A British View of the American Tariff. Sheffield Daily Telegraph.

"The promoters of the McKinley tariff meant it to push forward the policy of America for the Americans. One method of realizing it was to keep all work within their own dominions. The country was to be made self-sustaining; what could be produced at home was not to be bought abroad. That was the key-note of the McKinley scheme, and it is working out the idea of its designers with the precision and effectiveness of a machine."

REPUBLICAN victory in the coming election would retard for a long time the progress of the sound commercial doctrine that underlie the commercial greatness of Great Britain and alone maintain British ascendancy.—London Evening News.

IN 1890 it was a conflict of predictions; now our adversaries must face trade statistics and prices current.—President Harrison, June 21, 1892.

NO one else furnished one penny in aid of the pretended colonization scheme except Senator C. J. Faulkner.—D. McD. Lindsey.

An Awful Discovery. Isn't this an awful discovery that the Democratic machine at Charleston has made? Just as the Republicans were pouring out their vast corruption fund like water to buy up honest Democratic voters the Charleston cherubs got onto it and give the whole thing away.

It is to be feared that this will make the price of votes so high that the vast Republican corruption fund will soon be exhausted. In this event the Republican majority in West Virginia can hardly be expected to exceed 10,000, even in these days of Democratic free trade and wildcat money.

The Democratic outfit at Charleston seems to have hired a funny man to prepare the party's campaign circulars.

ADLAI accepts. If he had waited a few days he might have saved himself the exertion. He will not be in it by a large majority.

Why Doesn't Senator Faulkner Tell? Senator Faulkner was here the other night and made a speech. He was frank enough to say that he doesn't like to be connected with the alleged Republican scheme to "colonize" and "Africanize" West Virginia. This everybody understands.

What almost everybody expected to hear from Senator Faulkner, and would still like to hear, is why he paid Lindsey the money? Was it to help the wicked Republicans in their nefarious scheme to bring colored men into the state, get employment for them, settle them as citizens and in due time get the benefit of their votes?

This is what Senator Faulkner neglected and still neglects to tell about. A small slice of it would have gone well to his Wheeling speech. It is not too late to make a clean breast of it and do works mete for repentance.

DEMOCRATS will enjoy being told by the MacCorkle managers that every Democrat who for any reason does not get to the polls will be under suspicion of having received some of the colossal Republican corruption fund. If any Democrat happens to be dying that day he will do well to postpone the sad event long enough to save his reputation as an honest man.

Are the Investigators Lost? Nearly a week has passed since Council ordered an investigation of the gas board affair. Council refused to order the appointment of a special committee, preferring to place the matter in the hands of the gas committee and the gas board. The preference was based on a reason that may be guessed but was not made public.

What stands in the way of the investigation? Why this backwardness about going forward? The Democratic nominee for sheriff, the person most deeply concerned, asked for the investigation. A Republican member of Council asked for it and gave some good reasons for it.

The people of Ohio county are waiting impatiently to see what the investigation will show, and they are beginning to think there never was any intention to have an investigation. It may as well be understood that the people cannot be bluffed in this business.

Failure to investigate will be interpreted to mean fear to investigate. Is this just to the man who asked to have an investigation? It is serious business and it will not be allowed to sleep until after the election.

WHAT has become of the gas board investigation? Last Tuesday night in Council everybody seemed to be in favor of it. Is anybody now opposing it? If so, for what reason?

Gov. Fleming's Wounded Feelings. The Register is worried because Chairman Dawson's reply to Governor Fleming's misrepresentations about McDowell county was given in vigorous language. Somebody seems to have been hurt.

Governor Fleming asserted that the Democratic assessor of McDowell county listed the legal voters of that county, Mr. Dawson says he didn't, and avers that the list he did make was so illiterate and illegible as to be practically useless.

Gov. Fleming asserted that the Republican clerk of McDowell county would accept the supplementary list made by the deputy assessor. Mr. Dawson replies that the office is in charge of a Democrat who refuses to accept the list.

If Gov. Fleming chooses to stoop from his high office to circulate stories which are put forth to cover desperate Democratic schemes, he must expect the same treatment that any other man would get who would engage in that business.

Mr. Dawson's caustic remark that "Governor Fleming was evidently arguing with his own conscience" was not worse than the assertion of a Democratic orator in the late Democratic state convention that Governor Fleming was seated "by an act of the legislature."

It is a fact that a large majority of the voters of this state believe that Governor Fleming occupies a place to which another man was elected. A good many people believe this who have much respect for Governor Fleming as a man; and so believing, they can't help but have unpleasant remembrances called up when they hear him talk about "fraud."

REPUBLICANS of West Virginia, remember the steal of 1888. Remember that you were defrauded of your legally elected governor by means as foul as foul as ever disgraced a civilized government. Schemes as foul are in preparation to cheat you again. Be on your guard. Let every legal voter cast his ballot and see that it is counted as cast.

