new company to operate a glass factory. Definite details could not be obtained, but it was learned that operatives in the local factories had been approached with a proposition to take stock in the company and accept positions in the factory.

Approxos of the news given in the INTELLIGENCER yesterday of the action of the United States Glass Company in discharging all of the employes at the old Hobbs glass works, it may be interesting to know that at Findlay all three of the managers there have resigned, Adam Jenkins, M. L. Blackburn and John Robinson. The impression is general that sentiment has ceased to be a factor in the operation of the United States Glass Company's factories, and that they propose to run them at less cost if it takes the heads of all the old employes. In other words, they mean to operate on business principles.

An Increase in Fuel Cost.

The Buckeye Glass company, of Martin's Ferry, has been notified that the price of gas will be raised to 15 cents per thousand feet after July 1. The Buckeye wrote to the Wheeling Natural Gas company to ascertain the price of gas for the coming year in order to find out whether to use gas or coal, and was informed that the price will be 15 cents after the first. This is an increase of 50 per cent over the present price, 10 cents per one thousand feet.

A BOY FORGER

Who has Spent Martin's Ferry and Hell-nale Arrested Yesterday.

Daniel McCloud, a slick sixteen-year-old boy, charged with forging orders on Mrs. R. Barr and Mrs. Frances McCord, was arrested at Steubenville yesterday, brought to Martin's Ferry, given a hearing before Mayor Keller, pleaded guilty and was bound over to court.

The order cashed by Mrs. McCord was for $2 and bore the name of her husband. The one cashed by Mrs. Barr for $4 was signed by R. Barr, her husband.

At first the young "crook" pleaded not guilty and finally acknowledged that he had forged the two orders, also others. One was on Mrs. Rodefer, of Ballina, for $10.50. He also confessed to having stolen $12.65 from his cousin at Steubenville, while he was asleep. With a part of this money he bought a suit of clothes the next day. McCloud tried to implicate Will Ault, of Ballina, in the forgery, but this would not work. For a country youth he takes the cake.

A Mail Carrier Dies.

Yesterday when Albert Jones, the mail carrier, called to deliver a letter at the house of Walter Miller, on Baltimore street, around the hill, a vicious dog owned by Miller sprang at him, bit his leg badly and tore his trousers. Postmaster Cowden, when informed of the occurrence, sent Miller word to call at the postoffice for his mail hereafter. Jones also demanded that a policeman be sent out to kill the dog, but it was said Miller refused to have it killed. At any rate it had not been killed last night. If it is not killed Miller will be arraigned in the police court and fined under the city ordinance for keeping a vicious dog.

Held as Fugitives.

S. G. Wellman and R. D. Hardy, the two men accused of stealing emory wheels from O. L. Hoffman, who caused their arrest by a telegram from Huntington, were arraigned before Squire Arkle yesterday. Capt. Dovenor appeared for the prosecution and Col. Arnett for the prisoners. The two men were discharged on the charge of larceny in West Virginia, but were held as fugitives from justice in Ohio, the alleged stealing having been done at Cincinnati. They were released on their own recognizance for their appearance at seven o'clock this evening, as Hoff-mandirected to send to Cincinnati for several witnesses.

VISITING CYCLISTS.

Two Illinois Gentlemen Pass through on a long Wheeling Journey.

There passed through this city yesterday afternoon, enroute for Washington, D. C., Messrs: A. W. Bartlett, and P. A. Boulton, two illustrious gentlemen from Springfield, Ill., who are making the tour on their bicycles in the interests of their health. They have been about nine days on the road, and expect to pass six or seven days in reaching their destination, making the trip over the mountains leisurely in order to enjoy the beauties of the scenery.

After spending a few days at the capital city they intend wheeling back to this city, and taking a boat to Cincinnati, there again resuming their cycles for home—a most sensible way of spending a vacation.

TIN, TIN, AMERICAN TIN.

