

SPOKE FOR HIMSELF.

And as a Private Citizen and Not for the Administration.

SECRETARY MORTON'S CORRECTION

Of the Popular Impression That His Recent Interview on the Financial Question Represented the President's Attitude—Mr. Cleveland Says He is Not Responsible for the Views of His Cabinet Officers and Does His Own Thinking.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 22.—The statement which Secretary J. Sterling Morton gave to the press last week of his views upon the financial question, has been interpreted by the press very generally as an utterance made on behalf of the President, and expressing the President's attitude. This inference was based largely upon the circumstance that Secretary Morton made public his statement soon after his return from the white house, where he had been in conference with the President and members of the cabinet at the regular cabinet meeting. The surmise, however, was proven to-day to be incorrect by denials which were made by both President Cleveland and Secretary Morton. The President's statement, which was given to the Associated Press by Private Secretary Thurber, follows:

"The President, when asked this evening whether Secretary Morton's interview on the money question might be regarded as representing his views, replied: "I am in no manner responsible for Mr. Morton's interview, and know nothing of it until I read it in the newspapers. When I have seen fit to say anything to the people on the money question, or any other subject, I have thus far found it quite easy to do so directly and on my own account." "Earlier in the day Secretary Morton, having seen the same interpretation put upon his interview which had come under the President's eye, made a statement that all expressions of his on any subject represented his own views and not those of the administration. "Both the President and the secretary of agriculture spoke to-day without consultation with each other. Secretary Morton did not know when he made the statement that the President intended to speak and it was learned that the President had no knowledge of Secretary Morton's action upon the matter when he dictated his own utterance thereon.

A REIGN OF TERROR

Inaugurated by a Colored Mob in a North Carolina Town.

RALPH, N. C., April 22.—News has reached here that a large mob of negroes Saturday night attempted to take possession of the town of Bath. They are employes at saw mills, and were angry because some of them had been arrested by town officers for disorderly conduct. They entered stores and bar-rooms, and helped themselves and threatened people with death. They wounded four deputy sheriffs and so terrorized the people that they locked themselves in their houses to save their lives. "Telegrams were sent to the town of Washington, sixteen miles away, for aid and a company of troops was put at the disposal of the sheriff. Sunday morning the people of Bath started out to arrest the leading rioters. They captured five. One named Lanier resisted, and fired at the posse, and was shot twice and mortally wounded. The other prisoners were taken to Washington in a boat and an attempt was made by the negroes to release them by a boat attack but were foiled by the arrival of the militia on a steamer. All was quiet at Bath to-day. The ringleader of the mob, Thomas Bonnor, is still at large.

An advance of 25 cents a ton has been made already in pig iron and further advances are expected.

FOREST FIRES RAGING

In the Mountains in the Pocon River Country—Two Thousand Acres of Timber Land Burned Over.

CHARLESTON, W. VA., April 22.—Forest fires are raging in the mountains in the region of Pocon river and Kelley's creek. They started early last week, and on Saturday had burned over 2,000 acres of timber land. Many fences have been destroyed. No buildings have been reported lost. The flames are moving in two divisions, about ten miles apart, lighting up the vicinity at night for miles around. "A traveler along the county road Friday night had to dash through a sheet of flame and a deluge of burning branches and trees. Unless extinguished by rain, serious damage may result.

HUNTINGTON ARRESTED.

The Railroad Magnate Charged With Giving Away a Pass.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Collis P. Huntington, president of the Southern Pacific railroad, was arrested to-day on a charge of giving a pass to Frank Stone in violation of the interstate commerce law. "President Huntington was arraigned before United States Commissioner Shields. He was represented by Frederick R. Couderc. Huntington admitted his identity. He was taken before Judge Brown, of the United States district court, for a warrant of removal to California. "Mr. Huntington said to a reporter, after the proceedings before Commissioner Shields: "I have known Frank Stone," he said, "for twenty-five years. He is a San Francisco lawyer. I would not call him a wicked man because a wicked man would not do things that way. He's an innocent kind of a fellow. I suppose he had started this thing because I had picked him in some way or other. How, I don't know. "I may have given him a pass; I probably did; but I give out so many passes that I don't remember one-third of them. The passes that are usually given out are indorsed as a rule 'Not good outside the state,' and I presume his pass was not so stamped and he took advantage of it. "I think the root of the whole matter lies in the fact that when I became president of the Southern Pacific railroad I discharged twenty-three men out in San Francisco, who were, so far as I could see, merely political agents and go-betweens for politicians. They did no work for the railroad that I could discover, so I cut them off. Perhaps they are hungry now and have got to make a strike somewhere."

