At the Cathedral.

At the Cathedral yesterday morning Prof. John Evans rendered Schumann's "Framment" violin solo at the offertory in a faultless manner. The choli was unusually large yesterday, and Leonard's mass in B flat was sung, under the efficient director, John Yahn.

Funeral of Herman Bremer.

The funeral of Herman Bremer, whose sad death occurred Friday evening, will take place from his late residence on South Eoff street, at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The Rev. H. H. Haas, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, will have charge of the obsequies, and the choir of the church, of which deceased was a member, will render selections.

Company "A" Matters.

Major W. W. Scott, of Fairmont, commanding the First battalion, First regiment, W. V. N. G., will be in Wheeling to-day, and will be at the armory of Company "A" this evening.

This being a holiday will not be any drilling, and the members will appear in civilian's clothes. It is desired that every member be on hand to greet the major.

Many Excursionists.

Yesterday morning, on the Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling, under the auspices of the Wheeling castles of the Knights of the Golden Eagle, one of the largest excursions of the season left for Cleveland, where the day was pleasantly spent. About 800 excursionists packed the special train, which was run under the direction of Travelling Passenger Agent O. R. Wood.

Two excursions were brought to Wheeling Sunday via the Wheeling & Lake Erie, both on special trains, one from Cleveland and the other from Canton. About 1,500 excursionists came on the two trains. The Cleveland train left on the return trip at 8:45 and the Canton train at 8:10 p. m.

Thayer's Band a Great Success.

The initial appearance of Thayer's military band, of Canton, at Wheeling Park yesterday afternoon, drew a larger crowd than is usually attracted to that famous resort. Prof. H. Clark Thayer, the leader of this musical organization, is a counterfelt presentation of the celebrated John Philip Sousa, and in no way suffers in comparison in grace of action and musical technique with that distinguished band leader. Professor Thayer, like Sousa, is a composer of some note, is a sympathetic director and a most accomplished musician. He has an organization of thirty-five young men, who, like their leader, are ambitious to do the very best. Judging from the cordial reception they received from a discriminating audience yesterday, and the encores they were compelled to respond to, Thayer's band will always be ensured a warm welcome in Wheeling.

HYDROPHOBIA PROCLAMATION IS EFFECTIVE

To-day, and a Dog-Catching Service Has Been Instituted by City Authorities.

DOG CATCHERS ARE ENGAGED

And Will Operate Under the Direction of the West Virginia Humane Society.

To-day the hydrophobia proclamation of Mayor Sweeney goes into effect. It provides, on account of the prevalence of hydrophobia, which has already resulted in two deaths, and the biting of no less than ten people last week, that all dogs must be either confined or muzzled. Beginning to-day, dogs found at large without muzzles, will be either shot or confined in a dog pound.

Mayor Sweeney and Chief of Police Clemans, realizing that the catching of dogs would be an undertaking beyond the power of the police department with its present equipment and already fully employed force, have made arrangements with the West Virginia Humane Society, through its president, Mrs. John K. List, to institute a dog catching service this morning.

This service will be under the supervision of Humane Officer Echols, who will secure two specially prepared wagons, each manned by a driver and dog-catcher, which will make their rounds of the city and gather up all unmuzzled dogs. The canine victims will be taken to a dog-pound at the East End stock-yards, and all dogs unclaimed at the end of forty-eight hours will be shot.

Citizens desiring dangerous dogs disposed of, are requested to call up police headquarters, and the lieutenant in charge will send the dog-catcher to the scene at once.

Last night, Mayor Sweeney and Chief of Police Clemans issued the following supplemental proclamation:

Authority is hereby granted the Humane Society to catch and confine in a place to be provided by them, all dogs found at large in violation of the city ordinance. Dogs not reclaimed in forty-eight hours will be put to death under the supervision of the chief of police.

COLONEL WHITE ABROAD

He Talks Entertainingly of His Experiences During an Eight Weeks' Tour of Europe.

