WHEELING, NOVEMBER 1, 1893.

The Senate Vote on Repeal.

The party divisions in the senate on the repeal of the silver purchase provision is interesting and valuable for reference.

YEAS—Republicans—Aldrich, Carey, Cullom, Davis, Dixon, Dolph, Frye, Galigner, Hale, Hawley, Higgins, Hoar, Lodge, McMillan, Manderson, Morrill, Platt, Proctor, Quay, Sherman, Squire, Stockbridge, Washburn—23. Democrats—Tilden, Caffery, Cauden, Faulkner, Gibson, Gorman, Gray, Hill, Hutton, Lindsay, McPherson, Mills, Mitchell (of Wis.), Murphy, Ransom, Smith, Turpie, Vilas, Voorhees, White (of La.)—20. Total, 43.

Placing the paired senators where they would be if they had voted, Allison, Chandler and Wilson, Republicans, are to be added to the repeal side, making the total number of repeal Republicans 26.

Although the Republicans are the minority party, begging pardon of the Populists, they gave this Democratic administration more support than it got from its own party, polled more votes for the measure, fewer against it and saved it from defeat.

Mrs. J. COLEMAN DRAYTON is to be pushed back into society if the Astor millions can do it. If she were a poor woman society wouldn't allow her to wash its clothes.

A Stupid Invention. Recently the Pittsburgh Post and some other Democratic newspapers had a touching story supposed to have been given out by one Worthy Lewellyn Evans, well known in the Atna-Standard mill. It was a silly story intended to injure Governor McKinley, who was represented as being afraid to speak in Atnaville.

Of course the Register republished the story, which is pretty well known to have been sent out from its office. Men who do work in the Atna-Standard mill and are well acquainted in Atnaville say in another column over their signatures that no such person as Worthy Lewellyn Evans ever worked in the mill or ever lived in Atnaville.

It has been well understood that nothing would be left undone to keep the Neal vote from disappearing altogether, but the inventing of interviews with persons who do not exist is carrying campaign desperation to a rather extreme length. The protectionists of Atnaville are all right and so is Governor McKinley.

SENATOR MORGAN made a savage thrust at Mr. Cleveland when he said that Senator Sherman might dictate to the President but could not dictate to him. Has Mr. Morgan noticed the white house pie wagon pass his way without stopping?

Family Labor-Saving Machine. A rather picturesque industry has developed in London. A sturdy woman who describes herself as a clergyman's daughter undertakes to do the family flooring at very reasonable rates. She administers persuasive punishment to boys, girls and even men. The men offer themselves up voluntarily to be flogged for their sins.

The boys and girls are entered by their parents in this school of instruction. Some of the girls are in fact young women, but this makes no difference. The practitioner of the art of the rod has no trouble to deal with the most unruly.

Before the flogging begins the candidate for instruction is handcuffed and the feet are bound so that the mulish disposition that is in human nature may not assert itself. Sometimes the treatment brings on a fainting spell, but this is easily dealt with. The correctional course may be taken at the student's home or at the lodgings of the professor.

Mr. Labouchere, who has unearthed this industry, thinks it should be discouraged by the law, an opinion with which most people will agree.

The "harmless crank" is breaking out in spots over the country. It is always so after one of them turns himself loose.

The Campaign in Virginia.

The citizen of the Old Dominion is being invited to more barbecues than at any time for a good many years; an indication of unusual campaign activity. There is no Republican state ticket in the field. General Mahone said there should be none and that determined the question, so that for the purposes of the present campaign there is no Republican party in Virginia.

Whether there will ever be a Republican party again in Virginia while General Mahone lives depends on that remarkable political quantity, who of late years has taken to opposing the enemy by offering no opposition. He seems to think it better this time that the Populists shall make the opposition.

At all events the Pops are in the field and have made impression enough to rattle the Democrats. A correspondent of the Baltimore Sun admits that it is about an even toss between the Democrats and the Populists in many of the counties, among which are named Charlottesville, Mecklenburg, Halifax, Pittsylvania, Henry, Franklin, Patrick, Floyd, Montgomery, Pulaski, Washington, Louisa, Gloucester, Matthews, Middlesex, Essex, Greensville and Sussex.

