IT WAS LABOR'S DAY.

The Annual Parade and Celebration on Saturday

WAS A VERY CREDITABLE SUCCESS.

A Fine Procession in the Forenoon, in Which All the Organizations Take Part—The Picnic at Mozart Park Somewhat Interfered With by Rain, But It Was a Success Nevertheless—Some of the Features of the Day.Saturday was Wheeling's annual Labor Day, and it was celebrated in a way which reflected credit on the Ohio Valley Trades and Labor Assembly, under whose auspices it has grown to be an institution in the community. The parade in the forenoon was quite as impressive as any of its predecessors, in past years, and the celebration at Mozart Park, which followed, was a success, though somewhat interfered with by the showers. Nearly all the mills and factories shut down for the occasion, and considering that it was Saturday business in general was unusually thoroughly suspended.The day opened with weather which could not be improved upon. Early in the morning the gathering organizations and bands made the streets lively, and the number of bands was an especially notable feature. The way in which the formation and moving of the procession was handled was exceedingly creditable.
All the local unions were in place promptly, and the procession moved "on the dot," at 10 o'clock, as Chief Marshal Clifton had declared it should.
The line was formed on Chapline, with the divisions on Twelfth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets, and the line of march was down Chapline to Sixteenth, and over the route already laid out by the marshals and printed in the INTELLIGENCER.The procession was of good size, and attracted much admiring attention all along the line. It was composed as follows:

FIRST DIVISION.
Chief Marshal G. W. Clifton, Chief of Staff Fred Williams, and Aides Andrew Wilson, Joseph Robinson, J. Donahue, and J. S.
Parker, members of the assembly.
Division Marshal Oscar Howard.
Platoon of police under Lieut. Dan Ingram.
Sister's band, 40 men.
Tympanical Union, 60 men.
Local Union No. 8, A. F. of W., 150 men.
Local Union No. 14 and 4 Carpenters and Joiners, 50 men.
Wheeling City band, 16 men.
Bricklayers' Union, 60 men.
International Stone Masons' Union No. 2, 20 men.
Local Union No. 5, O. E. S. W., 50 men.
SECOND DIVISION.
Division Marshal William Winder and aides.
Opera House band, 20 men.
Garfield Assembly, O. E. S. W., 125 men.
Friendship Lodge A. A. of O. E. S. W., 25 men.
Local No. 1, Sons of Vulcan, of Benwood, 50 men.
Crescent Lodge No. 8, A. A. of O. E. S. W., 50 men.
Mayer's band, 20 men.
Brewery Workers' Union, 35 men.
Journeyman Butchers' Union No. 5, 25 men.
THIRD DIVISION.
Division Marshal William Nesbitt and aides.
Café band, 15 men.
Journeyman Pottery Union, 120 men.
U. M. W. of A. No. 146, 60 men.
Tobacco Workers No. 2, A. F. of L., 30 men.
Steubenville Tailors' Local No. 151, 20 men.

FOURTH DIVISION.
Division Marshal William Latouch and aides.
Boiler Makers No. 153 in wagon.
Iron Moulders No. 57 in wagon.
Advertising wagons and carriages, Star foundry, Belmont brewery, Coopers' Union No. 27 in large wagon, and line of carriages, 50 men.A careful count showed that there were 1,180 men in line, which compares very favorably with almost any such demonstration ordinarily seen in Wheeling. The organizations marched well, and though the line to Mozart Park was long and the streets very dusty, there was no diminution in numbers and interest along the route.Many of the unions had distinguishing features which won special applause, and among these the neat uniforms of the printers came in for an unusual share. Perhaps as creditable a turnout as any in the line was that of the glassworkers, which was unexpectedly large, 150 men being in line, notwithstanding the long lockout through which they are still passing.There was quite a scene when the great crowd reached the incline, but all were carried up safely and in good time. The crowd on the hill top was large, and dancing and general social recreation was the order from the opening of the affair until nearly midnight.The first event of the program was the one-mile bicycle race, which started at 3 o'clock.The first prize was a fine gold and onyx stand, value $12; second prize, imperial vase, value $12; third prize, gold frame shaving cup, value $8. There were three riders who contested for the prizes, Joseph Lubie, Jesse McCausland, of Martin's Ferry, and Albert Kunkle, of St. Clairsville, O. Lubie proved an easy winner, while McCausland finished second and Kunkle about one hundred and fifty yards behind.The foot race, open to all, for a divided prize of $5, first prize $3 and second prize $2, was won by John O'Connor first and Jesse McCausland second.A very amusing race was the one-legged race, which was won by J. Graves.
Prize $3. The second prize of $2 was won by L. Allen, of Belaire.Owing to the heavy rain the potato and three-legged races were declared off.The bowling contest excited a great deal of interest, and resulted as follows: First prize, Albert Baker, score 217; second, William Bickmeyer, 192; third, Sam Ueslein, 191; fourth, John Wazner, 188.One of the features of the picnic which made more fun than any other, was the cake-walk, under the supervision of Osborne Gray. A number of colored contestants took part, and the walk was cheered by hundreds of spectators.Taken all in all, the celebration was one of the most orderly, enjoyable and in every way praiseworthy of the kind, and the committee and Trades Assembly are to be congratulated on the success they achieved.The decorations which were very general about town were nearly all taken down very suddenly between two and three o'clock, when a heavy shower began to fall. The town before that was in its gala attire, and some of the displays were exceedingly neat and appropriate.

