

THE DAY OF DAYS.

The Municipal Election is To-day's Chief Attraction.

THE LAST TWENTY-FOUR HOURS

Proceeding the Contest is the Occasion of a Great Amount of Hunting on Both Sides of the Political Fence—Victory, However, Seems to Have a Decided Leaning Toward the Republicans—Polls Open at 7 a. m. and Close at 6 p. m.

This is election day, and if the weather bureau predictions are verified it will be a very "cold day."

Interest in the contest, which is altogether along party lines, has become quite pronounced within the past forty-eight hours. Yesterday the workers of both parties were hard at work getting their writs in good working order, and it is predicted that both parties will get out a big vote.

The silly effort of the Register to hoodoo its readers and the public into the belief that the election would be illegal through an alleged failure on the part of City Clerk Dannenberg to perform his duty, fell rather flat yesterday. Of course there was nothing in the publication; it was merely a poorly constructed attempt at sensationalism. In a nutshell the story was that the election to-day will be illegal because the city clerk did not comply with a law providing that notice of the election must be printed in newspapers ten days before the contest. One of the sections of the state election law quoted by the Register was Section 30, as follows:

"At least ten days before an election to fill any public office, at which the voters of any county are entitled to vote, the clerk of the circuit court of such county shall cause to be published in two newspapers, if such there be published within the county, representing the political parties which at the last preceding general election cast the largest number of votes in the state, or if there be only one newspaper published therein, then, in such newspaper, the nominations for office certified to him and filed in his office, EXCEPTING NOMINATIONS FOR OFFICE TO BE FILLED BY THE VOTERS OF ANY SUB-DIVISION LESS THAN A COUNTY."

It will be noticed that the concluding provision of the section clearly shows that the section does not apply to municipal elections, for a city is clearly a sub-division of a county.

City Clerk Dannenberg consulted Solicitor Boyce several days ago regarding this section and that official said then that the notice provided for in this section is not necessary in the present instance. Yesterday, two well known lawyers were seen by the Intelligencer, and both supported the stand taken by Mr. Boyce, saying there is no doubt that the section does not apply to the Wheeling municipal election.

There are thirty-two precincts for to-day's election and it is believed that the count of the vote will be completed before 2 o'clock to-morrow morning. The returns will be received at the city clerk's office.

IN THE OIL FIELDS.

The Cold Weather the Cause of an Entire Suspension of Field Work.

From all parts of the southwest reports have been received and they all agree that field work will be suspended until the weather moderates. Many pumping wells have shut down on account of water lines being frozen up, and work at drilling wells has shut down from the same cause, and the extreme hardship that the drilling crews would have to endure to keep the drill bouncing. A continuance of the kind of weather experienced for the past two days would soon adjust the difference between the runs and shipments.

Down in Monroe county the Eastern Oil Company has drilled in its test on the Reinhart farm, located 600 feet southwest of the well on the Wright farm, and will have a fifteen or twenty barrel pumper. This well shows a little extension in its direction from previous developments.

Operations in the Benwood pool have fallen off one-third from the present showing as compared with the same time last month. In the Hebron pool, Tyler county, the decline is in the same ratio, and less chance for a revival on account of the pool being more nearly defined.

The outcome of the active operations in the deep sand territory are awaited with a good deal of interest. In Wezel county the South Penn Oil Company has drilled in a gusher on the Norris farm, but are "sawing wood."

Children Burned to Death.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 27.—A special to the Evening Post from New Roe, Ky., says: The news reaches here that two children, one the child of Dan Elkings and the other a visitor, were burned to a crisp in a fire, which destroyed the room in which the children were sleeping, at Dan Elkings' home. The inmates of Elkings' house barely escaped in time to extinguish the flames and save enough of the house to have shelter from the cold.

Spooner's Title Clear.

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 27.—The election of John C. Spooner as United States senator to succeed W. F. Vilas, was ratified in joint convention by both houses of the legislature to-day. W. C. Silverthorn, the defeated Democratic candidate for governor, received seven votes and Gen. E. B. Bragg one vote.

SONS OF VETERANS.

Their Oyster Supper was a Successful Affair—The Contest.

Last night in the Odd Fellows hall, U. S. Grant Camp, Sons of Veterans, gave an oyster supper and dance. This was the last of the three entertainments given this week by the old soldiers of Wheeling and Benwood, to raise funds for the state encampments to be held in Wheeling in April, and as expected was the most successful from a financial standpoint. The receipts equalled those combined of the two previous evenings.

