NOTHING STRIKING

Yesterday in Connection With the Street Car Strike.

A SOUTH SIDE OBSTRUCTION

Incident in the Morning—An Amalgamated Man Kicks Against the Five Dollar Fine for Riding on the Cars—A Declaration from ex-President Kimball.

The street cars ran without serious hindrance at any point on the line yesterday. The traffic on both Saturday and Sunday was much better than has been usual since the strike commenced. One car had twenty-four passengers from the city through to Benwood. It was certainly an unusual sight in the lower end of the city to see a car with that many passengers.

About 9 o'clock yesterday morning some boys at the corner of Eoff and Thirty-third streets, placed a lot of sticks and stones in the curve of the tracks. An electric car came along, and was delayed several minutes while the obstructions were removed. The police officer who was supposed to be stationed there was not on hand, and police headquarters was telephoned to, and Officer O'Brien detailed on the scene. Chief McNichol says the officer who ought to have been there did not turn out yesterday morning.

Some of the labor men, who are members of organizations that have imposed five dollar fines on members who ride on the "scab" cars, are raising somewhat of a kick. One over the river Amalgamated Association man, says he thinks the strike was started without sufficient cause, and that notwithstanding the $5 fine, he intends riding whenever he pleases. He says also that the strike isn't upheld over there by the American element, but by the foreign element.

Cars were run to the Island and to Benwood until 9 o'clock last night. There were no serious disturbances on the South Side last evening.

A gentleman who was in the city yesterday, a relative of Ex-President Kimball, of the street railway company, who is also one of the largest stockholders. He saw Mr. Kimball not long ago, and the latter said that "this fight we have on our hands in Wheeling will be continued, if we don't carry a single passenger for a year."

THE TRADES ASSEMBLY

Met in Executive Session Yesterday Afternoon.

The Ohio Valley Trades and Labor Assembly met in secret or as one of the members calls it "executive" session. The usual courtesy extended the newspaper men, allowing their presence, was not given yesterday, for the reason, so it is said, that matters connected with the street car strike and the proposed newspaper venture of the labor people under the auspices of the assembly were to come up for consideration.

It is understood that other matters came up, but the members were all very close mouthed, and not much could be learned.

The street car workers' union and the various assembly committees who have had charge of matters in connection with the street car strike, reported to the assembly, and were continued. The street car workers reported that the union line of wagons and cabs now being run between Forty-third and Twelfth streets is being very well patronized, and giving employment to a good number of the strikers. The sentiment in the assembly was to proceed in the present policy, doing all in its power to help the strikers in their fight with the company.

The list of business men who signed the petition circulated by the legislative committee of the assembly, asking the Wheeling railway company to submit the differences existing with its striking workmen to arbitration was read. The weekly newspaper scheme came up before the body and an appropriation made for the purpose of getting out a prospectus this week, which will at once be circulated generally among the labor and business people of the city. The first issue of the paper will probably be issued next week, and continue on Wednesdays.

ANTI-GAMBLING CRUSADE.

John P. Quinn, the Noted Ex-Gambler, Preaches Here To-night.

One of the great social evils of the day, gambling, will be the subject of a sermon to-night by John Philip Quinn, the great reformed gambler, who is conducting a crusade against the evil. It will take place at the First Baptist church, Byron and Twelfth streets, to which all are invited.

Mr. Quinn was formerly one of the most successful and noted of gamblers, but he became reformed, and ever since has been conducting his anti-gambling crusade. Within the past year he has visited and preached in over one hundred eastern cities, traveling in his own private car "Roanoke." The noted ex-gambler and party live on this car, which contains also nearly every known gambling device or instrument which are brought into use in the sermons, making them at once eminently practical and forcible.

The car is also used as a lecture platform, from which Mr. Quinn can reach thousands who never enter a church. The car will arrive here at 5 o'clock this afternoon, and will be switched off at the Baltimore & Ohio yards, opposite the city building. Besides the address at the Baptist church to-night, Mr. Quinn will talk on the same subject tomorrow evening at the Fourth street M. E. church, and on Wednesday evening he will probably address a congregation from his car platform.

The Cycling Season.

The early start of the spring trade in bicycles is well illustrated by the activity displayed at the Wheeling headquarters, 1113 Market street. Every day Mr. K. Hoge is furnishing old riders with new mounts and giving novices a good start for the season's riding. The Phoenix, the Sunol and the Holiday Temple Scorchers are prime favorites. Don't fail to see them before you buy. They are beautiful, strong, light and fast.

COL. KEMPLE HERE.

He Is Once More Plain Citizen, "Jake Kemple."

