A LIVELY SESSION

Of the Trades and Labor Assembly Yesterday Afternoon.

SOME BOYCOTTS CONSIDERED.

Delegate Bodley, of the Bricklayers' Union, and One of the Assembly's Representatives on the Charter Committee, is Expelled for Voting Contrary to Instructions—He Claims that He was Not Under Instructions—County Clerk-elect Richard Robertson Addresses the Assembly.

The Ohio Valley Trades and Labor Assembly met yesterday afternoon in regular session, and when President Tighe called the meeting to order at 2:10 there was a good attendance of the delegates present. No new credentials were presented.

Under the head of boycotts, a delegate reported that the boycott placed on a Moundsville cigar manufacturer, was progressing favorably. A delegate from the Typographical union stated that the boycott on the Corner-Store would be pushed vigorously in the near future. The same delegate also stated that there was a misunderstanding existing as to the use of the typographical union label, between the German printers and the local union. Another delegate from the same union said that the misunderstanding would shortly be cleared up, and the German paper would have the use of the label.

A communication from the coopers' union, asking the assistance of the assembly in placing a boycott upon a non-union employing cooper, was referred to the arbitration committee. An extended discussion followed the reading of a communication from the manager of one of the city banks relative to damages for breach of contract on Labor day. This is the third communication of a similar nature. It was shown that the bank was never hired, on account of one of its members being a non-union man. This subject has become rather an old one and for the third time it was laid on the table.

J. C. Lacey sent in a communication, telling of the dissolution in partnership between him and T. V. Salisbury. Hereafter the latter will conduct the Ohio Valley Workman alone and asked that the cordial support of the assembly be given Mr. Salisbury.

The most important discussion took place over the matter of Delegate W. J. Bodley's expulsion, for voting contrary to the assembly's instructions which representative on the city charter committee. Delegate Bodley had been expelled some weeks ago, but yesterday he had a hearing to show causes why he should not be expelled.

Several of the delegates took the floor and strongly criticized Delegate Bodley's action, and claimed that he had not acted in accordance with the instructions given him. Delegate Lacey, from over the river, asked that the laws of the assembly be enforced on any individual member who had violated its trust.

President Tighe, Delegate Bodley's colleague on the city charter committee, spoke, and while denying any personal feeling in the matter, claimed that Mr. Bodley had not acted in accordance with the assembly's instructions, and also failed to support him in his efforts to get the clause for official labor, inserted in the city charter.

In defense, Delegate Bodley stated that he had not received specific instructions from the assembly. He also asked that the communication from the bricklayers' union, sanctioning him as a delegate, be read. A motion to read the communication was declared out of order.

A motion followed that Delegate Bodley's seat be declared vacant, on account of his having violated the instructions of the assembly. Before the motion was put, Delegate Grogan made a good argument in favor of an amendment that Delegate Bodley be reprimanded. President Tighe, who had left the chair some time previous, spoke against a reprimand, but advocated expulsion in order to maintain the dignity of the assembly, and asked the members to place the seal of condemnation upon any member who betrays his trust.

Delegate Bodley argued that his instructions for his course on the general committee came after he had committed himself on the sub-committee.

Delegate Grogan said that the brother had not voted against the election of the chief of the police by popular vote, his only fault having been in voting for a council of nineteen members. Other delegates speaking of the threat of the expulsion, stated that the integrity of the assembly must be maintained, at any cost. They were very firm in their sentiments and stated that Delegate Bodley had utterly failed to obey the wishes of the assembly.

The amendment to reprimand was lost, and the motion to declare Delegate Bodley's seat vacant, was carried.

Under the head of new business, President Tighe asked the approval of the assembly be given to Delegate Jere Mead for mine inspector. Delegate Donohue reported the endorsement of his peers for the same man. Delegate Richard Robertson ably supported the endorsement of Delegate Mead. A motion endorsing him was carried and in thanking the assembly for its endorsement, Mr. Mead spoke feelingly and promised if successful in his application, to give his best efforts to the position.

The assembly also endorsed Mr. George W. Clifton, of the carpenters' union, for captain of the guard at the state penitentiary in Moundsville.

A motion was carried that all locals be notified to be more active in sending delegates to the assembly.

Delegate Richard Robertson asked leave to speak, which was granted. He said that it was with pardonable pride that he claimed to be the first labor representative ever elected on the county ticket. He traced the history of unionism in regard to politics and mentioned names of well known union men who had sought positions of honor and had been defeated, and especially for offices of profit. He spoke of his office being a remunerative one, and was glad that he had been elected as a representative of labor, and thanked the members of the assembly for the support rendered. He asked that the delegates see that both parties have labor representatives on their tickets when they seek the votes of the people.

The assembly adjourned at 5:20.

Endorsed for Mine Inspector.

The race for the position of mine inspector, one of the appointments to be made by Governor Atkinson, promises to be decidedly interesting. There will be several applicants in the field and prominent among the early birds are Jere Mead, who has been endorsed by the Trades Assembly, and W. H. Blon, elected member of the house of delegates. Others seeking the office will shortly make their bow to the public.

ALTHOUGH many remedies are pushed into the market by spicy advertisements, Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup still takes the lead.

The New Way.

Some of the best physicians who have had their eyes examined and investigated Professor Sheff's new scientific method of examining the eyes and fitting glasses without use of drugs and making the patient blind for a week, or having them look at charts, or in any way depend upon the patient, is wonderfully and the only absolute correct way for examining the eyes for glasses.
