

A KEMPLE KILLER.

How "Colonel Jakes" Showed Up "Colonel Bill" Taylor's

SUPPOSED BRILLIANT WAR RECORD

The Ohio Day in a Speech Before an Ohio Audience—He Never Saw a Live Rebel With a Gun—Only Served a Hundred Days—A Characteristic Speech of the Ex-immigration Official.

A Columbus special to the Cleveland Leader says that Colonel Jacob Kemple, of West Virginia, who is now in the Ohio campaign doing splendid service for the Republican party, in his speech at McArthur last week took occasion to ventilate the war record of "Colonel Bill" Taylor in the following racy, scathing and eloquent manner. He said: "Now, ladies and gentlemen, having said sufficient of the treatment of the old soldiers by Hoke Smith and the present administration, I feel it my duty to the public generally, and to the old soldiers of Ohio especially, as much as I deprecate personal politics at any time, and especially in a campaign of this magnitude, involving so many vital interests, and would not reduce myself to but for the man who is now asking the supports of the voters of this state for the second office in the gift of your people. I refer to William A. Taylor, who is posing under the title of colonel, hugging to his breast the old soldier, the old, scarred veteran, the man who has seen service from Sumpter to Appomattox whispering in his ear: 'There are only a few of us left,' says Colonel William. Having investigated the war record of the aforesaid Taylor, I will now proceed to give it to you and see how it tallies with yours. In the ninth volume of the roster of Ohio volunteer soldiers from 1861 to 1865, on page 269, One Hundred and Fifty-ninth O. V. I., Company A, Taylor, William A. Enlisted in May, 1864, for 100 days. Mustered out in August of the same year. One-third of the time in the guard house, which fact is vouched for by comrades of his company and regiment. The remainder of the time of enlistment was spent near Baltimore guarding rebel prisoners. Never was in line of battle, on picket, or saw a day of field duty. Never saw a live rebel with a gun, and was the paid substitute of one Edward Markey, a brewer of Zanesville at that time. And yet he has the audacity to go around over this state endeavoring to conduct of Hoke Smith, and singing: Comrades, comrades, ever since we were boys, sharing each other's sorrows, sharing each other's joys. Compare this record with that of General Harris, who is the candidate for lieutenant governor on the Republican ticket. Enlisted in April, 1861, Twentieth Ohio Volunteer Infantry, Company C, three months' service. On the expiration of term of service re-enlisted as captain of Company C, Seventy-fifth Ohio Volunteer Infantry. Badly wounded at the battle of Gettysburg in July, 1863. Rose rapidly from captain to colonel of the regiment, and when wounded commanded a brigade on Gettysburg's famous battlefield, and was brevetted brigadier general for meritorious and valiant service on the battlefield. I make these statements after a full investigation into the records of both men, and challenge Taylor to go with me before any audience in Ohio and deny the truth of any assertion I have made. I will produce affidavits from his regiment and company. That is enough on this subject; you may choose on the 7th of November as between the two men."

THE DELSARTE PHILOSOPHY Interestingly Treated Last Evening by Mr. Warman. Mr. Warman's discourse of last night, in the Young Men's Christian Association hall, was on the Delsarte philosophy. It was a highly interesting and edifying lecture, very much enjoyed by those who had given themselves this rare opportunity to hear the subject clearly and forcibly treated. The platform was set with large charts containing the ground work of Delsarte's system. A few minutes were devoted to the life of Delsarte, "the greatest master of expression the world has ever known." Delsarte spent years in hospitals, in the asylums, and even in the morgue, until at last he formulated a system by which the soul may express itself beautifully, rhythmically and naturally. Expression is the means of expressing mental phenomena by the play of the body. If the body cannot reciprocate you do not get the highest expression. By the trinity Delsarte means the unity of three essentials, the three-fold principle of man. This idea was elaborated by the aid of the charts.

