TRAINED NURSES.

Eight in City Hospital's 1900 Graduating Class.

THE FIRST PUBLIC EXERCISES

Given at the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium Were Very Interesting—Addresses by Mr. Alfred Paull, Rev. Joseph Speers, Dr. L. D. Wilson and Mayor Sweeney—Eulogies of the Nurse's Noble Calling—Many Musical Numbers.

The first public graduating exercises of the City hospital training school for nurses occurred at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium last night, and the exercises were of a very interesting character, and witnessed by a large audience, composed for the most part of patrons of the hospital and members of the medical profession, with their wives and friends. There were eight graduates, who occupied seats on the stage. They were attired in the hospital uniform, as were a number of the former graduates, who sat in reserved chairs near the stage.

The members of the class were as follows:

- Miss Mayme Elizabeth Ball, of Elizabeth, Wirt county, W. Va.
- Miss Kathryn Lenore MacKown, of Pittsburgh, Pa.
- Miss Pressie Laing Reed, of Bellaire, Ohio.
- Miss Anna Lee Cox, of Wheeling, W. Va.
- Miss Ella Jane Phillips, of Harrison county, Ohio.
- Miss Etta Leona Major, of Barnesville, Ohio.
- Miss Kate Singleton Lakin, of Stark, Florida.
- Miss Anna Louise Ball, of Elizabeth, Wirt county, W. Va.

Rev. Dr. J. L. Sooy opened the exercises with prayer, in which he spoke of the loss the hospital association and the community suffered in the death of Mr. Henry K. List. Then followed a selection by the Waldo Mandolin Club, during which the graduates in their attractive uniforms marched into the hall and took their places on the stage. Sitting with the alumnae was Miss Ethel F. Heinrichs, superintendent of the hospital. Among the graduates present were Miss Claudia Shallerross, of Cambridge, Ohio; Miss Lillian Fadelley, of this city, and Mrs. Susan Cook, of Martin's Ferry.

After expressing regret that President H. M. Russell, of the City Hospital Association, was unable to be present, Mr. Alfred Paull, president pro tem, drifted into a eulogy of the ideal physician, than whom there was no higher calling. And the same tributes were applicable to the nurse, with sympathy in her heart for the afflicted. Mr. Paull said he felt the pleasure to be able to present to the graduates their well earned and deserved honors.

Miss Emily Pollock followed with a splendidly played piano solo.

Dr. L. D. Wilson, president of the hospital staff of physicians and surgeons, made a neat address, which was prefaced by reading a few lines of a poem, praiseworthy of woman, the summary of which was "a ministering angel, thou." Continuing, Dr. Wilson said that woman was alone in the field as a nurse, and when on a mission of mercy she was respected and defended, even in barbarous and uncivilized lands. The advent of the trained nurse, at present, is somewhat of an innovation, and there is still a little prejudice existing, but this will soon be eliminated. In conclusion, Dr. Wilson spoke directly to the class.

There is no trivial occupation. Sleepless nights and toilsome days would be their portion; the moanings of the suffering were to be charmed away by their presence; they would be called on in all emergencies and forced to undergo many exactions. The work of a nurse in the sick room entailed self-denial and sacrifice, and marvelous responsibilities. There was a brighter side, however, to the work. There would be the appreciation of the patient, prayers and rewards both in this and the next world, aside from the pecuniary recompense. Dr. Wilson gave the graduates many words of cheer and praise, and appreciation of his effort was shown by the applause after he concluded.

The next number was a vocal solo, sung charmingly by Miss Flora Stifel.

In beginning his address, Rev. Joseph Speers said, there was so much to say he was afraid to say anything. He agreed with Mr. Paull that the profession of a physician was a most noble one, and second to none was that of a nurse. Rev. Mr. Speers spoke eloquently of the work of the City Hospital, and he said the institution needed more faith in it and support from the citizens of Wheeling. The hospital was doing a grand work, and merited generous encouragement. Incidentally the speaker warmly praised the physicians and surgeons of Wheeling for their ready responses at any hour to calls from the sick and injured, and this was worthy of special laudation when the number of charity cases treated at the hospital was considered. To the graduating class, Rev. Mr. Speers made remarks appropriate to the occasion.

A beautifully executed solo by Miss Ruth Wolf varied the exercises at this point, after which Mayor Andrew T. Sweeney spoke briefly and effectively, as follows:

"One of the most perplexing questions with which we have to deal is the selection of our life work because our success in life depends to a great extent upon our making a proper choice and one for which we are best fitted. The human family is so constructed that each is to a large degree dependent upon the other, and as we apply the talents given us, so are we performing our duty to our Creator and our fellow man.