"General" Stevenson and Organized Labor. "General" Adlai Stevenson, Democratic nominee for Vice President, who earned his military title by slaying forty-five thousand fourth class postmasters on the gory field of Washington, is brought into West Virginia to help to save the state to the beaten Democracy.

This interesting individual, whom the Democrats would place dangerously near the White House, has a record on the question of organized labor. The INTELLIGENCER has been at some pains to get this record and to-day lays it before the people of West Virginia.

It is not a nice record. It shows up "General" Stevenson in the attitude of making deadly war on organized labor because it is organized. To this day the coal company of which he is president employs only "scab" labor and will have no other. The proof is positive.

"General" Stevenson and his party may profess friendship for the workingman, but when the workingman looks for the proofs this is what he finds. Stevenson "colonized" non-union labor in his mines and non-unionized them to the satisfaction of himself and company.

Mr. Cleveland may pop off any day, and then in the event of a Democratic triumph, we should have Adlai, the hater of organized labor, to reign over us. In this country a majority of the people do not believe that organized labor is a crime.

The Democratic machine at Charleston has in contemplation many schemes to cheat the Republicans of this state. Every Republican must be on his guard. See to it that every Republican vote is polled, and that it is counted as it is cast. Watch the returns at every precinct.

A Square Deal. The large majority of the people of West Virginia want a fair election and will have no sympathy with the party that tries to have any other kind of election. The men who are running the Charleston machine have laid their lines to hold the state through an organized system of fraud.

Republicans think they will have a majority which fraud cannot break down, and—the INTELLIGENCER doesn't mind giving away a secret—they think they have taken precautions to bring to naught the scheme of fraud that has been so carefully planned.

The people will be glad to know that there is a determination to pursue to the last every man who attempts to practice fraud as the polls.

BREAKFAST BUDGET. The champion eater has been found in the person of a negro named Livermore at Goshen Pass, Va. Recently at a single meal he ate two large loaves of bread, fifteen biscuits, regular size, two pounds of bacon, a fried chicken whole, with bread dressing and gravy thereto, two enormous glasses of buttermilk, four good sized potatoes and a dish of cabbage, with a pan of corn bread in addition.

A rather unique institution is to be founded in New York. It is to be devoted to instruction in fire extinguishing and will be called the New York School of Fire Extinguishment. Ex-Chief Shay of the New York fire department will be in charge. The enterprise however, will be a private one. Many practical firemen will deliver lectures. The school will have a complete outfit in the way of fire apparatus.

The Red Star steamship Rhyndland, which arrived at New York, had a curious run of "elevens." She made the voyage from Antwerp in eleven days, eleven hours and eleven minutes. Her average speed was eleven miles an hour. On October 11 she steamed 311 miles, and was eleven hours under sail.

One of the latest applications of electricity to mining operations is seen in a lead mine in Belgium. Each bucket arriving at the top of the shaft makes an electric contact, and a needle in the office indicates, by a red line upon a revolving drum, the number of buckets brought up.

The Hamburg-American Steam Packet Company announces that Russians, Poles and Bohemians will not be taken as passengers for America when the line resumes its storage traffic on November 8 at Stettin.

T. R. Garver, of Harper county, is the watermelon king of Kansas. He has shipped $0,000 melons this season, and is taking the seeds from 50,000 more to ship to Eastern houses.

The late rains in Zacatecas, Mexico, have, it is said, caused a typhoid epidemic, owing to the lack of a sewerage system. An exchange says that 130 people have died there within a week.

An Oconee county, (Ga.) bird hunter has killed over 600 birds this season, and sold them for ten cents a piece. He only missed eight shots in killing the 500.

If we could penetrate the earth's surface to a distance of two miles, we would find the place where water could not exist except in the state of steam.

The highest price yet paid for a violin was $1,400 given for the instrument known as the Betts' Stradivarius.

A million and a half men are employed in coal mines, and of these 300,000 in the United States.

MORNING SMILES. A merchant spending the summer at a mountain resort received a telegram saying: "The store is on fire—what shall we do?" The answer came promptly: "Put it out."—Boston Bulletin.

"Bogorra," said Bridget, as she opened a bottle of champagne for the first time, "the blamed fool that filled this quart bottle must have put in two quarts instead of one!"—Christian Register.

"Where ye goin', Johnny?" "Don't bother me. I'm a relief expedition, I am." "Are ye playin' north pole?" "Naw, I'm goin' to the drug store for paragonic!"—Washington Star.

"What makes old Chief-on-of-a-gun so happy to-night?" "He robbed a traveling opera troupe last night and scooped a trunk full of wigs. He thinks they're scalps!"—New York Sun.

Miss Prude—"Oh, Mr. Dudo, I'm just from the manicure's and you don't know how nice my hands feel." Dudo—"No; but give them to me and I'll find out."—Inter Ocean.

