THE INTELLIGENCER. WHEELING, FEBRUARY 8, 1900.

Meeting of the State League of Republican Clubs.

To the Republicans of West Virginia.

The time has come for aggressive action on the part of all adherents of our great party, which is now, as ever, the party of vital and positive principles. This year, as heretoere, Republicanism means patriotism. It therefore behooves the friend of good government everywhere to use all nonorable means to persputate Republican principles by bringing about the election by our wholming majorities of the Republican by our wholming majorities of the Republication of the pending campaign. Such effort should not cease until victory is won.

In yiew of the great influence for good wielded by club organizations in distributing political literature and arousing enthusiasm upon the live questions of the day, a meeting of the West Virginia State League of Republican Clubs is hereby called for To the Republicans of West Virginia.

League of Republican Clubs is hereby called for THURSDAY, MARCH 8, 1900. to be held in the city of Parkersburg. W. Va., for the purposes of reorganization, consideration of plans of work for the syen's campaign, election of delegand to the National League meeting, and for such other business as manufactured to the delegates, and the system of the sys

The Refunding Ordinance.

The refunding ordinance, which will be submitted to the voters of the city for ratification or rejection on the 24th of this month, seems to be a fair meas-ure for extricating the city from impending financial difficulties. The ordinance passed the council by a unanimous vote with an unusually large attendance, and we believe that the features of the measure will commend themselves to the approbation of the

Of course there are interested parties who would like to see the ordinance defeated, and who will do all in their power to accomplish that end. situation, however, that is presented is, that there are charges upon the treasury of the city coming due and these obligations will have to be satisfied in some manner. The ordinance provides for the liquidation of these charges. If the measure should be defeated then the only recourse is to increase the rate of taxation. Besides the benefits that will accrue to the city in refunding the present dobt, we believe the voters will also realize that it is not to their interest to vote for an increased tax rate.

may be excused in one sense for weeping hysterical tears over Goebel's coffin, of deploring the death of a young man who might have lived had it not been his own viciousness, it might be well to call its attention to some of its idiosyncracles. But giving its emotional editor credit for the sincerity of his we are reminded that men in Kentucky are as often moved to tears as they are to pull the ever ready gun-the wcapon of the coward.

In something over a column and a half the Journal preaches the funeral sermon over Mr. Goebel's remains, and while some of it is very touching, coming as it does from an emotional pen This is the same paper that once condemned Goebel when he was driving the Kentucky legislature into a heap and making the members vote as bunch for his iniquitous election law. It is well enough to be consistent, even at the verge of the grave.

It goes out of its way to cast a slur on ex-Secretary of the Treasury John G. Carlisle. It goes out of its way in other instances, indicating a mercenary view of the situation which it is too cowardly to profess openly. It is w ing the same hypocritical tears that that arch hypocrite, Senator Blackburn shed in profusion over Col. Sandford the man who was murdered by Goebel.

The Hopeless Cause.

The Springfield (Mass.) Republican, newspaper published under a misleading title, and which has ever been the friend of Aguinaldo, the mouth-piece of the Atkinson "aunties" of Boston, and the bitter foe of the presadministration, has the following doleful prediction regarding Bryan:

Bryan situation is strictly The less his prospects of election the tighter grows his grip on the nemination. For the first time in our political history a great party sits wor-shipfully at the feet of a man and does little or nothing to oppose a leadership which few believe can result in vic-

Coming as this does from one of the tmost virulent anti-expansionist sheets in New England, if not in the country on the retreat of Mr. Bryan from his peaceful invasion of the "enemy's country," and the crushing comments of Mr. well, of Maine, Bryan's former run ning mate, we do not see much co left to the Nebraskan. The Indian-apolis Journal, neverthless, profession to give an explanation of the acquies sence of the Springfield Republican and other Democratic leaders in the inevi-table. It says: "With the issue before the country they have no hope of sucnext November. Whatever the platform may be or whomsoever the candidate may be, President McKinley, who has generally satisfied the country hose administration has been attended by a marvelous prosperity, will be re-elected. This fact seems to be conceded by leading Democrats in most of the states. The anti-Bryan men who are prominent Democratz realize this fact, and, realising it, they see a sure way to get clear of Mr. Bryan, his siland other heresies. They may make a little show of opposition, but they will acquiesce in Mr. Bryan's nomination. They do not "sit worshipfully at Mr. Bryan's feet as the Massachusetts paper affirms, but they are walting patiently to see Mr. Bryan rejected as the party dictator by another defeat. When he is again defeated they believe the Democracy will accept men of brains

A Desperate Democracy.