A "McKinley" Germium. Mr. George Truxell, the Martin's Ferry florist, has a freak of nature in the shape of a geranium. It consists of a single stalk, and branches off in two ways, and two different branches are seen on each side. The geranium, a common one, which was out in the lot, began to bloom in August, when, strange to say, one side was all single deep scarlet, while on the other side the flowers were a beautiful pink. These disappeared, and the pink side came out with rich scarlet blooms. What the opposite side will produce cannot be told. This is supposed to be a seedling, and Mr. Truxell will call the geranium "McKinley." Two separate and distinct colors have never before been heard of, unless where grafted. There is no variegation, or anything of this sort, but the colors are separate and distinct. The plant was never grafted, and puzzles all those who have seen it. Several persons who are interested in floriculture say they have never seen or heard of anything like it. Mr. Truxell has refused a good price for the freak. The only way that he can account for the different colors is that two seeds may have dropped together and matured.

The River Interests. To-day the Lizzie Bay will pass down for Charleston at 8 a. m.; Ben Hur for Parkersburg at 11:30 a. m. The river was slowly rising last evening, the marks on the wharf showing 4 feet 10 inches in the channel. The only packets yesterday were H. K. Bedford for Pittsburgh, at 8 a. m., and Courier for Parkersburg, at 11:30 a. m. The steamer Lizzie Bay will take the entire stock of H. O. Hoff's shoe store down to Pomeroy, O., to-day, where Mr. Hoff will carry on his business in the future. SIMMONS Liver Regulator has never failed to relieve constiveness, and blind or bleeding piles.

GLASS WORKERS FIGHT.

Both Sides of the Case—The Claims of Baggaley and Smith. The glass situation in this city is unchanged. A prominent glass worker said yesterday that, in his opinion, it would be impossible to start any factory in Wheeling with non-union men. The Pittsburgh Times of yesterday has the following on the situation: The strike of the flint glass workers against the United States Glass Company is beginning to take on new features. The company is preparing for a start at Factory F, formerly D. C. Ripley & Co., South Ninth and Bingham streets. On the other hand, some of the skilled workmen at Factory K have applied for admission to the union and been accepted. President Ralph Baggaley, of the United States Glass Company, said yesterday that preparations were being made to resume work at Factory F in about ten days. He says that he had applications yesterday from a very large number of men, and when the factory starts twenty men will be put at work. One additional shop was added to the force at Factory K yesterday, he said, making sixteen in all. He admitted that some of the force at Factory K had deserted, but said that only three had left, two of whom are pressers, the other a boy. President W. J. Smith, of the workers, states that five of the best workmen in Factory K came over to their side voluntarily, and that that many more will come before the end of the week. The others, he says, the company may keep. Regarding Factory F, he stated that if the company got men to work profitably the workers in the union will be satisfied. He expressed the opinion that the factory will not be started with non-union men. The men in Factory K, he says, are tired of their positions. The announcement is made from Wheeling that the Crystal Glass Company, of Bridgeport, O., will start in two weeks. This company is a member of the association of Flint and Lime Glass Manufacturers, and was represented at the meeting in this city last week. The firm will run under the union scale. It is one of the large tableware houses. Rodefer Bros. of Bellaire, O., are reported to be preparing to resume. It is also a tableware factory, and will accept the strikers' scale. In all this makes sixty factories at work, or preparing to resume under the scale exclusive of the United States Glass Company.

Made a Century. Harry Kennedy, a local wheelman, Monday made a century run to Centerville, Pa., and return on his bicycle. He made the trip in fourteen hours and thirty minutes, and finished comparatively fresh. This is the fastest century run that has been made this season.

Will Be a Contest. Jason C. Stamp and Herbert Rihel-daffer, it seems, are not to be unanimously re-elected as chief consul and secretary treasurer of the West Virginia division of the League of American Wheelmen, as was at first supposed. It is stated that another ticket will be in the field, headed by Harry Gruber, of the Wheeling Cyclists, for chief consul. Thus far there are no candidates from the state outside of Wheeling.