A Wheeling Tourist Brings back Specimens of It.

BLOCK TIN PRODUCED FROM ORE

And sells at the Same Price as Imported Tin, though Wages are Four Times as High here as in Cornwall and Wales--Strong Testimony for Protection.

The old cry that tin can not be produced in the United States must soon give way to the truth, as did the wail of the free traders that tin plate could not be made in this country.

Hon. W. L. Hearne, who has just returned from a tour in California and the West, gives strong testimony in favor of the McKinley protective duty.

Mr. Hearne went to the tin mines at Tamescal, Cal., near Riverside, to see the block tin produced from the ore, and to get specimens of the ore and the tin. He brought back with him several small pigs of the tin, which is as fine an article as was ever produced. It has been used at Demler, Pa., and an Ohio tin worker predicts that in a few years Wales will be drawing her supply of raw tin from the United States.

Mr. Hearne went down to Tamescal from Los Angeles, which is seventy-five miles away. He found the mill managed by Captain Harris, who has been in the business forty years in the old country, and all the operations of mining, smelting, etc., are carried on by Cornish people.

It is a striking fact, and one worthy of study, which Mr. Hearne states about wages. The wages paid the workmen in and about the mines and works in California are four times as high as those paid in Cornwall.

The tin is produced from fine Cassiterite ore, with oil as fuel. The ore is taken from a perpendicular shaft on the hillside, 200 feet deep. Many veins have been traced. The mines are owned in England, as are also the tin mines in the Black Hills.

This tin is selling in the market now at 22 cents per pound. The INTELLIGENCER is in possession of one of the tiny pigs brought home by Mr. Hearne, and will take pleasure in showing it to any person who has been impressed by the silly howl that no tin is mined or smelted in the United States.

CRUSHED BY A FALL OF SLATE.

A Member of a Remarkable Family Badly Hurt Yesterday.

A heavy fall of slate occurred in a room of the Moundsville coal company's shaft at Moundsville, yesterday, catching Hi Brandon, a miner who was working in the room at the time, and crushing him in a horrible manner. The man who was working with him escaped injury and at once summoned help, and Brandon was removed to his home.

Two ribs were broken and it is feared that he is injured internally; besides his thigh was badly squeezed. He was resting as well as could be expected last evening.

The unfortunate man is about 55 years of age and is a member of the celebrated family that consisted of thirty-three sons. The one herein referred to and fifteen of his brothers fought on the Union side during the late war. The mother of this remarkable family is still living and is as active as the average woman is at fifty.

NO FAMINE IN PEACHES, But They Will Probably Be Scarce in Other Cities.

Mr. John W. Carter, of Baltimore, is in the city buying butter for the Baltimore commission house of Hopkins & Carter. He used to be what salesman for the firm of Hopkins, Mathews & Co., and during the season was up to his eyes in peaches. Mr. Carter says the outlook for the Maryland peach crop is gloomy, that there is, in fact, no outlook at all. The trees in Maryland bore a bountiful crop last year and the present is their off-season. The Kent Island steamers, Mr. Carter says, which last year brought in two or three shiploads of peaches a day, do not expect to land at the Baltimore wharf more than a ship load a week. Mr. Carter formerly handled the entire "Round Top" product, and he says the peach trees in that vicinity are almost bare.

The Baltimore packers will devote their attention to the putting up of pineapples, of which there is an enormous crop.

If the Baltimore packers can few peaches this year, the Wheeling packers will have better luck. A man from New Philadelphia, Ohio, was in the city yesterday, and he assured the INTELLIGENCER that the Tuscarawas county peach crop this year will be the largest that county has ever produced. The trees are loaded with them. All of this fruit is shipped to Wheeling, and the packers and commission men will reap the benefit. What the packers and the people don't consume the commission men will ship to other points.

NOTES ON NAVIGATION.

GLENDALE LOT SALE.