It is admitted that the Populists will certainly get some of the members of the legislature from these counties. There is a strong free silver feeling in the state, and this the Populist are industriously cultivating. Then the tobacco-producing counties have heard of the Democratic intention to increase the tax on manufactured tobacco, and they are disposed to file a protest in the ballot box. Democrats say that they are confident of the election of O'Ferrall, their nominee for governor, but not by any such majority as McKinney had in 1889.

A lively contest, which has special interest for West Virginians, is going on in the Staunton senatorial district. Of this the correspondent of the Baltimore Sun says:

Rev. Sam Small, of Georgia, is still campaigning for the prohibitionists out in Augusta county, where the fight is being made by that party for the state senatorship. Mr. Bodley, their candidate, who is a rich wagon manufacturer, is making a determined fight. The struggle is a red-hot one, but the Democrats think they will pull their candidate through with a good many votes to spare.

This refers, of course, to Mr. James W. Bodley, long identified with the industries of Wheeling, Prohibition nominee for state treasurer of West Virginia in 1888 and now a resident of Staunton.

JAPAN takes kindly to the American cigarette. The opium in the same has a familiar taste to the discriminating Japanese.

The Wool Duty. The INTELLIGENCER is glad to give place in another column to some interesting and instructive correspondence on the subject of the wool tariff. An Ohio man who thought there was much to be gained by free wool wrote to Mr. Theodore Justice, of Philadelphia, putting some questions and requesting an answer.

Mr. Justice replies in a letter which is conclusive and unanswerable. He shows that protected wool benefits the grower and the consumer, in addition to producing revenue for the government. When these essential facts are shown the controversy is closed.

WHAT does this mean? The Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette, describing the scene in the senate as a vote was about to be taken on repeal, says:

Then Senator Harris made an exhibition that would have caused his people to blush for shame. He tried to talk when he was not in a condition to do so, and a sigh of relief broke the painful silence when at last he subsided and sank into his seat.

The Chicago Times learns that Col. St. Clair and his World's Fair associate Judge Massey, of Delaware, will remain in Chicago and join the same law firm. No doubt Col. St. Clair will do well in Chicago, but how will he divert himself about campaign time? Won't he sigh for the hills and the hollers of his native West Virginia?

If the Republican party had not stood by him on the silver question President Cleveland would have been in a bad row of stumps. He got many an unwilling Democratic vote because, as Mr. Gorman said, Republicans were strong enough to dictate the terms of surrender. The Democratic party is distinctly a wild money party.

The stupid story about Republican manufacturers in Ohio keeping their works closed in the hope of making sentiment against the Democratic party is still on its merry rounds. Why do Democratic manufacturers keep their works closed? To help McKinley?

We have some cranks in Wheeling. One of them tried to brain a man with a hatchet yesterday, another was arrested for making threats of murder, and will go to the hospital for the insane. It is not safe to allow people of this kind to be at large.

Looking for Work. SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31.—Three hundred and nineteen men, who were unable to find employment here, started south yesterday in a body with the intention of going to New Orleans. They have no money and expect to tramp all the way, except when they can secure rides on freight trains. They are not tramps, but are looking for work.

BREAKFAST BUDGET.

The most singular ship in the world is the Polyphemus, of the British navy. It is simply a long, steel tube, deeply buried in the water, the deck rising only four feet above the sea. It carries no masts or sails, and is used as a ram and torpedo boat.

Wood, like wool, requires to be shrank before used for manufacturing purposes. Pitchpine beams will shrink in thickness from 18 1/2 inches to 18; spruce from 8 1/2 inches to 8; white pine from 12 inches to 11 1/2; yellow pine a trifle less.

The eighteen large cities of the south had by the last census an aggregate population of 994,000. All these cities combined have a smaller population than New York, Chicago or Philadelphia.

Russian woman and Japanese men are pronounced, by those competent to judge, the best of the world's workers with the needle, as shown in the embroidery exhibits in Chicago.

