

LABOR IS IN REVOLT.

"No Free Trade" the Cry Among Workingmen in New York.

EVERY DISTRICT IS IN LINE.

The Industrial Alliance at Work for Protection—Cutting Down the Vote. Democrats Will Miss Irish Americans and Veterans, too.

New York, Oct. 17.—The Advertiser says: "Take from the Tammany Hall and the anti-Tammany Democratic vote of New York city 20 per cent of the Irish-American voters, 15 per cent of the Labor vote and 90 per cent of the soldier vote that is Democratic, and the Democratic majority in this city will be about 15 per cent off. It will be brought down to about 50,000, or less than Grover Cleveland's majority four years ago. It will be so small, indeed, that it will bring defeat on the national ticket. If the majority falls below 65,000 the Democratic managers will be relieved of the trouble of throwing up the sponge. It will be tossed for them. The Republicans will come down to Harlem river with a majority in excess of that of 1888. Everything points to it. Harrison's majority in the state will be about double what it was in 1888. Paste this in your hat and refer to it the day after election, and then you can publish me as the great American political prognosticator."

A member of the Republican state committee made the observation quoted above. He is a conservative man, who does not like to "rush to print." He knows what he talks about. Four years ago he predicted that Harrison would carry New York state by 10,000 four days before election. He conceded the election of Roswell P. Flower last fall by upward of 30,000, five days before election.

There is a reasonable basis for his speculation. There is bound to be a marked falling off in the Democratic Irish-American vote. The Irish-Americans never liked Cleveland. He was a defeated man in 1884, when the Rev. Dr. Burchard put the three R's together. That saved him by a hair. In 1888 the Irish-American voters were divided, as in 1884, and Cleveland was defeated. Ex-Congressman John Finerty and Patrick Egan, recognized leaders of thought among the Irish-Americans, are convinced that any change in the situation since 1888 is in favor of President Harrison.

The Anti-British League and the Irish-American Protection League, two strong organizations, are opposed to Cleveland. Their influence extends all over the United States. It is especially potent in New York and Brooklyn and in cities along the Hudson. A prominent member of the latter organization said yesterday: "We will give 5,000 Democratic votes to the candidates of the Republican party. They are located in New York, Brooklyn, Long Island City, Poughkeepsie, Albany and Troy. Their names are known, their reasons are known, and their sincerity is unquestioned."

Never before has there been a Labor organization in New York City with branches in every one of the thirty Assembly districts, more influential in politics than the Industrial Alliance. It is made up of workers—men who think for themselves and act for themselves. They are not political partisans in the generally accepted sense. They are for the party that presents a policy and a platform favoring workingmen, and they are therefore for the Republican party this year because they are for Protection and steady work and remunerative wages.

It has been charged that the leaders of the Industrial Alliance are not bona-fide workmen. Did any one ever say that Charles J. Dumar is not a workman? No. He was president of the strongest typographical union in the United States—famous No. 6. John McMackin's name is known wherever labor is organized. James Quinn is of the inner council of union labor in this city. Moses De Costa is a power in the Central labor union. The district leaders are all men who are known and respected. This organization—the Alliance—has made the Democracy tremble. It holds the balance of power in New York, and when it speaks on election day its voice will be heard. Independent of this organization there are upward of forty workingmen's Republican clubs in New York city. From a dozen to fifty former Democrats are members of each organization. A little figuring will show what effect the votes of this army of workingmen will have in deciding the result in New York state.

The statement of General Daniel E. Sickles, the gallant commander who led the charge at Gettysburg, and who left a leg on that glory field, that no soldier could vote for Cleveland, will go down to posterity along with the proof that he was right.

The Democratic Union veterans—there are not many of them—agree with General Sickles. They do not like Cleveland's record on pension legislation. They say he was always ready with a veto when a soldier's claim was under consideration. They will vote the way they fought.

New Tack by the People's Party. BIRMINGHAM, ALA., Oct. 17.—The populists have taken a new tack in their effort to get recognition in the appointment of election managers in Bullock county. About ten days ago they had the probate judge and clerk arrested for appointing Republicans instead of Populites to represent the opposition to the Democracy. At Huntsville they have now filed an appeal application before Judge Bruce in the United States court praying that the appointing board in Bullock county be required to vacate the appointments heretofore made in certain precincts, alleging that in some precincts the People's party has no representatives and that in others the managers are Democrats. Judge Bruce set next Saturday for a hearing of the application for a mandamus and cited the defendant officials to appear at that time.

