LOCAL BREVITIES.

Matters of Minor Moment in and About the City.

The public schools will reopen this morning.

The Grand this evening—"The Midnight Alarm."

Only one case showed up for the police court yesterday, and it was postponed till this morning.

ARTHUR DEMING's minstrels will be the attraction at the Grand to-morrow night, for one night only.

The hearing of the Reilly will case will be resumed to-day in Judge Campbell's side of the circuit court.

The sidewalk in front of the new Masonic temple, on Market street, still remains in a disreputable condition, which ought to be remedied.

SATURDAY afternoon and evening Charles A. Gardner will appear at the Opera House in his German dialect play, "The Prize-Winner." It abounds in pleasing specialties.

Last night the North End Literary and Athletic Association gave a New Year's masquerade ball at the Turner hall. It was largely attended and an especially good time was enjoyed.

The new time card for the C. & W. railroad will go into effect next Sunday. The extent of the change is not yet officially announced. It is rumored that the change will be a marked one.

The ten per cent reduction affecting the entire Ohio River railroad system went into effect yesterday morning. From the best information obtainable it is said that there will be no strike.

JOE FRANKLIN and Miss Williams won the cake at the cake walk and dance given by the Silver Tone quartette at the Museum theatre last night. Between dances the quartette rendered several enjoyable selections.

The Wheeling & Elm Grove Railroad Company's statement for December, 1893, shows that the road took in six cents more than during the same period in 1892. But for the howling league patronage there would have been a decrease.

"THE MIDNIGHT ALARM" had two rousing houses at the Grand yesterday, and all present both at the matinee and last night were delighted. The piece will be repeated this evening, when the engagement closes. Nobody should fail to see the piece.

Homer Cunningham, of Weston, was at the Behler last night. He is here to take George Smith and others to the state insane institution at Weston.

A Narrow Escape.

While under the influence of liquor a young man strolled down past the Panhandle freight station and undertook to cross the bridge at the mouth of the creek. Before assistance could reach him over he went fifty feet to the water below. Fortunately a skiff was near and was rowed to his rescue, otherwise he would have surely drowned, as he was utterly helpless.

The promptness with which Ayer's Cherry Pectoral stops a hacking cough and induces refreshing sleep is something marvelous. It never fails to give instant relief, even in the worst cases of throat and lung trouble, and is the best remedy for whooping cough.

A BAD ACCIDENT.

To an East Wheeling Boy Yesterday Afternoon.

Yesterday afternoon a party of East Wheeling boys were celebrating the advent of the new year in the neighborhood of their homes on East Eighteenth street. They had a toy cannon and some powder, a dangerous combination at best in the hands of boys, but they also had what was worse, an ambition to see how loud the cannon could be made to crack.

A boy named Rousher, whose home is on the south side of Eighteenth street, was stooping over the cannon to light it, when it exploded. He was badly cut in the face and the burning powder scorched his face and neck badly. It was said last evening that he would be disfigured for life, and probably lose one eye, if not both. The other boys fortunately escaped any injury to speak of.

Another Boy Burned.

A small boy from Benwood, about ten years of age, whose name could not be learned, was playing along the streets at Moundsville yesterday and came across a small cannon filled with gun powder, in front of W. W. Stidger's confectionery. He struck a match and set fire to it. It instantly blew up and into the little boy's face as he was leaning over it, burning his face all over, also his hands very badly. He was taken to Rogers' drug store, where he received medical attention. While the wounds were being fixed up he said: "It blew up all at once," and wanted to know if it would all be off his face by to-morrow. He was taken to the depot and sent to Benwood.

THE INTELLIGENCER'S VIEWS.

The Demand for Both Series Is on the Increase.

The force in the INTELLIGENCER business office did not get much time to celebrate New Year's this year, as the rush of mail orders, with six coupons each, for the World's Fair Photos and the Sights and Scenes of the World, kept them busy. Instead of being any falling off in the demand for those elegant art publications, their popularity is apparently steadily increasing. Many people saved their first five sets of coupons and sent them in at once. Yesterday many of those entitled to the portfolios received them, and all showed them to friends. This is their best advertisement, for any one who sees either series wants it. It is safe to say that in no other way could the books be secured for four times their cost by the INTELLIGENCER'S system.

In Olden Times

People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects and were satisfied with transient action; but now that it is generally known that Syrup of Figs will permanently cure habitual constipation, well-informed people will not buy other laxatives, which act for a time, but finally injure the system.