Nothing pleases the Democracy. They are determined to see nothing commendable in this administration, and their latest spasm is over the amended Clayton-Bulwer treaty, in which they affect to see concealed a defensive and offensive alliance with Great Britain. For bold misrepresentation they have fairly excelled themselves this time and all their pother is simply a hope less attempt to get an issue for the campaign, which shows how really desperate their case is.

The agreement concerning the neutralization of the proposed canal is, as the treaty itself sets forth, based upon those rules in force with regard to the Sues canal, under which that channel between the Mediterranean and the Red Sea was as open to the fleet which it was designed to send under Admiral Watson in 1898 in pursuit of the Spanish fleet under Admiral Camara, which had started for the Philippines, as it was to the vessels of Spain.

The rejection of the amendment to the queen's speech by the British house of commons was a wise thing to do, as the amendment was a virtual censure of the government. Right or wrong, now that the government is involved in war it is the duty of those at home to sustain the soldier in the field.

What is the matter with Kentucky? Why, since the close of the rebellion the state has been dominated by the repaired patriotism and mended citizenship of those who tried to destroy this government, the surviving and degen-erate Bourbons. That's what's the matter with Kentucky.

A New York woman went to court and asked for an injunction to restrain her husband from tickling her feet with a feather. Many women would be proud of such distinguished attention from their husbands.

The youthful Mr. Beckham would never have taken the oath as "gov-ernor" of Kentucky if he had not been supported by "Jack" Chinn and "Joe"

Congressman Sibley has given the Democrats something to think over, something they haven't had for some time past.

Montana takes the prize as showing up the most corrupt state of political affairs of any state in the country-and it is Democratic.

Do not forget the man behind Goebel-Blackburn.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR. A woman is a labor-saving device to pile up wood for a man to saw.

It takes a woman about nine minutes to pick out a husband and three women and seven hours to pick out a hat. A woman will break her heart be-cause a mun doesn't love her enough and then love him a lot better because she thinks she doesn't.

The only time a woman ever does what you think she is going to is when you think she is going to do what you don't think she is going to.

Nothing makes a girl madder than to have a man to try to kiss her when she isn't in a corner and when both of the doors in the room are open.—New York Press.

ENGLAND.

Her Present and Future as Seen by Lord Rosebery.

From the London Times' report of a speech at Chatham; Though I read with the greatest interest the criticisms of the military experts on the contin and read with a considerably greater in terest the deductions they draw that the sun of England is setting, and setting forever, I am not aware that any the sun of Engiand is setting, and setting forever, I am not sware that any other country in the world has ever sent. an army of 180,000 men to fight 7,000 miles away from its base. If that he a fact, said is a fact, we need not think the impotunce of Engiand is so great as it is supposed to be on the continent. There has been a great loss of prestige. I suppose that at the end of 188 the prestige of Engiand stood higher than it has stood since Waterloo. I am afraid that this war has dispersed a good deal of sentiment; but I ask you to remember that, if it was ill-founded, it is infinitely better that it should be dispelled now than that, resting on a rotten foundation, it should ture us by its dream of power into enterprises which might be much more disastrons. That prestige, I venture to predict, will be recovered without much difficulty. What we have to do is to set ourselves, with as little loss as may be, to recover all that prestige. When the war is finished if we set ourselves earniestly to do the work of recovering the reputation which undoubtedly we have lost by our military operations in South Africa, we shall be infinitely more powerful, infinitely stronger, infinitely more formidable than at any previous time in our history.

