ACROSS THE SANDS.

Twenty-six Novices Inducted into the Mysteries of the Shrine.

OSIRIS TEMPLE'S BIG DOINGS

Yesterday Afternoon and Evening Were on an Elaborate Scale—Parade of Note Followed by Initiation Ceremonies and Banquet, the Latter Functions Occurring at Arion Hall—The New Members.

There are funny side degrees of various secret organizations, but the palm must be given to the Shrine, affiliated with the Masonic fraternity. The Shrine has set the pace, so to speak, and all others follow. In Wheeling Osiris is the name of the temple, and as there is only one other temple in the state Osiris cuts a wide swath. About twice a year it looms up from the sea of forgetfulness and proceedeth to do things good and brown, heating up the old town and other enlightening proceedings. Its sessions are generally confined to two years, and are dignified by the title of ceremonial, and one of these unique affairs disturbed the equanimity of the village yesterday.

Believing in expansion, Osiris temple, Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, took in and made whole twenty-six unregenerated sons of the desert. Their fortitude and consistency were first determined by the journey across the hot sands to the Arabian Inn, where awaiting healing balms for the bruised and good cheer and sustenance for the famished and the parched. Of all the journeys athwart the fabled torrid sands, verily there was none like this. Only men tried and true have ever reached the promised land and connected with the golden fleece, but under the wise piloting of the local experienced Arab patrol, the way was found and all obstacles finally overcome, the pilgrimage to Mecca winding up with veritable poems for the inner man.

But all such space slaughter is as Greek to the uninitiated. Suffice it to say that Osiris temple has twenty-six more members than yesterday. The festivities and the agonies occurred at Arion hall, beginning with a parade in the afternoon and concluding with a banquet in the night. The public wasn't "on," however, to any unusual doings, and its curiosity had to be satisfied with the parade, which left Arion hall at 3:30 p. m.

In this motley crew was first, but not least, a platoon of bluecoats in command of Lieutenant Osmond McClure. Supply. There came Meister's band and the gallant Arab patrol, Burros and camels secured from the Streets of Cairo, at the Elks' fair; the candidates "holding on to the rope"; the Opera House band, Osiris temple and the official divan followed in turn. Over the principal streets the parade wended its way and large crowds thronged the line of march. The official divan, by the way, as was in keeping with their exalted office, rode in carriages. First, let's have the festive divan. Here they are:

James B. McKee, potentate; J. H. Kleives, chief rabban; Thomas G. Jenkins, assistant rabban; M. R. Wolff, high priest and prophet; L. W. Blayney, oriental guide; W. A. Wilson, treasurer; Thomas Carnahan, Jr., recorder; Alfred Paull, trustee; D. A. Taylor, first ceremonial master; Conrad Hirsch, second ceremonial master; T. C. Stevenson, W. Irwin, Clarke Hamilton, directors; George B. Peabody, marshal; J. B. Willis, captain of guard; E. P. Wheat, captain Arab patrol; Thomas B. McLain, alchemist; I. N. Waltz, customer; T. W. Bliss, outer guard; representatives to imperial council, W. W. Irwin, James B. McKee, W. F. Shaffer.

The "exercises" occurred at Arion hall and began at 7:30 p. m., continuing until midnight, at which hour the traditional banquet, with all the attendant liquid fireworks, was served by Herr Ziegenfelder. 'Twas an elaborate spread. The ceremonial session was one of the largest ever "pulled off" by Osiris, and memories of it will linger long with the candidates, who were as follows:

Monongah—Alexander Purdy, Mannington—George Camp, O. C. Bradley, W. G. Allender, W. H. Heben-dorffer, Charles P. Myers.

Fairmont—Frank E. Furbee, Harry W. Dorn.

MINING INQUIRIES.

BLACK DIAMOND COPPER CO. (Brooklyn, N. Y.)

Will you please print me a report in your columns of the Black Diamond Copper Company, with New York office at 29 N. Broadway, General Manager, and Treasurer? Give me the exact location of the property, the standing of the directors, and the information you may deem advisable for me to have with regard to the future prospects of the property.

