THE BILL PASSED BY CONGRESS

Enforcing the Reciprocal Commercial Relations between the United States and Canada, in Response to President Harrison's Recommendation.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 21.—The most important legislation passed by the house to-day was the bill to enforce reciprocal commercial relations between the United States and Canada.

When the bill was called up in the house Mr. Blount, of Georgia, said that the President had in two messages called the attention of Congress to the fact that notwithstanding treaty rights American citizens were discriminated against in the matter of transportation through the Welland, St. Lawrence and other canals.

The bill was passed without division. The bill providing that when the President shall be satisfied that the passage through any canal or lock connects with the navigation of the St. Lawrence river, the great lakes, or the waterways connecting the same, or of vessels of the United States, or of cargoes, or passengers in transit to any port of the United States, is prohibited or is made difficult or burdensome by the imposition of tolls or otherwise, which he shall deem to be reciprocally unjust and unreasonable, he shall have the power to suspend the right of free passage through the St. Mary's Falls canal so far as it relates to vessels owned by the subjects of the government discriminating against the United States.

PROCEEDINGS OF CONGRESS.

The Anti-Option Bill in the Senate and the Reciprocal Measure in the House.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 21.—The anti-option bill was debated for three hours in the senate to-day, after which time it went over till to-morrow without action. The speeches were in opposition to that measure. They were made by Mr. Daniel—in continuation and conclusion of the argument which he had begun yesterday—and Mr. White, who had not concluded when the time came for laying aside the bill.

Mr. White's speech was a passionate and energetic arraignment of the bill as a usurpation of state's rights, as detrimental to the interests of the producers of the country, as an unwarrantable interference with the legitimate business of the chambers of commerce and boards of trade, where buyers and sellers were on an equality, having equal access to the information gathered all over the world, and where there was "a fair and square deal," and as an encouragement to "bucket shops."

The disagreeing conference report on the deficiency bill was presented and agreed to, and another conference asked. Mr. Carey, from the committee on territories, reported back a house bill for the admission of New Mexico as a state, and said that he would not call it up until next session.

Mr. Peffer offered a resolution instructing the judiciary committee to inquire and report whether in the present state of the law as it concerns the relations between employer and employed the employer enjoys the privilege of determining and enforcing the rate of wages, whether, if so, the resulting condition is conducive to the good of society, or tends to promote the general welfare, whether Congress has jurisdiction over the matter, providing remedial legislation, and if so, what legislation is necessary to afford proper relief. The resolution was at Mr. Peffer's request laid on the table.

When 12:15 o'clock had arrived, Mr. Washburn's anti-option bill was again laid before the senate as unfinished business. Mr. Washburn at once moved to strike out section twelve, requiring dealers in futures to take out a license and keep a record. The action, he said, required every man who possessed the property which he sold, and who dealt in futures to take out a license and keep a record.

No action was taken on the amendment, and Mr. Daniel proceeded with his argument against the bill, which he had begun yesterday. He thought it strange to see members of the Democratic party allying themselves with a so-called back measure which was for everything else but revenue. It appeared to him to be an exceedingly harsh measure.

Mr. White next addressed the senate in opposition to the anti-option bill. Mr. White said: "If trading in futures were prohibited in boards of trade, it would break out in the bucket shops, and the title of the bill would have to be modified; by making it read 'an act to stimulate gambling in agricultural produce and to encourage the opening of bucket shops by forbidding gambling in four or five products and licensing it as to all other.'"

In the great commercial exchanges of the country every man was able to trade on an equal footing. There was a "fair and square deal." The man who bought and the man who sold got information there that was gathered from all over the world. They were all on an equal footing. Those exchanges were the greatest instrumentalities in favor of the equality and liberty of man. The purpose of the bill was to strike down all the trading that could be done at an equal advantage and to stimulate the trading in which the small man would be at the mercy of the big man, and to destroy all the protective elements which modern society and modern commerce had evolved. At this point and before Mr. White had finished his speech, the anti-option bill went over till tomorrow.

The house bill to enforce reciprocal commercial relations with Canada was laid before the senate, and was, on motion of Mr. Fry, placed on the calendar, taking the place of the senate bill on the same subject.

After a brief executive session the senate adjourned.

in which the deficiency and sundry civil bills are placed the congressional game would soon be at an end. The house made a number of moves toward that result to-day which tended to show the disposition of members to clear the board for the final fight over the two great measures.

The most important of these was the passage of the bill to enforce reciprocal commercial relations between the United States and Canada. A number of measures pertaining to military and naval matters were passed but postal affairs were not so successful—the only measure of general importance called up for the issuing of postal fractional notes not reaching a favorable conclusion.

