

SUMMER CLOTHING—M. GUTMAN & CO.

My Love is the Man in the Moon

May do for a song, but the fellow is too distant to be a very interesting character.

It's much more practical to think about our clothing and pass from the moon man to the well dressed man who has one of our Summer Suits.

This is not an age of moonshine and fancy, but one in which the good things in life are brought within the reach of all.

Good Clothing

Is a necessity, and better suits than ours cannot be discovered.

NOVEL GLOBE GIRDLER.

A Man Making the Circuit of the Earth on Horseback.

A TWO YEARS AND A HALF JOURNEY

Taking in Every Continent but South America—A Novel Way to Advertise a Railroad—The Daring Tourist a Cowboy from Nebraska Named R. J. Tanner—The Route he has Selected.

All the bicycle and pedestrian and other long distance travellers who go around the world or simply cross the continent, pass through Wheeling, because it is on the best road to travel. The old National pike from St. Louis to Cumberland is an ideal road for their uses. Yesterday, though, the most novel of all these tourists rode into town on horseback. On horseback he intends to make a circuit of the globe—that is, so much of it as is not water.

He is R. J. Tanner, of Nebraska. He is accompanied as far as New York by a young fellow who joined him in Iowa, and is caring for the luggage. He expects his tour to occupy in all two and a half years, and having left Lincoln, Nebraska, March 15, he is due back there from the west about the middle of September, 1895. He is not trying to make any special time, but to see the world as he circumnavigates it. He stopped one week in Chicago and took in the World's Fair.

Mr. Tanner rides a seven-year-old horse, half Arabian and half Oregon stock, an intelligent looking animal, well made for endurance. The rider is twenty-three years old, and a cowboy. Both he and his horse are accoutred in typical cowboy style, with one novel addition—a Kodak camera. With this he expects to secure many a pleasant souvenir of a trip which must prove eventful. He will ride the same horse throughout if possible.

To an INTELLIGENCER reporter who accosted him, Mr. Tanner handed his card, which besides his name and "Around the world on horseback," contains the legend, "When not on horseback, take the Rock Island route." The reverse also contains a neat advertisement of that road, and Mr. Tanner is making the trip partly to advertise the railroad, but mainly for the experience.

He says he has spent his life from childhood in the saddle, never knowing anything else. He anticipates no special difficulty in getting through.

In answer to inquiries he said he would go from Wheeling, via Cumberland, to Washington City, where he is to deliver to President Cleveland in person a letter from a nephew of the President's, C. E. Hastings, of Lincoln. From the capital he will go to New York, whence he is to sail for Queens-town. He will then ride through Ireland, England, France, Spain, Switzerland, Italy, and sail from Naples for Alexandria; thence on horseback through Egypt, the Holy Land, Arabia, Persia, India and China, and from Hong Kong by vessel to Japan, and after traversing Japan on his steed he will again take ship and go to Australia, and after an equestrian tour there will sail from Sydney for San Francisco. Once back on this continent he will ride home to Lincoln via the Yellowstone National Park.

He aims to ride from 6 a. m. to 5 or 6 p. m. When he finds hotel accommodations handy for the night he stops there, but has already had to camp out once or twice.

He put up here over night, and will start early this morning for Cumberland.

A HORRIBLE THING.

A Mule's Tongue Pulled out in Trying to Make It Go.

A shocking affair happened yesterday in North Wheeling. Ed. Wotzel has been doing some hauling for D. R. Brooks, the contractor, and he had a mule belonging to Mr. Brooks hitched to his cart yesterday. The mule balked, and all the ordinary expedients failed to make him go.

Frank Criswell, who drives for Teasdale, the coal man, came along, and seeing the trouble volunteered to remedy it and cure the mule of his stubbornness. He took a strap, and under-toss, as he says, to hitch it around the animal's lower jaw and tongue. What-over his intention was, the strap caught the tongue only.

Criswell began to pull, but instead of starting, the mule pulled his head back with a sudden jerk, and to the horror of everybody present its tongue flew out. After examining the mule, the men looked around for the tongue, and found that a dog had run off with it and was eating it.

