Seven Clubs Admitted to the Interstate League Circuit.

SPRINGFIELD OR MANSFIELD TO GET THE VACANCY IN THE CIRCUIT—Quite an Enthrusting Feeling Prevailed—The Twin Cities Get There Without Opposition—McDermith Elected President—Season to Open May First. Last Night's Bowling Games.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer. STEUBENVILLE, O., Feb. 20.—Steubenville was the centre of interest for the base ball people of a number of Ohio cities and towns today, the occasion being the meeting of the base ball magnates to form the Interstate Base Ball League. Seven of the eight towns were represented at the meeting, the only town that was supposed to be ready to go into the league not represented was Mansfield. The first session was to have been held in the morning, but on account of the absence of the Canton magnates the first session was not held until 3 o'clock in the afternoon at the Mosgrave, the base ball headquarters in the town.

When the magnates got together in the afternoon notes were counted showing the presence of the following gentlemen: A. C. Buckenberger, Will D. White and E. G. Barrow, Wheeling; George L. Moreland, Steubenville; F. L. Goble, Canton; M. U. McKean, Dayton; Milt D. West, George Kline and W. H. McDermith, Columbus; A. J. Watts, Akron; U. S. G. Clemens, Lou Nichols, and E. J. Romig, Dennison-Uhrichville. Added to these was a considerable following of newspaper men, would-be umpires and players and applicants for privileges, making altogether quite a respectable array of talent.

Mr. McDermith, who was for three seasons the president of the old Tri-State League, was placed in the chair. He desired that the representatives of each club of the proposed league make a verbal report of the situation in each city.

Mr. West reported on the situation in Columbus, one of the best cities of the circuit. He said that the city is ripe for another experience with professional base ball, that the arrangements for grounds are about completed and that Ohio's capital city would line up with a good team when play is called.

The Dennison-Uhrichville people, as expected, were on hand in force and made such a forcible presentation of their claims to recognition, in spite of the small size of the two communities, that it was tacitly understood before the magnates got together that the Twin Cities were to be admitted. This being the case, their delegates were at once admitted to the meeting and placed on an equality with those from the other cities. One of the objections to granting the Twin Cities a franchise was the fact that neither city supports a daily paper. Nothing daunted by this objection the hustlers from Tuscarawas promised to at once equip and put in the field a daily paper, knocking out the objection. Such enterprise may even have the effect of making the Twin Cities one of the strong spots on the Interstate circuit. The delegates from Dennison and Uhrichville, when called upon said that grounds had been arranged for and plenty of backing for the ball club is available.

M. B. McKean, of Cleveland, represented Dayton. He said that he had not yet gone to Dayton, but that he has assurances of support and backing in running the club there, and anticipated no trouble. The grounds, said one of the other delegates, are located away off from the business centre on a horse car line, but McKean said he was willing to take his chances, and others present predicted that Dayton would this year hold up her end as well as in previous years, when the town was represented in the Tri-state league. Mr. McKean said he was going to Dayton next Monday to close arrangements for grounds and put things in shape for the season's opening.

There are two claimants for the Akron franchise. C. F. Brotherton, of Kansas City, and A. J. Watts, of Sandusky. Only the latter was present at the meeting, and he reported that he holds an option on the only available grounds, those of Buchtel college. He was not prepared to say surely that Akron would go ahead, so that town was not then counted on the circuit as a certainty.

President A. C. Buckenberger spoke for the Wheeling club, stating that the arrangements for grounds had not been completed, and that there did not seem to be a disposition there to greatly encourage the people who propose to take the risks of a stormy voyage on the sea of minor league baseball. However, he anticipated that an arrangement would soon be made and that Wheeling's base ball spirit would be thoroughly aroused before the season's opening.

Manager George L. Moreland reported for the Steubenville club. Everything is lovely, he said; arrangements for grounds are completed and already more of the team that will represent the town in 1895 has been signed.

Mr. Goble, of the Canton club, said that he had already made arrangements for the old Tri-state grounds there and that the work of signing a team would soon be started. He had secured backing in Grand Rapids, Mich., for his club.

It was then decided that the following towns be admitted to membership: Wheeling, Steubenville, Dayton, Columbus, Canton and Twin Cities, six altogether. President McDermith spoke strongly of the importance of securing at least eight clubs for the league; he considered that it would be bad policy to start out with six. Buckenberger, of Wheeling, said Wheeling would consent to nothing under eight clubs. The manner of securing two more clubs was next discussed by the magnates. Mr. Moreland said he was confident Mansfield could be worked up to the point of applying for admission, although he had received a telegram from Mr. Watson, who was to take hold there, saying that negotiations for grounds were off.

He favored an effort to secure Mansfield as one of the two clubs to come in. It was stated in the meeting that Mr. A. M. Miles, of Akron, who has been at the head of clubs there in the past, would put a club in the field, and on motion of Mr. Buckenberger, a franchise in the league was awarded that gentleman. He was at once notified of this action by wire. This leaves both Watts and Brotherton out in the cold and will compel the former to give up his option on the grounds.

Two towns for the eighth place on the circuit were talked of—Springfield and Mansfield, and both towns were spoken of highly. One point in favor of Springfield is the fact that Sunday games can be played there. Mr. McKean, of the Dayton club, who goes to the Gom City next Monday, was instructed to stop off at Springfield and endeavor to have a club organized there. Mr. Goble, of the Canton club, volunteered to go to Mansfield and see what can be done there. These gentlemen will report to an organizing committee composed of Messrs. McDermith, of Columbus; White, of Wheeling, and George Kline, of Columbus, who are to meet on March 2 and decide which town, Mansfield or Springfield, gets the vacancy.

