The Intelligencer, WHEELING, MARCH 16, 1893.

"Offensive Partisanship." The postmaster general was asked whether a Republican postmaster who made speeches in the campaign had not been guilty of "offensive partisanship" for which he should be removed. The anxious inquirer said that the postmaster aforesaid had even engaged with him in a joint debate.

"Was he fair in debate?" asked the postmaster general. Being answered affirmatively Mr. Bissell declared that the man was not guilty as charged, adding that this is a country of free thought and free speech, and informing his visitor that he will not remove a man because he discussed the political questions of the day in a free and fair manner.

President Cleveland, in his first term, removed at least one district attorney for making campaign speeches, but Mr. Bissell takes a fairer view of the matter. If it be desired to make a place for a Democrat, remove the incumbent because he is a Republican, not because he made Republican speeches and is therefore guilty of "offensive partisanship."

So far as developments show no harm was done to the Democratic party by the Republican speeches made in the late campaign of unhappy memory.

COL. JAMES E. NEAL, of Ohio, is said to have been promised the Liverpool consulship. Colonel Neale, of the Register, will observe that Colonel Neal is not a newspaper man. The discrimination is unfair.

Mr. Blaine saw far enough into the future to know that the world would demand a good "lie" of him, and he committed the work to the most capable hands.

Gail Hamilton, long a member of his family, knew the man and his life. He made her his literary executor, and with the consent and co-operation of his wife she is to prepare his biography, which is to be published by the Henry Bill Publishing Company, of Norwich, Connecticut, to which Mr. Blaine committed the publication of his great "Twenty Years in Congress."

Miss Dodge (Gail Hamilton) is a writer of unusual power and polish, and will produce a work worthy of its great subject. There will be no other authorized biography of Mr. Blaine, all announcements to the contrary notwithstanding.

A few Ohio patriots are willing to accept something from the new administration, but there will be nothing for them after West Virginia shall have reaped its golden harvest.

Possible Senatorial Vacancy. Congressman Wm. L. Wilson is urging the President to make Senator Faulkner a District of Columbia Judge. If this appointment be made it is understood that the President will urge the appointment of Mr. Wilson to succeed Mr. Faulkner in the senate.

We fear that the appeal will fall on deaf ears. The prize will be in the gift of Governor MacCorkle, who will be likely to bestow it on his friend Joe Chilton. MacCorkle had Chilton's help in his campaign from the ground up. Brother Will got the secretaryship of state, but the Chiltons are a numerous clan and one office does not go far in a large family.

The governor of Tennessee denies the report of his death and brands it as a lie. It should be remembered that this heated donial comes from an interested source.

Mr. Watts and His Telegram. The Register doubtless has reasons of its own for desiring the restoration of Mr. C. C. Watts to the district attorneyship. Without any desire to pry into family secrets we take the liberty to ask the Register whether it approves the sending of the insulting telegram which Mr. Watts fired at the President of the United States.

Does the Register think that was treating the chief magistracy with the respect due to that high office? And is it necessary to break the "ax" rule—the rule of exclusion laid down by President Cleveland—in order to reward for a second time a man capable of so gross disrespect to the presidential office?

The Panama trial is the severest France has had in the days of the republic.

ELVENTH street between Market and Main, although narrow, is one of the most important thoroughfares in the city. As a connecting link it would be still more used if it were paved with brick. Paving has been done where it served the public convenience very much less, and it is not easy to understand why this square has been neglected so long.

The Hawaiian Commission. Without official announcement of the fact it did not seem probable that the President would send a commission to Hawaii to look into and report on the advisability of granting that little country's prayer for annexation. It seems, however, that there is to be a commission for this purpose.

What is to be gained? A commission cannot learn more of the essential facts than we know already. The monarchy has been overthrown and is gone beyond recovery. There is general acquiescence in the provisional government, but its best friends do not suppose that it could last indefinitely. Nobody supposes that an independent republic could be successful. Representatives of the provisional government submit that the time has come for some country to annex Hawaii, and the preference is for the United States above all others. This is the Hawaiian side of the question in brief.

Our side of the question is that we cannot afford to let any other power take those islands. Their occupation by England would be most objectionable. If we be ready to say that no other power shall take them we must be ready to accept their offer to come to us. For half a century, from Daniel Webster to James G. Blaine, the statesmanship of this country has refused to consider the possibility of those islands falling into any other hands than ours.

A commission may learn how many pounds of sugar Hawaii raises to the acre, how many bananas to the bunch, but it can not tell us more than we know about the desirability of taking Hawaii to us and taking it quickly. The commission is a waste of time and money.

The way that West Virginians are turning up at Washington and attracting the attention of the country is altogether commendable. It advertises the state.

