

GROGERS CELEBRATE.

The Seventh Annual Holiday of the Local Association

THE GREATEST SUCCESS ON RECORD

The Park Crowded with People all Day and a Fine Programme of Events Given—A Parade Introduces the Day's Observance—Haces, Bowling and Fireworks Interest all, and Dancing is a Popular Feature.

Anybody who failed to notice in the daily press in the past few days that Thursday was "Grocers' Day," found it out early yesterday forenoon. All the grocers of Wheeling and the nearby towns on both sides of the river dropped business for the day and joined the throng of thousands that started for Wheeling park in the early morning, and kept going all day. The parade of the Wheeling Retail Grocers' Protective Association started at 8 a. m. The programme as printed in the INTELLIGENCER was carried out very faithfully. The parade was in command of Chief Marshal H. W. Schrebe, and was headed by the Opera House band, and escorted by a platoon of police, in command of Lieut. Ingram. The grocers all wore the parade uniform—white vests and neckties, straw hats, white gloves and canes. The drummers held the right of the procession, followed by the clerks, visiting grocers, Wheeling grocers, jobbers, and commission merchants in carriages, and miscellaneous vehicles, nearly all decorated. The line formed on Chapline street at Twelfth, and moved down Chapline to Fourteenth, to Market, to Main, to Twenty-third, to Market, to Sixteenth, to motor. When the main body of the grocers arrived at the park they found a goodly number of people already gathered there, and every hourly trip afterwards added hundreds to the throng. The park has seldom contained more people. About 2,500 coupon tickets were sold at the Elm Grove office on Sixteenth street, which, considering the people who got on at other stations and those who went in private conveyances, means not less than 3,500 people. Judging from appearances one would be tempted to put the crowd at twice that, for every part of the park had its own crowd amusing itself in its own way. The forenoon was largely spent in sauntering about the beautiful grounds, though many danced to the lively strains of the Opera House orchestra. The band also made promenade music on the mound. At noon dinner was in order. Nearly all had taken their baskets out, well enough supplied for both dinner and supper, and the mound was one assemblage of family parties about well filled tables. The opening amusement of the afternoon programme would have caused great fun, but for one drawback—it did not come off. It was a wheelbarrow race for ladies and gentlemen. Apparently the ladies have not become as expert with the wheelbarrow as with the bicycle, and there were no contestants. Ed Prosser won the next event, sack jumping, and William Kindleberger took the potato race. In the foot race Prosser and Alexander were tied. In the road race Andy Hoeres came in first, Hermann Frederick second and Howard Schaefer third. Frank Miller won the bicycle race, Bert Otto the foot race. In the crockery breaking contest Harry Stroebel was the winner, and John Truschel carried off the prize in the very entertaining fat men's race. In the bowling contest the high score was a tie, H. E. Ebeling and C. Ebeling each making 137 pins. J. McCasland scored 135 and G. McKown 134. In a later game J. Day rolled 194 and carried off the prize. Dancing was the main order of the night. The floor committee was composed of Will Sandler, G. W. Armstrong, J. W. Herbert, William Wolty, G. W. Kimmins, H. G. Hoffmann, Al Ulrich, F. Wiegand and C. A. Kliever, and the general committees in charge were as follows: Committee on amusements—Adam Fehrenbach, Charles F. Gilligan, Gus Mager, Henry Hartman, Lee Wolf, J. Finer, Ed Steele, William Steinbecker, Ed C. Bayha, Joseph Dudley, Charles Klein. Committee of arrangements—J. C. Stroebel, F. Viewig, John Mehlman, H. W. Schrebe, Thomas Killen. Fireworks and paper balloons added to the enjoyment, and taken altogether the grocers' outing was one of the most memorable events of the kind ever enjoyed at the park. The Wheeling & Elm Grove railroad had its hands pretty full carrying the people, but did it in great shape, without injury or discomfort to a passenger. It was another triumph added to the record of Captain Weisgerber and his efficient force.

THE CIGARETTE QUESTION. The Legality of the Law Argued Before Judge Nathan Goff. Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer. MARTINSBURG, W. Va., June 20.—The case of the state against Frank Miner, involving the anti-cigarette law recently enacted by the legislature of West Virginia, came up for argument before United States Circuit Judge Nathan Goff this morning. A special term of the court was held for the hearing of this case. The state was represented by Prosecuting Attorney U. S. G. Pitzer. Mr. Fuller, of New York, was counsel for Miner, and the attorneys having agreed upon the facts of the case, a statement of them was submitted to the court and both counsel addressed themselves to the question of law involved. Counsel for Miner contended that the packages of cigarettes sold by Miner were original and unbroken packages, and that any attempt on the part of the state to collect revenue by taxing such imported goods was an interference with interstate commerce, and hence null and void under the original package decisions of the supreme court of the United States. After a full argument the case was submitted to the court.

