

THE INTELLIGENCER.

Published Daily, Except Sunday, by Intelligencer Publishing Co., 25 and 27 Fourteenth Street.

JOHN FREW, Pres. and Bus. Manager.

Terms Per Year, by Mail, in Advance, Postage Prepaid.

Daily (Six Days Per Week) 1 Year—$5.20 Daily, Six Months—2.90 Daily, Three Months—1.80 Daily, Two Days Per Week—3.00 Daily, One Month—45 Weekly, One Year, in Advance—1.00 Weekly, Six Months—60

THE DAILY INTELLIGENCER is delivered by carriers in Wheeling and adjacent towns at 10 cents per week. Persons wishing to subscribe to THE DAILY INTELLIGENCER can do so by sending in their orders to the Intelligencer office on postal cards or otherwise. They will be punctually served by carriers.

Tributes of Respect and Obituary Notices 75 cents per inch. Correspondence containing important news solicited from every part of the surrounding country. Reflected communications will not be returned unless accompanied by sufficient postage.

(THE INTELLIGENCER, embracing its several editions, is entered in the Post-office at Wheeling, W. Va., as second-class matter.)

TELEPHONE NUMBERS: Editorial Rooms—523; Counting Room—522

THE INTELLIGENCER.

WHEELING, SEPTEMBER 4, 1899.

Persons leaving the city can have the Intelligencer mailed to them at any address, by ordering it at this office, in person or by letter. Terms 10 cents per week. Address can be changed as often as desired.

Democracy Again for Silver. Predictions, estimates and confidences that free silver will take a back track in next year's Democratic campaign are not as strong as they were not many weeks since.

On good authority it is said that McLean had drafted resolutions which were so evasive that the committee was not satisfied, and reported a resolution heartily reaffirming the entire Chicago platform, including "the free and unlimited coinage of silver as equal in primary money in the ratio of 16 to 1, independent of all other nations of the world," and declared for the renomination of Bryan. There is no retraction of this, and the English of the resolution is unmistakably correct, and incapable of misconception.

While the Ohio convention was performing this act of harikari, Bryan was making a speech out in his native state of Nebraska, in which he emphatically said: "I doubt whether any opposition at all to the reaffirmation of the Chicago platform in its entirety will manifest itself in the next year, and all the indications justify his forecast. A dispatch to the New York Times from Richmond, in Virginia, also on that day, gives the information that 'every county in the state has declared for free silver.'"

Ohio is not the only state in which the Democracy has pursued this course. In no state has gold been recognized as the standard, and free silver has been made the "paramount" issue. Bryan's nomination is better assured to-day than it has been at any time since the Democratic paralysis produced by his defeat three years ago subsided. All this has a significance that no one who is not politically blind cannot help noticing. It is certain that only a miracle can prevent the Democracy next year from repeating the mistake of 1896. The New York Sun, commenting upon this phase of the situation, comes close to the truth when it declares: "Any superfluous effort by Republicans to renege the gold standard already established by the act of 1873 will only the more assure that result and incite the Democratic party to even wider efforts to substitute the silver standard. It is folly to turn away from this certainty; wisdom can only look it squarely in the face."

This is undoubtedly a fact, and it may be depended upon that, notwithstanding other issues that are being talked of, such as "anti-expansion," and "anti-trust," for 1900 the Republican party will be for gold, and the Democratic party will be for silver. The truth cannot be denied. The Democratic leaders who will control the convention fall to realize that those Republicans of the east who differ from the administration on the Philippine policy are likewise but more determinedly opposed to free silver. Moreover, that the Philippine question is more than likely to be settled by Congress long before the campaign begins, leaving this senseless issue out of the field. The Sun is right when it says that, and all the voter will have to do is to take his place accordingly.

Death of a Good Citizen. Universal regret is expressed in the community at the death of Dr. R. W. Hazlett, which occurred Saturday night, and the news will be received by the medical fraternity throughout the state with sincere expressions of sorrow. Dr. Hazlett was respected and esteemed, not alone for his standing in his profession, but for his prominence in business and social circles. He was one of the oldest citizens, having resided here for forty years, and witnessed the growth and development of Wheeling from what it was then until to-day.