The largest building stones in the world are those used in constructing the ancient walls of Bozabie, Syria. Some are sixty-three by twenty-five feet and of unknown depth.

France is going to try the plan of printing postal cards in blocks, with stubs like a check book, so that the writer can keep notes of his correspondence.

Some of the steamship companies employ more men than are enlisted in the second-class navies of Europe. The Cunard Line employs 10,000.

In every mile of railroad there is seven feet and four inches not covered by the rails—the space left between them and expansion.

A type of firearm has been invented in England by which compressed gas is utilized instead of powder as a propelling force.

The making of lucifer matches is a state monopoly in France, Spain, Portugal, Italy, Greece, Roumania and Servia.

Japan made more exhibits of paper and paper goods at Chicago than any other country, not excepting the United States.

In manufacturing occupations the average life of soapboilers is the highest, and that of grindstone-makers the lowest.

Colorado has finished a two-mile tunnel in the Rockies. The premium bore, however, lies between Idaho and Nevada.

Two-thirds of all the cotton duck produced in the world is made within twenty miles of Baltimore.

The Ottawa street railway has offered to carry the mail between the depots and the postoffice.

The cost of an ironclad is about $400 a ton. This includes guns and all equipments.

MORNING SMILES.

Rare humor is at times made manifest in the police courts of the city and country. Quite recently an Irishman in Jersey City was under examination upon a charge of assault and battery. When asked if he had anything to say in his defense, Patrick, with all the seriousness in the world, said: "Well, your honor, I saw but little of the fight as I was underneath most of the time." —New York Herald.

Inspector Perron, of the Fall River central police station, says that one of his countrymen left the following directions at a livery stable in Flint village: "I don't speak English too much. Put my horse on the barn and rub him in. If he's dry, drink him and eat a quart of oats."

Rounder—Old Soak is a great pool player. Stooder—Is that so? I have never seen him play. Rounder—Neither have I, but every time he goes into a saloon he spots half a dozen balls. —New York Herald.

"My youngest son is 12 years old today, and I am puzzled to know what profession he should adopt." "Why don't you make him a cashier?" "Oh, no. He doesn't like railroad traveling." —Paris Figaro.

Haverly—Would you call a man a liar who was in the habit of telling little harmless fibs? Austen—It would depend upon how much he weighed. —Vogue.

Clara—Do you know people are actually beginning to call me an old maid? Maude—You mean that you are just beginning to hear them? —Vogue.

We Are Electing McKinley. AUGUSTUS JACOB CO. American Economist. Alr—"Marching Through Georgia." Ring out your lusty voices, boys, and sing a rousing song. Sing it with a spirit that will start the world along. Sing it for America, a million Bukeyes strong. While we're electing McKinley.

Hurrah, Hurrah! The button has been pressed. Hurrah, Hurrah! Ohio'll do the rest. Gosh, old fire-trailer! Shout ye like and distressed. For we are electing for McKinley.

The Democratic roosters we are tired of for food. With Larry Neal we know we'd have to live on them for good. Our stomachs yearn for juicier meat more suited to our blood. While we're electing McKinley.

Hurrah, etc. We want good times like ninety-two, the work-shops crowded full. With your rolling engines, belted wheels, all hands to take a pull! Larry Neal shall have a message to report to old John Bull. While we're electing McKinley.

Hurrah, etc. No other sarsaparilla has equaled Hood's in the relief it gives in severest cases of dyspepsia, sick headache, biliousness, etc.

Maude—"Do you believe that marriages are made in heaven?" Marie—"I don't know. But I don't intend to wait and see." —New York Herald.

ALLOW me to add my tribute to the efficacy of Ely's Cream Balm. I was suffering from a severe attack of influenza and catarrh, and was induced to try your remedy. The result was marvelous. I could hardly articulate, and in less than twenty-four hours the catarrhal symptoms and my hoarseness disappeared, and I was able to sing a heavy role in grand opera with voice unimpaired. I strongly recommend it to all singers.—William H. Hamilton, leading basso of the C. D. Hess Grand Opera Company.

PERSONAL POINTS.

