OBEY THE LAW

Was the Injunction Prominent in the First of the Union

GOOD CITIZENSHIP MEETINGS

Held Last Night at the First Presbyterian Church, with Rev. N. S. Thomas and Mr. C. S. Morrison as the Speakers—A Fair Sized Audience Present, Many Being of the Gentler Sex—Others to be Held.

The first of the union meetings, in the interest of good citizenship, inaugurated by the Ministerial Association, was held last night, at the First Presbyterian church. There was a fair-sized audience present, including a large sprinkling of the fair sex. The speakers were Rev. N. S. Thomas, rector of St. Matthew's P. E. church, and Mr. C. S. Morrison, the lawyer. Rev. Dr. Cunningham, pastor of the church, presided over the meeting. The addresses had as their central thought, strict obedience to the law.

Rev. Mr. Thomas delved into history in referring to union gatherings, where citizens of every class and creed had stood elbow to elbow to bring about civic reform. He instanced the bribery and corruption used by railroads and other corporations in obtaining valuable privileges from municipal bodies in the larger cities, and after speaking along this line, he said the Christian people wanted an improvement in this city, hence had originated the union meetings by the Ministerial Association.

One of the underlying principles of good citizenship, continued Mr. Thomas, was reverence for human, as well as divine, authority. The laws should be enforced or else swept off the statute books. Both the Old and the New Testaments contained injunctions for men to obey their rulers, thus teaching respect and obedience and reverence for human authority. The law stands as a semi-divinity and we must obey it. It is a duty also of the people to see that the law is enforced. To violate a law flagrantly is to invite violation of all law.

The speaker asked why there was so much disrespect for the law. The disrespectful child must make the lawless citizen. And so there can't be a great reform until this lawlessness is eradicated, and the proper course is by instilling proper respect for law in the youth of the land—teaching patriotism in a practical sense.

That class of people who wrap their robes about them on election day and say that as both candidates are bad they will vote for neither, were scored by Mr. Thomas, and he emphasized the fact that no man was a good citizen who betrayed an apathy to elections and abstained from the use of his suffrage. Concluding, Mr. Thomas said obedience to law was the only satisfaction.

The audience then joined in singing "Stand Up for Jesus," after which Mr. C. S. Morrison was presented by Dr. Cunningham.

Mr. Morrison read his remarks from a manuscript. He began by saying it was an injured moral sense that had to do with the inception of the war with Spain. A prominent figure in this war was Col. Theodore Roosevelt, now governor of New York, whom Mr. Morrison eulogized for his purity and virtue in his political life. Proceeding, Mr. Morrison said he believed that party fealty was a matter of less moment in city politics than in that of the state and nation. The union effort was a protest, if nothing more, against infraction of city ordinances, and a show of sentiment for better things in the future. Mr. Morrison thought the Christian citizens should show their strength to both political parties. The public conscience was determined in a large measure by the Christian element in the community, said the speaker in conclusion.

After the meeting adjourned there was held a meeting of the committee in charge of the meetings. To-night's will occur at Fourth Street M. E. church, and will be addressed by Rev. Dr. J. T. McCrory, of Pittsburgh. His subject will be, "Do Our Cities Need Nehemiah?"

Ohio Election Officers Arrested.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 13.—John Bell, John L. Evans and O. Gindelsberger, deputy state supervisors of elections, were arrested to-day on a warrant sworn out by Thomas Clifford, charging them with violating the Ohio election law. The arrests are made at the instance of the defeated candidates on the independent legislative ticket. They claim that the board of supervisors failed of its statutory duty when it did not comply with their request to name them non-partisan and put them in the Jones' column, failed to put a white circle over their names and blackened the space where the circle should have been, put above their names. The supervisors furnished bail for appearance in court next Friday.

Mr. Moreland filed his plea shortly after the suit was entered. The damages claimed are to cover the alleged loans made by House to Mr. Flinn.

PRIVATE WILLIAMS

Of the Twelfth Infantry, Writes to a Friend in Wheeling, From the Philippines—About to Begin the March on Tarlac.

Police Lieutenant O. M. Suppler yesterday received an interesting letter from Private William J. Williams, who enlisted from Wheeling several months ago and was assigned to the Twelfth United States Infantry in service in the Philippines. In the letter he says:

"The second night after I got here the 'niggers' opened up on us, but they did no good, and when our big guns opened on them they soon left. Our regiment went out and laid all night for them, but they did not come back. They are all around our town, but when we start after them they fire a few shots and then run. I would like to see Will Clemons after one of them; they can outrun a horse, I can tell you; they would make good foot racers. We got orders yesterday for a three months' campaign, and we will have a hot time of it. We will go to Tarlac, which is a walled city that will be a hard place to take, for they have some pretty big guns up there.

We have got sixteen of our boys back who were prisoners. They say we will have a hard time when we go up to Tarlac, where they were in prison.

I send you one of the papers they print over here, and a chain one of the natives made for me. He was a prisoner. I saw him making one, and he said if I would give him a cigarette he would give it to me. Don't laugh when you see our papers; they are not very large, but you ought to see the boys buying them when the paper boys come from Manila.

WILLIAM J. WILLIAMS

Co. D, Twelfth U. S. Infantry. The paper is a copy of "Freedom," published in Manila, and is not "so small," either, being a ten page affair and full of news. The leading article tells of the operations on the south line, near Manila, early in October, and reference is made to the bombardment of Novalita by several American gunboats, including the Wheeling.

EASY GOOD, EASY BAD,

Discovers a Difference.

"After twenty years of coffee drinking and a good portion of the time suffering from severe headaches and nervousness, I finally waked up to the fact that the coffee was the cause of the trouble.

"I was led to accuse coffee of being the cause of the difficulty by reading about Postum Food Coffee. Since using Postum, I have been singularly free from any of the ailments mentioned.

"It is easy to make good Postum and easy to make bad. The difference is in the boiling. I send you herewith a list of friends I know would be benefited by leavink off coffee and using Postum Food Coffee. Kindly send them information on the subject." G. B. L. HOT ON THE TRAIL.

An Arrest Expected Hourly of the Assassin of Farmer James Gosnell, of Mount Pleasant.

The avengers of the death of James H. Gosnell are hourly getting hotter on the trail of the assassin, according to William Davidson, a brother-in-law of Gosnell's, who was in Steubenville Monday, consulting with attorneys as to what course to pursue in bringing about the arrest of the guilty party.

The crime has been wrapped in awful mystery, he said, but one thing has cropped out through it all, and that is that the man who did it was well acquainted with the surroundings to the house.

He said that they had been putting clue after clue together and within twenty-four hours there may be an arrest. Regarding the gun he said the chase after it has been so hot that a man has admitted that he had the gun in his possession, but would not show it or turn it over except to some properly accredited officer. When the gun is examined it will be known who did the shooting. Precautions have been taken to prevent the person suspected taking "French leave" of the country.

DIAMOND ROBBERY.

Neat Trick Played on a Cleveland Jeweler Yesterday.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 13.—Thirty thousand dollars' worth of diamonds were stolen this afternoon from the store of Sigler Bros., at No. 34 Euclid avenue.

Three men entered the store, which is in on the second floor. One of the trio stood at the elevator cage and the other two entered the office of Mr. Sigler. One of the strangers engaged the attention of one of the clerks and the other talked to Mr. Sigler, at whose side was a black box four by ten inches, containing the diamonds.

Mr. Sigler says his attention was attracted for a moment and upon turning to his supposed customer, both had fled and the box of jewels was gone. The police have no clue save a description furnished by Mr. Sigler.