Tammany Between Acts. The election being over the Mugwump newspapers are once more free to express themselves about Tammany, its men and its works. Here comes the New York Evening Post, saying that Tammany office-holding men "are, as a rule, ignorant and illiterate, without even anything that could be called ordinary business experience." Then this of Tammany Health Officer Jenkins, who has set himself up as a cholera sharp:

One short year ago he was a Tammany deputy coroner, without practice or patients, and his deliveries of microbes, spirilla, and bacilli or cholerae, would probably have been received in the bar-room of the Hoffman House with the boldest mirth in which his cronies delight, but to-day he hurds defiance at all the sanitarians in the world, and maintains that he is the fittest man on earth to "keep out the cholera" from New York. Such are the wonderful transformations effected by "the organization." The way the kings used to cure scrofula by "touching" is nothing to the way in which Tammany communicates knowledge by "slating."

Isn't it true, notwithstanding Tammany's vicious ignorance, that it gave Mr. Cleveland a loyal support for the high office of President of the United States? And isn't it true that he much desired and ardently courted that support?

This is spring weather in the sense that it has been sprung on us.

The Bank Robber in the Senate. There is not the slightest room for a question in the case of Roach, the new senator from North Dakota. The record shows that he robbed the Citizens' Bank, of Washington, of $64,000. He does not deny the robbery but says it happened long ago and he sees no reason for bringing it up now.

It happened in 1879. The robbery was covered up by a series of false entries and forgeries. It will be greatly to the credit of the senate of the United States to declare that a convicted thief cannot sit in that body. Mr. Roach is a Democrat elected by a Republican legislature.

This decency of Chicago has named a strong business man for mayor against Carter Harrison, the nominee of the Democratic machine. The movement against Harrison is a movement of all the elements which hold the city's good name above the interests of the toughs. It looks as though the Harrison machine is about to be smashed. The people are in revolt against it.

Pike county, Pennsylvania, has had so much winter this year that it has been too cold to marry up there. This is the most singular weather freak thus far reported. It has not been this way in the mountains of West Virginia so far as the returns show.

In these blustering March days plans and specifications for the Easter outfit divide time with the pious observance of Lent. It is very interesting to see Miss Prudence in the quiet of the home cloister, prayer book in one hand, fashion book in the other.

MINOR appointments will not be made now, says the President. Minor appointments? In the eyes of the applicants there are none. Every one of them is a major, not to say a field marshal.

The roll of honor, that is to say, the list of applicants for jobs under President Cleveland, is already long and luminous. Let the good work go on. The country will survive all these disappointments.

Encouraged by the success of Hoke Smith, Judge Hoke, of Kentucky, asks to be allowed to serve his country in some foreign land. Is this the beginning of an era of Hokes?

It may be that President Cleveland thinks the McKinley act less "oppressive" than the rush of volunteers to Washington.

YESTERDAY would have been an ideal St. Patrick's day, but to-morrow may do as well.

BREAKFAST BUDGET.

The exhibit of fine woods made at the World's Fair by West Virginia in the forestry building will consist of 250 splendid specimens, finely polished and finished in a manner which will show the special characteristics and qualities of all growths and varieties to the best advantage.

Homes for the children of Presbyterian missionaries are to be established at Wooster, O., through the generosity of Mrs. Wm. Thaw, of Pittsburgh. She gives $5,000 and $500 a year for four years, while the church has raised $15,000 and will give $1,500 a year.

A number of years ago a Vermont widower lost his little daughter and hid this epitaph placed on her tombstone: "Go sleep with ma, Almainy S. Soon pa will come and sleep with thee." Since then he has buried three wives.

Cannavina, the well known antiquarian, of Naples, claims to have purchased an alleged portrait of Christopher Columbus by Titian. The picture was discovered on removing a rough portrait painted over the original.

The prick of a pin caused the death of John J. Maynard, a New York man, last Saturday. He had used the pin to remove a silver that had got in his finger, and the poison from the brass point caused blood poisoning.

The government of Manitoba is said to be arranging for the immigration this summer of 2,000 Icelanders. The intention is to bring from Iceland the entire population, if possible, of some 60,000 souls.

President Palmer of the World's Fair commission is in favor of keeping the exhibition intact when the doors close next October and opening again in the spring of 1894 for another six months' run.

A newspaper has just been started in Kondon, which is printed on a postal card. The first number has four illustrations, a comic tragedy, a few jokes and puzzles and some advertisements.

A bible bee is the latest form of amusement at Cuthbert, Ga. Prizes are awarded to the persons proving themselves most familiar with bible history.

PERSONAL POINTS.