A Very Good Showing Made Yesterday—Good Prices.

When the special train for Glendale yesterday pulled out of the Ohio River depot on Water street, there was a good sized crowd aboard. Although the train was advertised to depart at 1:30 p. m., it was fully an hour later when it started. Notwithstanding the long, unavoidable delay, every one enjoyed the ride, which was made in twenty minutes.

When the special arrived at Glendale the passengers were met by a number of carriages, which were placed at their disposal to view the grounds. The majority were immediately driven to the lower orchard, where the sale was being held by Auctioneer J. C. Harvey, there being already a large number present who had come down in the morning on the Baltimore & Ohio to spend the day. A bountiful lunch was spread at noon on the hotel site for them.

Only two lots were sold in the morning, but when the second train arrived the bidding became more spirited, and a large number of lots were sold, the total amount being almost $15,000.

Among those present at the sale were: Judge J. A. Campbell, George Adams, Frank Stanton, Prof. H. J. Arden, J. C. Devine, George J. Bradshaw, John A. Lamb, William L. McPhail, Roy J. T. McClure, S. O. Carothers, T. T. Owens, C. J. Rawlins, Dr. John H. Storer, of Elm Grove, Dr. T. Edwards, William and H. D. Kumble, B. S. Allison, William Erskine, Samuel N. Shitt, J. Glenn Cook, R. M. Gillette, Louis Kolf and wife, Mrs. P. Moran, Miss Kate Garver, Mrs. S. P. Norton, Miss Amy C. Chapline, Mr. Charles H. Barry and wife, Mr. Frank Stamm and wife, Mrs. Charles Bailey and daughter, Miss Gertrude Fisher, Mrs. W. P. Bachman and daughter and Mr. James Gavin and wife. There were also present a number of prominent citizens of Moundsville and Marshall county.

Most of the lots were sold at low prices, and some excellent bargains were made. Most of the investors bought with the intention of building at once. There are already a number of handsome dwellings erected, which add a great deal to the beauty of the splendid natural situation.

The following lots were sold during the day:

- George Adams, lot No. 61, in division 2... $ 650
Agnes Berry, lot No. 62, in division 2... 716
Judge John A. Campbell, lot No. 41, in division 1... 685
Mrs. Moran, lot No. 35, in division 2... 1,600
George Adams, lot No. 63, in division 2... 800
Miss Martha Zinn, lot No. 64, in division 2... 510
Herman Steinmar, lot No. 66, in division 2... 500
Miss Catherine Garver, lot No. 41, in division 1... 735
B. S. Allison, lot No. 30, in division 2... 655
George E. Fuller, lot No. 29, in division 2... 693
Mrs. E. D. Craig, lot No. 72, in division 2... 710
U. B. Williams, lot No. 51, in division 2... 600
D. A. Dorsey, lot No. 80, in division 2... 605
Gottlieb Thunen, lot No. 36, in division 2... 455
Mrs. Moran, lot No. 24, in division 2... 530
Judge J. A. Campbell, lot No. 23, in division 1... 495
Mrs. M. S. Allison, lot No. 34, in division 2... 485
George Bell, lot No. 45, in division 2... 510
J. C. Devine, lot No. 42, in division 2... 445
George Adams, lot No. 48, in division 2... 560
D. L. Heskell, lot No. 42, in division 3... 530
C. H. Berry, lot No. 21, in division 2... 1,150
Percy J. Beaumont, lot No. 15, in division 2... 550

A large number of the excursionists returned to the city at 5 p. m., all highly pleased with the future prospects of Glendale. The syndicate in charge of the sale has every reason to feel proud of the excellent result attained at yesterday's sales.

Efforts on Behalf of Maier.

Mrs. Gross, a friend of William Maier, the condemned murderer, arrived in the city yesterday from her home in Cincinnati, and visited Maier at the jail. She is here for the purpose of raising funds to appeal Maier's case to the supreme court.
