

PRISONERS ATE RATS.

Serious Charges Made as to the Conduct of the State Prison.

INSUFFICIENT FOOD FURNISHED

And Prisoners Cruelly Treated by Superintendent Van Pelt - The Charges Sworn to by a Federal Prisoner Who Says He was Detained Ten Days to Prevent His Voting.

The following affidavit graphically tells its own story. It has, besides, the air of a plain narration by an intelligent observer of actual facts. Its accusations against the management of the state penitentiary at Moundsville are grave:

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,) DISTRICT OF WEST VIRGINIA,) At WHEELING, Nov. 8, 1892.

This day, personally appeared before me, B. J. Campbell, United States commissioner for the district of West Virginia, came Lorenzo Bright, who being duly sworn deposes and says: In February, 1891, I was convicted in the United States Court at Parkersburg of violating the United States postal laws, and sentenced to two years in the penitentiary at Moundsville, W. Va., where I have been until this morning.

The time allowed me for good behavior made my term of imprisonment expire on October 31, 1892. On this last named day I was brought before Superintendent Van Pelt for the purpose of being discharged from, or turned out of, the prison. I had my few effects laid out to take out with me, having taken care of some underclothes, handkerchiefs, etc., that I had brought in with me.

Van Pelt said: "What are you going to do with all these clothes?" I said: "A part of these clothes I brought in with me."

He said: "You want to lose thirty days of good time, do you?" I said: "No, sir. Capt. Van Buren gave me a part of these clothes if I would wash them up."

That was over a year ago, and I thought at that time I was going out on a pardon, and he did, too, was the reason he gave them to me and that I accepted them.

Van Pelt said: "Do you suppose you would take them out if you were pardoned?" I said: "Yes; I thought I would get to take them out." Then I said: "I will show you which of these clothes I wore in;" and I commenced picking them out.

He then said: "I will take ten days off your good time. Go back into the hall;" and then Captain Kay pushed me back into the hall.

I feel satisfied that I was detained under this pretext until this morning, so that I could not get back to my home in Indiana in time to vote, because the guards and all knew how I would vote. I was never reported for violating any of the prison rules, except once, and that was for giving my allowance of tobacco to another convict, as I did not use it. The first Sunday in each month we were allowed to write one letter. I asked Mr. Van Pelt to allow me to write an extra letter in reply to one I had received concerning my pension.

He said no; that I could wait until letter day; that pensions were a damned fraud anyhow. A few days afterwards I heard him refuse Jonas Butcher the privilege of being taken out to be examined for a pension. He said that hereafter he would not allow any one to be taken out to be examined; that if there was any examination made it would have to be done in there.

This morning I was given a coat, pair of pants and vest, that could not certainly have cost more than eight dollars, and I expected to wear out the suit of underclothes that I had brought in with me, but as Mr. Van Pelt had said that when I then had on or with me were forfeited to the state, I was not allowed to take them, and had to send out by a suit of underclothes and pay for them with my own money ($8.75).

I will further say that the state has a good prison building at Moundsville, and that it is well arranged and equipped for the health and reasonable comfort of its inmates, but the food given the prisoners is such as to cause a good deal of sickness, with frequent fatal results. It was insufficient in quantity, poor in quality and prepared in such a manner that it was not fit to eat. Prisoners have been suffering from the want of wholesome and palatable food ever since Captain Van Buren left the prison. More prisoners were buried from the penitentiary at Moundsville while I was there than from the Ohio penitentiary, where there were 1,800 prisoners, during the same length of time. On account of hunger for fresh meat, some of the prisoners in the bumsers' department, called the hospital, set steel traps and caught rats and dressed them and cooked them and ate them, and for this they were sent back to their cells. Jacob Daulton, a crazy or simple prisoner, was fed on bread and water for 120 days, and bucked and gagged for one whole day, and only given half an hour intervals to revive, in order that they might determine whether he was crazy or not, and was also struck over the head and back with a cane.

[Signed] L. D. BRIGHT. Subscribed in my presence and sworn to before me this 8th day of November, 1892. B. J. CAMPBELL, U. S. Commissioner District of West Virginia.

Address of Lorenzo D. Bright, Winima, Pulaski county, Ind. References: Judge George Burson (Democrat); Judge William Spangler (Republican).

BELLAIRE.

All Sorts of Local News and Gossip from the Glass City.

There are no petitions out for the postoffice as yet, but the plans are being laid to claim that place by a large number. Among the names already mentioned are ex-Postmaster Cooper, Col. David Rankin, E. J. Stegar, James H. Darrah, Marion Huffman, James B. Darrah and others "too numerous to mention." It is probable one of the above named will get it.

