Black Goods.

No such gathering of up-to-date Black Dress Goods was ever offered for your choosing as the great stock now in our Black Dress Goods section.

Not an asked-for weave lacking, not a weak spot in the whole line; and in many cases a half dollar will do dollar work. Take Crepons.

The popular priced Black ones so many of you have been waiting for, are here. 1500 yards just out of the custom house—direct from Paris, Black Mohair-and-Wool Crepons, in a grand assortment of patterns, and the identical sorts you've been paying $1 50 and $2 for; but these shall go at $1 and $1 25.

Choose with your eyes shut and you'll get a gem every time.

Roubaix Serge.

Another lot of Imported Goods—2500 yards out of the custom house to-day for the first. 45 inches wide, fine wool Serge, wiry and strong, yet draping beautifully, and only 35c a yard.

50c a yard would be a bargain price.

Priestley's Blacks

From England, of course. Only because the quantity was large is it that there is still a fair assortment of those wonderful 50-inch $2 00 and $2 50 Priestley's Black Goods at 65c yard.

AWFUL DETAILS

Of the Armenian Massacres Issued By Authority.

THE PRESS REPORTS CONFIRMED.

The Half Has Not Been Told of the Cruelties of the Turks Perpetrated On Armenian Christians—Sixteen Thousand is the Estimated Number of the Slain.

New York, April 11.—The Phil-American Association is distributing a handsomely printed and illustrated book entitled "The Armenian Crisis in Turkey" dealing largely with massacre of 1894, its antecedents and significance.

Frederick Davis Groome, the author, was a missionary of the Armenian board in Van, the centre of Armenia, and was recently ordered by his physician to return to Armenia.

Many of the atrocities described in this letter are too horrible for publication. Here are some extracts from a description of the great massacre at Sassoun, near Moosh:

"No distinctions were made against persons or villages, whether they were loyal and had paid their taxes or not. The orders were to make a clean sweep. A priest and some leading men from one village went out to meet the officer, taking in their hands their tax receipts, declaring their loyalty and begging for mercy; but the village was surrounded and all human beings put to the bayonet. A large and strong man, the chief of one village, was captured by the Kurds, who tied him, threw him on the ground and, squatting around him, stabbed him to pieces.

"At Galozan many young men were tied hand and foot, laid in a row, covered with brushwood and burned. Others were seized and hacked to death piece-meal.

"At another village a priest and several leading men were captured and promised release if they would tell where others had fled, but after telling, all but the priest were killed. A chain was put around the priest's neck and pulled from opposite sides till he was several times choked and revived, after which several bayonets were planted upright and he was raised in the air and let fall upon them.

"The men of one village when fleeing took the women and children, some 500 in number, and placed them in a sort of grotto in a ravine. After several days the soldiers found them and butchered those who had not died of hunger.

"Sixty young women and girls were selected from one village and placed in a church, when the soldiers were ordered to do with them as they liked, after which they were butchered.

"Children were frequently held up by the hair and cut in two or had their jaws torn apart. Women with child were ripped open. Other children were pulled apart by their legs. The last stand took place on Mount Andoke, south of Moosh, where some thousand persons had sought refuge. The Kurds were sent in relays to attack them, and after the besieged had been without food for several days and their ammunition was exhausted, the troops succeeded in reaching the summit without any loss, and let scarcely a man escape.

"Now all turned their attention to those who had been driven into the Talvooz district. Three or four thousand of the besieged were left in this small plain. When they saw themselves thickly surrounded on all sides by Turks and Kurds, they raised their hands to heaven with an agonizing moan for deliverance. They were thinned out by rifle shots and the remainder were slaughtered with bayonets and swords till a veritable river of blood flowed from the heaps of the slain.

Forty villages were totally destroyed and it is probable that 16,000 at least were killed. The lowest estimate is 10,000 and many put it much higher."

BUTTER FROM WHEY.

New Process of Making Butter Discovered at Cornell University.

ITHACA, N. Y., April 11.—An interesting bulletin, just issued by Cornell University agricultural experiment station, describes a new process of making butter from whey.

In the process of cheese-making a small percentage of fat escapes in the whey. The Cornell experts were led to believe that this fat could be utilized in the form of commercial butter. "Accordingly, January 18, 1893," the bulletin says, "we began to run the whey from the cheese-making regularly through the separators, and we have been successful in securing a large portion of the fat in the whey in the form of commercial butter of good quality. This butter has been scarcely, if any, inferior to that made from cream separated from whole milk, and it has been sold in the same market with our best butter."