Col. Jake Kemple, who recently resigned his position as U. S. Inspector of Immigration, has returned to the city and was seen last night at the McLure house by an INTELLIGENCER reporter. The colonel is suffering from a heavy cold caught at the Cleveland inauguration on the fourth. He said: "It serves me right; I had no business to be there attending my own funeral, but I am emphatically in favor of a later date for all such exercises, as thousands of lives are jeopardized through the inclement weather."

"I suppose you witnessed some amusing scenes?"
"Yes; and I hope to embody some of them in a lecture soon."

"What are your plans for the future?"
"I have no definite plans for the immediate future. I am preparing a new lecture under the title of 'A Public Office is a Private Snap—When You Get It.' I expect to deliver it in this city early next month, and at a number of points through the state. I may spend some time at the World's Fair to give the other West Virginia products a little tone. I have promised to take a hand in the state campaigns of Ohio and Massachusetts this fall, and will begin my lecture season about the first of November next, under the direction and management of Major J. B. Pond, of New York. I might say here that few of the theatrical or lecture managers expect to do much business this fall until the World's fair is out of the way. September and October will take the great crowds there."

Charley Jungling Leaves the River.

The following about an old Wheeling man is from the Natchez, Miss., Democrat, and will be read here with much interest:

We are very much gratified to note that our popular young friend, Mr. Charles Jungling, has concluded to abandon the river, and will cast his lot with the people of this city on shore, having accepted the position of clerk at "The Natchez." Mr. Jungling was the capable and competent clerk of the first steamer, Prince, that plied in the Natchez and Bayou Sara trade, and afterwards performing the same duties on her successor, the Stella Wilds, and afterwards on the new steamer Lula Prince, and he contributed not a little to the popularity and success of those boats, helping them to build up a large and lucrative trade. Charley's smiling face, genial and courteous manners, and his experience as clerk will be a great acquisition to "The Natchez," and do much to popularize that elegant and attractive caravansary. He has many friends amongst the traveling public and all will want to stop with him.

A Broken Chain.

It seems sometimes that the angel of death still observes the Passover, and that, as he comes and goes, with silent tread, he again and again visits certain homes, leaving others all undisturbed. A marked instance of this is found in the family of Daniel C. List, one of our oldest and most esteemed citizens. No child of his home had ever been called away, while seven have grown to manhood or womanhood. At last, however, the family chain has been severed and the second son is no more.

Yet often in the days to come will tears start and voice tremble at mention of a name which will recall the bright face, cordial greeting, quick intelligence, marked business ability, love of his church and pride in his country which characterized Harry W. List, and he will yet live in the hearts of those who love him.

COLONEL ANDREW SPROUL, the celebrated Keynote Lecturer, will deliver a lecture in the Opera House Monday evening. Subject: "His Great Eastern Trip," "Finances and Currency," "Literary Experience and Love." Admission 50 cents.

CURTAIN ENDS almost given away to-day at L. S. GOOD & CO'S.

PROF. SHEFF, the Optician, is now at his new quarters, 1110 Main street, and is better prepared for testing eyes and fitting glasses than ever before. Eyes examined for glasses free of charge. Artificial eyes inserted.

Something Worth Looking At!

Tells the story of our SHIRTS to a T. They take the eye and make you worth looking at when you wear them. In Plain and Fancy SHIRTS from the most prominent manufacturers, we show this Spring the largest and most attractive lines.

Our NECKTIE Department is simply immense. Without them you will have NO TIE to connect you with the current of fashion and cannot stay in the swim any more than a stone. You are in a fair way of having your name changed to "Handsome" with one of our Shirts or Ties. It is a cure for weak eyes just to look at them.

WAIT! WHY?

You want a new Spring outfit. Why do you delay purchasing. Expect newer and prettier goods? Here is where most people miss it, for on most all imported Dress Goods, Suitings, &c., early import orders are given for the especial purpose of getting the choicest goods that arrive on this side of the Atlantic. Our new lines are now in and we are satisfied they are without equal for Shade, Style and Variety.

This does not only comply to our Dress Goods Department but throughout our Spring lines.

Habutia, Plaid, Changeable and India Silks in every fashionable color and neat patterns. Silk Velvets and Velveteens, Black and Brocade Grenadines, not to say anything of our ready-made Suits, Wraps and Wrappers, in which department we take special pride, knowing it is the largest and most complete in the State.

Parasols and Sun Umbrellas.—It may seem early for these goods, but like with other novelties, many styles can not be had later. See the beautiful Dresden China Handles, also the unique natural sticks of all kinds.

Curtains.—Our line of Curtains must be seen to be appreciated. The space heretofore given for this department being entirely inadequate for this season's line, we have moved the department to the third floor, where it has now four times the space it formerly occupied, complete in every detail. You will find this stock and prices that speak for themselves for bargains.
