Fifty-Second Annual Commencement of Bethany College

MOST SUCCESSFUL IN ITS HISTORY.

A Class of Twenty-one Graduates—The Orators of the Occasion Reflect Credit on the Institution—Large Number of Visitors Present—A Prosperous Year's Work Closed—Honorary Degrees Conferred by the Board of Trustees—Two New Professors Elected—Cheerful Outlook for the Future of the College.

"What is so rare as a day in June?" Of which the poet sweetly sings. But how about the higher joys The day of commencement brings.

The fifty-second annual commencement of Bethany college is a memory, and yesterday's event has swelled the long line of successes this venerable institution has enjoyed. It was an ideal day and the performance was in sympathy with the day. While there was probably not so great a number of visitors present as have graced former occasions, there were enough to tax the hospitality of this charming college town. In some respects yesterday's exercises excelled any of its predecessors in the finished productions of the graduates. This is no polite phrase, used because it is the custom to flatter the present and forget the past, but for the reason that it is a fact endorsed by those who spoke from knowledge backed by the testimony of competent judges. The efforts of the graduating orators were singularly free from the sentimental twaddle that is usually culminated from college rostrums. There was no florid periods employed in unraveling the mystery hidden beneath the proposition that "The Night Brings Out the Stars," or the grand possibilities of human life secreted in metaphorical Italy that lies "Beyond the Alps." The subjects of the performers were practical and their treatment dignified and thoughtful.

A SUCCESSFUL YEAR. The past year of the college has been one of marked success, the attendance of students being 117, the largest in the history of the institution. Never was the future brighter than it is now. There were twenty-one graduates and two post graduates, representing nine states, Ohio leading with nine, Kentucky two, Virginia two, Missouri one, West Virginia one, Pennsylvania one, Maryland one, New York one, and Indiana one.

Two new professors were chosen yesterday by the board of trustees, Prof. S. M. Jefferson, of Augusta, Georgia, to fill the chair of biblical literature, and Prof. G. E. Ellis, a graduate of Johns Hopkins University, the chair of Latin. Prof. Woolley has resigned to enter upon the practice of his old profession—law; and Prof. Warren goes to Ann Arbor to establish a school of theology.

Shortly after nine o'clock yesterday morning Myer's band, of Wheeling, woke the echoes of the hills with strains of melody, attracting crowds of visitors to the campus. At 10 o'clock the faculty, board of trustees and students formed in line at Pendleton Heights and headed by the band playing a lively air marched with stately tread to commencement hall. The room was tastefully decorated with ferns, evergreens and flowers, the stage being completely covered. It was not long after that the hall was filled and the graduating class filed in and took seats on the rostrum, and following a pleasing orchestral number, the audience was led in prayer by Rev. F. M. Gilkerson, of Augusta, Ga. The following programme was then carried out:

Table with 3 columns: Name, Title, and Remarks. Includes Miss Anna Shupe, Salutatory, and various musical and oratorical pieces.

TRANSLATED TO ATHENS. Mr. Dodd's Greek oration was the gem of the occasion, and one had only to shut his eyes to believe that he was listening to Demosthenes. It was a soul stirring appeal—so it was said by those who knew nothing about it, and they were as numerous as a Democratic majority in Texas. At a certain point in his Periclean discourse he was interrupted with vociferous applause by the students. Was Homer and Socrates among them? Not much. It was a preconcerted arrangement with the speaker—that when he made a certain gesture they were to liberty to howl. And they did. It was a joke that would have made Hoop jealous.

"Ready as Dawn" was the title of Mr. Chapman's oration. His argument was that every man should be ready to meet any responsibility. To do this it is necessary for him in youth to anticipate as nearly as possible the demands that will be made of him in maturity, the obligations that will rest upon him, and in the light of those things prepare himself.

WOMAN'S PROGRESS. Miss Dimond represented the sentiments of the lady members of the class in her graceful oration. "The Contagion" was a plea for the higher education of women.

"When the fire alarm is sounded, no one thinks for the moment of the cause. All thoughts are centered on the contiguous buildings and their danger from the leaping and spreading flames. When disease breaks out the mass thinks in the same way only of the danger from contagion and possibly a panic ensues. The physician views it in a different light. He knows he must trace it to its cause and there apply the effective remedy. Having found the cause he knows whether or not it is a contagion and whether he need fear its dangers. From the physician's standpoint I ask you to view this period, characterized by what has been denominated, 'The Divine Discontent of Woman,' 'Woman's Age' and 'Woman's Century'."

She then spoke of the prominent part the women of to-day are playing in the world, and closed as follows: "Abraham Lincoln once said 'God must think a great deal of the common people or He would not make so many of them.' Can we not say, God must think a great deal of the women or He would not have blessed them so abundantly?"

Mr. Kerahner characterized the independent man—in thought and action—as follows: "As just as the mighty oak stands apart from its forest brethren in the green pastures of the meadow, lifting high its mighty trunk to heaven and stretching forth its limbs to the glowing sun, while its verdant leaves chatter with the passing breezes and its stalwart arms wave adieu to the vanquished storms, this man stands, the admiration of men, unyielding to any, gracious to all. The flowers he scatters upon the stream of time shall not perish, but gathered by shining hands shall await him at the pearly portals. His influence is as indestructible as immortality. The nations shall honor him, his neighbors adore him and his children rise up and call him blessed."