The Novelist Will Continue His Work. LONDON, October 17.—A long and sarcastic letter from Robert Louis Stevenson, the novelist, on the anomalous position of the chief justice in Samoa, appears in this morning's Times. The letter concludes as follows: "I trust that this is the last time I shall trouble you with these two-penny concerns; and no until some step is taken by three powers, I shall continue to report our scandals as they arise. Either what I write, is false and I should be chastised as a calumniator, or it is true and these officials are unfit for their positions."

"I AM convinced of the merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla, after having taken but a few doses"—this is what many people say.

THIS IS A CLEAN FIGHT.

President Harrison Determined on an Honest Campaign—Principles of Duty Only.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 17.—There are few persons less worried about the presidential election than is President Harrison.

He is perfectly confident of success for the Republican party. He does not look upon the campaign as his own personal affair, and does not try to dominate the party. He is willing to leave the management of the campaign in the hands of those selected by the party for that purpose. With the managers he confers when the occasion arises, and he gives advice, not commands.

One thing he insists upon is that, come what may, the campaign shall be so conducted on his side that they cannot be truthfully accused of resorting to dishonest or improper methods, and that it shall be a clean, straight up and down fight.

DOMESTIC AFFLICTION.

It was never his intention to give his attention to the campaign to such an extent as to dominate the party council. The sad affliction that has come upon him renders it difficult for him to give the campaign any attention except when it is absolutely demanded of him. While his private afflictions cannot deter him from the performance of his public duties and his duties to his party, his heart is elsewhere than in the campaign and his prayers are for something other than political triumph.

He has done a vast deal for the success of this campaign since the 4th of March, 1889. However opposed to him in politics, no one of honest purpose who knows anything of public affairs can question that the present administration has been one of the best the country has seen. It is asserted by the civil service commission that there have been fewer complaints thus far in this campaign than in any before of violations or attempted violations of the civil service law.

NO PARTISAN ACTIVITY.

It is a fact that there is scarcely any attempt being made to excite political activity in the departments. There is no indication of systematic effort to raise money among the government employes, and there is not known to have been any attempt at assessment. Complaints that have come from remote districts concerning action by small postmasters and others have received prompt attention from the authorities, and Attorney General Miller has instituted investigations with a view to prosecute any violation of law discovered.

IMPORTANT DECISION.

Concerning the Baltimore & Ohio Relief Association.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 17.—Judge Harlan, of the circuit court, decided the long standing dispute regarding the liabilities of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company to the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Relief Association. The association was dissolved by an act of the legislature upon a petition of the railroad employes in 1889. At that time the railroad company admitted having on hand assets belonging to the relief and pension fund to the amount of about $300,000. The courts now decide that the entire fund for distribution is about $650,000. The court also disallowed all claims for sickness or accident benefits occurring after March 31, 1889, which had already been paid by the railroad company, amounting to over $50,000. The assets of the association, it is also decreed, are to be divided among the 20,000 members of the association, employes of the Baltimore & Ohio in proportion to the amounts contributed by them to the fund.

A MUSICAL NOVELTY.

A Colored Man Who Proposes to Present an Opera at the World's Fair.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 17.—The latest novelty over which the President is asked to throw the dignity of his indorsement is broached by a young colored man. His name is Will M. Cook. He has been a student at the Royal Conservatory of Music in Berlin, and his project is to give a display of negro opera, as he calls it, at the World's Fair. Saturday Cook called at the white house with a letter explaining his plans, which he wished to present to President Harrison in person. He had to be content with handing it over to Secretary Halford, however. The letter has the indorsements of Hon. Frederick Douglass, Hon. John M. Langston, ex-Senator B. K. Bruce, Dr. F. Ziegfeld, President Rankin, of Howard University, and others. Cook desired to form an operatic troupe of the best colored talent, and had in preparation the libretto and music of the opera of Uncle Tom's Cabin.

South American Disturbances.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The Herald's correspondent at Buenos Ayres says there is reason to suspect that the crew of the hulk at Rosario, from which a large quantity of powder was stolen by masked men, were in complicity with the robbers and that the powder was taken to be used in a revolutionary movement. The government, it is said, proposes to disarm a large portion of the navy from motives of economy. There is an open rupture now between President Pena and General Roco, and the dissatisfaction among the higher army officials is much increased, owing to the elevation of Mitre to the chief command of the army. Radical clubs are forming all over the country and are actively at work. The Buenos Ayres Herald says that Pena's government has more enemies than had Pellegrino's, and that Argentines can only be redeemed by an earnest revolution against the present officials.

She Committed Suicide.