Colonel Robert White arrived home yesterday morning from an eight weeks' sojourn abroad, and as is his wont he observed everything with the eye that takes in all and permits nothing to escape it. Colonel White left Wheeling on July 9, and sailed on the 11th on the palatial steamer Oceanic, arriving at Queenstown after a voyage of five days and twenty hours. He disembarked at Liverpool and went direct to London. He visited all the points of interest in England and on the continent, including Geneva, Mont Blanc, Heidelberg, Cologne, Munich, Brussels and other points.

Colonel White was especially delighted in Switzerland and thought the scenery there the most beautiful and picturesque he ever saw. He marvelled at the happiness of the peasants there and said their farms and huts were the best kept and prettiest in the world. The most remarkable thing about this country was that he never saw a hog or a beggar there. He took passage on a steamer down the Rhine and found the castles and ruins on its banks a visual feast.

At Cologne, a place of about 300,000 inhabitants, he visited the great Cathedral. It was Sunday and they were having services, the choir rendering, Mr. White said, the grandest music he had ever heard. He thought Brussels the most beautiful city on the Continent.

He saw the Passion Play at Obermergau and thought it one of the wonders of the century. Obermergau is a village of 1,300 peasants. It required eight hours to go through the play. The great audience would take the keenest interest in the play all during its production. Some of the most touching things that could be portrayed to life were produced in the great Passion Play. At times the audience would be melted to tears by the wonderful scenes and effects here wrought. That a crowd of peasants could produce a play that would attract all Christendom was remarkable, he thought. It was played twice a week in a building with a seating capacity of over 6,000 persons. Some of the scenes were awe-inspiring and heart-melting.

The peasants in Obermergau made figures in clay and resided in cottages that consisted of a house and stable under the same roof. Nevertheless, they are clean. Mr. White slept in one of the players' homes one night and said he never was in a more neat or fastidiously clean place in his life.

In England Mr. White visited Stratford on Avon and in Scotland saw all those storied places immortalized by Sir Walter Scott. He also spent some time among the Gramplan Hills and enjoyed the scenery in that section. At Liverpool he took the Cunard liner Campana and arrived in New York last Saturday morning.

THE HUB CLOTHIERS.

Ready, Boys, Ready.

Again the junior army of the republic is ready for school. Young America is rampant with enthusiasm generated by a ten weeks' holiday. Expect a new Suit, new Hat, Shirts, Waists, etc. The boys' eyes will stick out as large as saucers when they see the great high pile of goodies we've got for their comfort and covering. It's looks that captures the boys.

Quality....

that wins the parents. We're solid on both sides. Boys are not the least bit particular. You must have SOLID WORTH in school clothes or they'll soon come to grief. We stand on the shoulders of our achievements of last year, and reached for all the improvements that had been made. You won't have to come up after them—WE'VE BROUGHT THEM DOWN TO THE SAME OLD PRICES—that's how we progress. It's the quality that gets ahead—the cost stands still. If you don't know just what you want, there's everything here that's worth having. Let the stock talk to you. If seeing is believing, SEEING WILL BE BUYING. In this case the arguments of the facts are convincing.

BRIEF MENTIONINGS.

Events in and About the City Given in a Nutshell

This is Labor Day. There is no Labor Day parade to-day. Labor Day celebration at the state fair grounds this afternoon.

The celebrated Banda Rossa will appear in two concerts, afternoon and evening, at the Wheeling Park to-morrow. This band created a fine impression on previous visits to Wheeling, and doubtless will be heard by large audiences this engagement.

M. Joseph Ward, of the Island, and formerly of the Actna-Standard mill, left last night over the Baltimore & Ohio, for Middletown, Ohio, where he will take charge of the galvanizing department of a new iron mill at that place. He takes with him some twenty-five or thirty men, former employees of the Actna-Standard.

The next bi-weekly concert by the Opera House band will be given Wednesday evening, September 5, instead of Thursday. As usual a dance will follow the concert, for which an augmented orchestra will furnish all the latest music. All invitations for the first concert will be honored for this, the third concert of the series.