SEEMED TO BE A FAVORITE. Mr. C. H. Plattenburg denied that oratory was a lost art in a most eloquent manner, and by his own earnestness proved all his propositions. In delivery and subject matter Mr. Plattenburg's effort was the best oration of the day. This was the verdict of the audience, for the applause continued for some time after he had resumed his seat. "Unreal" was Mr. Prewitt's subject, and he handled it in able manner. Once he paused—seeming to have forgotten his lines, and many bowed their heads out of sympathy with him. But it was a catch, and the audience, like it did in the Greek oration, took the bait, hook and all. It was a very neat conceit.

Mr. Hundley's valedictory was a general farwell, well rounded and impressively delivered. With a crash of music and the benediction, pronounced by Dr. W. K. Pendleton, the venerable ex-president of the college, the commencement was over.

DEGREES CONFERRED. The degree of B. S. was conferred on the following graduates: M. V. Danford, of Ohio; Miriam E. Danford, of W. Va., and C. E. Irsael, of Ohio. The degree of A. Cameron, of Ohio; Mae C. Childs, of Indiana, and Anna Shupe, of Ohio.

The honorary degree of Master of Arts was conferred by the faculty on the following gentlemen: A. C. Smithers, of Los Angeles, Cal.; M. T. Bentley, Shanghai, China; W. Durban, London, England; F. S. Israel, Irvington, Cal.; Prof. B. H. Wynne, Bethany, W. Va.; A. B. Phillips, Brooklyn, N. Y.; J. C. Ulrich, Denver, Col., and Prof. Eugene Fauchtinger, Bethany, W. Va.; A. U. Yesterday afternoon the Alumni association held a meeting, and in the evening an elegant banquet was discussed by the members of that body and their friends. The students held a general reception on Pendleton Heights at 11 o'clock last night, which closed the exercises of the college year.

The annual commencement of the Linsly Institute will occur this afternoon at 2 o'clock on the State Fair grounds. The following attractive programme will be rendered:

IN HONOR OF THE CONSUL.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Taney Give a Reception by Way of Farewell. Last evening Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Taney gave a reception in honor of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Taney, by way of formal farewell, in view of their departure for Belfast, Ireland, where for the next four years Mr. Taney will represent his country in the capacity of consul. The invitations were issued a week ago, since which time the affair has been eagerly anticipated by society, and last evening fully a hundred guests assembled at the hospitable home of the host and hostess, corner of Thirtieth and Byron streets.

The rooms had been beautifully and profusely decorated with flowers by Nowvick, and when thronged by the distinguished men and handsome women who predominated among the guests, they presented a gay and attractive appearance long to be borne in mind by those who enjoyed the pleasure of the event.

The Opera House orchestra occupied a position in the hall, beneath the stairway, and played its most melodious strains at intervals from 9 to 12, through which hours the reception lasted.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Taney and Mr. and Mrs. James B. Taney were assisted in receiving by Mrs. S. L. Erico and Miss Jennie Taney.

The hours sped fleetly, and with genial greetings there was little time left for formal amusements, though some of the younger guests indulged in impromptu dancing in the halls. At the proper hour Ziegenfelder served the choicest refreshments.

Misses Mamie Woods, Lydia McMeclion, Helen Devries, Lizzie Pendleton and Ida Updegraff escorted the guests to the dining room.

Consul Taney was the recipient of numerous hearty congratulations, but both he and his charming wife heard more frequent and quite as sincere expressions of regret that they were about to depart, even temporarily, from Wheeling.

The reception was one of the most brilliant, while unostentatious, events of the social season in Wheeling. Prominent in the thronged rooms and halls were noticed:

Attorney General and Mrs. T. S. Riley, Judge and Mrs. G. E. Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. John Frow, Mr. and Mrs. G. Ed. Mondel, Col. and Mrs. W. W. Arnett, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Bowie, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Clubb, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rinehart, Mrs. Mary Delaplaine, Mrs. Andrew Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Spield, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. K. McMechen, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Pollock, Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer Pollock, Mrs. Virginia Shaffer and Mrs. Myrtle Finnell; Misses Lydia McMeclion, Lizzie Pendleton, Jennie Taney, Mame Woods, of Elm Grove, Ella Brice, Jennie McVail, Julia Wilson, Miss Hunt, of St. Clairsville, Ida Updegraff, Helen Devries, Lydia Hicks, Emily Boyd, Gene Friend, Jessie Bachman, Emma Ewing and Emily Pollock; Ex-Governor A. B. Fleming, of Fairmont, Judge J. A. English, of Point Pleasant, Judge H. Brannon, of Weston, Messrs. O. S. Long, Frank P. Jepson, D. Ed. Stalnaker, Sidney Anshutz, Samuel Ewing, Sam B. From Bad to Worse A Complication of Diseases Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures Strength Just in Time.

Mr. Isaac Aber of Vienna, N. J.

"I gladly testify to the following facts: I have been a very great sufferer for the last five years with troubles of the Lungs and kidneys and the worst stage of Dyspepsia. I could scarcely eat anything because of the intense pain in my stomach. I was also at one time covered with skin rashes, and my mouth weakened me so that I could scarcely walk. I had several attacks of bleeding at the lungs. My breath became so short that I was unable to work and was obliged to give up my business, which is that of a mason. I could not even walk about much. So I kept going from bad to worse. I then had an attack of the shingles, which, with all my other complaints, confined me to my room for three months and Nearly Took Away My Life. I had heard of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a good medicine, so I bought a bottle. When I had taken it, I found it had done me some good, so I continued till I had taken three bottles. I improved so rapidly that I could walk out of doors, and have steadily gained till I am at work again and use my hammer and trowel once more.

Hood's Pills cure all Liver Ills, Biliousness, Jaundice, Indigestion, Sick Headache, etc.