The magnates decided that the $300 guarantee imposed on each club must be deposited with the president as soon as the eighth club is admitted, within the next ten days.

There was an informal discussion regarding the method of distributing gate receipts. Moreland, of Steubenville, advocated the plan that has proved so successful in the Western Association, namely, 50 per cent to the home club, 40 per cent to the visiting club and 10 per cent to the league sinking fund. The Columbus people were opposed to this plan and no action was taken at the afternoon session.

The question of Sunday ball came up and it was said that it can be played in Canton, Columbus, Springfield and Dayton, and possibly in Wheeling. The schedule will be so arranged that there will be Sunday games in all cities where it can be played.

At 5 o'clock the magnates went into secret session to consider the question of constitution and by-laws. The old Tri-state constitution was presented by President McDermith and adopted with one or two minor amendments.

In executive session the following business was disposed of: The season is to open May 1, and end September 15. One hundred and twelve games are to be played at home and abroad by each team, visiting teams to get $40 or 40 per cent of the gate receipts. The league applied for protection to the national league and each club is to put up $300 by March 2, guaranteeing that it will finish the season.

The schedule committee, composed of A. C. Buckenberger, Milt West and George L. Moreland, met at Dennison, March 19. The board of control is as follows: E. J. Romig, Dennison; M. B. McKean, Dayton; J. G. Barrow, Wheeling; A. L. Goble, Canton; M. D. West, Columbus; and George L. Moreland, Steubenville. At this session Mr. McDermith was elected president, secretary and treasurer.

ANTI-JESUIT BILL. The Measure Allowing Their Return to Germany Passes the Reichstag. BERLIN, Feb. 20.—The resolution providing for the repeal of the laws expelling the Jesuits from Germany was read the third time and passed in the reichstag this afternoon. The passage of the measure was received with loud and prolonged cheers by the members of the Centre or Catholic party. The Conservatives, the members of the Reichspartei and the National Liberals voted against the resolution. It is not expected, however, that it will become a law, as the bundesrat, which has heretofore always refused its consent to the repeal of the laws, is not expected to sanction the resolution adopted this afternoon.

The bill for the expulsion of the order from Germany was passed by the reichstag on June 19, 1872, by a vote of 131 to 93, and was promulgated on July 5. The supporters of the measure based their advocacy of it on the activity of the Jesuits on behalf of the papal supremacy.

Queen Victoria's railway carriage coat $35.00. Use it in Time. Catarrh starts in the nasal passages, affecting eyes, ears and throat, and is in fact, the great enemy of the mucous membrane. Neglected colds in the head almost invariably precede catarrh, causing an excessive flow of mucus, and if the mucus discharge becomes interrupted the disagreeable results of catarrh will follow, such as bad breath, severe pain across forehead and about the eyes, a roaring and buzzing sound in the ears and oftentimes a very offensive discharge. Ely's Cream Balm is the acknowledged cure for these troubles.

BELLAIRE. All Sorts of Local News and Gossip from the Glass City.

Congressman A. J. Pearson settled the St. Clairville postoffice contest yesterday by recommending Colonel James F. Charlesworth for the place. Colonel Charlesworth was not a candidate, and when wired last week as to whether he would accept it answered that he was not a candidate. George Steenrod, one of the proprietors of the Gazette, the Democratic organ, was a candidate and his cause was espoused by his partner, Editor D. H. Milligan, who had obtained an assistant clerkship from the congressman and was right at the seat of war to look after his partner's interest. That he did so carefully and well so far as the congressman is concerned is attested by the fact that ten days ago the M. C. went to the department to recommend Steenrod, but he returned without doing so, the postmaster general having been provided with protests. This seems to have been the mistake of the friends of James B. Ryan, who, recognizing Editor Milligan's hold upon the M. C., baffled the appointment in that way and perhaps made the congressman more determined than ever not to appoint Ryan. Colonel Charlesworth is a most excellent man and deserves more than he will ever get at the hands of his party, but his appointment has ripped up the Democratic leaders in this county to such an extent that there will be a merry war among them for many a day.

Mr. T. J. Frazier, civil engineer of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad company, was in the city yesterday afternoon in conference with Councilmen Clements, McGreor, McDonough, Kumbach and Wimmer, Civil Engineer Norton and City Solicitor Armstrong as to a new bridge on Union street over the railroad tracks. An agreement was made a year or two ago with the company, at which time a plan of bridge was accepted. The legislature last winter passed a law requiring a different kind of structure over railroad tracks and at greater height in the clear from the top of the rail. This is fortunate for the city, as it develops, and the council now moves slowly in the matter, as the new law makes the railroad companies responsible for all damages to property or streets by reason of the construction of such bridges, and a bridge on this street at a greater height than the present one is certain to damage property.

Then, if you're worn out with hard work or find your clothes going to pieces, you've only yourself to blame. You'll have to choose your own way of washing. You can use soap and the washboard, and tire yourself out, and rub your clothes to tatters. You can use so-called washing-powders, imitations of Pearlina, and have easier work, though they're eating up the clothes. Or you can use Pearlina, wash in the easiest way and be absolutely certain that there isn't the slightest harm. Send it Back. Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearlina." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearlina, be honest—send it back. JAMES PYLE, New York.'