The hall was not sufficiently large to comfortably accommodate the crowds that thronged there, but it was a good natured, sociable assemblage, and enjoyment reigned supreme. The oyster supper was a feature during the early part of the evening, and the ladies in attendance were kept busy between the hours of 7 and 9 o'clock. Cakes and ice cream were dispensed in the gallery, and helped refresh the dancers. Dancing was kept up until 2 o'clock this morning, and the floor was a scene of continued gaiety until the last dance of the program was played by Prof. Long. During the evening the quilt made by Grandmother Holliday was on exhibition and chances were taken for it, but it will not be disposed of unless a sufficient sum is secured. Made by a woman in her ninety-fifth year, a woman who was a nurse in the civil war, and after whom the Holliday corps of the Woman's Relief Corps is called, it possesses a peculiar historical interest and some day will be treasured as an interesting relic. It is the intention of the old soldiers to give an entertainment in Westwood's hall, in the Eighth ward, and one in Benwood, in the near future. With the success which so far, their coming efforts will doubtless meet with the same rewards. The state encampments promise to be the greatest events of a similar nature that have ever occurred in West Virginia.

At the bazaar given by the Woman's Relief Corps, the elegant child's dresser was won by Miss Maggie Miller, of North Main street. Thirty dollars was realized on the dresser. The doll was won by Comrade "Dick" Robertson.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Matters of Minor Moment in and About the City.

The snow interfered with the street car service yesterday, and the salt car was kept busy on the tracks.

Columbia lodge, I. O. K. of P., gave a successful and enjoyable ball at Westwood's hall last night. Mayer's orchestra furnishing the music.

The Silver Star Club will celebrate its fourth anniversary by a dance in Meyer's hall on Friday evening. Invitations have been sent out, and the affair will be strictly private.

A benefit dance for a South Side young man will be given at Mozart hall next Saturday evening. A large number of tickets has already been sold, and the affair will be a very successful one.

The Oratorio Society will hold a rehearsal this evening at Exceter hall, corner of Market and Eleventh streets. The work of preparing for the concert which is to be given on February 4, will now be vigorously prosecuted.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

Strangers in the City and Wheeling Folks Abroad.

R. A. Bell and wife, of Keyser, were at the Howell yesterday.

J. D. Riggs and wife, of Terra Alta, are the guests of the Howell.

W. S. Reeves, owner and manager of the "Hands Across the Sea" company, is at the McClure.

Mr. L. A. Rudisill, of Mountain Lake Park, superintendent of that well-known summer resort, is in the city.

Mr. Joseph Bodley is very sick at his home on Fifteenth street, and his condition was reported critical last night.

A. J. Smith, of Parkersburg, and H. H. Robb, of New Cumberland, were two West Virginians arriving last night at the Windsor.

Mr. Harry Wheat, manager of the Pabst Brewing Company, was able to be out yesterday for the first time since New Year's. He has had a severe attack of pleurisy and pneumonia.

In a letter to the Morgantown Post, Senator R. E. Paet pays the following compliment to President N. E. Whitaker, of the state senate: The president of the senate, Mr. Whitaker, is a good, solid, sensible business man, now serving his second term and his fourth session. His selection as president was wise, is a credit to the party, and sets a higher standard than has usually been set by the Democracy in the last quarter of a century. Under their regime it had come to pass that "any old thing" would do for an officeholder.

The "Why" of It.

To the Editor of the Intelligencer.

SIR:—This morning's Intelligencer contained a card from "Technic" asking why our musical societies do not bring to Wheeling some finished artists of world-wide reputation. The reason they do not often do so is found in the fact that the demand is not so pressing as "Technic" believes it to be. It costs hundreds of dollars to bring such an attraction here, and our musical public is so small, so poor, and so devoted to a farce-comedy that it is unsafe to depend upon it to pay the bills. The necessary funds must be advanced or secured by a few people, who cannot often run so great a risk. So much for the situation in general.

It happens that an artist of "world-wide reputation" has been secured for a recital on Tuesday of next week. Mr. Arthur Metzler, now the principal cellist of the Pittsburgh orchestra, was one of the most distinguished cellists of the Leipzig Conservatory as early as 1885, when he was barely twenty years old. He is probably the best cellist who will be within our reach for a long time. He will assist the Philharmonic Quartet and Mrs. Hastings at Arion Hall, a fine programme will be rendered. That part of the public which is most pressing in its demand for such an occasion will be welcomed upon payment of fifty cents, and yet the concert will not nearly pay for itself. The trouble with "Technic" and most of us is that we do not see our own musical interest to be found in Wheeling. The fault is with the patronage, not with the opportunities.

