| The Unted States government has hesitited about purchasing the Holland eubmarline boat for fear that Its subsequent actions might not warrant tho expenditure of so much monéy. Becretary Long feels that he bas only eo much to spend, and he must spend st upon things that are tried and true. Knowing this, Mr. Holland, the Inventor of the Holland submarino boat, has made the government an ofer. In company with Col. C. E. Creecy, he recently lald before the government a plan which terms on ehort order Afr. Holland recently eald to porter of thls paper: "The suggestion ts entirely pract1- |  |