Count Alphonse Veechy, of Italy, is in Washington, and is one of the biggest and jolliest visitors in the city. He stands a clear six feet five inches in height and weighs 350 pounds. There is no getting away from the fact that he is a great man.

Ex-President Harrison's old pastor, whom he stopped off at Pittsburgh to visit and to hear preach, is a tall, large-boned man of great force of character. He came from Cape Cod and his full name is Jeremiah Prophet Elisha Kummer.

General Wade Hamnton, though 75 years of age and so badly maimed as to need crutches to enable him to get around, is one of the youngest-feeling, snappy and jovial men in public life. He has a boy's heart in a rusty old body.

M. Munkacsy is at work in his Neully studio on a picture of such dimensions that the canvas has to be raised and lowered by a machine for the purpose. It is thirteen feet high and forty-five wide.

Gov. Turney, of Tennessee, files no affidavit to disprove the report of his death, but remarks: "I knew it was a lie as soon as I heard it." A Turney for the defense makes a good point.

Buffalo Bill now stands at the head and front of American citizenship. He told President Cleveland he was not an office seeker and wanted absolutely nothing. He got it.

AMUSING THINGS.

Soon after the arid gullet Men will pour the foaming "hook," And our surplus winter clothing Soon will find itself in hook.

New York Judge—"You are charged with firing off your pistol on Broadway." Texan—"Yes, judge, I was just celebrating the Fourth of July." Judge—"But yesterday was not the Fourth of July." Texan—"I know it, judge, but I reckon I'll not be here on the Fourth of July." Judge—"Oh, yes, you will, unless you pay $100 fine."—Texas Sitings.

Surzeon (dressing the felon finger)—"A small piece of the bone has come away, madam. It will begin to mend now." Old Lady—"Good land, doctor! It must be a piece of chicken bone I swallowed sixty-nine years ago, when I was a little girl. Let me see it."—Chicago Tribune.

Pater—"It's singular that whenever I want you to marry a man you object, and whenever I do not want you to marry one, you straightway insist on it." Filla—"Yes; and whenever we are agreed the man objects."—Life's Calendar.

"I have got the best of this ouid corporation for once in my life." How is that, Pat? "I have bought a round trip ticket to New York and back, and (in a whisper) I ain't comin' back."—Youth's Companion.

Poetaster—"So you have read my poems? Well, what do you advise me to do?" Critic—"I strongly advise you to see your family doctor and get a good tonic from him."—Plebeian Blatier.

"Rev. Dr. Thirdly wants $5,000 to agree to us." "Why, a month ago he agreed to accept a call at $4,000." "Yes, but he's been accused of heresy since then."—Brooklyn Life.

She—"Come around and call on me any time." He—"Will you always be at home?" She—"Not always. I sail for Europe to-morrow."—Judge.

"Patrick, you haven't given fresh water to the gold fish." "No, miss; they ain't drunk wot they had already."—Harper's Bazar.

He—"If I should—or—ask you to marry me." She—"You'd make the thirteenth."—Life.

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism, his Stomach was disordered, his Liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, Ohio, had five large Fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold by Logan Drug Co.

If you have indigestion, constipation, headache, rheumatism, etc., this grand specific will cure you. THE SCRAMBLE FOR OFFICE.

A Strike for Spoils. Philadelphia Times (Dem.). There is a threatened strike at Washington. The congressmen who are there for the offices and who find the President niggardly in their distribution, talk of forming a combination against him, a sort of union, to enforce their demands. If the President expects legislation in the public interest, he must pay for it, and pay the price the union will demand—a liberal distribution of spoils.

An Unhappy Lot. New York Post (Mugwump). There is a growing suspicion that the President actually meant what he said in declaring for good and competent men in office. Altogether, there is an amount of suppressed rage in the streets and cheap boarding-houses of Washington which threatens the most horrible consequences to the unhappy sufferers from it. They dare even not find partial relief in shrieks and curses.

Castles in Spain. Washington Star (Ind). Editor Lewis Baker, of the St. Paul Globe, is credited with willingness to serve this nation as minister to the land of Ferdinand and Isabella. Perhaps he may not succeed, but he should not be discouraged. There is nothing to prevent any Democrat from occupying a castle in Spain under this administration.

The Lucky Ones. Chicago Inter-Ocean, (Rep). The lucky Washington Democrats are those that bought round-trip tickets and took trunks with them. When the hotel proprietor bones them for dues they can light out and leave the trunk in soak. It is "the gripsack man" that is asked for "pay in advance."

No Hope for Them. Chicago Tribune (Rep). If drinking men are to expect no favors from the Cleveland administration the Missouri colonels may as well pack their gripsacks, fill their hip-pockets, and take the first train for home.

