FATAL RESULTS

That May Follow Neglected Catarrhal Trouble.

Karache, Deafness, Headache, Dyspepsia and Chronic Diarrhoea, as well as Bronchitis, Nervous Prostration and Consumption, are in the Wake of this Insidious Enemy of Mankind—a Case Illustrating It. The Plain Truth.

The course of catarrhal trouble, extending throughout the system, involving the head, throat, chest and lungs, the stomach and the kidneys, has been commented upon in the articles printed from time to time in these columns by Dr. Copeland and Davis, but nothing emphasizes the truth of these articles so practically and so strongly as cases of individual experience, showing just how catarrh does extend even to the ears, causing the most intense, agonizing earache and headache; to the stomach, causing Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Chronic and Acute Diarrhoea, Dysentery, etc.; to the Bronchial Tubes and Lungs, causing Chronic Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Consumption, etc., and finally weakening the general system so by depleted blood and inanition, due to lack of the stomach and bowels to perform their normal functions of digestion and assimilation, that utter nervous prostration and general debility ensue.

HEAD AND STOMACH TROUBLE.

Mr. John McKeney, of New Cumberland, W. Va., Describes How Neglected Catarrh Affected His Head and Stomach and How He Was Cured by Dr. Copeland and Davis.

"My troubles date back at least ten years," says Mr. John McKeney. "I began with a cold, followed by repeated colds and then became chronic.

"My head was nearly always stopped up and there was a continual discharge internally from the nose, requiring spitting and hawking to remove. I had headaches sometimes of a most violent character. I had a very throat most of the time, which was made raw and inflamed by the constant dripping of the discharge. My right ear also became seriously affected and discharged a great deal. I had pain in the chest, back and sides and suffered from indigestion. My stomach seemed to be all wrong. I had no appetite, and what food I ate gave me the greatest nausea. I did not sleep well and arose in the morning more tired than when I went to bed. Within the last year my troubles became so serious that I felt that something ought to be done. Some time ago I noticed that the newspapers were publishing a great deal about the wonderful cures of Dr. Copeland and Davis, and I was convinced that if I went to them I would obtain relief. I did so, and under their methods I began to improve right away. The improvement was steady and marked and a permanent cure was sure, and now I feel first rate. My head is better, there is less hawking and spitting, and I am better in every respect. I eat well and sleep well, and find myself strong and refreshed in the morning and am in very good condition. "I am so well pleased and satisfied with the result that I gladly make this statement for the benefit of those who may be looking for the right physician to give them relief. I hope this statement may be the means of inducing others to seek Dr. Copeland and Davis and obtain the same beneficial result that I have."