Let "Technic" persuade a paying audience into Arion Hall Tuesday night and there will be another opportunity before long. "PHIL."

Blown to Atoms.

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 27.—A tremendous explosion of nitro-glycerine in a store house belonging to the Ohio & Michigan Torpedo Company, of this city, occurred this afternoon, near Grand street, about five miles south of here. The explosion was so tremendous that it was plainly heard here, and it rattled windows in the southern part of the city. William Minison, of Toledo, and Edward Dunnington, of Riding Hill, were blown to atoms. Minison was a fire man, and married. Dunnington was a shoemaker and single.

Woman Suffrage Convention.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Jan. 27.—The National Woman Suffrage convention today showed nineteen states represented by field delegates and a large attendance. The report of Anna L. Diggs, affiliation with political parties, was rejected because it favored denouncing all political parties and favored dropping the Kansas work owing to the opposition of Populists. Harriet Taylor Upton, of Warren, O., treasurer, reported the association out of debt. Six years ago total receipts were $2,000; this year $11,823. Fees are based on membership at ten cents each, and receipts from that source were $351. New York stands first, California second. Nevada shows the greatest gain in membership. Henry B. Blackwell, of Massachusetts, reported from the presidential suffrage committee, declaring nearly every woman would have voted in the last presidential election if she could.

Hands Across the Sea.

Manager W. S. Reeves, of the "Hands Across the Sea" company is in the city arranging for the appearance of his attraction at the Opera House. It is probable his company will be here Friday and Saturday, February 5 and 6. "Hands Across the Sea" is a powerful and artistically written drama. The fourth act, the ship scene, in which he shows the deck of an ocean steamer and the approach of a French war vessel, is a marvel of the painter's and mechanic's skill and ingenuity. The coming on board of the escaped convict, followed by the lieutenant of the French ship, who commands the delivery of the fugitive, and the pathetic refusal of the English captain, is a thrilling situation, and it is not to be wondered at that the audience greet it with such spontaneous applause. "Is a pity that the gallant commander and his saucy ship are not sailing under the stars and stripes. What tremendous enthusiasm the scene would evoke under those conditions."

A CLOSE RIVER

At Wheeling is Imminent Unless There is Warmer Weather.

ICE AT NEW MARTINSVILLE

Gorged Yesterday Afternoon, and if It Holds the River will Undoubtedly Close at this Port—The River is Also Reported to Have Closed at Several Points Above Wheeling, but No Confirmation Could be Had—Late River Intelligence.

Unless there is moderate temperature immediately the Ohio river at Wheeling will be ice locked within a few hours. Yesterday afternoon the ice gorged at New Martinsville, about forty miles down the river, and if the gorge at that point holds, which is likely unless there is a rise in the river, it is a certainty that the river will close a considerable distance above. It would not be surprising if the river would close at Wheeling this afternoon or to-night. A closed river is rendered more probable on account of the fact that the river is falling at all of the reported points.

If the river should close, rivermen will watch the river news closely, for a sudden break-up would mean tremendous damage to floating property. Wheeling once had an experience with a break-up of this character. It was in the winter of 1888, when five steamboats and the wharfbot were swept away from the public landing, the damage reached many thousands.

This year there is no floating property at the Wheeling public landing with the exception of the wharfbot. The steamboats plying in local trades are harbored in safe places where there will be less danger in the event of a break-up.

It was reported last night that the river had closed above Steubenville, but no confirmation of the report could be secured.

Pittsburgh River News.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 27.—The river is falling steadily, the marks on the wharf showing but 27 feet this morning. The Monongahela is nearly closed throughout its entire length above Wheeling. The pool boats are working night and day to keep a channel open, but are having only indifferent success. The weather is so cold that the ice forms almost as rapidly as it can be broken up. It is important that the river should be kept open as long as the water is high enough to allow the shipment of flat coal into the harbor.

Captain W. B. Rodgers, of the Tide Coal Company, has chartered the steamer Clipper to assist his own boats in running coal from his mine in the fourth pool.

The crew of the John A. Wood has been seen here. The boat got in just in time to escape being frozen up in the Ohio, but was obliged to leave her tow.

AMUSEMENTS.

"The Heart of Chicago," the newest melodrama to make a bid for popular favor, offers enough scenic inducements to make it worth seeing. The plot is of more than ordinary merit. The author is said to have been particularly fortunate in his comedy situations. Among the scenic features are a representation of the down-town district of Chicago during the great fire; a night illumination in the court of honor at the World's Fair grounds; a new railroad scene, unlike any before presented; the Masonic Temple roof garden at night and a complete panoramic view of the business portion of the South Side at night, the streets being brilliantly illuminated and the principal buildings and features accurately set forth. The "Heart of Chicago" comes to the Grand the first three nights of next week.

