

REV. JOHN L. ROEMER,

A Young Presbyterian Minister, Formerly of Wheeling,

PREACHES AN ELOQUENT SERMON

From Rev. Dr. Cunningham's Pulpit, at the First Presbyterian Church. Faith is His Theme, and He Has a Large Congregation in Spite of the Oppressive Heat.

In the absence of Rev. Dr. D. A. Cunningham, Rev. John L. Roemer, an old Wheeling boy, now located at Fairview, in the Pittsburgh presbytery, preached yesterday forenoon in the First Presbyterian church, and there was a very good congregation in spite of the really oppressive heat. His theme was "Faith," and he took for his text Hebrews 11, 30.

"By faith the walls of Jericho fell down, after they were compassed about seven days."

He said: Faith is a plant of divine planting and of divine growth. It is, however, planted in a strange, unconsoling soil, and sometimes suffers not a little from its environment.

Sometimes it seems to wither away until it almost disappears from above ground; at other times it revives and brings forth its wonderful fruits to God's glory and praise. Now, on this occasion, faith in God was in splendid condition, in lively and vigorous exercise. Therefore was this mighty deed of renown accomplished.

For lack of a strong, simple faith in God, this deed took so long to be accomplished.

God brought this people's fathers to this same point, to this very opportunity, but faith in Him was at such a low ebb that this deed could not be done. God had to lead them up and down through the wilderness till they fell, and from their sons raised up a more faithful generation to serve Him and to do His work.

From the record of the capture of Jericho we perceive the working of faith, the activity it produces, the hope that springs from it, and victory that attends it.

Faith leads to action. It was the greatness of his faith that led Joshua to issue the command to the army of Israel: "Pass on; compass the city." He believed the Lord's assurance, "I will not fall thee nor forsake thee." He believed the promise, "As I was with Moses, so I will be with thee." Grounded in the faith of God, he went about the business entrusted to him.

FAITH IS THE MOST ACTIVE PRINCIPLE known to the human mind. Give a man the eye of faith and he will bend every nerve, strain every muscle, to obtain the object of his search. He knows nothing of fear, is scrupulously obedient unto the laws governing his success. It is faith that moves the machinery of life.

Faith drives the iron horse, places the merchant vessel on our seas and bids the busy world move on in confidence of ultimate success.

The most inactive thing in the world is the lack of faith.

Faith in religion is the same principle as faith in worldly things, differing only in its object. Faith in God is as simple as it is simple; as potent as it is plain. It is the connecting link between impotence and omnipotence; between need and all sufficiency. He that by faith layeth hold on God has accomplished the simplest and yet the grandest act of the mind. He has connected himself with that power which moves him to constant action. He awaits the commands of the Great Captain of his salvation, constantly inquiring, "What wilt thou have me to do?"

We believe we are saved by faith alone, but not by a faith which is alone. It is not faith that saves merely. We are saved by a faith without works, but not by a faith which is without works.

II. Faith dispels fear. This undertaking of Joshua's was no small matter. Without an assault, without an attempt at violence, the proud city was to be Israel's. To an unbeliever this mode of warfare would seem too ridiculous to merit attention. But it is the way in which the Almighty God is accomplishing his purposes. Silently the forces of faith are at work; men ridicule, the world laughs at each folly, but it shall see the wisdom of faith's folly.

It may not have been Joshua's way, but it was God's way and he displays that by obedience. Around the city he marched, fearing nothing save disobedience to orders. At Rome there is a prisoner, his end is near at hand. He sits down to pen his last recorded letter. Prison bars, cruel stripes have not caused one pang of regret for his confidence in the Son of God, and with overflowing love he tells Timothy: "I know whom I have believed, and am persuaded that he is able to keep that which I have committed unto him against that day."

That is faith in vigorous exercise. That is faith that know no such thing as rest, but pressed constantly and unwaveringly toward the high calling of God, which is in Christ Jesus. Faith in God leads to organized activity. God does his work by plan, by system. The host that surrounded Jericho was not a mob, not a band of men without method, without intelligent direction.

The ark of the Lord occupied the central position. Everything that was done had special reference to it; individual preferences were subservient to it. How grandly they marched to victory with the ark in the center. They knew what to do with the Lord. They knew not how to do without Him.

When the individual is thoroughly organized with the ark in the center of his heart, the church of God will march triumphantly to victory. Many make light of the church, but God is working through her agency. When the Ark of the Covenant is in the center, and the march around the walled Jericho of sin is made, "Jericho will be straightly shut up."

The world will be clear, the issue definite—all Jericho there, Israel here. The greatest charge against us to-day is that you cannot distinguish one from the other, and it is extremely difficult at times to detect an Icarus. You cannot tell Jericho from Israel, for the central figure in the march is self, and organization is only a means to a selfish end.

May we as God's people be filled with such an abiding faith in Christ that when we move our columns against the forces of Satan there will be a marked distinction between the two forces, and we may go forward doing for Christ and through Him, for we can do all things through Him that strengthens us.

