

TROOPS WILL MOVE

This Morning to the Scene of the Elkhorn Coal Strike.

EIGHT COMPANIES UNDER ORDERS

From Governor MacCorkle to Proceed to the Seat of War.

LIFE AND PROPERTY THREATENED.

According to the Demands Made by the Operators--A Passenger Train Derailed--The Governor's Warning to the Leader of the Strikers--The Latter Wires That He is Doing All He Can to Maintain Peace--United States Marshal Lafa Garden on the Ground.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer. CHARLESTON, W. VA., July 7, MIDDNIGHT--Governor MacCorkle decided late to-night to send troops to the Elkhorn coal field, and eight companies of the Second regiment will move tomorrow. The demands for the soldiers state that great fear exists and that there are threats of destruction of lives and property.

CHARLESTON, W. VA., July 7.--Governor MacCorkle stated to-night that he would try to induce the operators in the Elkhorn and Bluefield regions to make an honest effort to resume to-morrow and if they said they could not, he would at once order troops out to protect all men who wanted to work. The governor says he is confident troops will have to be ordered out to-morrow.

However, telegrams received at the state house from the Elkhorn region to-day indicate that there is apparently no cause for immediate apprehension of trouble there.

A dispatch was received from Lawless the local labor leader in that section, stating he had ordered all the strikers to cease carrying guns as per order of the governor, except two or three, who will act as his body guard, as he says his life has been threatened by some of the guards employed by the company. The governor replied by saying he was glad to hear of the decision of the leader, and warned him that turbulent demonstrations must cease, or troops should be called out to suppress them.

A telegram from the governor's private secretary, Captain J. E. White, at Elkhorn, says that a passenger train on the North Fork branch of the Norfolk & Western was derailed last night by some one throwing a switch, but that no one was hurt. The dispatch states that the men are all quiet to-day and few are moving about.

The governor said this morning that he had been advised that United States Marshal Garden and eight deputies arrived at Elkhorn to-day and took possession of the railroad property. This was the first word that Governor MacCorkle or Adjutant General Holley received that the federal authorities were taking a hand in suppressing the trouble.

Dick Branch colliery will try to start to-morrow with twenty new men. The sheriff and deputies will be on hand to guard them. Whether their services are needed depends upon how much security there was in Mr. Lawless' professions of a desire to prevent disorder.

Marshal Garden Leaves for the Scene. HUNTINGTON, July 7.--United States Marshal Garden and twenty deputies left here on a special early this morning for the Elkhorn mining region. The marshal wished to be in readiness in case an outbreak should occur. The three companies of militia here are still under arms.

Miners in a Starving Condition. BLUEFIELD, W. VA., July 7.--The situation to-day in the mining region has been quiet, but the railroad and coal operators have been heavily guarded by the deputy marshals and guard.

Governor MacCorkle's private secretary is on the grounds carefully watching the situation. Effigies of non-union men are hung on the mountain roads riddled with bullets. Some of the miners are in a starving condition and it is generally conceded they must return to work or leave the field.

TROUBLE FEARED As the Result of Bringing Negroes to Take Strikers' Places.

SHARON, PA., July 7.--The strike at the Sharon iron works which has been in progress for about two weeks for an advance of wages, was complicated to-day by the arrival of a carload of negroes, who will be put to work in the mills. The strikers have done their best to induce the colored men to leave, but the company's representatives say the old men must return to work without an advance or the negroes will be put to work. He declared that he will bring 150 more negroes to Sharon next week. There is much bitterness and trouble is anticipated.

THE ELK FACTIONS May Declare Peace at the Atlantic City Meeting.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 7.--The leaders of the two factions of the Elks--Grand Exalted Ruler Edwin B. Hay, who will preside over the convention, and Meado D. Detwiler, of Harrisburg, who was elected grand exalted ruler by the Buffalo faction, which was recently declared in a United States circuit court to have no legal standing--have arrived in this city.