A Popular Entertainer.

Miss Annie Louis White's artistic entertainment, "Flirts and Matrons," will be given in the Y. M. C. A. hall this evening. Tickets thirty-five cents. This is one of the course entertainments. Miss White is one of the best entertainers of the day. The monologue she gives is told in six tableaux, with entire changes of costume. Miss White has a handsome graceful presence and most expressive countenance, and a voice naturally full, rich, and melodious.

The Boston Howard Star Specialty Company is the attraction at the Grand for the last half of the present week, opening this evening. The Boston Stars are one of the best vaudeville companies on the road and that the Grand engagement will be a successful one is undoubted. Seats on sale at the box office.

Shook the Court.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Jan. 27.—While the criminal court was in session late this afternoon, there was a natural gas explosion in the cellar, which shook the building and caused a panic. Calvin Taylor, janitor, who was in the cellar, was probably fatally burned.

WEEK OF WARREN HASTINGS.

The British Indian Troop Ship—Many Acts of Gallantry Recorded.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from Port Luis, Island of Mauritius, published to-day, furnishes particulars of the wreck of the British Indian troop ship Warren Hastings, which was wrecked off the Island of Reunion, on Thursday, January 14.

The ship, it appears, ran ashore at 2:20 a. m. It was pitch dark, and torrents of rain were falling. She had on board soldiers and crew to the number of 1,232 men, in addition to a number of women and children, the families of the married men of the military force. When the ship struck the troops were ordered to retire from the upper deck, to which they had flocked on the first alarm, and to fall in below. This they did promptly, the most perfect discipline prevailing, although the men were fully conscious of the danger which they were in. They were quietly mustered on the 'tween decks without confusion or excitement.

Owing to the fact that the surf boats could not be used in landing the troops, two officers of the Warren Hastings were lowered from the ship's bow to the rocks, and when it was found that a landing could be effected in this way the disembarkation of the soldiers was commenced at 3 o'clock, Commander Holland hoping it was safe to retain the women, children and the sick on board until daylight. But the steamship was soon found to be heeling over so rapidly that everyone was ordered to the upper deck, the danger of capsizing being imminent.

Thereupon Commander Holland ordered the landing of the troops to be stopped in order that the women, children and sick persons should be landed immediately. This order was obeyed with admirable discipline. By 5 o'clock the decks had heeled over to an angle of fifty degrees to starboard and the boats were all swept away. The good swimmers were then permitted to swim ashore, carrying ropes. By this means many others were landed and the disembarkation of all on board was completed by 5:30 a. m., with the loss of only two native servants. Many acts of gallantry were recorded.

CONSUL REGULATIONS.

Carriages Made by the Government Which Will Not be Relished by Some.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The state department has just begun the issue of a revised set of regulations for United States consuls, which was prepared by Mr. Frank Partridge, formerly solicitor of the state department under special appointment by the secretary of state. This is the first revision made of these regulations since 1886, and as the volume has grown much since that date and many qualifications have been made to meet the decisions of the treasury and executive orders, there was great need for a general revision to simplify the work. This has been done so well that it will now be possible for consuls to make themselves acquainted with the rules touching any subject in short order.

The most important changes in the rules are those doing away with the necessity for verifying oaths of exporters to invoices, which have been a source of great vexation to business men for years and have served no useful purpose, save to swell the fees of the consuls. Also in the case of notarial fees the rules have been amended so as to make them uniform and on the same scale of fees fixed by law for the District of Columbia. This scale of prices is generally very moderate, and some of the consuls who have been permitted to charge heavy fees for this kind of work, will not relish the change. In the shape of an appendix is given every statute, ruling and decision referred to in the text of the work.

Must Say What It Is.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The French government has by decree prohibited the sale of all frozen meats unless each piece exhibited for sale bears a large tag with the words "frozen meat." This is done, according to United States Consul Chancelor at Havre, to protect the public from the ill consequences of buying this meat, (subject as it is to sudden decomposition when thawed out) as fresh home killed meat. Great quantities of this frozen meat are now being brought to Havre from Australia.

Pingree's Two Offices.

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 27.—Attorney Fred A. Baker said this afternoon that he would bring the question of Governor Pingree's right to hold the offices of both governor and mayor before the state supreme court on next Tuesday. The method of procedure is not outlined, but it is believed that it will be in the form of an application for mandamus to compel the common council of Detroit to order a special election for mayor.