The army of Israel about the walls of Jericho gives us another illustration. The rank and file may have had their doubts about methods. The hardship of the march might have been otherwise by making an open assault. Imagine a stalwart of Israel coming in from the first day's march and flinging himself down in his tent and saying: "I would rather face than to one, than go that round." But there was silence in the ranks. The trumpets were sounded only by the appointed ones. No shouting until the command is given.

THE ENEMIES OF MY GOD,

Joshua's plans are worth adopting. Doubts arise. The ultimate triumph is not questioned if obedience is observed.

III. Hopefulness of faith. Jericho was not taken in a day. Joshua's faith led him to obedience. His faith placed great rewards before him. Faith not in words only but in God. It led him to expect much. Time must intervene. Faith and hope are always vitally united. They come by the same source, are

SUSTAINED BY THE SAME EVIDENCE.

Faith perceives, hope anticipates. Faith saw fallen Jericho, hope said, "You are on your way to receive the reward."

Faith in Christ does not lead to immediate fulfillment of His promises. Time must intervene.

The conqueror Alexander was right when he caused to be painted on a table a sword in the compass of a wheel, showing what he had gotten by the sword, what subject to be turned about by the wheel of fortune. Such are the honors of the world. The scepter of ancient royalty, the turban of Saul, the crown of David, pass into nothingness when compared with the crown that fadeth not away.

This is the hope that springs from faith in God, riches greater than the spoils of Jericho, honor greater than worldly kings, citizenship with the saints, heirs of God, joint heirs with Christ.

The hope of Christian faith is a virgin of a fair and clear countenance. Her proper place is upon earth, her proper object in heaven. She has a quick and piercing eye that can see the glory of God, the mercy of Christ, the society of the saints, the joys of paradise, through all the clouds of life; as Stephen saw heaven opened and Jesus standing in the holy place. Faith is her attorney general, patience her physician, thankfulness her treasurer, the promise of God her anchor, and eternal glory her crown.

The victory of faith.—The result of faith is always victory. It is the basis of all active, successful enterprises. It is the very secret of individual and natural success.

Without faith Columbus could not have crossed the ocean, Cortes could not have conquered Mexico. Unknown countries could not have been explored. The American revolution, the French revolution, could not have been accomplished without faith. The same may be said of all great civil and political movements.

The result of Joshua's faith was victory. The walls of Jericho fell down because of his faith. The result of faith in Joshua's God always leads to victory.

The world is being conquered by men trusting in God's word and obeying His command to go into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature.

No more mysterious is it to see the walled cities of heathendom fall by the mere proclamation of God's word than the taking of Jericho by walking. Both are done in obedience to orders, both are accomplished by the same God that said, "See, I have given Jericho into thy hands."

The unknown God is taken captive and the God whom they ignorantly worshipped is declared unto them. From the missionary journeys of today the world has been revolutionized by Christianity.

There is much to task and strain our faith, but the words of cheer come to us as they did to Abraham: "Fear not; I am thy shield and thy exceeding great reward." We continue the march, assured that we are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation.

All Sorts of Local News and Gossip from the Glass City.

Robert C. Meyer, chairman of the Democratic committee, has secured reduced rates on the C. & P. railroad, from Steubenville and all intermediate points to this city for their congressional convention next week, and on Saturday evening the following named delegates to that convention were selected here: First ward, Marion Hoffman; Second ward, R. E. Neal Luke Gavin, Thomas McGee; Third ward, Fred Rodewig and A. S. Lockwood, sr.; Fourth ward, James T. Kelly, John T. Flynn; Fifth ward, no primaries.

Township precinct, O. C. Tarbet, Charles Crymble, I. H. Day. The convention will be a mere matter of form, as there is no opposition to the re-nomination of Judge Pearson. Newell K. Kennon will preside.

There was a lockup full of boys Saturday night, and some of them remained all night, but anxious and vexed parents got most of them out before they retired Saturday night, but it cost $4.00 in each case. The boys had been in swimming and probably would not have been disturbed but one of them mounted a mule, as naked as the day he was born, he rode the mule to the water works and back to the railroad bridge. This attracted the attention of people, officers included, and a raid was made that resulted in fifteen youngsters being locked up and a fine of $3 and costs being imposed on each.

Testimony was taken here during the past week looking toward a settlement of the claims of the J. C. Gibney company against the Pennsylvania railroad company, for the grading and filling on the Ohio Valley branch. Before the work was finished assessments were issued against the Gibney company, and as the railroad company had made itself responsible for labor and material, this action of creditors caused the company to withhold all money from the contractors, and now evidence is being taken with a view of settlement without going into court.

The Charter for the Novelty Stamping Company arrived Saturday, authorizing a capital stock of $100,000. It is issued to M. L. Blackburn, W. C. Bergundthal, J. E. Blackburn, A. Klotz and Joseph Clements, et al. The subscribers meet this afternoon to elect a board of directors, and they will at once organize and proceed with active work toward getting the new works under way. About $80,000 of the stock is now taken.