Showing Their Confidence. New York Press, (Rep). The immense crowd of office-seekers at Washington is an illustration of the estimate the Democratic party puts on President Cleveland's civil-service professions.

But They Cannot. New York World (Dem.). All the office hunters would be glad to believe in a "Seek and ye shall find" policy at Washington.

Not Their Fault. Washington Post (Ind.). Mr. Cleveland should not be too hard on them. It is not their fault that they are ex-officio losers.

The Main Question. New York Recorder, (Rep). Mr. Cleveland may be "greater than his party," but can he run it? is the question.

NAMED FOR CLEVELAND.

An Enthusiastic Democrat Receives a Reply to His Request. BUFFALO, N. Y., March 15.—At noon on the fourth of March while the incoming Democratic administration was being inducted into office at Washington a son was born to John Nowacki, a Polish-American citizen of Buffalo. Nowacki is a Democrat and he at once telegraphed President Cleveland asking permission to name his son after the chief magistrate.

The President replied in an autograph letter as follows: "MY DEAR SIR:—I shall be very glad to allow my name to be used as godfather to your son, who was born on inauguration day. Certainly a boy who began life at the same time with a Democratic administration can never fail to be a true and loyal Democrat, as I am sure his father must be. I hope his life may be long and prosperous, and that that he will always be a joy and comfort to his parents. "Very truly yours, "Grover Cleveland."

Deacon Sails for Home. LONDON, March 15.—Edward Parker Deacon, the slayer of Abeillo, sailed on the Traave to-day with his daughter Gladys for New York with the intention of rejoining his other children at Newport. Gladys is the child whom Mr. Deacon abducted from a convent to save her from falling into the hands of Mr. Deacon during the divorce proceedings which have recently been terminated by an agreement under which Mr. Deacon was given possession of all the children except the youngest.

"Brace Up" is a tantalizing admonition to those who at this season feel all tired out, weak, without appetite and discouraged. But the way in which Hood's Sarsaparilla builds up the tired frame and gives a good appetite is really wonderful. So we say, "Take Hood's and it will brace you up."

For a general family cathartic we confidently recommend Hood's PILLS. Mothers' Recommendation. We are acquainted with many mothers in Centerville who would not be without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house for a good many times its cost, and are recommending it every day. From personal experience we can say that it has broken up bad colds for our children.—Centerville, South Dakota, Citizen. 50-cent bottle for sale by druggists.

Glad Tidings. You can have your teeth extracted without pain with "Odontunder." Applied locally, at VanKeuren's hotel.

AMONG THE BELLES.

Upon Whom 'Shall the Mantle Fall? What One of the Lovely Aspirants Has to Say.

The Women Will be Interested—But Won't the Men?

Since the day the lovely Miss Willing left Philadelphia to become the bride of John Jacob Astor, her mantle of belle has been variously bestowed among the beautiful young ladies of the City of Brotherly Love. But among the candidates for this honor there are certainly few more beautiful than Miss Anna King, who resides at 130 Diamond Street, Philadelphia. Our portrait is very far from doing the young lady justice, but it will serve to call the attention of her many friends and admirers to the fact that she is again in excellent health. For it must be known that Miss King has been most seriously ill—so seriously, in fact, that her physicians gave her up, saying that no help was possible.

To a reporter she spoke freely and unreservedly concerning herself. "I have indeed been very ill," she said, in answer to a question. "My nerves had become so weak as to render me incapable of fulfilling my duties. I had no confidence in myself. I would at times grow so weak that it seemed as if I should never be able to move again. I could not remember anything. Dreadful shooting pains occurred frequently all through my eyes and head; often severe headaches would follow which would prostrate me for hours. "Yes, I had several physicians but they all said no help was possible. "I was in despair until I took Dr. Greeno's Nervura, blood and nerve remedy. By the time I had taken the first bottle I found that I had been greatly benefited. I continued its use and have now regained my original health again. "And she looked it, for she is a picture of health and beauty.

By the by, did you ever hear of a failure of Dr. Greeno's Nervura blood and nerve remedy to cure? We never have, and can assert positively that this wonderful medicine, the prescription and discovery of the well known and successful specialist Dr. Greeno, of 35 W. 14th street, New York, will cure more cases of disease than any other remedy in the world. If you are sick use it, for it will cure you. Especially should you use it at this season of the year, as a spring medicine is absolutely necessary to the maintenance of good health, and doctors recommend this as the best spring medicine, for it will surely invigorate the blood, strengthen the nerves and restore the organs to natural and healthy action. You can get it at any druggist for $1, and we know it is purely vegetable and harmless. Besides you can consult Dr. Greeno free of charge concerning your case at any time, personally or by letter.