The foundation of Dr. Hazlett's business career was laid just before the civil war, and was due to his knowledge of geology. While wandering in the mountains of what is now West Virginia in search of health he ascertained the fact which has since contributed so largely to the wealth of the state, that the Appalachian section was underlaid with a tremendous wealth of coal. He was the first to discover that oil existed in our boundaries, and sank the first successful well at Volcano, striking a flow of oil at a depth of but forty feet.

Dr. Hazlett participated in the civil war as a surgeon of the Second regiment, and was present and did skillful service at many important battles, which are given in the sketch of his career. In Dr. Hazlett's death the city loses one of its most noted physicians and best citizens, and the Intelligencer reflects the sentiments of all the community when it tenders sympathy to the members of his family who are left to mourn the passing away of an affectionate husband and father.

A point which has frequently been made by the supporters of the policy of suppressing the insurrection in the Philippines is confirmed by a letter in the hands of the war department, written by Isabel Atacho, a man of importance and the former partner of Aguinaldo, and containing a sworn statement that the rebellion is not aimed at the true emancipation of the country, but to gratify personal political ambitions in the guise of a so-called political system under the name of a republic; that it has not the support of the best elements of the inhabitants; that, while having for its professed object the absolute independence of the Philippine Islands, in reality to bring the people under the most intolerable slavery—domestic slavery—and to place in the hands of a single individual—Aguinaldo—the sacred attributes of "God, country, king." This affidavit, of which the above is the briefest summary, is published by a Manila paper, which vouches for its genuineness.

The Louisville Courier-Journal is having a great deal of amusement these days at the expense of some of its Democratic contemporaries that insist on misconstruing the President's utterances on the Philippine question. In doing so, it never fails to make a point, as, for instance, in quoting the Indianapolis Sentinel. The last named paper, speaking of the President's enunciation of the Philippine policy, said: "In other words, it is the purpose that the Philippines shall not be independent at any time, but shall remain under the stars and stripes." The Courier-Journal pertinently remarks: "Which is to say that there is no such thing as independence under the stars and stripes. Wonder what flag they fly over there in Indiana?" This is a logical construction of the Sentinel's comment, and no wonder Mr. Waterston's paper could not resist the temptation to put in a word.

John R. McLean, though standing on a platform endorsing the Chicago platform of 1896, in an interview, solemnly declares there are no national issues at stake, and insists on local issues, and that, if elected, he will wage a relentless war against bosses. This might be read without a smile did it not come from a professional political boss. In at least one district—the one just across the river from here, a national feature is incorporated by the election of a successor to the late Representative Danford. Again, McLean, in view of the platform and his claim that all his interests are in Ohio, steers clear of a well known fact that he is the head of a monopoly in Washington, which has the gas consumers of that city by the throat. It balances well with the declarations against corporations and monopolies.

The National Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic will begin in Philadelphia to-day. We will venture to say that it will be an occasion of unusual demonstration by the veterans of '61-'65, whose patriotism has been renewed further, and fired by the events of last year, and the parts in which some of them and thousands of their sons have taken. There will be few or no "anti" speeches made. They will be the other way, and will eb for the stars and stripes, wherever they float, and cheer for the heroes of '98 and '99 who are defending them and vindicating their honor.

This is a national holiday, so decreed by an act of Congress. It is the national labor day, and all the rules that govern such occasions will be applied. A suspension of public business, such as the closing of banks, national and municipal offices, including the post-office, and practically the application of Sunday hours, will be the order of the day. The fact that our local labor organizations have already celebrated labor day, because they so willed it, does not interfere with this observance, for the day named by the Nation is observed as a public holiday just the same.

It will be an eventful week in this community, and the prospects are for favorable weather, notwithstanding the temperature registered at nearly one hundred yesterday. The West Virginia State Fair and Exposition opens to-day, and the outlook is for the most successful event in recent years. It will benefit the entire city, and when the week expires everybody will be glad it was encouraged as it has been and will be.

