WHEELING, JULY 1, 1893.

Congress in August.

The President deserves credit for changing his mind under the changed conditions and meeting promptly the expectation of the country and the exigencies of the hour. Public knowledge of the fact that Congress is to convene in a little more than a month to address itself to the silver question will go further than anything else could to restore public confidence.

It must be assumed that Congress will deal promptly and intelligently with the situation. To believe less would be to challenge the patriotism of that body.

The dealers have good assortments of patriotic decorating material to make Wheeling gay on the Fourth of July. Better go early and avoid the rush.

Commotion in the Silver Camp. Notwithstanding their own government is taking a hundred and forty tons of silver a month for which it has no use, very nearly the whole product of the American mines, the Colorado producers see the market value of silver fall twenty cents an ounce in four days.

At once they come together, declare that they cannot produce silver at this price and announce that their works will shut down indefinitely. They wish the "gold-bugs" to understand that this means also a reduction of the gold output, for about twenty per cent of the gold comes out with the silver.

The stoppage of silver mining cannot have great effect in stiffening a market so overstocked with a commodity for which there is so little demand, and it is not probable that the Colorado operators look for that effect. It is much more likely that they are looking to the effect on the country and its reflex action on Congress. Among themselves the silver producers doubtless speak of it as their little game of bluff.

It is well known that some of the mines produce silver at much less cost than the present low market rate. Others less favorably situated, working less profitable ores, are on the wrong side of such a market as confronts them and it pays them better to stop than to run. Their case is not singular. Manufacturers of iron and steel, of glass, crockery and other articles do this very thing under like circumstances; and the government does not take their product to help them out.

The government came to the rescue of the silver men and now has the treasury vaults piled high with their product, and in the four days' tumble of twenty cents an ounce which carried consternation to the silver camp the government lost by depreciation twenty cents an ounce on every ounce it holds, $200,000 on every month's purchase it has in store. The decline has come in spite of all the government has done to aid the silver producers under the thin guise of putting more money in circulation. If they are now acting in good faith they must admit that the law has failed to save them as it has failed woefully in enlarging the circulation.

If the silver law has failed at both ends of the line there cannot be even a plausible argument in favor of retaining it, and it should be wiped out at the earliest moment. The President does well to call Congress in extra session to give it a chance to do this.

It is thought that Altgeld wants to go to the senate. By the Anarchist route?

The Patient Ass. Uncle Sam has up to this time played the part of the patient, plodding ass to silver produce. He has done the best he could with the silver of the world loaded on his back. Now British India comes to add her load to the burden, and Colorado is using its mining pick for a goad in the hope of keeping the poor beast on his feet. This spectacle cannot inspire with pride or satisfaction the American who looks at it as it is in all its details.

World's Fair admissions are keeping well ahead of those of the Centennial, and they will go still more ahead. This is a bigger show and there is a bigger country to look on it.

ALTHOUGH should change his name. He isn't old gold, he is base metal.

A Striking Discrimination. Wool has fallen fast within a year and is a slow sale at market quotations. But the wool growers have not the advantage of offering nearly their whole clip to the government under a law compelling the government to take it in order to support the market.

Why should the silver producer have any advantage over the wool grower, the wheat grower, the potato grower or the cabbage raiser? It is remarkable that farmers have been so willing to discriminate in favor of the silver producers. They are believed to be less in this frame of mind than they were a few months ago.

SOMETIMES the iron mills close down because there is no money in the business. The silver men are lucky that it has not happened to them before.

THERE is no partisan politics in the silver question. Let us have no political demagoguery over it. It is a pure question of business and should be so met and disposed of.

BREAKFAST BUDGET.

The Methodist Episcopal conference, in session at Canso, Nova Scotia, has decided that Mary Dauphinio has a legal right to sit on a perfect equality with the male members of that body, and a woman is acting as a member of conference for what is generally regarded as the first time in the history of American Methodism.

Mr. Cleveland Will Enjoy It. Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph. Now that the Hon. Daniel R. Lucas, of West Virginia, has failed to become United States minister to Portugal, he explains to the large and influential body of Democrats who endorsed his application, that "one reason why I desired to get out of the country was the apprehension that the policy of this administration would not be in accordance with its pledges. The distinct and paramount issue upon which Mr. Cleveland was elected was tariff reform. For three months past we have not heard a word on that subject; but the whole energy of the administration seems to have been concentrated upon a scheme essentially and peculiarly, in conception, Republican, viz: the complete demonetization of silver." Mr. Cleveland will enjoy Judge Lucas' frankness.

A GRAND SUCCESS

Was Morgantown's Sale of Lots This Week.

VERY LARGE CROWDS OF PEOPLE.