An Ex-Governor's Suicide. SAN LUIS OBISPO, CAL., July 7.--Ex-Governor Stevenson, of Idaho, committed suicide yesterday at Pariso

Spring, a health resort near here. Ex-Governor Stevenson arrived at Pariso Springs June 5. He was afflicted with sciatica and was in a helpless condition. It is supposed that during the night the pain returned and, in desperation, he took a large dose of laudanum.

ANOTHER GIRL BABY

Born to the President and Mrs. Cleveland--The Happy Event Occurred Sunday Afternoon--Mother and Child Doing Well.

BIZZARD'S BAY, MASS., July 7.--Born to Mr. and Mrs. Grover Cleveland, a girl, at 4:30 p. m., to-day. Just before 5 o'clock to-night the news reached the village that a girl baby had been born at Gray Gables. This report was soon verified by Dr. Bryant, who announced that the happy event occurred at 4:30 p. m., and that both mother and little one were doing as well as could be expected.

This is the third child to be born into the President's family, and all of them are girls. Ruth is four years old and Esther two. Only a passing glance could be obtained from the President this afternoon, but that was sufficient to note an expression of satisfaction on the face of the chief executive, although it was an open secret that a boy baby would not have been unwelcome. Mrs. Cleveland's mother, Mrs. Perrine, is expected to arrive from Buffalo this week.

NUMBER OF LIVES LOST On Steam Vessels Increased Last Year. The Record for Nineteen Years.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 7.--The records of the United States steamboat inspection service, which during the last nineteen years has been under the direction of General Dumont, as inspector general, shows that during the last fiscal year the number of lives lost on steam vessels was approximately 368. This was an increase over the average for the preceding eighteen years of 128.

The great increase was caused by the large loss of life by the foundering of the steamship Colima recently off the Pacific coast. This makes the average for the last nineteen years 217. The highest previous annual loss was 888, in 1874, the lowest was 133, year 1885. Notwithstanding the great increase in the number of vessels since 1870--over 100 per cent--there have been but 729 disasters to steam vessels, with a loss of but 5,067 lives, the number of passengers carried per annum having increased from 122,889,130 carried in 1870 to not less than 650,000,000 carried in 1892.

The average loss of life under the law of 1882 was one person to every 250,161 passengers carried, while under the act of 1871, which greatly improved the efficiency of the service, there was only one life lost in each 2,708,333 passengers carried, or a reduction in the number of lives lost of nearly eleven to one in proportion to the number of passengers carried. The service consists of about 175 officers and clerks, one supervising inspector general, ten supervising inspectors of districts, under whom are local inspectors, divided amongst the various customs collection districts of the United States.

VICTIM OF THE RIOT

At Boston Buried--The Funeral of John W. Willis.

BOSTON, MASS., July 7.--The funeral of John W. Willis, the victim of Thursday's riot in East Boston, was held this afternoon from his home. Rev. Father McCarthy, of the Church of the Assumption, officiated. A dense squad filled the avenue leading to the house, and the presence of a squad of police was necessary to control the 10,000 people estimated to have been in the vicinity. Father McCarthy performed the simple Catholic ceremony at the coffin, which was covered with flowers, the most conspicuous being a pillow from the seven fatherless children, which read "Papa."

The body was interred at Holy Cross cemetery, and the cortege was composed of the various organizations of which Willis was a member and citizens of East Boston. The stars and stripes, with a mourning band catching the folds, was borne at the head of the procession. Mrs. Willis is left practically penniless by the death of her husband, with seven children to care for.

A CHILD KILLED

By the Descending Stick of a Sky Rocket at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, July 7.--Edna Howes, the two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Howes, was struck on the head by the descending stick of a sky rocket last night and died in convulsions early this morning. Mrs. Howes, with the child in its coach, was witnessing the pyrotechnic display of the Bramble club in the northeastern section of the city. She stood in the midst of a large crowd and was arranging the little one in the coach preparatory to starting for home, when the stick, which had been unperceived by her, struck the babe. The child's death has been caused by concussion of the brain.

A SAD TRAGEDY.

A Young Lady Accidentally Kills an Aged Lady While Practicing With a Revolver.