The defense in the Dreyfus case is greatly encouraged. Saturday closed the third week of the trial, and there is yet no cause for any regret on the part of the persecuted officer's counsel, save the unfortunate attempt on the life of M. Labori, which act helped to turn the tide of public favor in behalf of the defendant.

If this weather keeps up the peanut and lemonade peddlers will reap a rich harvest during the week, which is the week of the State Fair. And why should they not? If it were not for the peanut and the lemonade men there would be no attractions at the fair for the younger portion of Americans that will attend.

Let everybody turn out and give the West Virginia State Fair Association liberal patronage for the enterprise it has shown this year. Merchant's Day will be the big day, but let every other day be a big day.

spread among the Hebrews of the entire country, and will cut down the attendance and exhibits from this country materially.

The life of the Prince of Wales is insured for $10,000,000. Perhaps that will be enough to pay his debts and at the same time keep his family out of the poor house.

PERTINENT PARAGRAPHS.

Love levels all things except its own monotony.

A wheel in the hand is worth two in the repair shop.

A homely woman who is vain doubts the accuracy of mirrors.

When a woman cuts a man's acquaintance she looks daggers at him.

The man who has a cloven breath is always taking something for it.

A young man seeking a quiet spot to kiss a girl should avoid her mouth.

Some people's idea of a necessary evil is one they don't wish to abolish.

Revenge may be sweet, but an over-indulgence in sweet things makes trouble.

When a man neglects his duty he always says it resulted from his absent-mindedness.

If we could see ourselves as other see us it would be a severe blow to our ambition.

One man is probably just as good as another, but he usually considers himself a little better.

A miss may be as good as a mile, but with a designing widow in the race a man is safer at two miles.

When a woman doesn't want to express her opinion in words she merely shrugs her shoulders and that settles it.

If you want to see a strong organization look at the liquor dealers; if you want to see a weak one look at the consumers.—Chicago Daily News.

A Genealogical Joke.

Cornhill Magazine: A man applies to the college for a coat-of-arms, and was asked if any of his ancestors had been renowned for any singular achievement. The man paused and considered, but could recollect nothing.

"Your father," said the herald, aiding his memory. "Your grandfather? Your great-grandfather?"

"No," replies the applicant. "I never knew that I had a great-grandfather or a grandfather."

"Of yourself?" asks this creator of dignity.

"I know nothing remarkable of myself," replied the man, "only that, being once locked up in Ludgate prison for debt, I found means to escape from an upper window, and that, you know, is no honor in a man's scutcheon."

"And how did you get down?" said the herald.

"Odd enough," retorts the man. "I procured a cord, fixed it round the neck of the statue of King Lud, on the outside of the building, and thus let myself down."

"It has it," said the herald: "no honor! Lineally descended from King Lud! And his coat-of-arms will do for you."

Unprejudiced Proverbs.

Boston Home Journal: If the X-ray was applied to minds, probably the only one who would not shrink from the ordeal would be the man of consistently evil life.

After a man is thirty he despairs of finding his ideal, while a woman of thirty is apt to see hers in any unattached man of decent looks.

Justice is merely injustice from one point of view.

The less a man does the more time he has for telling what should be done. Old age is magnified youth.

The speech of love is dangerous only when it becomes a written language.

An unprincipled man may be exceedingly dangerous as an enemy, but is infinitely more so as a friend.

A Plain Mixed Drink.

Boston Home Journal: The greenhorn who went into a place and asked for a "plain mixed drink" should have been satisfied with a nip of vermouth.

Those who know claim this tippie to consist of nutmegs, Peruvian bark, mild wormwood, sweet flag, cardamom, century, elecampane root, gentian, angelica root, wormwood, ginseng, alcohol, water, tonca beans, coriander seeds, cinnamon, dittany, sage, basil, iris, raisins, mint, marshmallow flowers, sweet marjoram and white wine.

Omniscience.

Detroit Journal: "The very hairs of your head are numbered!" he cried.

Though he preached to a hardened generation the multitude was not unmoved.

"And I have no doubt," thundered the exhorter, glaring ominously down into the faces of the people. "that if you are a woman, the real color of these, even, is 'definitely known.'"