Excursions by Railroad and Steamboat—Over Forty Thousand Dollars Worth of Lots Sold—Buyers Selling at a Profit Already—Reasons for This Phenomenal Sale in the Face of a Tight Money Market.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

MORGANTOWN, W. VA., June 30.—The two days' sale of lots advertised by the Building and Investment Company has just closed. Such days have never been known in the history of the town. On the morning of the 28th the steamer Elizabeth, from Pittsburgh, under the charge of Morris & Aisbitt, the well known real estate agents of that city, arrived at the wharf with 300 invited guests on board, consisting of prospective lot buyers and manufacturers investigating locations. Soon afterwards the steamer Adam Jacobs, the regular packet, steamed up to the wharf with many passengers on board for the great sale to take place, coming from all points in the Monongahela Valley. Two other small boats, owned by private parties, also landed with passengers. On the second day the steamer Isaac Mason arrived with a large number of excursionists. Never in the history of the town have so many steamboats been seen lying at the wharf at the same time. The special train came in with passengers from all points along the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, and the regular trains at noon and night the first day brought additional numbers. These people came from home and abroad, far and near; Pittsburgh, Allegheny, Birmingham, McKeesport, Larimer, Lemont, Braddock, Homestead, with a sprinkling from almost every other town in the Monongahela valley. Connellsville, Uniontown, Foxburg and other Pennsylvania towns were well represented. The people from the country came in their carriages.

The company had secured the services of Rutter's Cornet Band, said to be the finest musical organization in Western Pennsylvania, to furnish music for the occasion. At night the grounds of the old military camps were brilliantly lighted up by 100 electric lights, artistically arranged, and a grand opera concert was given for the entertainment of the people. Unfortunately this most agreeable affair was cut shorter than it would have been by rain, much to the disappointment of the band who wanted to play and the audience who wanted to hear.

LIVELY BIDDING. The crowd was so great the first day that the steamer Elizabeth was used for carrying the people to the grounds. Every sale made was a bona fide sale, and there was no by-bidding or bidding in by the company. The actual figures foot up an aggregate of $40,250. A large number of lots changed hands at a profit to the purchaser during the sale. One buyer refused $200 for his bargain. It was not unusual to see some one sell at an advance from $25 to $100, and often for such sums.

Col. W. O. Beckenbaugh, the celebrated auctioneer from Baltimore, who has conducted a large number of sales throughout Ohio, Indiana and the south, conducted this sale. He declares this the largest and most successful bona fide sale he has had this year, and considering the stringency in the money market, regards this sale as perfectly phenomenal. The second day's sale was the best. It seemed the longer the strangers stayed the better they liked Morgantown and the better they bought lots.

Beachurst avenue, almost a dead level and sixty feet wide for nearly a mile, starting almost in the center of the town, has already become a favorite drive and the wheelmen's paradise. A number of elegant residences will be built soon on this magnificent avenue, some of which have already been contracted for.

It is understood that a number of the manufacturers, representing a variety of industries, were favorably impressed with the situation and advantages of the place and negotiations that promise to be successful are going on for the location of some of them at Morgantown.

WHY THE GREAT SUCCESS. But why this faith in the future and advantages of Morgantown? Why did these people, in the face of an unsteady money market, make this the greatest lot sale of the year? Because the great Monongahela valley from Pittsburgh to Morgantown will become a great business and manufacturing center; and especially because Morgantown has command of the largest natural gas belt in West Virginia or Pennsylvania, and has five veins of merchantable coal to fall back on for fuel if gas should become exhausted. Because Morgantown has limestone inexhaustible, fire clay, potters' clay in large and fine deposits, silica sand, is in easy reach of the timber supply, is a great educational center and has refined society, sociable people, elegant homes, a healthful climate, the purest drinking water in the world, electric light, with all the conveniences of a large city at half the cost for living, has built more public buildings than any other city in the state within the last two years, her court house being the finest in the state. Because Morgantown is favorably located at the head of slackwater navigation on the Monongahela river, an advantage that no other city in northern West Virginia, out of the Ohio river, possesses. Steamboats do not ascend the Monongahela further than Morgantown. Because the completion of the Pittsburgh, Morgantown & Fairmont division of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad to Uniontown places Morgantown in direct communication with Pittsburgh and within a three hours ride.

With this road through the principal travel to and from Morgantown east and west will be by way of the Pittsburgh division of the Baltimore & Ohio. Trains lately taken off the main line and put on the Pittsburgh division will be just as convenient to Morgantown people as they were when run on the main line. The Pennsylvania railroad is pushing into the immense coal fields of Monongahela county which offer great temptations to investors, as these fields have scarcely been touched and contain the finest quality of the Pittsburgh coal. These are a few of the reasons why investors put their money into Morgantown real estate.

THE VICTORIA'S SURVIVORS.

They Arrive at Valletta—How They Were Received.

VALETTA, MALTA, June 30.—The British cruisers, Edgar and Phæton, belonging to the British Mediterranean squadron, arrived here to-day, having on board the surviving officers and crew of the battleship Victoria, which was sunk off Tripoli, Syria, on June 27, in collision with the battleship Camperdown. It was believed that the vessel would arrive here to-day, and large crowds gathered everywhere along the water front awaiting their coming into port. As soon as the two cruisers were reported off the port hundreds of small boats conveying relatives and friends of the survivors and a number of the relatives of those who had lost their lives put outside the harbor to meet the warships.