WILKESBARRE, PA., July 7.--A sad tragedy took place at Pittston this morning. Miss Kate Connell, aged twenty-four, found a revolver in her brother's pocket. It contained two cartridges. She hoisted the window and began firing at some sparrows. One of the bullets struck Mrs. C. Kelly, an aged woman, who was in the yard at the time. Death resulted almost instantly. Miss Connell gave herself up and was committed to jail. It is feared that she will lose her mind over the occurrence.

A Murder Mystery.

LUDINGTON, MICH., July 7.--The body of an unknown man, well dressed and of refined appearance, with a bullet wound over his heart, was discovered floating near the lake shore, a mile north of Ludington harbor today. His coat, vest and boots were on a log 200 feet further south. A revolver with one empty shell was found lying in shallow water. There is no clue to his identity.

FROM THE PRISON

At Van to Constantinople, by Order of the Sultan.

THE ARMENIAN REVOLUTIONISTS

Who Were Betrayed by a Supposed Friend at Tchiboukka.

AN ENGLISH SUBJECT AMONG THEM.

Tortured into Confessing His Identity--A Cause for British Interference--The Story of the Capture of Thrilling Interest--Turkish Government Collecting a Whole Year's Taxes in Advance From the Armenians--Stripping the People of Everything--More Cruelties by the Barbarous Turks.

Special Correspondence of the Associated Press.

VAN, ARMENIA, June 6.--The Armenian revolutionist prisoners, who were betrayed to the Turkish government at Tchiboukka on May 19, were taken from the prison at Van very early on the morning of Sunday, June 2, and started on their way to Constantinople. This was done under the orders of the sultan. No one knew that the prisoners were to be transferred until they actually had left Van, the order having come from Constantinople late Saturday night. Instead of being dragged along on foot the men were mounted on caravan horses. They all go to Trebizond by way of Erzeroum under guard of a detachment of cavalry. At Trebizond they will be put on board a steamer and sent to Constantinople under guard of a small squad of infantry. It was reported that several of the Yezidees who betrayed them would accompany them to Constantinople to be rewarded and honored by the sultan, but the Yezidees instead, returned to their village to make out a list of all their able-bodied countrymen eligible for enrollment in the Hamidich cavalry. Hahto, the head man, will, it is reported by government officials, subsequently go to Constantinople to be honored by the sultan, and to receive his commission as leader of the Hamidich forces raised among his followers.

The Associated Press correspondent is now in a position to say that a second revolutionary band is in existence across the Persian frontier. The governor is now collecting the whole year's taxes in advance, which is a most unheard of and cruel proceeding. Heretofore the people have paid their taxes in installments during the year, but now, when they have no money at all, and no way of earning anything, the demand is for the full year's taxes in advance. The demand is accentuated by beatings and bayonet thrusts. The soldiers have taken everything that they can lay hands on, and in very many cases that have lately been stripped of everything, even to the clothes upon their backs and the dishes in which they cook their scanty food. Thousands of poor villagers are living on roots and greens, and on the Moush plains the wretched Sassounis are literally starving to death.

STORY OF THE CAPTURE.

How the Revolutionists Were Betrayed. An English Subject Tortured by the Turkish Government.

From the Correspondent of the Associated Press in Armenia. VAN, ARMENIA, May 30.--The advance guard of the revolutionary party which, as announced a week ago, was betrayed to the Turkish government by the Yezidees of Tchiboukka, on the night of Sunday, May 19, is now in prison in the city of Van. Only one member of the party escaped and he, at the earliest possible moment and at great risk to himself, put himself in communication with the correspondent of the Associated Press. The latter is now in possession of complete information with respect to the prisoners, but as he is not disposed to furnish the Turkish government information so long as there remains the slightest chance that these men may escape death, he holds, for the present at least, a considerable part of the facts concerning them.

STORY OF THE CAPTURE.

How the Revolutionists Were Betrayed. An English Subject Tortured by the Turkish Government.