Stephen Gallagher, watchman for the B. & O. railroad at the tunnel at Lewis' Mills, was found dead at the door of his watch-house the other morning. Heart disease was the cause. He was one of the oldest employes of the company, and faithful to the last.

Joseph Brown, a well known Cleveland & Pittsburgh railroad man, was married to Miss Kate Smith at a bride's home, just above Martin's Ferry, Wednesday, and they go to housekeeping in their own home here.

Hon. James McConville, who left his business in Washington, D. C., and came back to Steubenville to help defeat Col. Poorman for Congress, was in town yesterday mingling with his Democratic friends.

The steamer R. E. Phillips will make a special trip to-night for the Democratic parade, leaving Bellaire at 6:45 p. m., and returning leave Wheeling at 10:30 sharp. Fare for the round trip, twenty cents.

John Murray, one of the well known contracting firm of stone masons, Murray Bros., who had an arm and his nose broken by a fall at the Wheeling jail, is at his father's home in this city.

The third story of the Novelty Stamping works is about completed. One week of good weather will see the roof on. They expect to get started next month.

"Zeke" Morrig, the hotel man, hasn't been seen since the election. His friends think he will recover, however, but it was a sockdolager for an old man to bear.

Judge Pearce fell down a stairway at his home in Cadiz Wednesday morning and fractured several ribs. He is quite an old man and his injuries are very serious.

Henry L. Anderson, Esq., a brother of James F. Anderson, of the Independent, was elected prosecuting attorney of Rush county, Kansas, last Tuesday.

The liquor dealers here, members of the Ohio State League, will meet at Turner hall Monday afternoon.

The Schuman-Wentworth concert is the next entertainment on the programme of the lecture course.

Ex-Auditor Billy Coffland, who came home from Wisconsin to vote in this county, returned yesterday.

Scott Dean's brass band gave a ball in Turner hall last night and a big crowd attended.

Rev. Ezra Quillen and wife, of Smithfield, are in the city visiting his uncle, C. C. Williams.

Rev. D. W. Chandler will preach a sermon to the American Mechanics to-morrow week.

IT IS OF VITAL INTEREST TO YOU.

Some of These Symptoms are Present in Every Case of Catarrh.

Pain over the eyes or across the bridge of the nose.

A dull headache and tired feeling, from no known cause.

Swelling up of the nose, right or left nostril, when changing.

Ringing or buzzing noises in the ears, often appearing at night.

Weak and watery eyes, in some cases a constant tendency to weep.

Inability to remember or think, or to concentrate sharply, on any subject.

Irritability or bad temper and a desire to be left entirely alone.

A disordered stomach, irregular bowels, soreness and bloating after meals.

Coughing in the morning or after a warm meal, often attended with vomiting.

A tendency to take cold on the slightest provocation and without apparent cause.

A choking feeling in the throat, which no effort appears to be able to remove.

Storing at night and a dry, parched throat, with bad taste in the mouth in the morning.

Itching and dizziness in the ears, with no secretion and a dullness of hearing.

An offensive discharge from the ears, a most frequent sign of catarrh of the head.

Formation of hard lumps in the nose and in the back part of the throat, often difficult to remove.

Nervous and discouraged. Labor formerly done with ease now accomplished with great difficulty.

A constant effort to clear the throat, generally unsuccessful and causing great soreness.

A feeling of apprehension of evil and a general worry about one's physical condition and welfare.

Polypus tumors, a result of catarrh, with dryness of the throat and a bronchial or asthmatic cough.

Harshness of the voice arising easily, and with singers an inability, from huskiness, to sing.

Gradual loss of flesh and strength, though the usual amount of food has been eaten.

Rapid palpitation of the heart, often attended with great nervousness; occurs at night or after meals.

Bad breath, repulsive to patient and those about him, although the former may not be aware of it, owing to inability to smell.

Shooting pains through the chest, showing that catarrh is extending to the lungs and may be the cause of serious mischief.

Secretions gathering in the back part of nose and throat, having to be cleared by drawing back and spitting in the morning and during the day to obtain relief.

MANY OF THE FOREGOING SYMPTOMS ARE FORERUNNERS OF CONSUMPTION, A FATAL TERMINATION, UNLESS EFFECTIVE AND SUCCESSFUL TREATMENT IS OBTAINED.

Dr. Copeland, Bell and Davis have made a special study for years past of diseases of the nose, throat and chest, and by their special training and wide experience, by treatment of hundreds of "incurable cases"—so called by physicians who do not know how to handle them—were able to give relief in every case and cure apparently hopeless ones.