The latter came into port slowly, thus allowing the small boats to keep up with them without much difficulty. The survivors crowded along the bulwarks of the cruisers calling to their friends in the small boats and answering as fully as possible the hundreds of questions put to them by everybody in halting distance. Every available craft in the harbor was crowded and bastions of the fortifications were black with people. As the warships slowly steamed to their anchorage cheer upon cheer broke from the crowds on the shore and they were taken up and repeated by those on the cruisers. Business was partially suspended in the city, everybody being intensely anxious to see the men who had escaped and to learn from them if possible everything concerning the frightful disaster. Quite a number of natives of Malta were in the Victoria and it is known now that ninety Maltese went down with the ship.

THE Relief Fund. LONDON, June 30.—The fund being collected by the lord mayor of London for the benefit of the family of those who lost their lives in the Victoria disaster now amounts to 21,000 pounds.

BLAZING OIL

At the Standard's Works on the Passaic River—The Loss.

NEWARK, N. J., June 30.—The Standard Oil Company lost from a big fire at its works on the Passaic River front, near the Erie railroad depot, yesterday, about $50,000. The fire originated in an explosion in one of the three-thousand-gallon tanks. In close proximity were larger tanks, containing 50,000 gallons of oil, and there were five of these, besides the smaller ones of lighter capacity. It was to save these and the valuable fluid contained therein that the firemen lent every exertion. While the blazing oil which ran from the tank that had exploded was floating about on the river it was seen that two fine steam yachts were in danger of catching fire, so they were quickly cut loose from their mooring and towed to a safer place down the river. The loss of Tompkins Bros., whose lumber yard adjoins the oil works, is placed at $2,000. The plant will resume operations next Tuesday.

Tillman, of Tennessee, to be register of the treasury. United States consuls: George W. Bell, of Washington, at Sydney, N. S. W.; William J. Maynard, of Illinois, at Milan, Italy.

Mabor Defeated.

ST. PAUL, MINN., June 30.—Dick Moore, a local fighter of note, defeated "Shadow" Mabor, welter-weight champion of Australia, in a twenty round contest last night before the Phoenix club. Moore laid his opponent groggy in the sixth round and several times during the fight, the gong saving him each time. Moore will be matched to fight Billy Smith.

MANY DIFFERENT KINDS

And Stages of Catarrh Which Require Treatment Specially Adapted to Each Kind.

No One Remedy Will Answer, but Each Kind and Stage Must be Treated According to the Symptoms Manifested in Each Case.

Dr. Copeland, Bell and Davis have repeatedly called the attention of the public to the many different kinds and stages of catarrh, the symptoms characteristic of each kind and the method of treatment required in each form and stage. They have also made the assertion that no "one remedy" will apply, but that each kind must be treated according to the symptoms manifested. The number of cases coming under treatment each week who state they have taken "this and that" advertised preparation and find that they do not get better, but that the catarrh continues to increase, and that the treatment required to cure it is not the same as that which they have taken. They have also made the assertion that the catarrh requires treatment to cleanse the discharges and bring them back to their normal condition, while the catarrh requires treatment to restore the natural secretions. The ulcerative and foul-smelling catarrh requires treatment to cleanse, purify and neutralize the foul discharges.

ULCERATIVE FORM OF CATARRH.

A Case Illustrating Its Distressing Symptoms and Method of Cure as Practiced by Drs. Copeland, Bell and Davis.

"I have tried a great many patent remedies and many doctors and never received any benefit until I went to Drs. Copeland, Bell and Davis for treatment," states Mrs. Emma D. Clark, Welcome P. O., Marshall county, W. Va., just opposite Clarington, Ohio. "I have been so well pleased with their pleasant mode of treatment that I only wish I had gone there much sooner than I did."

"My catarrhal trouble had been very bad for at least sixteen years, nose stopped up, throat very sore, hawking and spitting at night, so I lost a great deal of sleep. I used to blow my nose out of my nostrils as green as grass." Mrs. Clark.

"I finally grew very deaf in both ears, could hear scarcely any, headaches over eyes and back of head, appetite lost, and what little I did eat hurt my stomach. Bowels very constipated, rheumatism so bad my knees swelled up; I could not sleep with the pain; feet flesh rapidly; pains all through chest, seemed as though there were cords drawn across my chest."

"Since taking a thorough course of treatment with Drs. Copeland, Bell and Davis I feel like a different person altogether. Pain and achiness all gone, nose, throat and lip well, sleep splendid, good appetite and enjoy my meals and have gained in strength and flesh. I have never found anything to give me so much benefit and have advised many persons I have heard complaining to go to these physicians, for I believe that they could cure them."

Drs. Copeland, Bell & Davis treat successfully all curable cases at 1121 Main street, Wheeling, W. Va. Office hours, 9 to 11 A. M., 2 to 5 P. M., and 7 to 9 P. M. Sundays, 10 to 12 A.
