A DAY OF INTENSE EXCITEMENT

And Grief in Europe Follows the Terrible Tragedy at Lyons.

ITALIANS ARE ATTACKED IN LYONS

And Cafes and Restaurants Mobbed and Sacked by Crowds of Indignant Frenchmen--The Body of the Murdered President, After Lying in State at the Prefecture, is Taken to Paris--Signs of Mourning Universally Displayed--The Assassin Identified--Military Protection Necessary to Keep Him From Being Torn to Pieces by the Populace--The Italian Premier's Message to the French Government--Castroferro Will Probably Succeed Carnot as President--The Events Following the Assassination.

Lyons, June 25.--The mob this evening set fire to several of the Italian cafes. A commissary of police begged the crowd to respect the affliction of Madame Carnot, but the rioters replied with shouts of "We will avenge Carnot."

The streets of this city throughout the day have been thronged with crowds of excited people. A large number of stores are closed. Serious rioting has already occurred and more trouble is anticipated.

More rioting. As the night advanced the rioting in the city became more widespread and at one time it appeared as though the mobs would take full possession of the town.

ITALIANS MOBBED. Mourning emblems are worn by nearly every man, woman and child in the city, and no dwelling seems opposed to display the emblems of grief from its windows and about its doors.

A strong detachment of police has been on guard about the Italian consulate throughout the day and will remain there until all danger of an attack has passed.

MILITARY PRECAUTIONS. At the suggestion of the civil authorities, the military commander of Lyons has withdrawn the troops from the streets; but they are still held in reserve under arms at their barracks.

The cowardly assassination of President Sadi Carnot at Lyons last night is most heartily deplored by all.

Great anxiety is felt in regard to the future and this will not be allayed until a successor to the late president shall be inducted into office.

Signs of mourning are general throughout this city and France to-day. All the flags are at half mast, and the public buildings are being draped with crepe.

Mme. Carnot, accompanied by her two sons, arrived at Lyons at 7 o'clock this morning. The widow was most respectfully greeted by a large crowd of people assembled about the railroad depot.

The apartment at the prefecture in which the body of the dead president lies in state presents a most impressive appearance. The remains of the murdered man are clad in a dress suit and beaten. Every civil and military honor was shown the dead. The square in front of the prefecture was densely thronged, as were all the streets leading to the railway station.

As the sad cortege passed slowly along the streets were remarkably silent. Almost the only sounds that could be heard were the tramping of the horses and the rumbling of the gun carriage.

Upon the arrival of the cortege at the railway station the casket was tenderly lifted from the gun carriage and conveyed into a stately carriage. The remains were attended by M. Carnot's military household, who had accompanied him to Lyons.

A large crowd was assembled about the station, and as the train started on its journey to Paris many signs of the deepest emotion were displayed.

A BOLD ON THE ITALIANS. No sooner had the cortege gone by before a great change appeared in the crowd.

In the meantime another large band marched through other streets and by threats compelled every Italian who kept a cafe to close his place. It was finally found necessary to command the carriages to charge the crown in order to clear the streets.

THE FEELING OF PUBLIC ANGER WHICH prevails in this city as a result of the assassination is almost beyond description. On the boulevards scenes of the greatest excitement have been witnessed to-day.

THE PEOPLE ANGRY AT ITALIANS. The feeling of public anger which prevails in this city as a result of the assassination is almost beyond description. On the boulevards scenes of the greatest excitement have been witnessed to-day.

As the night advanced the rioting in the city became more widespread and at one time it appeared as though the mobs would take full possession of the town. In the Guilloterie quarter the disturbances were particularly violent.

Much of the loot obtained by the rioters consisted of liquors. Part of the wines and brandies captured were drunk by the rioters, while what was not so disposed of was either poured into the streets and set on fire or burned in the casks and barrels, which were rolled into the middle of the thoroughfares.

A number of arrests were made when the trouble was at its height. The prisoners were subsequently liberated by the gen d'armes, who were vociferously applauded by the mob.

The dispatch of detectives from Paris to Certe, from which latter place Santo came to Lyons, has caused consternation among the anarchists there and many of them, fearing the police drag net would be thrown around them, fled the town.

THE GRIEF IN PARIS. Dismay Throughout France--The Events of the Day--The People Angry at the Anarchists.

PARIS, June 25.--The deepest sorrow, dismay and anger prevail throughout France. The cowardly assassination of President Sadi Carnot at Lyons last night is most heartily deplored by all.

Great anxiety is felt in regard to the future and this will not be allayed until a successor to the late president shall be inducted into office. With all this is the anger of France at the assassin, Cesare Giovanni Santo, the young Italian whose deadly knife has plunged a nation into grief.

Telegrams of sympathy are pouring in upon the family and upon the government. These messages of condolence come from all countries of the world showing that France is not alone in her sorrow at the death of her president.

