

ELOPERS CAPTURED.

A Slav Steals a German's Wife and His Other Chattels.

THEY COME HERE FROM MONONGAH

And Here They Stop—The Robbed Husband Will Be Here This Morning—A Man Who Abducted a Girl Turns Up in Indiana—Another Case Against James Mix—Other Criminal News.

Lieut. Terrill and Officer Carney last evening arrested a Slav and a German woman at the R. & O. station on the arrival of the west-bound train, and got possession of a lot of plunder they had with them, the property of the woman's deserted husband. The facts in the case are covered by the telegram on which the arrests were made, which reads as follows:

FAIRMONT, W. VA., Feb. 28. Chief McNeill:

On arrival of west bound train arrested a Slav named Mike Forbian and a German woman named Sophia Gander. She is married. They left Monongah together and took all of her husband's, George Gander's, money, and effects. The effects were shipped on another train, and she has the money with her. Hold them to await Gander's arrival to-morrow; their baggage is checked for Finleyville, Pa., the woman has a girl baby aged about twenty-two months. C. POWELL, Prosecuting Attorney.

When it was proposed at the station house to lock the couple up separately, the woman bellowed like a calf. With them they had a trunk, well-laden, a valise full of clothing, with a blanket strapped on it, and another so heavy that it was supposed to contain silver ware or coin.

A telegram was received after the arrest saying the husband would be here this morning. A box of his goods was detained at the express office.

BELIEVED TO BE TRUE.

A Man Turns up at Brazil, Ind., who is Much Wanted.

The following telegram from Brazil, Ind., came to hand yesterday:

"Chief of Police Louderback and a relay of deputies yesterday placed under arrest a man giving the name of John Taylor, and believed to be a much wanted crook. When the officers reached Taylor's hut they were greatly surprised to find a pretty young lady the mistress of the cabin, who questioned she said she had been kidnapped from her father's house near Bellefonte, O., a year ago by Taylor, who was then known as Hardin. They had been traveling overland in a wagon ever since, stopping in obscure places. She was constantly kept in submission by her abductor, who threatened to kill her if she revealed his nefarious actions."

The Wheeling police at once made inquiries of the Bellefonte authorities, and were told that the man was doubtless Theodore Taylor, alias John Hardin. He was a known thief and an ex-convict in the Columbus penitentiary. The statement that he kidnapped a girl was also true. He was also wanted at Columbus for some infraction of the law, and at Salesville, Guernsey county, Ohio, for burning St. Clair's flour mills. The Brazil authorities were communicated with.

James Mix Held Again.

Yesterday a second warrant was issued for James Mix, who was in jail on a charge of robbing Hannan Bros.' cigar store on two different occasions. The third charge was that he stole goods from the same firm's store on the South Side when it was burned some time ago. Some of the goods taken there were found on him. Squire Gillespie gave him a preliminary hearing at the county jail office last night, and he was held in $500 bail for the grand jury, which meets next Monday.

Harry Wetherald Dead.

A sad death was that of Harry W. Wetherald, which occurred at his home at Steubenville last night. The event was not expected until yesterday afternoon, when his relatives were hastily summoned. His ailment was peritonitis. He was a former resident of Bellaire, where his father, Thomas Wetherald, was one of the most prominent nailers when the nail industry was in its palmy days.

Nervous Prostration

Years of Suffering Ended. "I broke down in health, lost my appetite, had a bad cough, and suffered from nervous prostration. I read of Hood's Sarsaparilla and sent for a bottle of the medicine. After using it three days my nerves became quieted and I regained an appetite. In a short time I was able to walk, and before taking two bottles was attending to my household duties. I am now in better health than for years." Mrs. Emma Huss, Reesville, N. C. Get HOOD'S Hood's Pills act easily, yet promptly and efficiently on the liver and bowels. 25c.

BURGLARS CHASED

But Escape—They Were Caught in the Act of Cracking a Safe. Last night two burglars effected an entrance to the office of the Cleveland & Pittsburgh freight depot, at Martin's Ferry, by forcing open a side window. They then opened the large front door, so as to have easy means of escape if interrupted in their work, and began efforts to blow open the large safe. Officers Lindomuth and Moore happened to pass, and seeing the door open, went in to investigate. The burglars opened fire on them with their revolvers, and the officers returned the firing vigorously, but the burglars leaped from the window and escaped in the darkness, leaving their tools, but no clue to their identity.