From the Correspondent of the Associated Press in Armenia. VAN, ARMENIA, May 30.--The advance guard of the revolutionary party which, as announced a week ago, was betrayed to the Turkish government by the Yezidees of Tchiboukka, on the night of Sunday, May 19, is now in prison in the city of Van. Only one member of the party escaped and he, at the earliest possible moment and at great risk to himself, put himself in communication with the correspondent of the Associated Press. The latter is now in possession of complete information with respect to the prisoners, but as he is not disposed to furnish the Turkish government information so long as there remains the slightest chance that these men may escape death, he holds, for the present at least, a considerable part of the facts concerning them.

The men had been hiding in the mountains waiting for reinforcements, making plans for carrying on their work, and the weather having turned cold and wet, they went to the house of Hahto, headman of Tchiboukka, to warm themselves and dry their clothing. Hahto was supposed to be friendly to the Armenian cause, as he was not Turk, and great numbers of his fellow countrymen had been massacred by the Turkish government in the Moush district in 1892.

Upon arriving at Hahto's house the men stacked arms in the corner and gathered about the fire. While they were squatted about the fire, Hahto's scribe, a Turk, called his master out of the house and insisted that they be handed over to the Turkish government. The scribe threatened to denounce Hahto to the government unless the men were betrayed. Hahto then called together a force of Kurds and Yezidees and ordered them to make the capture. The villagers went into the room one by one and took part in the conversation.

At a signal they seized the guns and commanded the men to surrender under pain of instant death. Taken completely by surprise, the revolutionists made no resistance. Of the fourteen members in the party only one escaped. Each man had a Borden rifle and six of the party had revolvers. There were large numbers of cartridges and some materials for making dynamite bombs, and a gelatine enyping pad for making duplicates of letters. The prisoners were taken to Savaal the next day by soldiers and were then marched sixty miles to Van, where they arrived Wednesday evening. Their arrival was watched by a large crowd of Turks and Armenians. On the way they were beaten by gun butts and prodded with bayonets and otherwise maltreated. As the English member of the party was unable to walk the whole distance, he given a horse to ride the last twenty miles of the way.

AN ENGLISH SUBJECT.

The Englishman told the officials that he was Harry Williams, of 22 Ormiston Road, Shepherd's Bush, London. His father was William Williams, of the same address. He had with him a photograph of a young woman and an English passport made out to Harry Williams on June 15, 1892. He declared that he was the correspondent of a telegraphic agency of London and that his card of credentials was made out in the name of Paul Quessal. He was, he explained, on his way to Moush and Sassoon region to investigate the Armenian situation. His thirteen companions were to his pay as guards against attacks by Kurds. The other prisoners told the same story. All were dressed as Kurds, including Williams. At first Williams denied that he could speak Armenian, but subsequently, under pressure of torture, he admitted that he could. After a week of experimenting with various kinds of persusions known to Turkish jailors, the governor of Van said that Williams had confessed to everything. Nobody believes this. Up to May 30 Williams had been unable to see the British vice consul at Van, although Mr. Hallward went so far as to ask the governor unofficially to let him see Williams, but the request was refused. All of the prisoners have been tortured during the week, and it is reported that their persons have been violated by the prison officials in the most revolting and disgusting manner. The situation in Armenia grows worse day by day. The Associated Press is constantly in receipt of stories of robbery, outrages and murder. The condition of the Armenians has been worse during the past six months than it has ever been before. Even in the city of Van, soldiers have been placed on guard at the Armenian churches, the officials fearing an uprising.

The correspondent had a talk yesterday with one of the leaders of the revolutionary party in the province of Van. He stated that so far as he is concerned, the revolutionists will hold their hands until it is known what Great Britain will do. He admitted, also, that the capture of Williams had very seriously disarranged the revolutionary plans for the time being. No other leader is at present available.

EVERYTHING READY

For the Great World's Christian Endeavor Convention--Sixty-Five Thousand Persons Can Be Accommodated.