The newspapers of all shades of opinion print leading articles deploring the assassination of Sadi Carnot. Signs of mourning are general throughout this city and France to-day.

The apartment at the prefecture in which the body of the dead president lies in state presents a most impressive appearance. The remains of the murdered man are clad in a dress suit and across his breast is the grand cordon of the Legion of Honor of which, as chief of the state, he was grand master. Around the bier are stationed a number of high officials of the president's military household, who, with several sisters of charity, have watched the remains throughout the night.

The prefecture itself is surrounded with troops, and a strong detachment of infantry is guarding the building in which Santo, the assassin, is confined. When Mme. Carnot reached the prefecture, the death chamber was cleared of all but the family, and the widow who had been joined by her third son, was left alone with her dead.

Later the remains were photographed and a consultation between the sons of the late president and the authorities in charge of the remains took place. The exact nature of their deliberations has not been made public, but it was stated that Mme. Carnot does not desire the body of her late husband to be embalmed, and wishes it to be removed immediately from Lyons to this city in order that it may lie in state in the chapel of the Elysee palace.

No decision has yet been reached as to whether an official post-mortem examination is necessary, and it is said that this matter has been referred to the cabinet ministers, who are expected to render a decision shortly.

grief at the calamity that has befallen France. The interview throughout was very cordial.

The pope was patently impressed by the news of M. Carnot's death. He at once sent a telegram of sympathy to M. Poincaré, the French foreign minister. Both the political and fashionable worlds are doing their utmost to attenuate the moral effect of the crime committed by an Italian.

THE FEELING AT TOULON. One Italian Fatally Bitten for a Disrespectful Remark About Carnot.

TOULON, June 25.--Here, as elsewhere in France, the smouldering indignation against Italians requires but a breath to fan it into a flame. The British steamer Richardson was being discharged to-day by a number of French and Italian stevedores.

ROME, June 25.--Cesare Giovanni Santo, the man who murdered President Carnot, is the son of Mari Broglie and Antoinette Caravia. He joined the anarchist association at an early age.

FINANCIAL OUTLOOK

Is Discussed by President Cleveland in an Interview.

COMMENTS NEW YORK BANK OFFERS

As Thoughtful and Patriotic--It Will Maintain the Gold Reserve in Good Condition--He Denies that the Payment of Matured Obligations is Postponed--The Treasury is Paying as It Goes--A Hopeful View of the Situation.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25.--The President, in speaking to-night of the financial situation, said to an Associated Press representative:

"The order of New York banks to place from their vaults this gold drawn from the government treasury for shipment abroad is certainly thoughtful and patriotic. It not only means to maintain the treasury's gold reserve in good condition, but it adds to the stock of popular confidence, which is at all times important."

"The elements which make up our actual situation do not justify any apprehension, and the administration still adheres to its pledge and determination to protect our national credit at all hazards and to keep the quality of our money equal to the best, so far as the limits of executive power permit."

"Of course, croaking and the spread of disquieting tales is calculated to injure the stringent financial condition. I assume, however, that there is too much patriotism among our people and too much familiarity with our resources and capabilities to permit our reserve force and financial vigor to be discredited."

When the last government bonds were issued to replenish our stock of gold it was nearly as low as now, while outside of our gold we had as available money to pay ordinary expenses of the government only about $100,000,000.

We have now, besides our gold and in money applicable to the government expenses, more than $500,000,000. I understand it is charged in certain quarters that the payment of matured obligations is postponed to the amount of $50,000,000 or $75,000,000.

This is not true. We are paying as we go in the usual way. Last year, up to June 1, the balance against us arising from the exports and imports of merchandise, excluding gold and silver, was $74,552,040.

The balance in our favor for the same period this year was $22,760,562, representing a change in our favor of $127,512,063. These conditions, taken in consideration with the willingness of our banks to help the treasury during any temporary and unusual drain of gold, ought to satisfy the most conservative of our safety.

It must not be forgotten as another favorable feature in the situation that we are no longer purchasing silver and issuing gold obligations therefor."

THE PULLMAN STRIKE

The Company Issues a Statement in Support of the Position.

CHICAGO, June 25.--The Pullman company to-night issued a statement regarding the strike and proposed boycott. After reviewing the situation and stating that the strikers have already deprived themselves of more than $200,000 in wages, the document concludes with the statement that the boycott is threatened because the company will not agree to submit to arbitration the question as to whether or not it shall operate its shops at Pullman under a scale of wages which would cause a daily loss to it of one-fourth the wages paid.

Anticipating the threatened boycott against Pullman cars by the American Railway Union, the general managers of all the roads which have terminals in Chicago, practically decided to-day that either all Pullman cars will go out with the trains, or the trains will remain in the depots until they can go with their usual Pullman equipment.

