WHEELING, FEBRUARY 25, 1893.

Hard On His Old Friends.

Everybody will recall how the officeholders under Mr. Cleveland's former administration stirred themselves to gather up delegates in his interest, largely preferring to sit in the convention themselves. At the convention they were for Cleveland or death. Inwardly they were for Cleveland or death. Inwardly they were for Cleveland or death. Inwardly they were for Cleveland or death.

It was to be a restoration—Cleveland would go in, they would go in with him and the world would move on pleasantly as before. It was a sweet dream of easy conquest. In a few days Mr. Cleveland will go in, and, alas, alas, here the restoration is to end. So it is given out by one of those who have seen his hand, a royal flush, so as to speak, of brand new ones.

No old tide-waiters need apply. They have had their day. Old blood is well enough for the white house. After that there must be a new infusion through all the arteries of the body politic.

Mr. Cleveland does not feel that he owes his election to anybody but himself. He has set out to be greater than his party and any and all in it. If he wants a man he will take him because he wants him, not because of that man's services to the party or to himself.

If he wants Republicans he will take them—Mugwumps, Populists, Socialists, Anarchists, Nihilists, Kanucks, Kana-kas, Dagos, Fugans, according to his own sweet, great will.

Mr. Cleveland had told all this before the Chicago convention—or soon after it—it might have been different. But he wisely kept his counsel. Is Mr. Cleveland a gay deceiver?

The West Virginian who wants a slice of something nice from Mr. Cleveland will do well to pay his court to Mr. Wm. L. Wilson, on whom the shadow of the throne falls as a mantle.

Corporation Influence in the Cabinet.
The Springfield Republican, which is usually well posted about New England men and things, confirms the report that Mr. Olney, who is to be Mr. Cleveland's attorney general, receives about $50,000 a year from the practice of his profession, and that he is counsel for the Boston & Maine railroad, the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe and the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy.

The point of all this is, that if a Republican President had chosen for attorney general the counsel for three big railroad corporations the Democrats would have been in full cry and the assisting Populists would have echoed the gentle strain.

Mr. Cleveland, being so much bigger and better than everybody and every thing else in this great country, may do as he pleases. "The king can do no wrong."

His entente cordiale, which we do not pretend to understand, appears to have lost its hold among the brethren of the able Pittsburgh press. It is all along of the recent local election up that way.

Conkling and McKinley.
It is recalled that about the time of Roscoe Conkling's resignation from the senate the suicide of a friend developed the startling fact that Mr. Conkling was on that friend's paper for nearly $100,000. This he set to work to pay by his earnings at the New York bar. Within two years he had wiped out the debt, and in the seven years of his active practice he earned more than half a million dollars.

It is believed that if Governor McKinley were to go to New York he would soon retrieve his fortune at the bar. It is also believed that he will not go there.

How easily the Kansas Populists move the capital of their state. It would be no trick at all for them to move the state itself.

It is unjust to find fault with Chairman Harry for trying to feel the pulse of Democratic congressmen on the silver question. Mr. Harry is proxy for Mr. Cleveland, and the principal is the man to rakes. But the principal in this case has a long, heavy rake himself, and the statesmen have no desire to feel his sharp teeth.

If Kaulani knew the dear delights of being an American citizeness she would not yearn for the throne of her dusky ancestors. She would be more than content to take a dot from her Uncle Sam and be annexed to some likely young American. Unfortunately for her, peace of mind the young girl has been educated on the other side of the Atlantic.

When General Neal Dow says there are 2,000 habitual drunkards in the prohibition state of Maine—prohibition for more than a generation—he gets the rest of the country to thinking.

Anti-Home Rule Scheme.

The opponents of home rule for Ireland are resorting to the stock market to get up a scare. They are beating down the quotations for bank stocks, railroad and industrial securities. They have already hammered $50 out of the selling price of a famous brewery stock. Is it supposed that under home rule the Irish will drink less ale and stout?

The whole contention of the opposition is based on the assumption that the Irish are unfit for home rule, and that as soon as they may be allowed to legislate for themselves in their local affairs everything in Ireland will go to pieces. The stock-jobbing is to show that the mere probability of home rule has begun the process of general disorder and disintegration.

The scheme is as cruel as it is senseless. Irishmen are not Hottentots.

This proposed dollar popular subscription to a fund for the benefit of Governor McKinley is a good one. There must be a hundred thousand persons in this country who would be glad to give a dollar each as a slight token of their appreciation of the faithful public servant. A fund so raised would place Governor McKinley under no obligation that could ever embarrass him.