Now sobs could be heard here and there.

Tommy on the School Question.

I think my folks is orful mean 'n' cold 'n' 'scold 'n' say they wish vacation never came 'n' school keep every day.

Jest 'cause I woke the baby up! But he can yell all night 'n' momma calls him "Precious Peck" 'n' thinks he's jest all right.

If my folks had ter be shut up With fifty kids like me, 'n' had ter sit upstretcher, ner talk 'Ner play from 9 ter 3, (An' teacher scoldin' 'most all day) They'd want vacation, too!"

An' think that school 'bout once a week Was more'n enough ter do.

But my folks they don't know how tired A feller gets ter hear Jes "Tommy, stop," 'n' "Tommy, don't," Right straight ahead all year.

An' don't I hate ter look so still 'n' watch the clock jest crawl Ter have ter say of lessons 'n' have no fun at all.

If my folks only made me go Jes when it rains—or when A feller can't play ball—why, sure, I wouldn't mind it then!

But now there's strawberries on the hills 'n' ferns 'n' wildflowers—say They'll all be gone vacation time! Can't I stay home to-day?

'Course my folks won't let me—no, It's "Trot right straight erlong, An' don't be late, 'n' study hard, 'n' don't do nothin' wrong!"

Jest head of school—an' momma, sure, My head aches orful bad! Can't I stay home now? Teacher? Why she'll be more'n glad!

Have ter go? All right, my folks Jes think I'd make a noise, An' don't I hate ter look so still 'n' watch the clock jest crawl Ter have ter say of lessons 'n' have no fun at all.

—Selected.

Music for Nervousness.

Some scientists have claimed that music has the power to soothe the nerves. But the quietest way to cure nervousness is to strengthen the nervous system. We know of nothing which will accomplish this quicker than Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It is the one medicine that is successful above all others in the treatment of blood, stomach and liver diseases. Do not take a substitute. See that a private revenue stamp covers the neck of the bottle.

ALWAYS ask your grocer for Wheeling Bakery Bread. Good. Big. Cheap.

"Now good digestion waits on appetite, and health on both."

If doesn't, try Burdock Blood Bitters.

Second-Hand Pianos.

We have several second-hand Pianos, including such makes as

KNABE, STEINWAY and CHICKERING,

At prices that will astonish you.

Call and See Them.

Milligan, Wilkin & Co., 1138, 1140 and 1142 Market St.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR

Love never condescends to reason; that is why it is so reasonable.

The average woman would rather have a man think less of her and think of her often.

When a woman takes to collecting old china it is the first step toward collecting old men.

You can always distract a woman's attention by showing her a new doyley pattern or a baby.

A woman's idea of society is to talk and act before people who aren't her own family like she thought the world was nothing but a nice dish of strawberries and cream.—New York Press.

What the Prisoner Said.

A celebrated judge was once trying a case where the accused could only understand Irish, and an interpreter was accordingly sworn. The prisoner said something to the interpreter and the latter replied. "What does he say?"

"Nothing, my lord," demanded the judge. "Nothing, my lord," "How dare you say that, when we all heard him? Come sir, what was it?"

"My lord," said the interpreter, beginning to tremble, "it had nothing to do with the case."

"If you don't answer I'll commit you, sir." Now, what did he say? "Well, my lord, you'll excuse me, but he said, 'Who's that old woman with the red bed-curtain round her, sitting up there?'"

"At this every-body present roared. "What did you say?" said the judge, looking a little uncomfortable. "I said, 'Whist, ye scamp, that's the old boy that's going to hang yer.'"

—Household Words.

PASSING PLEASANTRIES.

Employer (irascibly)—"Confound that boy! He's never here when he's wanted!"

Clerk—"I think it must be hereditary with him, sir. His father is a policeman."—Tit-Bit.

Those Loving Girls—Helen—"See my new engagement ring. Don't you think George has good taste?"

Mattie—"He certainly has—in the selection of a ring."—Chicago News.

Time to Stop—Jack Bachelor—"I suppose you will name him after Dewey?"

Ned Newlywed—"Well—er—no. You see, Jane and I both think that Dewey has had honors enough."—Puck.