LOUISVILLE, KY., April 22.—A special to the Courier-Journal from Moorehead, Ky., says: In a fight to-day three miles from town, Hazelrigg Nickell was killed and Henry Collins fatally wounded. The old lady was staying with Henry Collins, her son-in-law. Nickell's went to the house and tried to take his grandmother away, but Collins's son, who was at the house, protested vigorously, and a fight ensued. The two then began shooting at each other. DURANT'S HEARING.

The Alleged Perpetrator of the San Francisco Murders

HAVING HIS FIRST EXAMINATION.

An Important New Witness Turns Up. He Knew of a Key in the Accused Man's Possession That Would Unlock, but Not Lock the Church Door. A Too Willing Witness is Refused a Hearing—The Interest Keeps Up.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—The preliminary examination of W. H. T. Durant, charged with the murder of Marian Williams in Emanuel Baptist Church, took place this morning. "The police are confident as ever, and Chief of Detectives Loos, who has returned to this city from a vacation, after an examination of the church, hearing reports of his subordinates and counsel with the chief of police, has expressed himself as in readiness to proceed with the case. "New witnesses were found to-day in the persons of three young ladies who positively identified Durant as a man who had spoken to them on the night of the murder near the church between 9 and 9:35 o'clock. He mistook them for acquaintances and after recognizing his error apologized and turned away. Miss Williams was killed between eight and nine o'clock that night. A dispatch from Napa, Cal., says that Allen Church, who has been closely associated with some of the Emanuel church people, stated in an interview: "As soon as I heard Miss Minnie Williams was murdered, I connected Durant with the murder, as he had been most intimate with her, and I knew that he had a key that would unlock but would not lock the side door. I have known Durant for five years and have warned Minnie Williams against going with him." "The important part of this statement lies in the declaration that Durant's key would unlock but not lock the side door of the church. It will be remembered that the murderer left the side door unfastened in making his escape from the scene of his crime. Church will be questioned by the police. "Before the court opened at 11 o'clock, 5,000 people surrounded the hall and filed the approaches. "The prisoner looked worn and concerned, but showed no emotion. A photographer exhibited several photos of the scene in the church, and two enlarged pictures of Marian Williams, showing the wounds and the work of the physicians, were exhibited and attracted much attention. They exhibited a revolting sight. "When the name of A. E. Williams, the father of the dead girl, was called, a young woman rushed to the stand and said that no one should testify before her. She gave the name of Williamson, and said that she would be the one to judge Durant and ordered him released. The police tried to remove her, but she would not let them touch her, but left the stand voluntarily after some words. She handed an incoherent letter to the clerk. She said she was sent by God to judge Durant. "The woman was subsequently identified as Laura Lucy Gould Williamson, of 110 Leavenworth street. She declares herself to be an "emissary of God." She disappeared after being removed from the court room. "A. E. Williams then took the stand and identified the pocket book found in Durant's overcoat as one he had given his daughter. "Sergeant Burk testified as to the finding of the pocketbook. He said there was a bunch of twelve keys in the same pocket and a single key of the Yale pattern. The officer stated that one key that was in the bunch when he found the ring in the overcoat pocket was missing. The case will be continued to-morrow. "The two murders furnished a topic for four or five ministers to discourse on yesterday to their congregations. "Durant maintains a cheerful demeanor. He still denies his guilt and says he has a suspicion as to who the guilty party is, but refuses to give the name.

SHOULD BE EVIDENCE

Enough to Reopen the Stiles Divorce Case Dismissed by Judge Ewing.

CHICAGO, April 22.—It is announced that Herbert P. Crane and Mrs. L. B. Stiles, the co-respondent and principal, respectively, in the sensational Stiles divorce case recently on trial in Chicago, were arrested this evening on a charge of adultery. They were indicted by the grand jury of Kane county, at Geneva, this evening. It is claimed they had been living together at St. Charles, Ill. Crane was indicted as Herbert P. Crane, alias Bert Crane, and Mrs. Stiles as Lizzie B. Stiles, alias Lillian Brover Stiles. The divorce case created much comment owing to the social prominence of those concerned. It will be remembered that Judge Ewing dismissed the case two weeks ago on the ground that "no case had been made out." Mr. Stiles' attorneys made an ineffectual effort to have the case reopened, making the same charges as that on which to-day's indictment is based.

Laumeister, of this city, is the man who caused her all the trouble. "Mrs. Fisher tells how the ex-sheriff, in the guise of H. Cecil King, courted her in person and by letter and then despoiled her of packages of notes, after first administering a hard rap upon her head with a sandbag. She even goes into details and tells a circumstantial story, but her counsel does not know what to make of it. She is supposed to be laboring under an hallucination.

POET OF THE SIERRAS

Figures as a Fickle Lover in a Very Romantic Affair.

WALLER AFFAIR

From a French Standpoint in a Paris Newspaper.