"You, ladies, have chosen a profession than which there is none more honorable, useful or possessing a wider field for fulfilling your obligation to society, through your training and knowledge you will be able to a great extent, to relieve pain and suffering to comfort, cheer and nurse back to life or to ease the last moments and close the eyes of those whose course is run, mayhap of some far removed from friends and home and whose loved ones will ever bless you. Success in this life is not always possible. Sometimes failure seems to come despite, the most rigid exercise of energy and talent, but earnest intent, close application and determination to succeed, must in the end, reward you, if not with entire success, at least with the consciousness of having done all you could.

"I bid you good-speed in your work and trust when it is ended you may have the conviction of having well performed your part on the stage of life."

Miss Adele Metzner, a young lady with a bright musical future, next sang a pretty selection in good form.

The diplomas and class pins were presented by Mr. Paull and Mrs. W. F. Butler, president of the Woman's Hospital Association. This was a brief and formal ceremony. Boxes of bon-bons, the gift of Dr. Henri P. Ljans, were a pleasing surprise to the class. A selection by the Waldo Mandolin Club and benediction by Rev. Dr. Sooy brought the exercises to a close.

EPWORTH PARK ASSEMBLY

Programme for This Season is Full of Good Things—Many Cottagers Preparing for Their Hot-Weather Stay.

The managers of the Epworth Park Assembly have completed their programme for this season, and announce that this pleasant summer resort is more inviting than in any of the ten seasons since it was opened, not only in the varied programme for the ten days of the assembly meeting, but in the beauty of the park as a summer resort for families. Many families have already arranged to occupy their cottages, and it is certain that the park will be well peopled this year.

The programme embraces this list of lecturers: Prof. N. N. Riddell, Dr. J. C. Jackson, Dr. A. B. Riker, Col. George W. Bain, Dr. S. A. Steele, Miss Olof Kraver, Dr. Jehu DeWitt Miller, Dr. J. C. Reager, Dr. William C. Dawson, General Ballington Booth and Rev. Anna B. Shaw, with two vacancies yet to fill, and this combination of entertainments: The Shepherdson Quartette, the Blind Trio, the Uncle Jesh Picture Play Company, the Great American Vitagraph, the African Boy Choir, the Hungarian Gypsy Band, J. B. Francis McDowell, the pianist, Miss Rosamond Dugan, reader and elocutionist, Miss Alta Charters and Miss Bessie Bowman, in solos and duets, Miss N.N. Hogue, of Detroit, violinist, and Mr. Blanchard Hiatt as chorister. These together with departments of instruction under Dr. E. A. Simons, Dr. J. K. Grimes, Miss Rosamond Dugan and others, will go to make up the features of the assembly meeting, during which there will be special occasions, such as G. A. R. Day, Labor Day, Temperance Day, Young People's Day, etc., etc. Heatherington's brass band will furnish the music for the assembly, and will give a concert of their own at the park the Saturday evening before the opening.

Instructed for Hall.

At the recent Republican convention in Lincoln county, the delegation to the state convention was instructed for James K. Hall in the following resolutions:

Whereas, The Republicans of Lincoln county, in convention assembled, appreciating the worth and merit of Hon. J. K. Hall, of Wheeling, as a candidate for auditor, therefore be it Resolved, That we endorse the candidacy of said J. K. Hall and thereby pledge the support of the delegates appointed by this convention to use all honorable means in their power to secure his nomination for auditor.

COMPANY A WILL APPEAR

In the Decoration Day Parade, Having Been Given Right of Line.

One of the features of Decoration Day exercises will be the appearance of Company A, First Infantry, West Virginia National Guard, under the command of Capt. John P. Glass, with Lieutenants C. E. Morris and W. T. Crawford. Since the organization of the company, the citizens of Wheeling have had little opportunity to view this superb body of young men, who by diligent application to drill and the study of tactics, have been able, in a few short weeks, to pass inspection and receive a commendatory notice from Col. Simms.

The members of the company will appear with their new uniforms and guns in regular drill order, and will have the right of line in the parade. After the conclusion of the exercises at the Peninsular cemetery, the company, as a whole, will fire three salutes in honor of the heroes dead to whom the day is dedicated.

The members of the company are requested to assemble at the armory by 12 o'clock to-morrow, so that they may be drawn up in line for a photograph by Al Bearnley.

AN every day luxury is WHEELING BAKERY BREAD. Nothing better can be made. The largest loaf sold.

ONE Large Garland Stove, fit up with gas burners and brass water coil. One Valley Star Range, six holes. One Large Gasoline stove. These stoves are suitable for boarding house or large families, all good as new and will be sold at a bargain.