Songs for "The Dazzler." Max Miller, the original of the German comedy part in "The Dazzler," returns to the cast this year, and will be welcomed by all who saw his clean-cut comedy work during the first four seasons of the play, and will gain many new friends by his irresistible humor and his dancing. "The Dazzler" will be seen at the Opera House next Wednesday evening. The sale of reserved seats will open at C. A. House's music store this morning.

NOT MUCH OF A FIRE.

Something is Radically Wrong with the Alarm System.An alarm of fire was rung in from box 3, at McCulloch and Thirteenth streets yesterday forenoon about 10:30 o'clock.
A party of children were playing under a porch in front of Samuel Reynolds's house, near that point and started a fire. The blaze caught the floor of the porch and charred it slightly, but did no damage worth speaking of.The large bell in the city hall tower rang apparently four times, and then stopped anything else but throes. In the houses the number registered right, but it does not always, and the big bell has not sounded the correct alarm for months. Something is radically wrong with the system. Chief Healy said yesterday, when asked what was wrong, that the mechanism that strikes the big bell is so seriously out of repair as to be apparently beyond remedy. He has had it repaired several times, and it seemed to be all right, but after one or two alarms it would be all wrong again.
It seems to be worn out.

BUFFALO BILL'S BIG SHOW.

America's Representative Amusement Affair a Truly Enormous Enterprise.There are so few entertainments in the list of those which annually recur that can be said to possess either novelty or other value than the whirling away of an idle hour, that it is distinctly a pleasure to announce the advent of Col. W. F. Cody, "Buffalo Bill," at the head of that remarkable and unique organization, the Wild West.The graphic and photographic accurate pictures of the life that was led on the plains by the Indians, cowboys and scouts in the early days of the Republic can never be duplicated after Colonel Cody shall retire. These are living pictures, stories in action by the living heroes of the days of yore and their Indian adventures now fast vanishing from the scene of life's combat.
These, too, are now rivalled in educational value by the addition of a genuine equitation convention, showing in the real persons of the actors the world's rough riders. There are representatives from the great standing armies of Europe, the English, Irish, French, German and Russian heavy and light branches of the cavalry service, and with these are the Arab, the Tartar, the Gaucha and the Indian.This enormous enterprise is under the management of Colonel Cody and those two widely known and in their several ways unequalled amusement managers, Mr. Nate Salisbury and Mr. James A.
Bailey, of Barnum & Bailey. This is a guarantee that every promise made to the public will be faithfully kept and that every one of the myriad details incident to the moving and presenting of this tremendous entertainment will be perfection itself. The reader should not forget that this organization can never be duplicated, and that to miss seeing it now is to take the chance of the opportunity never recurring. The wild West will be here next Saturday.

A Dangerous Live Wire.

Last evening a ground wire running down the side of the huge telegraph pole at the corner of Main and Fourteenth streets became heavily charged with electricity, and set fire to the pole.
It blazed a little near the top, and was considerably charred, not far above the ground. Night Watchman Murdock discovered it, and Manager Tracy was summoned by telephone. He undertook to cut the wire with a hatchet, when the blue and green flames shot out in all directions and there was a sputering like cold water in hot grease. A Wheeling Electrical Company line man was sent for, and the danger was removed, but all search failed to find just where the current came from. It is supposed an electric light wire had come in contact with one of the telegraph wires somewhere, but no such contact could be discovered.

Funeral of John Gartner.

The funeral of Mr. John Gartner took place yesterday afternoon from his late residence on North Main street, and was unusually largely attended, especially by the older German residents of the city. The German Pioneer society turned out in a body, and the pallbearers were all members of that organization. The floral offerings were profuse and very fine.

The Peaky Bugs Plenty.

The bugs that gather and swarm about the electric lights have been particularly bad the past two nights.
In the lot are many of a new variety, a fleecy white moth, which gives the swirling mass the appearance of a snow storm. The little gnats are still around in force, and cling to a person like grim death. Comment is often heard, however, that the mosquitoes are not half so bad this summer as usual.
