The Ohio Miners.
 President John Nugent and Secretary W. C. Pierce, of the Ohio Miners' Association, spent several hours in Bellairs Tuesday night on their way home from the conference at Bridgeport. They report that the condition of mines throughout Ohio is better than ever before, the stringent laws with reference to keeping them well ventilated proving an admirable thing for all concerned. As to strikes, both men asserted that they are almost things of the past with coal miners and only resorted to in cases of extreme injustice. They attribute this largely to the better condition of the mines.

In the Squires' Courts.
 Squire Phillips yesterday fined William and Martin Kemp $5 and costs each for assault and battery committed on Alonzo Rust. Rust is a naller who has gone to work at one of the mills, and the Kemps beat him up, alleging that he was a blacksheep. They were dismissed in police court, as the prosecuting witness failed to appear. He was on hand yesterday, and the boys were "socked."

The watchman at F. Schenk & Sons' pork house, in Fulton, caught Joseph Wilt in the act of stealing a ham, Tuesday evening. Constables Bennett and Brooks went out and got him, and he was fined $10 and costs by Squire Rogers yesterday.

Reinsuring their Risks.
 The contract has just been closed between the Underwriters' Insurance Company and the American Insurance Company whereby the Phoenix of England accepts all liability of the two companies, and reinsures their entire business in the city and state.

The Phoenix is one of the oldest companies in the world, and was the first foreign company to establish an agency in the United States. It opened its agency office in New York in 1805, and in Philadelphia in 1806, and therefore has the credit of creating the first insurance agency on the globe.
 Its assets are over eight and one-half million, and it has deposited in the United States for the security of its American policy holders over two and one-half million.

Mr. Alfred Paul has been appointed general agent for said company, and will have charge of its interests, and will look after the renewals of the two companies as they expire. Mr. T. Kirk White, the general special agent of the company, is here and superintending the transfer.

U. S. GLASS COMPANY.

A Stockholder Gives Away Some of the "Insiderness" Thereof.

NEW FACTORIES CONTEMPLATED.

The Old Officers Re-elected—The Indiana Gas Fields in View for an Extension of the Company's Facilities—About the Finances of the Big Combine.

Hon. N. B. Scott attended the meeting of the board of directors of the U. S. Glass Company, of which he is a member, at Pittsburgh. The old officers were re-elected.

It is stated that the company is contemplating erecting several new factories, probably with tank furnaces, in the Indiana gas fields.

A communication printed in a Pittsburgh paper, is said to tell a good deal of truth about the finances of the U. S. Company. It is signed "Stockholder," and is as follows:

Many interested people wonder why the United States Glass Company did not earn as much the past fiscal year as the factories composing it earned in a similar period before the combination was formed. They cannot understand why the United States earned only a little over 6 per cent when the same factories running independently earned 11 per cent per annum. Part of the reason undoubtedly is that the United States have now about $700,000 more capital on which to earn a dividend than had the separate factories run individually. Here are the figures that do not lie, although hard to figure in all our papers but the Leader:

Good will on 16 factories, $375,000; paid William P. Shinn for organizing, $90,000; increase valuation paid on molds, $175,000; increase valuation paid for presses, $1,000; just paid "Ripley" for patent rights, $35,000; total, $685,000—excess capital in the new company above what the same things aggregate on the books of the old companies. The "mold" item looks distorted, and yet it is not. The average factory credited molds at a fixed sum, and did not change it at all from year to year. It was generally the cost per year of running the mold room, and varied with different factories from $7,000 to $15,000. The United States company paid each factory two and a half times the yearly cost of running the mold shop, or about $325,000, for what they valued at $150,000. They rightly regarded old molds as scrap iron. Presses were put in at $150 each. Any press builder could replace the whole outfit with brand new style ones at little more than $100 apiece. "Good will" Providence knows we all got enough. We very sensibly kept real quiet, for fear they would want to trade back again. One factory got $47,000 for their earning power, and just before the election they got $35,000 more for a "patent" that really was the foundation of that earning power; total, $82,000. Comment unnecessary. The $35,000 item was payable in common stock. This stock was bought on the exchange floor at the highest price it was possible to pay for it, because here was a chance to buy the market on somebody else's money and at their expense. They went at it like genuine stock jobbers and bid for 500-share blocks and whooped 'er up from 65 to 71 1/2 before anybody got a chance to fill them up. They finally got filled. This stock has served its purpose. It was voted all right. Who can say it was not badly needed? Somebody got only 25,000 votes while others received 38,000. It was a narrow escape and carries with it a moral.

Pure and Wholesome Quality
 Commends to public approval the California liquid laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs. It is pleasant to the taste and by acting gently on the kidneys, liver and bowels to cleanse the system effectually, it promotes the health and comfort of all who use it, and with millions it is the best and only remedy.
