TAKEN TO PITTSBURGH.

Tommy Dickson, the Printer Arrested at Bellaire,

IS TURNED OVER TO A DETECTIVE.

He Thinks he is Only Wanted as a Witness—His Acquaintances Speak well of him—Two Thieves Sent to Jail and two to the Penitentiary Yesterday—Ex-Sheriff Curtis out on Bail—Other Criminal Matters.

Yesterday Detective Fitzgerald, of Pittsburgh, came down to Bellaire and took Tommy Dickson into custody. He was brought here and from here taken to Pittsburgh on the afternoon train. He agreed to go without a requisition. When arrested at Bellaire by Officer Johnson, Dixon was walking along the street with a friend. After he was locked up he said:

"They only want me as a witness. I had nothing to do with the murder. I was standing on the outside of a saloon with a crowd of printers and we were arguing about the rules of the Union, when Cunningham hit me in the mouth and knocked me down. Then Ed King knocked Cunningham down and gave him a beating. King is a friend of mine, and he told the police up there that he was responsible for what was done." Dickson had a friend telegraph to Altoona yesterday for $25 for him. A check for that amount was wired back by J. M. Hamer, but they could not get it cashed at Bellaire.

There has been a good deal said in the papers and by people who do not know Dickson, of his being quarrelsome and a bad character all round. Printers and others who know him, however, say this is unjust to him, that he is a peaceable, good natured fellow, a fine printer and an intelligent young man. He had been unfortunate in being connected with one or two rows recently, including a cutting scrape at his home at Altoona, for which he is wanted, but in general he is a man of good character and reputation.

He Had a Habit of Stealing.

Yesterday the Fulton authorities arrested William Collins, a young man, son of Matt Collins, the carpenter, who is well known here, charged with the theft of a pick. Collins was brought to the city at the order of Justice Gillespy, and committed for a hearing next Tuesday in his court. It is claimed that Collins has been stealing with a free hand and indiscriminately. Among the thefts placed to his credit was that of several cans of tomatoes from a Fulton grocer. He sold the tomatoes soon after at Heller's saloon for fifty cents. He claims that he was drunk at the time, but that he did not steal the canned goods, and that he bought them for several times what he sold them for. There are five cases against him which will be looked into at the time of the examination.

Picked up by the Police.

Yesterday afternoon Officer O'Brien locked up Charles Harris, a colored man, on a charge of vagrancy. Later he brought in two more, who gave their names as Philip Hill and David Cunningham. The latter claimed to be Harris's brother, while Harris declared he never saw him. The police say a colored vag is a very rare creature. Not five per cent of those arranged on this charge are black, and dago vags are still scarcer.

Toby Vance made his periodical appearance yesterday afternoon, the drunker he was ever seen.

Haberfeld ran in William Oliver, a plain drunk, and Wilkie locked up Joseph Clark as a vag. He was hanging about the alleys in East Wheeling in suspicious company.

Yesterday's Police Court.

There were seven cases in the police court yesterday. George Skeid was fined $5 and costs for assaulting a young woman. He went up for thirty days. D. W. Naco, for refusing to pay an Italian for a bunch of bananas which he passed around in a crowd, paid $1 and costs. Jacob Kirchner got $10 and his wife $5 for disorderly conduct on the Island. Kirchner went to the hill and his wife paid. Tom Connors, also disorderly, went up in default of $5 and costs. West Ryan and Henry Mayer, two plain drunks, paid $1 and costs each.

They Stole Cigars.

Yesterday afternoon a number of small boys ranging in age from twelve to fifteen years, who are employed at the Central glass works in East Wheeling, were arrested, charged with stealing a lot of cigars from Joe Yahn's delivery wagon last Wednesday while it was standing in front of the works. The names of the boys are Charles Williams, Charles Weitzel, Punk O'Neill, J. W. Moran, Charles Schlosser and Sylvester Peckstein. The case will come up Justice R. H. Gillespy's court for trial this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The Criminal Court.

In the criminal court yesterday the case of Carter Sutton, indicted for bribery, was set for trial, but the prosecuting witness, an Ohio man, failed to appear, and the case was postponed. Sutton is accused of hiring a witness in a robbery case against his son, John Sutton, to stay away from court.

To-day the demurrers to the indictment in the case of William Groves, ex-supervisor of the local branch of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, will be argued before Judge Jordan.

Jackey Jones Jailed.

Yesterday afternoon Jackey Jones, a well known character, who has been wanted by the authorities for two months, and has been keeping shady, was arrested, on a warrant charging assault and battery issued at the complaint of S. H. Colman. His examination will take place this morning before Justice R. H. Gillespy. There is a clear case against Jones. The trouble occurred in North Wheeling.

Taken to the Pen.

Sheriff Franzheim yesterday afternoon took to the Moundsville penitentiary John Sutton, convicted of robbery and sentenced to eight years' confinement. His stay of execution for a possible appeal expired Thursday. Walter Steele, the colored fellow who plead guilty to two charges of burglary, and got two years on each, was also taken down.

Curtis Admitted to Bail.

Yesterday Sheriff Cowans, of Brooke county, came down and took ex-Sheriff Curtis to Walsburg, where Judge Paul heard the concluding arguments on his petition to be admitted to bail in $10,000, with his mother as his surety. After considering the matter the court accepted the bond, and the prisoner was released.

He is said to be in Wheeling. A warrant is out for his arrest.

An Italian Organ Grinder Buys Two Tickets For New York.

An amusing and unusual incident occurred at the Baltimore & Ohio passenger station last night. The tall Italian organ grinder who has been making life miserable all over the city with remarkable persistency, for the past two weeks, took his departure from the city, and purchased tickets over the B. & O. He walked to the ticket office and told Assistant Ticket Agent Ray that he wanted two tickets to New York, for himself and wife. The price of the transportation was $22, and to judge by the man's looks it would not be supposed that he was the possessor of twenty-two cents. Appearances often deceive, and this was a case of that kind. First he went down into his Joseph's coat-of-many-colors pocket and produced a dirty bag, the contents of which he emptied out. It proved to be about a quart of pennies. After about five minutes' work Ray got those counted, amounting to two dollars. He next produced a bag of nickels and dimes, about five dollars, then a bag of quarters, and finally from some pocket a number of silver dollars, making in all the requisite twenty-two dollars. Altogether it took the ticket man a quarter of an hour to correctly count the cash.

An INTELLIGENCER man was an interested observer, also a crowd of railroad men. The man explained that he was going to New York for the benefit of his wife's health. When asked as to the condition of the organ business during the financial stringency he replied, "Vera bada, mucha tough." He informed the crowd that he would be glad to play three weeks for the sum he had just handed over the counter.