Several gentlemen interested in a new flint glass factory here have been about town for some days, and it is altogether probable that the old globe works plant will be put in operation this fall. Things have not taken shape yet, but it seems that about half the stock necessary is ready to be taken hold of.

Capt. B. T. Jones came home Saturday from Chattanooga, where there is a great gathering of school teachers this year. He will go to St. Clairsville to-day to begin his work as one of the instructors at the Belmont County Teachers' Institute, which commences this morning and lasts four weeks.

Mr. W. C. Bergundthal and wife will go to Denver next week with the Cincinnati Knights Templar, and Mr. Thomas Bentoff and wife will go with the Wheeling Knights, while Judge I. H. Gaston, Lawson Emerson, Charles F. Strahl and Andy Tolma will go on their own hooks.

Barnesville concluded last week to try the Hallwood block paving, instead of firebrick, and let a contract to pave the main street in that town with these blocks at $1 per square yard. These blocks are larger than brick, but are made principally of the same material.

E. E. Lashley, a young student preparing for the ministry, and his wife came down from Steubenville on Saturday and will spend the summer with his father, W. D. Lashley, on a farm south of town.

A number of Bellaire people will take advantage of the excursion rates on the C. & P. railroad to-morrow to spend a week on the lakes and about Cleveland.

Mrs. W. R. Morgan, wife of the B. & O. telegraph operator, is at Lake Side to spend several weeks of the heated term.

Rev. John Wirz will try to organize a German class in one of the rooms of the Central school building this week.

Quite a crowd of colored people went out to Noonan's grove yesterday to attend campmeeting in progress there.

Capt. Jesse R. Purnell is able to be out after ten days' illness, but is yet not in an encouraging condition.

Accidents and Incidents in that Thriving City—Personal and Industrial.

The Owl Fishing club will break camp at Laceyville on Wednesday. The boys have pleasant quarters and are enjoying themselves. Ernest Smith, the Captain, caught the mumps and was obliged to return. Howard Thomas, the snake charmer, walked to Cadix, a distance of nine miles to buy ice cream and bananas. The Blue Grass Fishing club, which is camping in an old house near by, has caught over fifty turtles and the boys are having a good time. The girls all like Louis Peffenbough. David Paxton spent Sunday at this camp. Patsy Mullen and wife have returned from a two weeks visit at the Laceyville Hotel.

The remains of the late Theorn Huskins were laid to rest in Greenwood cemetery yesterday afternoon. Rev. I. S. Winters, of the M. E. church, conducted the services, and the choir, which consisted of Miss Dora Cook, Mrs. George Hopkins, Ed. S. Houghton and George Hopkins, sang "Rock of Ages," "Jesus Lover of My Soul" and "Asleep in Jesus." Mrs. George Wassman presided at the organ. The pall bearers were Charles H. Morris, E. J. Hoyle, Thomas Watkins, R. Barr and Robert Carmichael.

A Jefferson county man was asked how the fishing was up Short Creek this summer and he replied: "The fishing is good. You can fish all day and not catch anything. The miners at Laurelton, Long Run and Dillon Dale have played thunder with the fishing. If one of the luns sees a sucker and can't catch it with a hook he will run it down until the fish is exhausted and catch it with his own hand or use dynamite."

There are more summer sojourners at Zoar this summer than ever before. The ladies outnumber the gentlemen ten to one, excepting on Sundays. Many more people will visit this resort from now on than earlier in the season, because of the new schedule on the Wheeling and Lake Erie railroad. A party of Martin's Ferry people will go out shortly. The Martin's Ferry men who have been camping there will return to-day.

The Union Fishing club, which has had an unusually successful and enjoyable season near New Cumberland, on the Wheeling & Lake Erie road, broke camp on Saturday rather unexpectedly and returned, a report having been received that the Zeina mill was about to resume.

The funeral of Mrs. Harry Robinson yesterday morning was largely attended. Rev. I. S. Winters officiated and the pall bearers were A. W. Kerr, Thomas Pugh, Will Crowl and Charles Selby. The interment was at St. Clairsville.

The Zeina mill miners will receive 50 cents a ton as the coal comes from the pick and the drivers, weighmen and tracklayers $2 per day.

Brice Bashour has been notified of the granting of his pension of $8 per month from October 31, 1891.

The delegates to the glassworkers' convention have returned and report a good time.

"That Good Medicine." Mr. C. D. Cone, attorney, Parker, South Dakota, says: "I take pleasure in saying to the public, as I have to my friends and acquaintances for the last five years, that I consider Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy the best medicine for the purpose it is intended that I ever tried. Since I have used it I would not be without it. I was always subject to cholera morbus and never found anything else that gives the relief that this remedy does. I never leave home without taking it with me; and on many occasions have run with it to the relief of some sufferer and have never known it to fail. My children always call for 'that good medicine,' when they have a pain in the stomach or bowels." For sale by druggists. DAW