Cause and Effect—Mr. Dukane—"The sultan of Sulu came in promptly out of the wet."

Mr. Gaswell—"Yes, he wished to prolong his rainy season."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

"Do you believe Dreyfus is guilty?" "Of course I do," replied the French army officer fiercely. "Guilty of what?"

"Guilty of trying to prove his innocence, of course. Anybody ought to be able to see that."—Washington Star.

Oh, Dread Disease—"Bleeker's doctor has ordered him to cease riding in his horseless carriage for awhile."

"What's the trouble?" "He's used it so constantly that he has become automobile-ill."—Philadelphia North American.

No Equity About It—"Fate doesn't order these things with any degree of equity," said the young man with the up-and-down collar. "Why not?"

"Why didn't you say goodbye in response?" "I was just about to do so, Henrietta, but I checked myself. I was afraid you would accuse me of trying to have the last word again."—Nashville Star.

Be Careful—"Leonidas!" exclaimed Mr. Meekton's wife, on his return from a journey. "I am at a loss to understand your conduct when we parted. I said goodbye to you."

"Yes, Henrietta, I said goodbye to you, 'n' you said 'goodbye' in response?" "I was just about to do so, Henrietta, but I checked myself. I was afraid you would accuse me of trying to have the last word again."—Nashville Star.

State of Ohio, City of Toledo, Lucas County, ss.

Frank J. Cheney makes oath that he is the senior partner of the firm of F. J. Cheney & Co., doing business in the city of Toledo, county and state aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of One Hundred Dollars for each and every case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by the use of Hall's Catarrh Cure.

FRANK J. CHENEY. Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence this 6th day of December, A. D. 1896.

A. W. GLEASON, Notary Public.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

SAVE your tin seals from Wheeling Bakery Bread. Valuable premiums.

A RARE OPPORTUNITY.

To Secure a Complete Set of Encyclopedia Britannica.

Frank Stanton is offering the public a fine chance to secure the Encyclopedia Britannica, complete in thirty superb octavo volumes. This includes the recent supplement of five volumes of particular interest to Americans.

For a short time this standard work is offered at 30 per cent less than it was sold by a leading Chicago daily paper and on easier terms.

The Encyclopedia Britannica is on exhibition in Frank Stanton's store, and they will be glad to show it to any one who cannot come in person, write them, and they will be glad to send you by mail full particulars about the work and the great offer of the above enterprising firm.

They have only a limited number of sets, however, and if interested, you should investigate at once.

QUALITY and Quantity in Wheeling Bakery Bread. At your grocers.

FAMILY WASHING.

Tough Dry Washed, Starched and Dred 3 cents per pound.

Flint Work, Washed and Ironed, 5 cents per pound.

All hand work finished 10 cents per pound. At LUTZ BROS' WASHING HOUSE Steam Laundry.

SAVE your tin seals from Wheeling Bakery Bread. Valuable premiums.

New Dress Goods.

NEW DRESS GOODS. The Correct Styles for Fall and Winter Wear.

Black and Colored Venetian Cloth.

Black Crepon from $1.00 to $3.50.

Black and Navy Cheviots.

Black Camel's Hair.

Jamestown Dress Goods in the new weaves. The best 50c goods in the market. All Wool and Sponged. Will wear like iron.

New Percale Wrappers, full size and wide skirts; made to fit—98c each.

J. S. RHODES & CO. Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE. Two Nights, Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 6 and 7. A Fantasy of Fun and Music. Fourth Annual Tour of the Polite Farce Comedy.

AT GAY CONEY ISLAND. Brought Strictly Up to Date. Produced with a carload of special scenery. Prices—50c, 75c and $1.00. Reserved seats on sale at Opera House Box Office Tuesday at 9 a. m.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE. Two Solid Weeks, commencing Monday, Sept. 4. John A. Himmerlein's Ideals and Howson's 20th Century Band. Repertoire for the first week—Monday and Tuesday, "Saved From the Storm;" Wednesday and Thursday, "The Ladder of Life;" Friday and Saturday, "The Irish Hero." Night prices, 10c, 20c, 30c. Matinee prices, 10c and 20c.