BOSTON, MASS., July 7.--The committee having in charge the extensive arrangements for the great Christian Endeavor Convention, which opens here next Wednesday, have now practically completed their work and are ready to receive the delegates as they arrive. These arrangements have been most thorough; profiting by all the lessons taught by previous conventions, neither time nor pains have been spared in perfecting them, and the committee announces that 65,000 persons can be provided for without confusion or discomfort. Two large tents, 284 by 180 feet with a seating capacity of 8,000 each, have been pitched on Boston Commons and will be ready for occupancy by to-morrow night. These tents, together with the Mechanics' building, will be the principal meeting places during the week, although services will be held daily in many churches in the city. During the noon hour, 125 companies of the Christian Endeavor will daily visit the large manufacturing firms, dry goods houses and places of business and hold services there with the employees.

One of the most difficult problems confronting the committee has been how to feed a multitude as is expected to be present during the convention in the short time between the sessions. This has been solved by turning machinery hall in Mechanics building, into a mammoth restaurant, with a seating capacity of 2,800, where everything from a dairy lunch to a table d'hote dinner can be obtained.

Special attention has been given to the vocal exercises of the convention, and for the past three months a chorus of 3,000 voices has been rehearsing the songs to be sung. This chorus will be divided into three parts, so that the music in each of the large tents and Mechanics' Hall will be led by 100 trained singers. Once, at least, during the week, the three choruses will be united. A huge outdoor meeting will be held on the common, and all the meetings will be adjourned to take part. A meeting will also be held in Faneuil Hall. During the convention large parties will visit the historic places in this vicinity, including Concord and Lexington, Cambridge, Salem, Plymouth and Bunker Hill.

FATAL COLLISION

Of an Electric Car and a Freight Train. One Passenger Instantly Killed.

NILES, OHIO, July 7.--An electric car loaded with people returning from Riverside Park was struck by a freight train on the Erie railway here this evening and wrecked. The car was nearly across the track when the locomotive struck it, hurling it upon its side. Frank Wilson, a merchant, was instantly killed and Mrs. G. W. Holden, of Warren, was dangerously and perhaps fatally injured. Several other persons were seriously, though not fatally hurt, among them being Frank Ramsey, of Warren; Samuel Graham, the conductor of the car; Edward Rader, the motorman; Moody Hipple and William Lewis, of Niles, and Miss Hattie Lewis, of Warren.

CUBAN PATRIOTS

Preparing in New York to Go to the Rescue of Their Country.

NEW YORK, July 7.--About 300 young Cuban patriots are making preparations to leave this city with the expedition organized by Generals Collazo and Quesada. The refugees are being drilled in squads of fifty, under the direction of Julio Castro Yalliva, who fought in the last revolution. The drilling will be kept up from 8 to 10 p. m., on two nights of each week, until the expedition is ready to start. Many of the young men are members of prominent families in Havana, and they are enthusiastic patriots.

To Name a Cuban Leader.

TAMPA, FLA., July 7.--The thirty Cuban clubs in this city held meetings to-day to elect representatives to the convention to be held on July 10 to name Marti's successor. Tomas Estrada

Palma is the unanimous choice here. Telegrams received from New York to-day indicate the same feeling there.

MORTON'S HUMOR.

The Secretary of Agriculture Shows His Appreciation of a Satire On "Coin's Financial School"--The Dream of the Silverites Ridiculed.

TOPEKA, Kas., July 7.--W. O. Campbell, of Topeka, who wrote a satire, which was set to music, entitled "A Graduate of Coin's Financial School," recently sent a copy of it to Secretary of Agriculture Morton. Acknowledging the receipt of it, Mr. Morton says: "MY DEAR SIR:--I hasten to thank you for a 'Graduate of Coin's Financial School' set to music and to express my appreciation of the satire therein contained. 'Before the money creed of these financial philosophers was evolved mankind generally supposed that it required something more than legislation or statute making to institute thrift and prosperity. In the dark ages, however, the alchemists, necromancers and enchanters, with weird ceremonies, professed to transmit worthlessness into value and to change the form and character of material things by mere incantations. They sought the philosopher's stone and their search for the means of compounding gold out of baser metals was in vain. Centuries ago they left that field of experimentation. 'It remained for Bland, Bryan, Stewart, Teller, Sibley and their zealous disciples, by mere warring of their 'silver tongues,' to invoke from the viewless viscera of vacuity vast volumes of value. When these financial enchanters shall have thoroughly demonstrated and established their theories of making wealth and prosperity through the mere 'be it, enacted' of legislation, all mankind will be at rest, an eternal holiday and absolute worklessness will settle down upon this luxuriant and beautiful globe. Legislation will take the place of human effort, physical and intellectual. Money, food, raiment, meat and drink, board and lodging will be secured by statutes, and paradise regained by enactment."