A little boom is being nursed for Henry George, who desires to serve his country and the Democratic party as consul at Manchester, England. Since the Democratic party has come pretty well up to Mr. George's idea of the tariff it may as well go further and adopt his views on the question of the Manchester consulship.

In these closing days of Congress why is it that no Democrat, filled with righteous indignation and congressional tea, rises majestically to denounce the Billion Dollar Congress? Has a greater than the Billion Dollar Congress loomed up to cast its dark shadow over a once smiling land?

An aluminum violin was played in a Cincinnati concert. The chief merit of the instrument seems to be its novelty. Aluminum seems to be good for almost everything, but nobody has yet suggested that it restores the hair to bald heads. Something should be done for the bald heads.

Mr. Mitchell, our English visitor of fame, is under the impression that he could easily clean up the whole blasted country. If he will try his hand successfully on our streets we shall be ready to admit that he is a person to be considered seriously.

The make-up of the new cabinet gives color to the thought that the ax of Adlai will not get a full swing on during the next four years. It may be that Adlai will resign in disgust from the tail-end of such an administration.

MAJOR HALFORD, late of the white house, now of the pay corps, U. S. A., has fallen into a remarkably pleasant job for a raw recruit. He was looked to the conclusion that Major Halford is no ordinary man.

The business man was not in demand when Mr. Cleveland went to make up his jewels, but the lawyers were around in great shape. Is this a country of lawyers?

A few more Republicans in the new cabinet might have made the administration an assured success. Is it possible to have too much of a good thing?

On second thought, don't clean the streets. Let them remain as they are to be a monument to what the people have learned to tolerate.

It is to be hoped that Judge Gresham may find no Democratic pins business end up in his cabinet chair.

A CLEVELAND man broke his wife's jaw—probably to induce her to mend her ways.

THE Jenks matter is funny, at least, but Mr. Jenks doesn't see the joke in it.

BREAKFAST BUDGET.

The three oldest known pieces of wrought iron in existence are the sickle blade that was found by Belzoni under the base of the Sphinx in Karnak, near Thebes; the blade found by Colonel Vyse imbedded in the mortar of one of the Pyramids, and a portion of a cross-cut saw which Mr. Layard exhumed at Nimrud—all of which are now in the British Museum.

America has furnished to the world the character of Washington. And if our American institutions had done nothing else, that alone would have entitled them to the respect of mankind.

Elisha Cadeo has been running an engine on the Wabash road, between Ft. Wayne and Lafayette, Indiana, since 1864, and during that time, he asserts, he has never been the cause of an accident.

SOME STATE OPINIONS.

All Honor to Her.

Parkburg Journal.
To Mrs. Joseph R. Ruffner, of Charleston, is largely due the credit for the passage of the bill for the prevention of cruelty to children. She went before the judiciary committee and made an earnest and eloquent plea for the children. Before she made her appeal it was thought that the fate of the bill was sealed; but her efforts encouraged the friends of the measure, and, taking renewed courage, they finally secured its passage. All honor to Mrs. Ruffner.

Adds Injury to Insult.

Roanoke County Record.
The Democrats of Roanoke county are not only Democrats in theory but also in practice, and the Record has the first one to hear from who is pleased with Cleveland's putting Gresham at the head of the nation. The first office in the land is a pretty cool alarm on Democratic enthusiasm. Gresham has been a candidate for President before Republican conventions for years, and now for Cleveland to place him at the head of affairs is adding insult to injury.

Good Advice to Farmers.

Philippi Republican.
Barbour county ships, in the shape of butter, eggs and poultry, not less than $100,000 annually, but about all this money is spent abroad for bread stuffs, meat and rough feed that should be raised here. Let our farmers stop complaining about hard times and stop this terrible leak by raising the grains, meat and rough feed that is now shipped into this county.

This is Too Cruel.

Kanawha News.
General C. C. Watts and Joseph S. Miller are again in the field for office. Watts wants to be district attorney and Miller commissioner of internal revenue. Will some one who is old enough please inform us when these gentlemen were not wanting office, as we can't recall the time when they were not holding an office or seeking one.

Good Appointment.

We learn from T. G. Pownall, Esq., that it is settled that E. B. Gilkerson, Esq., of Romney, is to be appointed collector of internal revenue for the district of West Virginia, in the place of Hon. A. B. White. We think the appointment is as good as Mr. Cleveland could make, even with all the material at his command.

So Soon Forgotten.

Richie Gazette.
J. Capehart received the support of the People's party in this district, but now that the time has come to select postmasters and such, his memory has been affected. In an absent minded way he misses the People's party men every time. Even in his dreams he sees nothing but Democrats.