At the burial of Miss Lucy Cotton in the old Cotton vault in King's Chapel churchyard, Boston, E. S. Cotton, another direct descendant of the Mayflower Cottons, was present. Members of that family have been buried in the Cotton vault since 1740.

Mlle. Filele Mendelsohn, who holds a medical diploma from a Paris university, and who established herself at Cairo, was recently called upon to attend the mother of the Khedive. She has since been appointed doctor at the palace.

Mrs. Arthur Davis, of Washington, has received permission to take up the graduate course at Johns Hopkins university, with a view of taking the degree of Ph. D. She will be the second woman to enjoy this privilege.

Mme. Tolstoi, wife of Count Tolstoi, received a diploma from the Moscow University at the age of seventeen, and was married when she was eighteen, her husband being twenty years older.

Eihag Mohammed Alaiwa, the chief dragoman of Thomas Cook & Son, in Egypt, is visiting Washington after a trip to the World's Fair. He has guided many Americans up the Nile.

Senator Morgan's old school teacher says that the Alabama "ambassador" went to school for but one year. His lack of education, however, did not prevent him from studying law.

Ex-Minister Edward J. Phelps takes his recreation when at leisure at home from his exacting professional and college duties by driving a favorite span of chestnut horses.

Interest in the career of Pere Hyacinthe has been renewed by the movement to secure him an income in his declining days.

Mrs. Lathrop, mother of Thomas Nelson Page and niece of the late Judge Harbour of Virginia, died in Illinois a few days ago.

The reason why ALLCOCK'S PONDUS PLASTERS are popular is that they may be relied on to cure:

- 1. Lame back, sciatica, stiffness or twitching of the muscles. 2. Chest troubles, such as pleurisy, pneumonia, consumption. 3. Indigestion, dyspepsia, biliousness, kidney complaint.

The success, however, will depend upon the genuineness of the plaster used. The popularity of ALLCOCK'S PONDUS PLASTERS has been so great that multitudes of imitations have sprung up on every hand. The only sure cure is to get the genuine ALLCOCK'S PONDUS PLASTERS.

BRANDRETT'S PILLS improve the digestion. A Favorite in Kentucky. Mr. W. M. Terry, who has been in the drug business at Elkton, Ky., for the past twelve years, says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives better satisfaction than any other cough medicine I ever sold." There is good reason for this. No other will cure a cold so quickly; no other is so certain a preventive and cure for croup; no other affords so much relief in cases of whooping cough. For sale by Chas. R. Goetz, Will W. Irwin, Chris. F. Schaefer, Chas. Menckemeler, Wm. E. Williams, S. L. Brice, A. E. Scheele, Will Menckemeler, John Coleman, Richards & McElroy, Wheeling; Bowie & Co., Bridgeport, and B. F. Peobody & Son, Benwood.

WASHINGTON'S EX-TREASURER. He and Others Implicated Indicted for the Detention. SEATTLE, WASH., Oct. 31.—Thirty-three indictments against ex-Treasurer Adolph Krug and his associates have been returned by the grand jury as true bills. Henry Furman, a rich broker, is made accessory, which under the law of this state is the same as the principal. Fred W. Sander and L. H. Griffith are jointly indicted with him on one count each, and D. T. Denny, the well known pioneer, on two counts, and L. D. Ross, the real estate agent, on three counts. Furman repaid the money he borrowed from Krug, and as bondsman put up $25,000 to make up the deficit. Griffith and Sander also raised considerable sums to reimburse the city, hoping thereby to escape indictment. Krug's shortage was $125,000, but it was all made good by friends.

A Steamer Explodes. VICTORIA, B. C., Oct. 31.—A tremendous explosion of coal gas occurred on the steam collier San Mateo Sunday night, while bound from Como for San Francisco. She carried 4,200 tons of coal, consigned to the Southern Pacific company. The explosion was in the forward hold and drove the deck plates in the shape of an arch four feet above the deck level in the centre. The plates were badly shattered. After the explosion the steamer put in at Esquimalt, where a survey will be held. Oscar Anderson, a sailor, was thrown overboard by the force of the explosion, but was saved. James Anderson, another sailor, was badly wounded in the hand.