"Respectfully yours, 'J. STERLING MORTON.'"

IMPORTANT IF TRUE.

Rumors That the Pope Will Absolve Working People From Observance of Days of Abstinence.

NEW YORK, July 7.--Rev. Father Ducey is authority for the statement that the pope has promulgated a decree absolving poor people and working people from the observance of all days of abstinence in the year except Fridays, even during Lent. A rumor that such a decree was in existence has been in circulation for some time and Father Ducey says that the document has been forwarded to the bishops of the United States and has been promulgated in the world. Father Ducey said: "Many of the ecclesiastics of this country have felt for years that the burden of denial placed on the shoulders and consciences of the struggling and working poor was more than a hardship, almost a martyrdom. 'I have not seen the official document sent to the bishops of the United States, but this information came to me about two months ago from a most trustworthy Roman correspondent. It has seemed to me for years that this legislation in favor of God's hard working poor was most necessary. What a hardship to ask of men and women, whose fare is always meagre, doubtful and uncertain, to practice a denial that robs them of their strength and unfits them for the proper discharge of their duties and labor, when the comfortable, the well-to-do and the rich and luxurious, feasting sumptuously every day, find fault, as I have known them to do, with the hardship of the season of Lent.' Father Lovello, of the archbishop's residence, says that the rumor is absurd and was manufactured in New York."

CATHOLIC SUMMER SCHOOL

Formally Opened at Plattsburg with Impressive Ceremonies--Distinguished Clergymen Present.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., July 7.--The annual session of the Catholic Summer School of America was formally opened at St. John's church to-day. Fully 2,000 persons were seated in the handsome church and thousands more, unable to gain admission, were standing on the streets when the procession of bishops and priests started from the residence of Very Rev. Dr. Walsh, pastor of the church. Special trains and boats brought thousands of visitors from the Adirondacks and Vermont to witness the ceremonies. Pontifical high mass was celebrated by Mgr. Satolli, papal delegate; Mgr. J. M. Farley, of Memphis, assistant priest; Very Rev. Frederick Wagerick, of Brooklyn, and Rev. K. Girard, provincial of the oblates, deacons of honor; Rev. W. H. O'Connell, of Boston, deacon; J. B. Daley, sub-deacon; Rev. R. M. Pierce, deacon of the cross; Rev. J. H. McMahon, master of ceremonies; W. S. McLaughlin, assistant master. At the conclusion of the mass the sermon was preached by Most Rev. M. A. Corrigan, D. D., archbishop of New York, on "The Nature and Necessity of Religion."

NO LAW IN TEXAS

Against Prize Fights and There is Nothing to Prevent the Corbett-Fitzsimmons Contest.

DALLAS, TEXAS, July 7.--Judge George Clark, of Waco, has submitted an opinion as to the legality of the proposed Corbett-Fitzsimmons glove contest. The opinion is very exhaustive and lengthy. His conclusions are: 1. That the original act of 1891 was wholly inoperative. 2. That when its provisions were reenacted in the penal code of 1893, it was still inoperative for want of some court to try the offense. 3. That the law was repealed by the revised statutes, which go into effect on September 1, 1895. 4. That there is now no law upon the statute book of Texas prohibiting pugilistic encounters and that upon a payment or tender of the license fee prescribed for such exhibition, there is no lawful power in the state to enforce present laws to interfere with the exhibition. Judge Clark gave the master at issue careful study and patient research and his opinion is most sweeping.