STORY OF THE ALLEGED OFFENSE

Of the American ex-Consul and His Conviction—Treated as a Political Prisoner—Not yet Decided Where His Sentence will be Carried Out. How He Fared on the Ship While Being Transported from Madagascar to France.

PARIS, April 22.—The correspondent of the Temps at Tamatave, Island of Madagascar, states that John L. Waller, formerly United States consul at that place, was indicted on two charges—namely violation of an order of the French Admiral governing correspondence, and, secondly, writing to the enemy. The evidence, the correspondent adds, showed that Mr. Waller entrusted to an officer of a steambot a bulky letter, which was addressed to "M. Tessier, merchant, Antananarivo, via Vatomaniry." Unfortunately it appears the English mail was not dropped at Vatomaniry, but was landed at Tamatave, where the envelope attracted the attention of the authorities, who opened it and found that it contained particulars regarding the strength of the French garrison, the number of sick and the importance of the outposts, etc. The envelope, it is further stated, also contained an enclosure addressed to Mr. Waller's friend, E. Underwood Harvey, editor of the Madagascar News, asking the latter to insert it in that paper. This enclosure it is stated, contained abominable calumnies regarding the conduct of the French soldiers on the Island of Madagascar, and denounced two of Mr. Waller's compatriots, honorable American merchants who were going to Antananarivo, as being spies in the pay of France. "The trial of Mr. Waller, continues the correspondent of the Temps, only lasted three hours and three-quarters, at the end of which time he was condemned to twenty years imprisonment. Mr. Waller appealed against this sentence, but it was eventually confirmed. "According to the correspondent of the Temps, it was a son-in-law of Mr. Waller, Paul Bray, a native of Texas, and not his nephew who accompanied him on board the Djemnah. Bray, it is added, was expelled from the Island of Madagascar for constant hostility to the French authorities and troops, and for complicity with his father-in-law in communicating with the enemy. Bray, it is stated in conclusion, was handed over to the American consul at Zanzibar. "Mr. Waller was manacled while on board the Djemnah between Tamatave and Mananga, on the northwest coast of the Island of Madagascar. But from that on he was allowed to take two hours exercise daily on deck, guarded by a soldier. Upon arrival here he was lodged in jail, and it is reported that he will eventually be imprisoned on the Island of Corsica or on the Safety Isles. "During the voyage Mr. Waller spoke but little, although he frequently asked permission to write. The French officials declined to grant his request on account of his refusal to agree to show them the letter he intended to write. When before the court martial, Mr. Waller, it is claimed, refused to speak in French, and the services of an interpreter had to be employed during the trial. "For the present Mr. Waller is incarcerated in the prison at Fort St. Nicholas at this port. It is thought probable that he will again be called upon to appear before a court-martial. "Toulon, April 22.—M. Hanes, the marine commissary general by whose order Mr. John L. Waller, formerly United States consul at Tamatave, was confined in Fort St. Nicholas, at Marseilles, notified the procureur de la republique this afternoon of the disposition made of the prisoner. The procureur de la republique immediately ordered Mr. Waller to be transferred to the civil prison at St. Pierre, where he will await the decision of the prison board of France as to where the sentence is to be carried out. "Mr. Waller is condemned to twenty years' detention in prison, but not at hard labor. When in prison he will not be treated with rigor, as his crime is regarded as being a political offence.

NO ALLIANCE FORMED.

A Statement Issued by the Japanese Government.

YOKOHAMA, April 22.—The following is the text of the statement issued by the Japanese government denying the reports that it has concluded an offensive and defensive alliance with China, and declaring that the commercial advantages secured by Japan will also be enjoyed by the other powers under the favored nation law. "Misapprehensions are reported to be current in Europe regarding the terms of the Japo-Chinese treaty. It has been represented that Japan has secured a 2 per cent ad valorem duty on imports instead of specific duty, and has also formed an offensive and defensive alliance with China. The commercial concessions obtained by Japan beyond those already secured by the treaty powers under the favored nation clause comprise the right to navigate the Yang Tse Kiang to Chung King and also Woon Sang river and the canal leading to Soo Chow and Hang Chow, and the right to import machinery and certain goods duty free and to establish factories. These concessions are not exclusive to Japan. They naturally extend to the European powers in virtue of the favored nation clause. In securing these privileges for all Japan expects the approval of all the powers. "The reported offensive and defensive alliance does not exist. "An imperial proclamation just issued exhorts the nation to moderation at the present juncture of the country's history.

The emperor said: "The principal points of the treaty are entirely satisfactory and add much to the glory of the empire. I am highly pleased at the signal service rendered by you." "The following imperial proclamation was issued this afternoon: "Through peace national prosperity is best promoted. Unfortunately, the rupture of relations with China forced upon us a war which, after the lapse of ten months, is not yet ended. During this period our ministers, in concert with the army, navy and diet, have done all in their power to further our aims in obedience to our instructions.