The Black Diamond Copper Company is a West Virginia corporation, capitalized at $2,000,000, divided into 400,000 shares of a par value of $5 each. Of the capital stock, 100,000 shares in treasury stock, 50,000 of which were offered until recently at $1 per share. At the last meeting of the directors, the board decided that latter developments warranted advancing the shares to $3.50 each. Senator Charles J. Faulkner, of West Virginia, is president, and ex-governor and ex-senator William Pitt Kellogg is a director. Other directors are Mr. John Devine, proprietor of the Shortly hotel, of Arlington, D. C., Mr. James A. McLean, who was at one time engaged in the lumber industry in Brooklyn under the name of McKelley & Gilmore, Mr. N. O. Baggis is the treasurer and general manager. He is considered by those who know him best to be thoroughly capable, intelligent and honest. As to the properties, they consist of twelve claims, comprising 240 acres, located 15 miles south of Cochise, Arizona, in the Dragoon Mountains, which is reached by an excellent wagon road. Two miles are said to be all that could be desired, with an abundance of water.

The copper vein extends practically over the 240 acres and is in places as thick as a brick. The principal work has been done on the England, Procrastination, and Black Diamond No. 1, the greater outcropping occurs on the last named. The company's mining expert, Captain James Houston, in a recent report says that the Black Diamond is unquestionably the best of the many mining properties opened up in Arizona this year. While the ore does not assay high grade, it is found in immense deposits of medium grade. Of a shipment of 10,000 pounds it averaged over 15 per cent copper and 60 ounces of silver. We learn that the company has already made several shipments of ore. They are displaying ore taken from its properties at the Elks' fair. There is one feature of the company's methods which meets this journal's approval, and that is the fact that all of the money goes to modern mining plant, and development of the mines, no salaries being received by any of the officers. The stock is held in escrow by the vendors, and the management is required to turn over five thousand dollars bond for the faithful performance of his duties. The management is so confident of the enormous output of the mines, based on the report of their mining expert, Capt. Houston, that they are already considering the advisability of advancing the shares from $3.50 to $5 per share. In the conservative estimate of those who have inspected the properties that the immediate future appears bright. The development, we are told, will be pushed with all speed and economy possible, with the hope and expectation that dividends to stockholders will be forthcoming within the year.—From the New York Investors' Review, June 24.

Joseph Sinclair, of Benwood, is agent for the sale of the stock of the Black Diamond Copper Company, and is prepared to furnish information concerning the ore and the company's property on Fifth and Main streets, Benwood. Telephone, 1809.

THE LINSLEY BOYS

Are Looking Forward to Their September Military Camp.

THE VERY STRICT DISCIPLINE

Of Annapolis and West Point Will be Followed and Altogether Lieut. Dent and the Institute Instructors Believe the Camp-out Will Form an Excellent Lesson for Wheeling Youth—The Daily Routine.

The students of the Linsley Institute with their characteristic enthusiasm for all military manoeuvres, are eagerly anticipating the military camp, which is scheduled for the second week in September. The actual expenses have been reduced to a minimum, and already nearly all the old cadets and a large number of new students have signified their intention of being present.

The camp will be under the personal supervision of Lieutenant Blaine C. Dent, United States navy, principal of the institute. Lieutenant Dent shortly before his assignment to the Linsley, conducted a camp comprising over four hundred boys, and the experience he obtained guarantees the success of the fall outing.

The rules for the government of the cadets will resemble those in force at West Point and Annapolis. A sufficient number of tents will be erected, the regulation bugle calls will be made, and the meals will be served at company tables. On Sunday rest will be the order of the day, and religious services will be conducted by a local minister. On this day the cadet uniform will be worn, but during the week all restrictions as to dress will be removed. Except during drill and dress parade, old clothes suitable to camp life will be worn.

Each boy will be required to bring the following articles necessary for camp life: Cadet suit, "roughing it" suit, change of underwear, knife, fork, spoon, cup and saucer, plate, two towels and a bar of soap.

The new teachers, with whom Lieut. Dent is at present negotiating, will assist him in managing the affair. New cadets will be enrolled and the regulation "setting up" drill for new recruits will prepare them for drill later in the fall.

The daily routine will be as follows: Arise at 7 a. m. Muster. Prayer. Swimming, fifteen minutes, in charge of Lieut. Dent. Exercise, ten minutes. Breakfast. Recreation, thirty minutes. Drill, forty-five minutes. Officer's school, thirty minutes. Recreation. Dinner. Instruction for new recruits, thirty minutes. Recreation. Supper at 8 p. m. Dress parade. Recreation until 9:30. Prayers. Tape and lights out.

During recreation liberty to indulge in various sports will be granted. These will include swimming, fishing, base ball, foot ball, fencing and anything else which the cadets may desire.

This camp will furnish an opportunity rarely afforded in this section of the country. The white tents, the muskets stacked on every side, the parade and martial music, the large flag floating above, will kindle in the cadets a feeling of patriotism not otherwise attainable, and should military service be called the Linsley boys to the front this experience will be of inestimable value.