Full details of the experiments and their results are given in the bulletin. Good judges who have seen the two kinds of butter side by side have been, in some cases, unable to detect which is made from whey and which from cream. In other cases slight inferiority in texture and flavor have been noticed in the whey butter. That it is possible to make butter of good commercial quality by the use of this method is claimed to have been clearly demonstrated.

Bismarck Compliments Russia.

FREDECHSBERG, April 11.—Prince Bismarck replying to a deputation representing the Germans in Odessa to-day begged his hearers to foster the political friendship which, he insisted, was so necessary to both Germany and Russia, adding:

"Russia is certainly a better neighbor than many another."

The prince concluded with saying: "Continue to be good to Germans and do nothing to prejudice the friendship of Russia."

Gilliam's Golden Wedding.

Mr. VERNON, N. Y., April 11.—Mr. and Mrs. Sewall Gilliam celebrated their golden wedding last night, and in addition to general congratulations received many substantial golden tokens of esteem to mark the event. Mr. Gilliam in the profession of artists is known as the father of Bernhard Gilliam, the artist, and part proprietor of Judd, and also the father of humor in connection with that publication.

Niece of the President Married.

PALMYRA, N. Y., April 11.—Miss Florence Yeomans, niece of President Cleveland, and George S. Tinklepaugh, a young attorney of this place, were married at the residence of the bride's father, Albert Yeomans, six miles north of here, last night, by Rev. L. W. Richardson. The couple will visit Washington, New York, Philadelphia, and Baltimore on their wedding journey.

THE VENEZUELAN AFFAIR.

Senator Morgan Says the United States Should Not Permit Great Britain to Gain Her End.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Senator Morgan, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, was asked to-day how he regarded the situation in Venezuela, and replied by saying:

"I have no doubt that Great Britain's ultimate purpose is to press her frontier sufficiently far into the interior to encompass the rich gold fields of that section, though she will, of course, not disclose this purpose in the immediate future, but will rather confine her demands to the territory at the mouth of the Orinoco river.

"Do I think that the United States should permit this aggression?" he asked repeating a question. "I do not. I think the direct question should be put to Great Britain by our diplomats as to whether she proposes either by purchase or conquest to extend her domain beyond her present claim. In case of a negative reply, I should advise that the United States should not interfere with the settlement of existing disputes, but I do not believe that England could be brought to this definite promise not to press her boundaries further in that section, because of the rich gold mines known to exist there. I am convinced, as I believe most men must be who have given attention to the question, that England's desire is to control these gold deposits. Such a course would be in accord with her policy in other parts of the globe, and it goes hand in hand with her gold monometalist policy at home. Controlling the principal gold fields of the world, England naturally wishes to extend her gold possessions. It is to her interest to do so, and I cannot say that I blame her, but that it is not reason why the United States should stand idly by and allow her to carry this policy into effect. Furthermore it is evidently the policy of the present British administration to acquire desirable territory when it can do so, as witness the effort to secure Necker Island in the Hawaiian group and her dispute with France over African territory. It is most probable that instead of making any definite reply to this suppositious question England would evade it. In that event I think we should invoke the Monroe doctrine forthwith."

THE IRON TRADE.

The Week's Developments According to the Iron Trade Review.

CLEVELAND, O., April 11.—The Iron Trade Review this week will say:

In brief, the week's developments in iron have been further transactions in iron ore, in which the leading Pittsburgh interest has figured largely as a buyer; continued firmness in Bessemer pig, with the basis still $10 65 at Pittsburgh; less strength in steel than was apparent a week ago, and in finished material more contracted demand than many in the trade had looked for with spring fairly opened. There is a disposition by buyer and seller to take bearings from events, now that advances in raw materials are a matter of record. The habit of buying each time at a lower price than the last seems to have made some buyers incapable of action in the face of an advance.

Coke buyers are holding off; buyers of Bessemer pig wait, and consumers of billets are encouraged by recent signs of weakness to postpone purchases still further. It does not appear that any $1 35 contracts for coke have been entered into for the second quarter of the year, though there are reports of new deals at somewhat lower figures. The question uppermost in connection with all calculations is the outlook for various forms of finished product. Pig iron stocks increased in March, though less than in the month preceding, and there has been a somewhat lessened production in the districts contributing the bulk of the Bessemer pig.

Fifty Officials in Jail.

CHICAGO, April 11.—A special from Key West, Fla., says: Fifty well known Spanish officials have been put in jail, it is reported here, on suspicion of sympathizing with the Cuban revolutionists. Rifles and cartridges belonging to the Spanish government have been secretly removed from Havana and turned over to the insurgents.