This decision was reached by the General Managers' Association, which was called together at a special meeting for the purpose of considering the proposed boycott. The association is the strongest organization of railway officials in the country, consisting of the general managers of each of the twenty-two Chicago terminal lines.

Twenty-five hundred railroad men attended a mass-meeting held in the Empire theatre to-night to consider the Pullman strike. The proposed boycott by the American Railway Union was heartily endorsed, and speeches by President Debs and others were enthusiastically received.

Didn't Affect Pittsburgh. PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 25.--The measures, which is intended the American railway union are about to take to end the strike of the employes at the Pullman car manufactory at Pullman, Ill., will have little effect here. While thoroughly sympathizing with the Pullman employes, according to interviews with a number of them, do not look with favor on the project to refuse to handle Pullman cars with a possible loss of their situations.

Situation at Cincinnati. CINCINNATI, O., June 25.--The strike of the Pullman employes at Ludlow, Ky., is but the prelude of a boycott of the Pullman cars on every road in this city beginning at noon to-morrow. This means that not a sleeper will go out of this city to-morrow afternoon on any road except the Big Four, which does not use Pullman cars. This has not been officially stated to-night, but it is morally certain.

A Strike at Homestead. PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 25.--The laborers employed in the 35 and 40-inch mills of the Homestead steel works have struck and the departments are idle. The men formerly worked in gangs of 10, but lately the number has been reduced to six. The strikers claim that this reduction made the work too hard and they quit to force the company to restore the gangs to their former size.

Revolution in Peru. BUENOS AYRES, June 25.--It is reported here that Northern Peru has fallen into the hands of the revolutionists.

A KANSAS CYCLONE

The Town of Keighlick Nearly Destroyed. Many Reported Killed.

WICHITA, Kansas, June 25.--A cyclone struck the town of Keighlick, Butler county, Kansas, to-night, nearly wiping it out of existence. A courier on horseback reports many killed. Owing to the fact that the courier left immediately after the cyclone passed over, all the details are meagre. It is known, however, that Ed Thurman was crushed to death in a stable. Many were pinned under falling houses and their fearful wails indicate serious injury.

It is thought that many were killed, as the cyclone swept on its course as fast as the people could see it. Two general stores, the largest buildings in the village, were crushed like egg shells. A freight train was standing on the Frisco track at the time and six cars were lifted up and turned upside down. This would indicate that the cyclone was at least 200 feet wide. The wreck standing on the track piled up thirty feet high and trains cannot pass until some time to-morrow night.

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN LEAGUE. Three Thousand Delegates Already on the Ground--Everything in Readiness. DENVER, Col., June 25.--Everything is in readiness for the convention of the Republican League. In addition to those who arrived yesterday and last night delegations came in to-day from Maryland, Florida, Texas, Illinois, Minnesota, Idaho and Missouri.

In all about three thousand people are here and more are expected to come to-morrow. James J. Clarkson has sent word that it will be impossible for him to be here.

BRECKINRIDGE TALKS

In Bourbon County--Pays His Respects to Chicago People.

LEXINGTON, Ky., June 25.--Colonel Breckinridge spoke at Hutcheson Station, in Bourbon county, to-day. The principal part of his address was devoted to the Chicago press and the Union League Club. He said he had voted against the $5,000,000 world's fair appropriation bill and thereby incurred their hatred.

He spoke sarcastically about the candidacy of Major Henry Clay McDowell, saying his enemies had even called for the memories of the great commoner, Henry Clay, to bolt him. He said the beautiful flowers sent him by the ladies caused him to crase from his mind the rigid sentences he had framed for those who had said hard things about him.

He returned to Washington to-night, but speaks at Versailles Saturday.

No Provision for a Substitute. Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

LITTLETON, W. Va., June 25.--The criminal court was to convene to-day in this county and after the jurors, witnesses and other interested parties had assembled this afternoon, a note was received from Judge W. T. Thompson, stating that he was too sick to be present. The attorneys in looking over the law passed by the legislature establishing the court, were astonished to find that provision had been made for the appointment of a special judge, and the jurors and people were dismissed. Some of the latter had been summoned from a distance.

Emma Juch Starved. STAMFORD, Conn., June 25.--Miss Emma Juch, the prima donna, and Francis L. Wellman, the assistant district attorney of New York, were married this afternoon at St. Andrew's Episcopal church in this city.

Paper Mills Burned. CINCINNATI, June 25.--The Haldeman paper mills, near Hamilton, Ohio, burned together with a large stock of paper, causing a loss of $60,000, only partly covered by insurance. The owners suspect incendiarism.

The Welsh Mine Disaster. CARDIFF, June 25.--Two hundred and thirty bodies have been recovered from the Albion colliery, at Cilyffyd, the scene of the explosion of the damp Saturday.