Must Grin and Bear It.

Tyler County Democrat.
The Democrats are not as well pleased with the appointment of Judge Gresham as they would have been with a Democrat. Still all who voted for Cleveland know that he prefers his own pet ideas to the great party that elected him and so we will have to put up with what he does.

Could not be Better.

Davis Times.
It is thought that President Cleveland will appoint Joseph Miller, of this state, internal revenue commissioner. He could do no better, as this gentleman filled the position to a leiter during Mr. Cleveland's former term.

What Do You Want?

Shepherdstown Register.
Our senators and representatives ought to get together and divide the federal patronage for West Virginia equitably and peacefully. And don't forget the eastern panhandle.

A Commendable Act.

Hampshire Review.
We commend the legislature for refusing to pass Dr. McCullough's resolution opposing the opening of the World's Fair on Sunday.

A McKinley Fund.

To the Editor of the Intelligencer.
SIR:—The people of this country should not allow William McKinley to be burdened with a large indebtedness which he may never be able to work out. Every dollar he owes can easily be made up of dollar subscriptions. Will the INTELLIGENCER receive subscriptions for the relief of this superb type of American manhood? If you will I am sure that your readers will be heard from promptly.

WHEELING WORKMAN.

Wheeling, W. Va., Feb. 24, 1893.

[The INTELLIGENCER understands that an effort has been made to ascertain from Governor McKinley's trustees whether such a fund would be accepted. If the answer be favorable the INTELLIGENCER will be glad to take hold in earnest.]

Pittsburgh Times (Rep.)
Pittsburgh contemporaries may pitch into the Times all they want to, for they cannot deprive it of the sweet consolation that the Lord loveth whom He chasteneth.

Paxson's Successor.

HARRISBURG, PA., Feb. 24.—Governor Pattison has appointed Judge Heydrick, of Franklin, to the vacancy on the bench by the resignation of Chief Justice Paxson to accept the Reading railroad receivership.

THE CABINET.

A Cleveland Affair.
Pittsburgh Dispatch (Ind.)

There is little or no indication that the President-elect has been biased by geographical, political or any considerations other than the desire to permeate his cabinet so far as may be with men of his own way of thinking. November witnessed a Cleveland rather than a Democratic triumph, and the next four years are to show a Cleveland rather than a Democratic administration.

Promises Strength.

New York Times (Mugwump).
The cabinet promises to be a strong one, thoroughly united in sentiment and purpose with its chief, and of unusual efficiency. It will have its troubles and difficulties. The work it has to perform is arduous and far from simple. But its opportunities are great, and it will enter upon its service with a remarkable degree of confidence on the part of good citizens of all parties.

Plenty of Legal Talent.

Washington Star (Ind.)
There is no lack of legal talent in the big aggregation, for seven out of the eight have practiced law successfully. Take it all and all, there is no fault to be found with Mr. Cleveland's choice. He will be surrounded by practical men on whose judgment the country may safely rely.

Good Enough.

Philadelphia Record (Dem.)
Individually and collectively the gentlemen selected by Mr. Cleveland as his official advisers will compare favorably with any similar number of men in public life in the country.

A Dubious Experiment.

Pittsburgh Commercial Gazette (Rep.)
He [Mr. Cleveland] has entered upon the very dubious experiment of demonstrating how much greater he is than the party that made him.

All in Accord.

New York Evening World (Dem.)
The cabinet is a safe one, and all its members are in hearty accord with Mr. Cleveland's policy.

Farmers' Institute.

MARTINSBURG, W. VA., Feb. 24.—The farmers' institute held an interesting session to-day. The meeting was called to order by the president, and Mr. J. Hanson light read a lengthy and interesting paper on the elements of pure blood for breeding purposes. The subject was discussed for several hours by the members of the organization. Mr. Gilbert P. Miller, the largest fruit grower in West Virginia, read a paper on fruits and the adaptability of the different kinds of soil for the different varieties of fruits. Mr. Charles J. Siebert, a prominent farmer of Berkeley county, offered a resolution calling a mass meeting of the citizens of the county to meet at the court house on Saturday, March 11, to take some action towards the improvement of the county roads. The resolution was discussed pretty fully and strongly opposed by a few members, but the present miserable condition of the roads helped the advocates of the movement and the resolution was adopted.