A warrant was sworn out for Criswell in Squire Gillespy's court, and Officer Robrie arrested him.

He claimed that the occurrence was a pure accident—that the strap slipped off the jaw, and that the tongue was cut nearly in two anyhow by the constant wearing of the bridle bit. He said he was exerting very little force when, to his astonishment, the tongue pulled out. He was dismissed by the justice on paying all the costs and also paying for the mule, which was led up to the crematory and shot.

WILL REPAIR THE VIGILANT.

The Fire Committee Decides Not to Get a New Engine.

The committee on fire department met last evening, the following members present: Chairman Robertson, Filan Milligan, Irwin, Dingor, Horstman, Dobbins, Otto.

The matter of an engine to replace the disabled Vigilant was considered. There was considerable discussion whether to repair the old engine or secure a new one. The proposition of Charles M. Olliver to put a new boiler in the old engine and put it in first class shape for $620 was accepted, and will be recommended to council for concurrence. Spears & Riddle's bid was $773 50, Wm. M. Cox & Co., $600. The committee then adjourned.

A Big Bank Check.

This week the Mutual Reserve Fund Life Association, of New York, through its state manager, Mr. A. W. McDonnell, of this city, paid to the administrator of the estate of Joseph T. Farland, deceased, of Clarkeburg, W. Va., its check on the Fourth National Bank, of New York City, for twenty thousand dollars, amount of insurance of two policies held by Mr. Farland.

An Escape.

The day has past when a trust can dictate as to what a smoker can purchase. Admiral cigarettes emanate from an effort to please in which greed for inordinate profit is not the controlling power. The Admiral is not made by the trust.

IN THE THREE COURTS.

Considerable Business Transacted at Yesterday's Sessions.

Yesterday Rosetta and Thomas Scott, of the notorious family of that name, who had been sent to jail by Squire Arkie, were arraigned before Judge Jordan, of the criminal court, and released on their own recognizance on condition that they leave the state.

The case of Jacob Wilhelm, indicted for selling liquor on Sunday, was postponed till next Monday, owing to the absence of the prosecuting witness. James Sutton, indicted for robbing John Bethel, was released on bail in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance to answer that charge, and $100 to answer to a possible indictment for an attempt to break jail. James A. Henry became his bondsman.

In Judge Paull's side of the circuit court, in the case of Rachel A. Russell vs. Eli W. Russell, the defendant filed a cross bill. A legal separation was granted.

Thomas A. Lewis, guardian of Algeron Norris, was granted authority to expend from the funds of his ward $12 and $5 per month hereafter for support of Rutha Norris.

John F. Baron, gentleman, was admitted to practice law in this court.

In Judge Campbell's court, in the case of Catherine Fitzpatrick's administrator vs. the Citizens' Railway Company the demurrer was sustained and the case remanded to rules, with leave to file an amended declaration.

The same action was taken in the case of Alenzo St. Myers at the relation of Richard M. Thomas vs. Caroline Molter et al.

In the case of Jerry Crawford vs. Nicholas Crawford's administrator, the demurrer was overruled, and a bill of offsets filed.

In the case of Alex. Jones vs. S. S. Bloch, the motion for a new trial was overruled and exception taken.

In the case of John A. O'Keefe vs. Charles F. Otto, judgment was given for plaintiff.

"Well! Well!"

That's the way you feel after one or two of Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets have done their work. You feel well, instead of bilious and constipated; your sick headache, dizziness and indigestion are gone. It's done mildly and easily, too. You don't have to feel worse before you feel better. That is the trouble with the huge, old-fashioned pills. These are small, sugar-coated, easiest to take. One little Pellet's a laxative, three to four are cathartic.

They regulate and cleanse the liver, stomach and bowels—quickly, but thoroughly. They're the cheapest pill, sold by druggists, because you only pay for the good you get. They're guaranteed to give satisfaction, every time, or your money is returned. That's the peculiar plan all Dr. Pierce's medicines are sold on.

"Value received, or no pay,"—you can't get these terms with any other medicines, at any price.