Mrs. F. C. Boe, at Watkins, left this letter: "My husband—Forgive me if I cause you trouble, but I suffer so. You do not know what these long, wakeful, wretched nights are to me, and I am so tired, darling—the pain will never be better. It is not easy to take my own life, but I have been sick so long. Good-bye, my husband, I love you—your wife." This is but one of thousands that gives up, instead of using Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, and being speedily cured of their wretchedness. Go to Logan Drug Co. and get an elegant book and trial bottle free.

For the great McKinley meeting today, take the Pontoon Bridge, foot of Twelfth street.

AT HOMESTEAD

No Trouble Has Occurred—Strikers Still Firm, Backed by Their Wives.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., Oct. 17.—The expected disorder up Munhall Hollow did not occur this morning as expected. A few strangers roughly dressed stood on the road and gazed moodily at the non-union men as they came along in a body from Gebrington to work, accompanied by a number of coal and iron police, special officers, and several deputy sheriffs. The men who were seen in Munhall Hollow at 5 o'clock were not Homesteaders, but some sympathizers who in a misguided spirit thought they could help the cause of the locked-out men by preventing the non-unionists from going to work. Through apprehension that there may be some trouble to-morrow a force of officers will again escort the men to and from work.

It was stated at the mill that four Homestead workers came back this morning. They were a heater, engineer, mechanic and laborer. The mill is operating earlier this morning than is usual Monday mornings, from the fact that most of the non-union workers who went to Pittsburgh Saturday night when the Tide was at their service, remained at Homestead on Sunday and showed up bright and early. To-day strike benefits are being paid by the Amalgamated Association and the relief committee is also making its rounds to ascertain and relieve the necessities of the needy. Members of the committee say that expenses are gradually lightening from the fact that the locked-out men and strikers are one by one going elsewhere and securing work. The committee reports the men in a cheerful condition and praises the women for their firmness and enthusiastic endorsement of the strike. The wives of many doubting steel workers brace them up and keep them out. A constant remark here is that the women are firmer than the men.

About 2,000 Homesteaders will participate in the Columbus day parade in Pittsburgh.

CHOYNSKI CONFIDENT

That He Will Whip Godfrey in the Coming Fight.

New York, Oct. 17.—If condition, modest confidence and agility go for anything, Joe Choynski should have a good chance for winning the fight on October 20, when he faces George Godfrey, the colored prodigy. A party of sporting men, accompanied by an Associated press reporter, visited the young Californian at his training quarters at Navesink, at Atlantic Highlands, and found him in good health and spirits. With Choynski were "Parson" Davies, his backer, Johnny McVay and "Buffalo" Costello, his trainers. The fighter's quarters are in a two-story cottage immediately facing the Atlantic ocean, and only a step from the water's edge. The cottage, however, is used only for light exercising and as sleeping quarters. The harder part of the training is done in a barn a short distance up the road, all the paraphanelia used in reducing weight and hardening the muscles being fitted to walls and ceilings of the barn. "I hope to whip Godfrey in quick time," he added, "why shouldn't I?"

Distinguished Arrivals.

New York, Oct. 17.—Lady Henry Somerset, Miss Frances E. Willard and Miss Anna Gordon came to New York on the Etruria and were landed early yesterday morning. They are on their way to Chicago, where they expect to take part in the dedication ceremonies of the World's Fair.

Attacking Carnegie.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—The Chronicle this morning has an article on the recent interview between an Associated Press representative and Mr. Carnegie, a full account of which was telegraphed to New York on Friday last, and makes the interview a text for another attack on Mr. Carnegie.

We endorse all the proprietors say about the merits of Salvation Oil. It is the greatest cure on earth for pain. 25 cents.

20,000 people can cross the river today on the Pontoon Bridge, foot of Twelfth street, for the great McKinley meeting.

It May Be Interesting to Know that when excursion rates are made to Chicago for people who live in the East, to enable them to attend the World's Fair next year, it is contemplated by the western roads to also make excursion rates from Chicago to all principal business and tourist points in the West, Northwest and Southwest, so that those who desire to spend a few weeks among their friends in the great west, may have an opportunity of so doing without incurring much additional expense. It may be well to consider this subject in advance of actual time of starting, and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company has issued maps and time tables and other instructive reading matter, which it will be glad to furnish free of expense upon application by postal card addressed to William Kelly, Jr., Traveling Passenger Agent, 50 S. Third street, Philadelphia, Pa., or to George H. Heafford, General Passenger Agent, Chicago, Ill.

Too Much of a Risk.

It is not unusual for colds contracted in the fall to hang on all winter. In such cases catarrh or chronic bronchitis are almost sure to result. A fifty-cent bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will cure any cold. Can you afford to risk so much for so small an amount? This remedy is intended especially for bad colds and croup and can always be depended upon. DAW