Dr. Squyless—"Why don't you order that Mrs. Faylings to go to California? She could afford to go." Dr. Pylles—"Yes; but I couldn't afford to let her go."—Life.

It was in the school of design. Professor—"What you have just drawn there looks more like a cow than a horse." Pupil—"It is a cow, sir!"—Boston Courier.

Wagger—"Didn't you order a statue of Venus de Milo?" Stagger—"Yes; but both arms were gone and I sent it straight back!"—Inter Ocean.

Winks—"What's the best thing to do when you spill a cup of tea on a lady's dress?" Jinks—"Run!"—New York Weekly.

Robbins (near-sighted)—"Hello, Jones! You look like another man." Strager—"I am. This isn't Jones!"—Town Talk.

NO one else furnished one penny in aid of the pretended colonization scheme except Senator C. J. Faulkner.—D. McD. Lindsey.

THE only reason for Mr. Cleveland's nomination, and the thing that forced his nomination in spite of all the efforts of politicians, was the fact that, in the minds of the Democratic masses, he represents the idea of free trade. The platform is an unmistakable declaration against all parleying with protection. It puts the Democratic party in the field as committed to the policy of sweeping away every shred of a protective duty.—Henry George, the Free Trader.

BELLAIRE. All Sorts of Local News and Gossip from the Glass City.

The congressional campaign in this district is the only one that is exciting any special interest. Colonel Poorman's friends have begun to warm up to the work beautifully and they mean to see that every vote for him in this county will be at the polls.

The Democrats profess to have some hope, but it comes from their dreams of what might be. Making liberal allowance for any apathy that might possibly keep some Republicans at home, and giving Judge Pearson the full benefit of every possible vote he can get in Monroe county, elects Colonel Poorman by a handsome plurality. He will have 1,400 in Jefferson, 700 in Harrison, 700 in Carroll and 400 in this county, a total of 3,200 plurality to meet his opponent with at the border of Monroe, and Bellaire will be the home of a congressman for the first time in her history.

Judge Isaac H. Easton, chairman of the county executive county, was in the city Saturday. Judge Easton was twice elected to the office of probate judge. He is a keen observer and shrewd manipulator and although he does not give out the status of affairs in the court he is feeling quite comfortable over the situation, and with the Australian ballot expects to see every man on the Republican ticket carry the county.

The meeting here on Wednesday night will be a rousing one and Republicans will be present from all parts of the county. A special train will be run from St. Clairsville, and the clubs along the river will turn out. It is the only big meeting the Republicans will have here and it is hoped a great throng will greet Hon Charles Foster, who is just the kind of a man to jolly up this section.

The first dividend of thirty per cent out of the proceeds of sales in winding up the business of the Crystal window glass company will be paid to the stockholders this week. It is estimated by Mr. C. C. Kelly who is assisting in winding up the affairs of the company, that there will be from seventy-five to eighty per cent of the capital stock to divide.

George Romick severs his connection with the Cleveland & Pittsburgh railroad to-day as yardmaster, after a service of twenty-nine years with that company. He will be succeeded by James Calder. Luther Tarbet will go with Mr. Romick to the Canton road.

W. N. Darby, the excellent deputy with Sheriff Scott, spent Sunday among his old friends and acquaintances here. Billy is not in the least alarmed about his chief's chances, but would like to see him get a big vote along the river.

The shrewdest Democrats here and some of them who place their money to win on various states, refuse to put up a dollar on the election of Cleveland, believing he will be defeated.

The school board will not hold their regular monthly meeting till Wednesday night, owing to the fact that some of the members want to see General Adlai Stevenson.

A scheme is on foot here to start an ice plant and a new fruit canning industry, and both projects are in good hands.

The Great Library of the United States, A. B. Spofford, in the November Forum.

When it is considered that the largest existing public library that of the French government at Paris, contains as yet but 2,300,000 volumes, and that ample space exists in the edifice now rising on Capitol Hill for storing more than twice that number, it will be perceived that the wants of the future are well cared for. While nearly every government edifice appears to have been built only for a generation, and its uses have long overgrown its limits, this one, through the far-sighted liberality of Congress, will provide room for the nation's books for nearly two centuries to come. The ultimate cost is limited to six millions of dollars, a sum somewhat less than half the cost of the Capitol or of the large building erected for the accommodation of the state, war and navy departments. The library building covers very nearly the same space as each of these government buildings (about three acres), and is constructed of solid granite, with iron, brick and marble interior. Its ample interior courts and numerous windows render it the best lighted and best ventilated library of large proportions yet erected.

If you workmen do your duty * * * you will teach men like Henry that you possess intelligence and cannot be deluded into voting for your enemies. I cannot say one good word for the Democratic party, and I am unable to understand how any workman can vote for its candidates.—T. V. Powderly, Grand Master Workman Knights of Labor.