This country has had two supreme assets, to a degree which no other country in the world possesses; therefore I venture to use the word "supreme." They are our navy and our capital—weapons of enormous importance in time of war and instruments of enormous weight in time of peace. These are the supreme assets which we have in a condition superior to all other nations, and with that start of a navy and capital, we should not be long in building up our prestige.

We have another asset, but it would be offensive to other nations to say we

In a condition superior to all other mations, and with that start of a navy and capital, we should not be long in building up our prestige.

We have another asset, but it would be oftensive to other nations to say we have it in a degree superior to any others, and therefore I will not say it: I will only say it is solid, visible and tangible—I mean the character of our people. I think that many of us in late years, in watching the march of prosperity, the march of ease, the march of luxury in this country, the heedeesness with which we were assuming enormous responsibilities abroad without really thinking sufficiently of how we were to sustain these responsibilities, must have begun to fear that the nation might be suffering from fatty degeneration of the heart; that the nation might prove itself unworthy of its high desilny; that it had had too easy a time, and that it required to be braced up and tested by its adversity. We have been braced and tested by adversity. I venture to think that if that week which ended with the battle of the Tugela had been passed in some countries and among some peoples it would have ended—perhaps not in revolution, though not impossibly in that—yet in such disquiet, such mortification, such accusations of betrayal and treachery against their chiefs, that the end of the nation might have been visible. I, for my part, was never so proud of my country as at the end of that week. There was a passionate resolve to pour out the last shilling and the last man to assist the country in her hour of need. Whatever foreign nations may think, they have not got to the bottom of Old England yet. (Prolonged cheering).

Negotiations are also in progress with Ecuador for the cession of Chatham Island, of the Galaapagos group, to this government.

By the acquisition of these islands and the possession of Porto Rico and the Hawalian islands, the United States will practically control the approaches of the proposed Nicaragua canal.

Fixing Alaskan Boundary.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.-The Washington correspondent of the Journal and Advertiser avers that he has received information indicating that Ambassa dor Choste and Lord Salisbury were in London Tuesday perfecting the detalls of the settlement of the Alaskan permanent boundary line with the British right to tidewater facilities as an essential feature of the prospective Nicaragua canal convention.

Bulwer and the Alaskan boundary have been disassociated out of respect to American justice, they are closely assoclated in fact.

Still a Matter of Conjecture, But Events Point to Active Movements in the Direction of the Relief of Ladysmith, and General Advance is Looked For.

Have Lords Roberts and Kitchener

to Superintend Movements.

LONDON, Feb. 7.-While the suspense regarding Gen. Buller's move ments and the operations affecting the fate of Ladysmith continues unrelieved, even by the vaguest dispatch, there comes from other quarters interesting news in the announcement that Field Marshal Lord Roberts, the commanderin-chief of the British forces in South Africa, and his chief of staff, Major Gen. Lord Kitchener, have left for the front. As this information was held up for several hours by the censor, it seems to indicate that an important movement is on foot. A dispatch from Sterkstroom, dated this morning, announces that the Boers are attacking Gen. Gatacre from two directions. Firing was then proceed-ing between the outposts. A delayed Sterkstroom dispatch, dated Monday, Feb. 5, says that a body of troops left the camp Feb. 3, and that important developments were expected. It is quite probable that this explains Lord Roberts' departure and that the commander-in-chief wishes either to b present at or supervise the long-intended movement by Gen. Gatacre to join forces with Gen. Kelly-Kenny, and thence strongly reinforce Gen. French, completing the latter's work at Colesberg and establishing, without fear of serious opposition, the advanced position for the main movement. This, of course, is greatly supposition, and it can be confidently said that the depar ture of Lord Roberts and Lord Kitchener for the front does not indicate that the main advance has begun. The commanders will probably be back in Cape Town within a short time. It is pointed out that the term going to the front must not be interpreted into the idea. that a great movement upon Pretoria, by way of Bloemfontein, has seriously commenced. It will be a month, or per haps much longer, before this can be brought about. In the meanwhile the preliminary steps are likely to enliven the campaign with sharp fighting, and news from Sterkstroom and Colesberg is eagerly awaited.

Supposition regarding Gen. Buller, owing to lack of all definite information, is as futile as it was yesterday.