Hon. R. F. Kidd Falls.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.
GLENNVILLE, W. VA., Feb. 24.—General surprise was manifested here last evening upon the announcement that Hon. R. F. Kidd, of this place, had made an assignment in favor of his creditors. It is thought his liabilities will run from $12,000 to $15,000, and little hope is entertained that he will be able to meet them. Mr. Kidd is one of the most prominent Democratic politicians in the state, being twice before the state convention for the nomination of attorney general, and is at present an aspirant for the district attorneyship. The whole affair is deeply deplored by everyone.

Fatally Crushed.

Deserving Praise.

We desire to say to our citizens that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. Logan Drug Company, Drugists.

MILK CRUST ON BABY

Suffered Terribly—No Rest for Baby or Parents—Several Doctors. No Benefit.

First Application of Cuticura, Child Sleeps—Change in One Week. Complete Cure.

Eighteen months ago our child (then an infant) suffered terribly from a skin disease. There was no rest for the child or us. We tried several doctors with no benefit. The doctors said it was Milk Crust. After reading your book, I thought I would try your CUTICURA. REMEDIES, and the moment we put CUTICURA on the child it all changed. In one week's time, we could see a change. We kept on using the three and they cured the child's face entirely. Now we keep your CUTICURA and your CUTICURA SOAP ready in our house, and would never be without them. JOSEPH LEVY, 606 Main and 99 Beale Sts., Memphis, Tenn.

I was sore from my waist down with eczema. CUTICURA REMEDIES have cured me with no sign of return. I owe my life to CUTICURA. Without a doubt, I would have been in my grave had it not been for your remedies. Allow me to return my sincerest thanks. W. H. QUALIS, Paducah, Ky.

SHE WAS SURPRISED.

So Will You Be When You Read It.

It Certainly Has Been a Source of Wonder and Comment.

But the Lady is Ready to Substantiate Everything.

CHARLESTOWN, MASS. There has been in this place much wonder and comment of late in regard to a certain lady—Mrs. Agnes S. Morton, who resides at 383 Main street, Charlestown, Mass. She was seen at her home and explained the whole interesting matter as follows: "I do not know how to express myself to you and the public at large about this matter," she said, "but I feel it my bounden duty to say something."

"Everybody knows that I have been a great sufferer from dyspepsia for twenty-five years and that I tried most everything and different doctors, but all were failures. I became so weak that I was unable to walk steadily, had no appetite and what I did eat was the most simple kind of food; but my stomach was unable to retain even that."

"I could not sleep at night, had no ambition for anything, and was a total wreck. I know I would have to do something, as I could not stand it many weeks longer. Why I could not go up stairs without sitting down, and my heart would beat and I would be all of a tremble. I got a bottle of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and had taken scarcely one-half of it when I began to have an appetite and when I finished the remainder the trembling had left me, the palpitation was better and I could sleep nights. I took four bottles and then left off to see if the great benefit I had received was permanent, for everything I had taken before had proved only temporary."

MRS. AGNES S. MORTON.

"But I found that it was not so in this case. I have not taken it now for some time and its results are just as good and permanent."

"I must tell you I am like a new person. I have an excellent appetite, can eat anything and everything, and I feel buoyant and ambitious."

"I cannot express half I want to, and all this is perfectly true, as all my friends and acquaintances are knowing to all the facts."

"I never expected to be cured, as my case had been of so long standing. I hoped for nothing more than relief for awhile; but I am cured, perfectly cured. Yes, I do not hesitate to say that through the blessing of God and Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy I am completely cured."

Such is the lady's remarkable story, and we doubt if such wonderful cures have ever before been made as are effected by this truly valuable discovery, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.

It is a fact that everybody needs a spring medicine, something to tone up and strengthen the nerves, invigorate the blood and start up a healthy action of the organs; and no medicine in the world so perfectly and completely does this as Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. It is the ideal spring invigorant and restorative.

All can secure its great benefits, as it is for sale by druggists for $1. It is, too, a purely vegetable and harmless medicine, the prescription in fact of the well-known, successful specialist, in nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 35 W. 14th street, New York, who can be consulted free of charge, personally or by letter.

A GOOD SHOW

We are always advising you to advertise, and to keep on advertising, but that does not cover the ground entirely. Of course, you should make your advertising effective—if an electric light be available, you should not use a "tallow dip" to light the path to your store.

What do we mean by that? Simply that the more conspicuous, the more artistic, the more attractive, the more original you make your advertisements, the more people will see and read them, and the more customers you will have to contribute to your cash-drawer.

Study effects in bold pretty type—good matter may be spoiled by ugly dressing. Seek to catch the eye by a display of good taste in the style and arrangement of your announcement.

Above all, let it be bold enough to be easily read. Don't vex a reader by vexing his or her eyes!