Mr. McCreary, from the committee on foreign affairs, called up a joint resolution expressing sympathy with the Russian Hebrews in distress and the hope that the Russian government will mitigate the severity of the decrees against them.

Mr. Buchanan, of New Jersey, inquired whether the sympathy was to be sent in a government vessel.

Mr. Butler, of Iowa, thought the resolution was a piece of buncombe and by raising the point of no quorum consumed the remainder of the hour accorded to the committee on foreign affairs and the resolution resumed its place on the calendar.

OFF FOR THE SEASIDE.

Another Large Party Leaves Over the Pan-Handle Road for Atlantic City.

"Her trunks were packed with silk attire, With dainty glove and boot; But in an envelope she mails Her summer bathing suit."

From the large number of trunks piled around, the bustling confusion and the numerous greetings and good byes of friends yesterday afternoon at the Peewy depot, as the 4:20 train pulled out, one would imagine that a large portion of the city's population was about to leave for various summer resorts. The occasion was the second annual excursion of the Pan-Handle railroad to Atlantic City and other sea coast resorts. The road had added much to the attractions of its first excursion by placing one of the finest sleepers that the Pennsylvania railroad has in its service to run clear through to Philadelphia.

Among those on board were: Mr. and Mrs. L. Whit, Mrs. M. J. Brilles and daughter Florence, J. B. McKee, Thomas Morris, wife and child, N. B. Scott, wife and son, Guy, George V. Riley and wife, Will Kievis and sisters, Miss Melia and Miss Mary, Miss Marie Holliday, Mrs. A. C. Branum, of Bridgeport, the Misses Adams, of St. Clairsville, Mrs. Dr. Van Wagner, of Bellefleur, George Hervey and wife, of Bellefleur, George Hervey and wife, of Westport, Mass., where they are going to spend the summer. A number of others accompanied the party.

THE MOUNDVILLE MOUND.

The Movement to Raise Funds in the Schools Falls.

Mr. G. S. McFadden, of Moundville, owner of the famous mound there, was in town yesterday. To an INTELLIGENCER reporter he said that up to date the movement to raise funds by subscription from the school children of the state to buy the mound and preserve it as a relic had netted $410 33, since last November. The amount it is desired to raise is $7,000, so that it is apparent that this project is a failure. Mr. McFadden said he would dislike exceedingly to remove the mound, but he is so situated that he must realize on it. The site would bring in more than $7,000 as town lots, and he could have the mound removed free of cost, as many people having low lots would be glad to move the earth for it. He hopes some of the rich people of the state who appreciate such things will put up the money to preserve it. He has given all the time that could be asked, and will wait till next spring. If something is not done by that time he will be compelled to demolish the mound and sell the site.

Cigarmakers' Picnic.

A committee of Garfield Assembly 1721, K. of L., yesterday decided to give a picnic on the State Fair grounds, August 6. There will be no gambling allowed on the grounds, and everything will be done to make the affair pleasant and a memorable success. Privileges can be secured from Fred Schneider, of 2122 Main street. The committee of arrangements consists of G. E. Hildebrand, Henry Templeton, John Hervey, Henry Pebler, jr., Henry Vass, jr., Fred Schneider, jr., Henry Floto, James McCallister and Conrad Wasman.

Mr. Chas. N. Hauer

Of Frederick, Md., suffered terribly for over ten years with abscesses and running sores on his left leg. He wasted away, grew weak and thin, and was obliged to use a cane and crutch. Everything which could be thought of was done without good result, until he began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla which effected a perfect cure. Mr. Hauer is now in the best of health. Full particulars of his case will be sent him on request.

HOOD'S PILLS are the best after-dinner Pills, assist digestion, cure headache and biliousness.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Matters of Minor Moment in and about the City.

ROBERT HARRIS and George Walker were arrested last night by Officer Fahy for vagrancy.

The down train on the W. & L. E. road was over an hour late last night, the latest in the history of the road.

At the Glass Exchange yesterday a manufacturer bet a glass dealer $10 to $5 that West Virginia will go Republican.

KLIEVES, KRAFT & Co., have purchased from Mr. A. D. Home, agent of the Skinner Engine Co., an eighty-horsepower engine and boiler.

CHIEF OF POLICE McNICHOI returned last night from a week's visit to the Island fishing club's camp, down the river. The boys are having a good time.

JACOB NEAGLE yesterday swore out a warrant in Squire Phillips's court for Mrs. George Aulten, and the justice required her to give bond in $100 to keep the peace for six months.

The improvements on St. Paul's German Protestant church in the Eighth ward are greatly beautifying the appearance of the church. Yesterday painters regilded the ball at the top and painted the steeple.