FURIOUS STORM

Does Great Damage in Chicago and on the Lake.

A NUMBER OF VESSELS CAPSIZED,

And It is Feared That the Loss of Life is Considerable.

LIFE-SAVING CREWS KEPT BUSY

Tracing Rumors of Disaster--The Occupants of Three Wrecked Boats Brought in Exhausted--The Storm Comes Up Suddenly and Almost Without Warning--Several Houses in the City Struck by Lightning. Awful Experience of People Caught on the Lake by the Hurricane.

CHICAGO, July 7.--One of the most furious wind and rain storms known in this vicinity for years passed over the city about 6 o'clock this evening, coming from the northwest. The day had been intensely hot, and there were many people out on the lake in sail boats, and, as the storm came very suddenly, it is feared that several lives were lost. The different life-saving crews have been busy all evening tracing rumors of capsized boats, people clinging to planks, etc., and up to 10 p. m., have brought in the occupants of three capsized boats, all in a very exhausted condition. No trace of any others has been found. The police at the Cottage Grove Avenue Station on the South Side, claim that they distinctly saw a sail boat with three occupants disappear during the height of the gale, and that nothing was seen of it again during daylight. The life savers from the South Side cruised about that locality for some time, but found no traces of a wreck. It is probable that more missing will be reported from the various suburbs at a later hour.

Up to within twenty minutes of the descent of the storm upon the city, the sky had been clear and the sun was shining brightly. Suddenly heavy black clouds began to gather in the northwest and a few minutes later a terrific gale of wind, accompanied by a perfect flood of rain and furious thunder and lightning, was sweeping over the city. Shade trees were broken off close to the ground, swings, signs, etc., torn away, and much minor damage done in the city proper. The wind moderated after about half an hour, but the furious rain continued for fully two hours. Many basements were flooded all over the city and in some instances fire engines had to be called for to pump out stores. Several houses in the outlying districts of the city were struck by lightning and seriously damaged. Two small residences were completely destroyed, but no one injured. The pecuniary loss in both cases was small.

At the height of the storm a signal tower beside the Pan-Handle tracks at Ada street was blown over and the tower man, August Boedlow, sustained fatal injuries. Several other people are reported painfully cut and bruised by flying debris. At 11 p. m. the police and life-savers think that all the missing boats, both row boats and sail boats, are accounted for, although it is possible that a few may yet be out. The people in the boats which were blown out into the lake by the hurricane report having had an awful experience. So far the only fatality actually verified is the case of Charles Klein, John Ross and Charles L. Shook, who were out in a row boat when the storm burst, and of whom no trace has yet been found. The yawl boat of the yacht Hattie B. was picked up this evening off Twenty-sixth street, and it is thought that the yacht has weathered the gale and made some other port.

The damage to telegraph and telephone wires northwest of the city was very great. Every telegraph wire was prostrated, many poles being carried away, and it was 10 o'clock before telegraphic communication was restored to Milwaukee.

Up to midnight no further fatalities had been reported, and it is thought now that every one who was out on the lake has been accounted for. The report of the drowning of three men off Cottage Grove avenue is now thought to be without foundation, as a small boat containing three men put ashore safely near the Farragut bathhouse soon after the policeman made the report to the station. This is thought to have been the one seen by the officer.

A Terrific Cyclone.

PINE BLUFF, ARK., July 7.--A terrific cyclone swept over this city and adjacent territory north at 11 o'clock to-night. All wires north and south are down and news of the damage, which must have been considerable, cannot be ascertained at this late hour.

The Insurgent Leader--The Report is Finally Confirmed.

HAVANA, July 7.--The news of the death of Aramburo, the insurgent leader, is finally confirmed. He was pursued by a band of troops and lost eight killed. It is rumored that about eighty men have landed in the neighborhood of Santa Cruz, commanded by a Venezuelan. Great fighting is expected within a few days between General Gascos and Navarro's troops and Maceo, who is said to be surrounded by them.