All Sorts of Local News and Gossip from the Glass City. There is a good deal of criticism of the light fine imposed upon the colored porter who shot another porter Sunday evening. It was no fault of his that the man he shot is not a corpse. A friendly rib turned the bullet from its fatal course. $5 and costs is regarded as very light for such an offense.

The Masonic fraternity will hold a meeting here to-night with the view of establishing a club and having a reading room and place of resort. About a hundred have signified their willingness to go into it and the probabilities are the club will start off on a good basis.

Joseph E. Blackburn is out a diamond stud valued at $250, but whether it was lost or stolen he doesn't know. He thinks he was relieved of it in a crowd, however, but as he only missed it last Sunday, he has no definite idea when it was taken from him.

Jim Mendel yesterday started the Sam Scaramonch, a little steamer, in the Bellaire, Benwood and McKeen trade. He will make eight round trips a day, and received great encouragement from the merchants and business men here.

A young son of King White was buried in a sandbank yesterday and had one of his ribs broken. There were two boys playing in the sand when the bank caved in upon them and the little fellows narrowly escaped being buried alive.

Hon. John J. Lentz, once a resident of this county, is to address the Democracy here Saturday night. It is uphill work for the local committee to stir up any enthusiasm, but they will have a brass band and hope to fill the rink.

Local merchants are exceedingly glad this is the last week of the World's Fair. They think more loose money will find its way into their coffers when the drain to the fair is ended. This belief is universal here.

A. P. Tailman, cashier of the First National Bank, returned yesterday from New Haven, where he was called by the death of his sister, the wife of Rev. George T. Ladd, one of the professors in Yale university.

Postmaster Darrah and family, W. J. Kirkpatrick, Alex Dubois, W. S. Carroll and Jack Rowles all returned from the World's Fair yesterday.

A man named Morrison is looking over the field here with a view of starting a brewery. He wants half the stock taken in town.

MARTIN'S FERRY.

Haps and Missings in the Thriving City Across the River. Matthew Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Mitchell, died last evening at 5:45 of diphtheritic croup, aged three years. The funeral will take place to-day at 1:30. The interment, which will be private, will be at St. Clairville. The death is an exceedingly sad one. This makes the third child they have lost in five days. Their ten day old twin son died on Friday, and their twin daughter died on Sunday. Matthew was a very bright and beautiful baby, with an amiable, affectionate disposition and was idolized by the parents and greatly admired by their friends. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell have the heartfelt sympathy of their many friends and acquaintances in their affliction. The funeral this afternoon will make the third one to leave their residence since Saturday.

The reception given at the Presbyterian church last night by the congregation to Rev. J. S. Bogie, the new pastor, was largely attended, and was a very enjoyable affair. The address, a pleasing one, was delivered by Mr. William Clark, and Rev. Mr. Bogie responded in a happy manner. Choice music was rendered, and excellent refreshments were served. The social feature of the reception was enjoyed and Rev. Mr. Bogie made a good impression.

Some of the Belmont county Democrats are swearing mad because Neal or Campbell will not speak in this county. Campbell will speak at East Liverpool next Monday night and probably Neal also, and the average Belmont county Democrat thinks that this county is being slighted. Lentz will speak at Bellaire, but he is not a drawing card.

The time for the meeting of the Hon. H. C. Evans of Tennessee has been changed from next Friday evening to Saturday evening, the 28th inst. The meeting will be held in the Opera House and all persons who want to hear a good speech should attend.

George Burdy, of Mt. Pleasant, was down yesterday. K. Wilson, of Wilson Bros., is on the sick list. Fortify Weak Nerves. This can easily be done. First, use the finest nerve and tonic in existence, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Next, give up opiates and mineral salts, which ruin the stomach, and soon come to have an effect, except in dangerous cases of dyspepsia. It is the parent of indigestion and nerve weakness. The Bitters remedies indigestion and the two symptoms named. It also cures malarial, liver and kidney complaints.

"I consider Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a specific for croup. It is very pleasant to take, which is one of the most important requisites where a cough remedy is intended for use among children.