Puritan Gas Ranges. $16.00. For this style Puritan Gas Range. Has Baking Oven and Broiler. Oven 16 1/2 inches square. Furnished with closed tops for winter and open tops for summer without extra charge. Call and examine the Puritan line.

Nesbitt & Bro., 1312 Market Street. Educational.

Notice! All Cadets of the Linsly Institute, both old and new, are requested to meet at the Institute building at 10 a. m., Monday, September 4. New students will be enrolled and arrangements made for the military camp.

New Students. New students will not be required to have uniforms for the camp. It is desirable, however, that as many as possible be in uniform on that occasion. For further particulars, address B. C. Dent, Wheeling.

B. C. DENT, U. S. N., COMMANDER.

Mont de Chantal Academy. NEAR WHEELING, W. VA. IN THE CHARGE OF THE SISTERS OF THE VISITATION, B. V. M. FIFTY-FIRST YEAR, 1898-99, OPENS WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 13. Climate desirable for delicate girls. Ten acres beautifully laid out. Golf, Tennis, Croquet and other athletic games. Excellent care; reasonable rates. Address THE DIRECTRESS OF MONT DE CHANTAL ACADEMY, Near Wheeling, W. Va.

THURSTON PREPARATORY SCHOOL. SHADY AVENUE, PITTSBURG. A Home School for Girls, in connection with the present day school, will open September 25. For catalogue and further information, address MISS ALICE M. THURSTON, 365-mw&t

VIRGINIA COLLEGE FOR YOUNG LADIES, Roanoke, Va. Opens Sept. 12th, 1899. One of the leading Schools for Young Ladies in the South. Magnificent buildings, all modern improvements. Campus ten acres. Grand mountain scenery in Valley of Va., famed for health. European and American teachers. Full course. Superior advantages in art and music. Students from twenty-seven States. For catalogue address the President, MATTIE P. HARRIS, Roanoke, Virginia, mw&t

Beautiful Forms and composition. Are not made by chance, nor can they ever in any material be made at small expense. A competition for cheapness, and not for excellence of workmanship, is the most frequent and certain cause of the rapid decay and entire destruction of arts and manufactures. For best (which is the cheapest) work, the Intelligencer Job Printing Office is the place to go.

New Advertisements.

W. W. McCLELLAND, Teacher of Band and Orchestra Instruments: also Guitar and Mandolin. 1229 Market street, third floor.

NOTICE TO MEDICAL PROFESSION. Members of "The Medical Society of Wheeling and Ohio County," and of the Medical Profession of this vicinity are requested to meet at rooms of the Board of Education this (Monday) evening at 8 o'clock. C. A. WINGERTER, Secretary.

1899 BLUE LABEL CATSUP 1899

Curtice Bros' famous Blue Label Catsup. New goods—just in.

H. P. BEHRENS CO., 2217 Market St.

Private School At Leatherwood. Miss Frances L. Bell will reopen her school on Monday, September 18. Thorough instruction for boys and girls in primary and preparatory branches. sel-2-4-3-3

A POWERFUL Disinfectant and Deodorizer is HYDRO-CRESOL. To prevent sickness, purify your drains, vaults and cellar. Sold only by R. H. LIST, 1010 Main St.

Cuticura Soap At Cuticura Salve Cut Cut Cuticura Plaster Cut Cut Cuticura Resolvent Rates. GOETZE'S CUT RATE DRUG STORE, Market and Twelfth Streets. See our window display.

STOCKS FOR SALE. Wheeling Pottery, La Belle Mill, Bellaire Gas & Electric Co. Wheeling Bridge, Wheeling Steel and Iron Co. Crystal Glass Co. Wheeling Bridge Co. Postoria Glass Co. Wheeling Railway Co. BONDS. Whitaker Mill, Ravenswood S. & G. R. R. Wheeling Stamping Co. National Steel Co. stock, American Tin Plate Co. stock, National Hiscutt Co. stock bought and sold on Stock Exchange, Chicago.

SIMPSON & TATUM, Room 4, City Bank Building. Phone 664.

ST. JO