Shortly after 6 o'clock the convention adjourned until 10 a. m. to-morrow. The convention adjourned with several names presented for secretary. Since adjournment the northwestern states have brought out M. J. Dowling, of Bendville, Minn., who has been chief clerk of the legislature two terms, and is chief organizer of the league in Minnesota.

The election of secretary will be the order of business when the convention reassembles to-morrow morning. Immediately after the election of secretary, the committee on resolutions will report the action resolution to have no resolutions, and their report will no doubt be promptly adopted.

NO SKELETON AT THE FEAST Where a Harmonious Party Congratulated itself on its Virtues and Recounted the Shortcomings of Incompetent Democracy. CLEVELAND, O., June 20.—The banquet, tendered the delegates to the national Republican league convention at the Arcade to-night, was a memorable and brilliant affair. There were 1,500 plates turned on the ground floor, while the four balconies were filled with thousands of spectators. The ladies were out on masse in evening dress and the occasion socially was equal to a national inauguration ball. No hall could have afforded such facilities as the interior of the Arcade building.

No expense nor ingenuity was spared to make the finest spectacular effects. After the elaborate menu had run its course, Hon. John H. Hoyt, who was recently a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, introduced the speech making. In his introductory address Mr. Hoyt was witty and brilliant, starting the oratory with cheers and wild demonstrations.

"Governor" Henry Clay Evans, of Tennessee, responded to "Our Party and the New South." D. D. Woodmansee, president of the Ohio league, took Governor McKinley's place in responding to the "Grand Old Party."

Senator-elect J. C. Burrows, of Michigan, responded to "Perfidy and Dishonor" and "Political Integrity." Toastmaster Hoyt then announced that Senator Ingalls, who was on the programme as the next speaker, was delayed owing to a mis-connection, and Warner M. Miller, of New York, responded to the toast assigned to Senator Ingalls—"Republicanism in the West."

The toast of Mr. Depew, on "Our Democratic President," was the only one ignored. The disgusted committee said they would treat Depew like the silver question had been treated by ignoring him. The toast master made some happy remarks in reference to the absence of Chauncey M. Depew, to respond to the toast "Our Democratic President." Mr. Hoyt suggested that in the absence of Mr. Depew the toast be drank standing.

Mrs. J. Ellen Foster followed in response to the toast, "The Woman's Republican Association of the United States." Senator-elect John M. Thurston, of Nebraska, responded to the toast, "The National Republican League."

Shortly after midnight the banquet was over. The glee club and orchestra made the air melodious as the vast throng passed out of the festive Arcade.

THE NEW LEAGUE PRESIDENT. CLEVELAND, OHIO, June 20.—General McAlpin, the new president of the Republican league, is a successful merchant and soldier. He is adjutant general of New York, and being chief of Governor Levi P. Morton's staff, his election is considered by some as favorable to his election for president. General McAlpin is 55 years old, but is as active as most men at 40. He was president of the New York state league for four years. He is a member of the New York board of trade and chamber of commerce, and it is said he is a candidate for the next governorship of New York.

A MATRIMONIAL MIX. RALEIGH, N. C., June 20.—A singular marriage case is attracting attention here. Monday, Adolph G. Bauer and Miss Rachel Blythe, both of Raleigh, were married at Washington, D. C. Bauer is a native of Philadelphia and lived in Ohio several years. He is the most prominent architect in this state. His bride is a Cherokee Indian and under the laws of North Carolina they could not marry here. They were legally advised that if they married elsewhere their marriage would be valid in this state, but to-day the announcement is made that the marriage is invalid, and that under a supreme court decision they are liable to prosecution if they return. Their many friends are greatly concerned.

THE NEW SOUTH. BALTIMORE, MD., June 20.—The past week is one of the most notable in the history of the south, on account of the number of the new enterprises of the magnitude which have been made public. The Manufacturers' Record has received official confirmation of the report that the Southern railway company will make its principal tidewater terminus at Norfolk, and has secured control of over two miles of water front on which to erect warehouses, wharves and an elevator and other buildings. West Virginia reports a $300,000 lumber company, also several new oil wells and saw mills.

Several of the merchants of this city are opposed to closing up at 6 o'clock, and have got a petition whereby the stores will close at 7:30 o'clock, instead of 6 o'clock.

Invitations were sent out yesterday announcing the wedding of Mr. Albert Roff and Miss Hattie Lee, to take place next Thursday, June 27. Both are well known.

Mrs. C. J. Crawford left yesterday for her home at St. Clairsville Junction, after visiting her parents in the Second ward.
