

SUMMER CLOTHING—M. GUTMAN & CO.

My Love is the Man in the Moon

May do for a song, but the fellow is too distant to be a very interesting character.

It's much more practical to think about our clothing and pass from the moon man to the well dressed man who has one of our Summer Suits.

This is not an age of moonshine and fancy, but one in which the good things in life are brought within the reach of all.

Good Clothing

Is a necessity, and better suits than ours cannot be discovered.

GREAT COAL AND COKE CENTRE

Of the Upper Monongahela Valley.
How the Town of Fairmont is Forging Ahead—The Population Doubled in Five Years—Modern Improvements—The New Addition Being Rapidly Built Up With the Coming of New Industries and Opening of New Mines—Values Increase 100 Per Cent in Two Years.

In the entire state of West Virginia, since the era of development began, no section has made more rapid progress than that embraced within what is known as the upper Monongahela coal and coke field, of which the rapidly growing city of Fairmont is the center, or chief shipping point. During the past few years there have been opened, within a radius of five miles of Fairmont, ten coal mines, giving employment to more than two thousand men, while within the limits of the town have been established a number of new industries, including two glass factories, iron foundries, planing mills, and other manufacturing industries. With this development of business has come a new population, until it is more than double what it was five years ago, and new comers are constantly arriving.

Few towns in America have made more rapid strides, all things considered. In proof of this statement one has but to consider the fact that what was five years ago a hum-drum village, without any of the modern improvements, is now a bustling, hustling, growing city, with electric lights, natural gas, water works, and all other modern conveniences. Within this half a decade new additions have been laid off, scores of new streets have been opened through what five years ago were meadows and corn fields, hundreds of new and handsome buildings have been erected in these additions, and the demand for homes and building sites goes on increasing, so that values have increased 100 per cent in the last two years. So rapid and wonderful has been this growth that visitors have been moved to call Fairmont "the Chicago of the interior of West Virginia."

"This 'boom' which Fairmont is enjoying, and which is attracting so much the attention of investors, is not a 'boom' on paper. It is based upon a substantial, solid foundation. Situated in the midst of the richest coal field in America, the town is already the shipping point for more than a million tons of coal and coke per year, to say nothing of the vast tonnage from the other industries. Development is not a thing of the future, but is already in progress, so that the growth of Fairmont is as substantial as the eternal wealth laden hills that surround the city, and the investor is not gambling in 'futures,' but dealing in realities."

Fairmont is the terminus of two railroads and on the main line of the Baltimore & Ohio. In a few months the Fairmont, Morgantown & Pittsburgh road will be opened up to Pittsburgh, which will make the interior of the state as accessible to that city as it is now to Wheeling, with Fairmont as the distributing point. This is a fact the importance of which it is time the business men of Wheeling were beginning to realize.

A striking instance of how Fairmont is growing and of the solidity of the "boom," if it can be called a "boom," is furnished by the experience of the Fairmont Development Company. This company laid off the new town less than two years ago. It covers a large territory west of the old town, with which it is connected by a magnificent steel viaduct. Within the past year scores of buildings have been erected on this property, including two new glass houses, the splendid new state normal school building, many dwellings and business houses.

Within that time, also, the lots which were sold have advanced in value from 25 to 50 per cent. The demand for lots has steadily increased, and the Development Company has disposed of a large number at private sale for good prices. With a view to further improving the town the Development Company has let the contract for the paving of Fairmont avenue with fire brick and the work will begin at once. Along this and adjoining streets are the choice building lots, a limited number of which (100) will be offered to-morrow, (Thursday, June 1,) at auction, in a rare chance for investment, and Wheeling business men will miss a good thing if they neglect it. No investment in the state of West Virginia will pay so large a return. The Development Company's advertisement appears in another column. Attention is directed to it. Wheeling business men who are looking for paying investments should make a trip to Fairmont to-morrow and look over the ground. Round trip tickets are on sale at this point at 2 cents per mile each way.

He Fought in the Revolution.
In the west corner of the old cemetery at the east end of Sixteenth street a sandstone grave slab lies prostrate, and on it is this interesting inscription:

JOHN DUFFY,
Deceased this Life
May 24, 1833.
Aged 74 Years.

A soldier in the War of our Independence. His only Pension the Prize of his Countrymen. His Private Virtues may be truly Commemorated in the Simple Phrase—
"He was an Honest Man."

Evidently pensions were not unknown in that day.

HONORS TO BISHOP KAIN.

A Notable Reception Tendered him at Pittsburgh.

Says Tuesday's Pittsburgh Times: The reception given last night by the Columbus club to one of its honorary members, the Rt. Rev. Bishop John J. Kain, of Wheeling, recently named to be coadjutor archbishop of St. Louis, was an affair that will long remain memorable in the annals of Catholic social events in Pittsburgh. There were present more than 300 members of the club and their guests, including many prominent Protestants. The club rooms were handsomely decorated with flowers and plants. A cordial address of welcome was delivered by Frank P. Smith, editor of the Pittsburgh Catholic.

In his graceful response to this welcome, Bishop Kain said he would be more than human not to appreciate the attention that had been paid him in Pittsburgh. He spoke of the great good being accomplished by the Columbus club in bringing the members of the church into closer social relations. He was frequently interrupted by warm applause.

After the speaking introductions followed. Tempting refreshments were served. Among those present were Mayor B. McKenna, Judges J. W. F. White and J. F. Slagle, William Loeffler, Attorney J. D. V. Watterson, and the Rev. Dr. George Hodges; while the Rev. Fathers M. M. Shedy, E. P. Griffin, M. Carroll, McAvoy, McHugh and O'Connell represented the Catholic clergy. Letters of regret were received from the Rt. Rev. Bishop Cortland Whitehead, of the Episcopal church; Dr. James Allison, of the Presbyterian Church, and the Rev. J. L. Milligan.

QUINCY troubled me for twenty years. Since I started using Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, have not had an attack. The oil cures sore throat at once. Mrs. Letta Conrad, Standish, Michigan, Oct. 24, '83.

Every one suffers from Catarrh in the Head. Those who don't have it suffer from those who do. It's a disease you can't keep to yourself.

Here are some of the symptoms: Headache, obstruction of nose, discharges falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody, putrid, and offensive; eyes weak, ringing in ears, deafness; offensive breath; smell and taste impaired; and general debility. Only a few of these likely to be present at once. The cure for it—for Catarrh itself, and all the troubles that come from it—a perfect and permanent cure, is Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. The worst cases yield to its mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties. A record of twenty-five years has proved that to its proprietors—and they're willing to prove it to you.

They do it in this way: If they can't cure your Catarrh, no matter how bad your case, or of how long standing, they'll pay you $500 in cash. Can you have better proof of the healing power of a medicine?

WIRE SPRING PILLOWS—G. MENDEL & CO.

COLUMBUS Wire Spring Pillow!

The Columbus Wire Spring Pillow consists of inner light flexible elastic Springs, outside of which is a soft padding covered by a strong ticking. This Pillow is of Lighter Weight than the feather pillow and is extremely delicate and sensitive, quickly yielding to the lightest pressure, and adapting itself to the PERFECT COMFORT of the user. It is always distended when not under pressure, and never becomes matted or inelastic. It does not lose its Shape. It is light, airy and thoroughly clean and noiseless, and absolutely odorless and vermin proof.

This is the most healthful pillow known; its use is particularly advantageous to all those who suffer from headache, catarrh, insomnia, asthma, neuralgia, and other like maladies. Those troubled with sweating of the head find great relief by using it.
