TO-DAY'S GAMES.

Youngstown at Wheeling. Grand Rapids at Fort Wayne. New Castle at Mansfield. Dayton at Toledo.

When three innings of the first game in the series between Wheeling and Youngstown had ended yesterday afternoon with the score 8 to 0 in favor of "Pop" Lytle's men, the spectators settled back in their seats well satisfied that there would be none of the feathered excitement and Garrison finishes that characterized all three games of the New Castle series.

But Captain Truby's boys fooled the spectators and probably surprised themselves by making a desperate uphill fight and closing the game by scoring three runs in the ninth and coming within one run of tying the score. At the start the boasted strength of the Youngstons was not in evidence, but after the game it was generally conceded that the Giants are a very strong aggregation whom no other Inter-state team has a chance to beat without a struggle.

But for the wildness of McFarland, who started to pitch for the visitors but was relieved after two innings in favor of Heyman, who was effective, the Youngstons would have taken the victory instead of only making it a close shave for the locals.

Big Cummings was put in to pitch for the Wheelings, and his work was not gilt-edged. True, he had speed and curves, but he was extremely nervous, and this nervousness culminated in the seventh inning, when a wild throw would otherwise have come in, and again in the ninth, when he let up and allowed the visitors to hit out good and strong and nearly tie the score. Taken all in all, however, Cummings made an auspicious start in his professional career, and the mere fact that he has won his opening game will contribute toward giving him the confidence that is requisite before a pitcher can do justice to the mound. The following is a list of good pitchers, and ought to develop into a winner.

For the visitors, McFarland was put in to pitch, and he was peaches and cream for the locals. In the opening inning he gave Dobbs free transportation, hit Niles with a pitched ball, and Durrett and Lytle made singles, contributing to three runs for a starter. He saw his finish in the second, with one hand down, Poole hit for a single, and was retired on Cummings' infield hit. Dobbs hit for three bases, scoring Cummings. Durrett worked a base on balls and Niles was safe on Conner's error. At this stage three runs had come in and Captain Truby had become convinced that he could never win with McFarland on the slab, so Heyman was tried out and Mac went to the bench.

The change was not effective at the start as the Wheelings scored two runs in the third. With Kilham an out, Lytle hit for a single and went up to a notch (or a base) on a wild pitch. Helms was the second out. Poole hit down the first base line; Heyman got the ball and threw for first, but it was wild, and sphere hitting Poole as he ran and bounded out toward the bleachers. When the smoke cleared Lytle had scored and Poole was on second, and when he scored on Cummings' clean single, Dobbs singled, but Durrett's out ended the inning, with no more runs.

The visitors got in the game in the fourth, when they scored four runs. Two singles and a three-bagger, together with errors by Poole and Helms, did the work.

Wheeling scored one each in the fifth and sixth, and the visitors got two in the seventh. Van Buren met one of Cummings' shots on the arm and Pender singled. The hit was to right field and was held clear by Lytle. Van Buren started to third, but was coaxed back to second, whereupon Lytle threw to Durrett just in time to assist at out by Doyle. The play was liberally applauded. Conners followed with a single, Pender going to third, and on the next ball pitched, Connor moved up to second. Truby hit to Cummings, and it should have been an easy out at third, but the "big fellow" was nervous and threw wretchedly, the ball going to the fence back of the grand stand. Before it was fielded, Pender and Conners had scored, and Truby was on third. The next two runs were outs.

The feature of the game was the finish made by the visitors in the ninth. Pender worked a base on balls and Conners hit for another single. Truby's error advanced both men, and McCredie's three-bagger scored both. Gansz singled, scoring McCredie. Berte was out to Lytle, but another out it came when Truby hit to Helms at short, who touched second, retiring Gansz and ending the game. Score: Youngstown, 10; Wheeling, 9.

Wheeling presented a stronger front in to-day's game with Youngstown. "Tom" Francis, last season with Mansfield, arrived from Columbus this morning at 1:15 o'clock, and will play at second for the locals this afternoon. Cealbill will be in the box, and his magnificent pitching on Monday, when with ordinary support he would have pulled out that game with New Castle, justifies the belief that he will make monkeys out of the Giants this afternoon.

Jack Dolan, who is under reserve to Wheeling, reached the city yesterday morning and reported. It is not known whether he will be retained by Manager Lytle or not.

Yesterday's game was remarkable for the misunderstandings that arose with reference to the score. In the fourth, when the visitors had scored three runs, Lytle insisted there were two outs, and publicly proclaimed his belief, "the official scorer" to the contrary notwithstanding. Later he cooled down and admitted his error. In the ninth, Truby, the Youngstown captain, insisted that his team had tied the score, and was only convinced of his error when he inspected the score book.