OFFICER WEST yesterday arrested Thomas Javeni, a crippled Italian, who has become a nuisance to his brother, who runs a fruit stand in the Second ward. He insists on running his broth-r's business.

YESTERDAY a large dog, formerly belonging to John Kindelberger, but now the property of Capt. Bradford, the mail agent, bit a small child of William McGruder's badly. McGruder demanded that the police kill the animal.

It was 1 o'clock this morning when the I. O. U. F. excursion to Zoar, Ohio, over the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad, returned to the union station. It was not an exceedingly large excursion, but everybody who went had a good time.

A GAUGE is being cut on the Main street bridge to indicate the stages of water in the river at freshets. This will be a great convenience as a means of gauging future floods. Engineer White has measured the stakes for the purpose of making the marks.

We wrote this week, says the Waynesburg Independent, that the projectors of the Wheeling & Conellsville railroad, held a meeting in Wheeling last week to make choice of routes from Ackley's, from which point two surveys have been made—one through this county and the other through Washington county. Our informant got this on rumor, and we give it for all it is worth. We hope the report is true, and that the Greene county route has been accepted.

THE Cincinnati Commercial Gazette says: The friends of W. J. Lampton, the funny man of the old-time Steubenville Herald, later on the editor of the Commercial Traveler, and now the humorous Washington correspondent of the Detroit Free Press, will be glad to hear that he is to appear in a new role—that of an inventor. He has invented a contrivance for letting down and folding up berths in sleeping cars that is said to be ahead of anything that Mr. Pullman ever designed. If the Pullman Company buys the patent Mr. Lampton will be a rich man. A deal is now in progress.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

Strangers in the City and Whooping Folks Abroad.

W. B. Dennis spent yesterday in Pittsburgh.

Mr. A. W. Paull left yesterday for New York.

Miss Dora Moore, of Cadiz, is visiting relatives here for a few days.

Miss Hattie Poole will spend her vacation at Morrisstown, her old home.

W. E. Starr, traveling passenger agent for the Missouri Pacific railroad, is in the city.

Miss May Blair, of Ritchie Court House, and R. S. Taggart, of Parkersburg, are at the Stamm.

Rev. Dr. Hirschberg, of Fort Wayne, Indiana, is visiting Mr. Michael Emsheimer, on Eoff street.

Mrs. George H. Gibson has just returned from a visit to New York, Albany, Troy and Saratoga springs.

THE ADJUSTMENT is simple, perfect and POSITIVE. Any angle desired—even to the 16th part of an inch—can be obtained, and the top held solid and rigid.

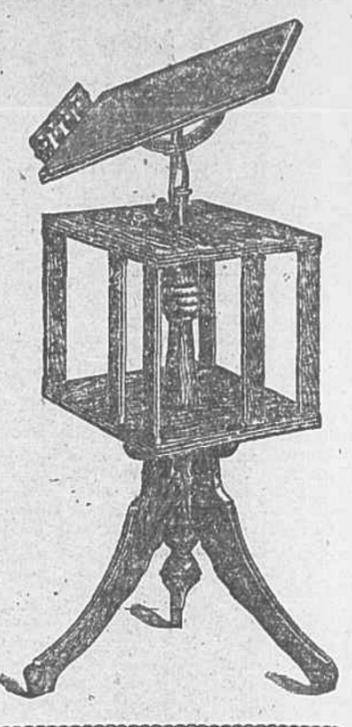

The Rest invented and patented for this Stand, it is universally conceded, surpasses in ingenuity and usefulness any device ever made for a similar purpose. When the Stand top is at an angle this Rest is raised and firmly holds its position in preventing a book or other article from sliding off; but when a level or flat top table is required, it is easily and quickly dropped down and out of the way. It is polished metal and plated.

The Extension consists of a 16-inch polished Bessemer Steel Rod that runs down in the post, and which may be raised or lowered and at any point desired is firmly held by a set screw; thus the HEIGHT of the stand is adjusted to meet the requirements of any SITTING or STANDING position.

THE TOP is 14x18 inches. This is the size required for large volumes, such as DICTIONARIES, BIBLES, ATLASES, etc., and is especially well adapted to SHEET MUSIC. Stands on the market with a SMALLER top are practically USELESS.

REVOLVING SHELF, as shown, is 12x12x10 1-4 inches and admits an Unapridged Dictionary, Atlas and many volumes of less size. Is substantially made and finished in Antique Oak. It serves the purposes of a Revolving Book Case.

THE ABOVE STANDS FOR SALE BY ALEXANDER FREW, DEALER IN Furniture, Carpets, Oil Cloths, Linoleums, Window Shades, Etc., 1117 MAIN STREET.