Engel Gets Four Months.

A telegram was received from Steubenville last night, as follows: John Engel, of Wheeling, who stabbed Albert Welch, of Steubenville, and was indicted for stabbing with intent to kill, withdrew his former plea of not guilty, made when arraigned, and was allowed to plead guilty to a charge of assault and battery and was fined $10 and costs of prosecution and given four months in the Cleveland workhouse. He was taken there to-day by Deputy Opperman.

WILSON'S NEW TRIAL

Makes Rapid Progress in Court at St. Clairsville.

SEVERAL NEW WITNESSES FOUND

Who Throw Some Light on the Situation—The Case Said to Be Stronger on Both Sides Than at the First Hearing—Evidence of Wilson's Alleged Good Character Submitted Yesterday.

The second day of the trial of William Wilson was opened at St. Clairsville at 9 o'clock yesterday. The story of the shooting and killing of Officer Murphy was related by the first witness, also the attempt of Wilson to bury his revolver while he was hiding behind the car.

Charles Downey was called to identify the revolver he found. The revolver had been tampered with by the last jury and one of the empty shells had been removed.

Port Coleman, a new witness introduced by the state, testified to hearing Murphy order the crowd to disperse, and afterwards he heard some loud talking, saw Wilson fire at Watkins, heard another shot, then turned and saw Wilson shoot Murphy.

David Davis, David Thomas and John Edmunds, young men who were with Watkins, corroborated Watkins and Jones in nearly all particulars. All denied saying or hearing any insulting remarks, and did not see any women. The above were new witnesses for the state and added greatly to its cause.

Mrs. Jane Murphy, the mother of Officer Murphy, was called to identify the clothing of her dead son. The old lady broke down at the sight of the clothes. The scene was very pathetic, bringing tears to the eyes of many of the spectators.

Many other witnesses for the state were called, but there was no material change in these from that of the former trial.

At 1 o'clock the defense opened by reading the depositions of parties in Cincinnati as to the character of Wilson. All were favorable to the defendant. The defense introduced some rebuttal testimony as to statements made by Westwood.

Mr. Ford, a new witness, of Geneva, Ohio, manager of Main's show, was called to testify to the character of Wilson. He said Wilson had been connected with Wallace's show for three years, and the Cooke & Whitty show was the Wallace show under a new name.

John McKnight was called and was asked if he had not seen a man, dressed in snuff colored clothes, ferried across the river. The state objected and the objection was sustained. Mr. Danford stated that he expected to prove the man that fired the shot from the car had gone to the river, and was rowed across.

Frank Kelly said he was there when the shooting took place; saw the man that did the shooting dart under a car, then come out and run towards the river. The man was dressed in a light suit of clothes and soft hat.

Court here adjourned until 9 o'clock to-day. The case is much stronger on both sides than before.

VERMONT'S PRIDE

The Remedy That Makes People Well—Paine's Celery Compound.

Among Burlington institutions none of the college buildings compare in interest with the Medical School. It is the first building shown to strangers. The building where so many fruitful investigations have been carried on and so much hard work accomplished is a matter of pride with every true graduate of Vermont University.

To the credit of American scientists it is said that the first fruitful investigations of the influence of the nerves upon the proper nutrition of the body were made by Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., while active professor in the Dartmouth Medical School and lecturer in Vermont University Medical Department.

These researches have since been carried on in Europe; but the result by far the most valuable from all these labors is Prof. Phelps' discovery of the prescription that has come to be known as Paine's celery compound.

Now and then a discovery like this one is so greatly in advance of its day that it starts the whole body of conservative physicians. No great remedy ever caused as much talk and inquiry as Paine's celery compound. Scientific men in this country and in Europe have analyzed and discussed it, and the medical world has agreed in recommending it as a truly remarkable remedy for disorders originating in impure blood and impoverished nerve tissue.

Paine's celery compound is pronounced by physicians of all schools to be the most decided step in the knowledge of diseases of the kidneys, liver, and stomach.

Refreshing sleep comes from Paine's
