Trouble in Drink.

Many highly organized persons cannot digest even one cup of coffee a day.

The trouble may not show directly in stomach, but indirectly in bowels, liver, nerves, headache or in some other organ. Stop for ten days and see if you have uncovered the cause of your trouble. Take on Postum Food Coffee. It furnishes a pleasant morning cup, and contains the selected food elements which quickly restore the nerves and structure of body to a normal state. Demonstrable fact; try it. Grocers furnish it at 15 and 25 cents.

THE RAILROADS.

The Central Ohio Railway Company, as reorganized, held its annual meeting Wednesday at Columbus. President J. H. Collins and the board of directors submitted the annual report, which was adopted. The opposition of certain Baltimore parties which has heretofore existed, having been withdrawn, the old board of directors, consisting of J. H. Collins, Columbus; George E. Bradfield, Barnesville; A. B. Crane, Baltimore; J. W. Garrett, and George C. Jenkins, Baltimore; John R. Hall, Quaker City, O.; John Hoge, Zanesville; C. H. Kibler, Newark, O.; William Kinney, Belmont, O.; David Lee, Zanesville; D. C. List, Wheeling; W. W. Peabody, Cincinnati; and James Sloan, Jr., Baltimore, was unanimously re-elected. The board ordered by electing J. H. Collins president for the second year; P. C. Sneed, secretary; W. H. Hams, treasurer, and G. W. Booth, auditor.

A New Box Car.

At the Ensign car works of the American Car Building Company, at Huntington, in this state, are being built 2,000 box cars for the Southern Pacific of 100,000 pounds capacity, on lines differing from usual car construction. This car is 40 feet long and weighs 33,000 pounds, which is less than the average weight of a 34 foot, 60,000 pounds capacity box car. To accomplish this end radical changes in the details of car framing have been resorted to, as also in the treatment of the materials and in their distribution to meet pre-determined strains. All essential M. C. B. standards have been adhered to and embodied in the car. In testing, one of these cars, loaded with three car-loads of pig iron, aggregating 135,000 pounds, was run over yard crossings, sidings and switches continuously during twenty-six hours. The deflection at the center of the car on its camber line was but five-sixteenths of an inch, and when the load was removed the car resumed its normal position, or exactly the position it occupied before it was loaded. It is claimed that such results have never been attained in any other design of car, that the Canada car is therefore the lightest and the strongest car ever built, and that, aside from the great saving in the hauling of dead weight, the annual repairs would be less than one-half those of any other car—all of which will commend it to railroad managers.

The same principles of construction are embodied in the 50-ton capacity, double-hopper, coal cars, which are also being built for the Southern Pacific Co., and have a like saving in dead weight. In fact, the same principles of construction are applied to all kinds of freight cars.

Mr. C. P. Huntington has for several years urged on Mr. Canada the growing necessity for cars of much lighter weight and of increased carrying capacity. The car here described is the outcome of these suggestions. The conditions imposed by Mr. Huntington when placing the order for the Southern Pacific Company cars were that they should not exceed in weight 33,000 pounds and should carry 100,000 pounds with the usual factor of safety.

During the civil war he served in Company B, Sixth West Virginia. Besides his wife one son, Charles, survive, also three brothers, Charles, of New York; William, of Wheeling, and Elbridge, of Bellaire, and a sister, Mrs. Mary Roberts, of Bellaire. ## An Old Veteran Dead.

About three weeks ago a person giving his name as John Sullivan appeared in the neighborhood of Mt. Pleasant. Apparently he had no object in view and remained around the Dillonvale and Long Run mines, amusing children by drawing crayon pictures. He was stricken with paralysis and died at the home of James Galloway and was buried there in Highland cemetery Monday. He claimed he was a resident of Wheeling, also Benwood and McMechen, and that he was a soldier of Company K, First West Virginia cavalry. He was seventy-two years old, height 5 feet 10 inches, hair and mustache turning gray. He said he was a Wheeling editor, but no one knows the facts concerning him.

THE INDUSTRIES.

The American Manufacturer in its current issue publishes the following on the iron and steel situation: "A heavy tonnage in structural material has been placed during the week. It will materially increase the demand for pig iron for the second half of the year. Prices continue to advance instead of relapsing, and it looks as though the mills that have not filled their wants for the ensuing six months will be severely nipped by expectant high prices. Almost every furnace and mill in the country that can be put in shape is in operation, yet the demand has kept pace with output, in fact, is ahead of it, as steel mills have turned away profitable orders including thousands of tons. Eastern mills seem to be paying more attention to export trade than western concerns. The export trade has caused heavy investments in eastern properties. It is the belief that the trade captured can be held, and new conquests made."

Floersheim Mines Resume.

Henry Floersheim, the Finleyville coal operator, whose Germania and Nottingham mines, on the Wheeling division of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, have been idle for several months, will put them in operation on Monday. This will be a celebration of Dewey Day. Mr. Floersheim says, as the men are anxious to return to work. About four hundred are employed at the two mines, and all have had work at the pits in the neighborhood while these mines were idle. There are now one hundred vacant houses, but all will be filled before the mines are started.

AMUSEMENTS.

The appearance at the Opera House Tuesday night, May 2, of Mrs. Fiske will be signalized by the production of one of her most recent successes. She will appear here in a three-act play by Miss Marguerite Merington, entitled "Love Finds the Way." In this play Mrs. Fiske reveals fresh phases of her genius. In "Love Finds the Way" she assumes the role of an invalid, Madeline, whose fine and sympathetic nature has become embittered by pain and fancied neglect. The part is absolutely unique. It treats the emotional side of a woman's nature in a variety of phases. Mrs. Fiske portrays the character with her usual commanding skill. It is in the scope of her achievements not less in their individual truthfulness and force than the genius of Mrs. Fiske is shown. This new play will be presented here with the original scenic equipment of the New York production. Mrs. Fiske is always noted for the excellence of her company, and this year her organization is pronounced superior to any which hitherto lent her aid. Besides the favorites of last season, Frederic de Belleville, Wilfrid North, Frank McCormack, Sydney Cowell, it includes such popular and experienced players as John Craig, Tyrone Power, Olive Hoff, Gertrude Norman and Gertrude Bennett. To see Mrs. Fiske is to admire the work of the greatest of contemporary English-speaking actresses.
