AN INCIDENT OF THE CANTON PILGRIMAGE.

Ohio Authorities After a Requisition For a Cleveland Murderer, But Governor Nash

DID NOT CALL ON "TEDDY"

To Pass on the Application, Though He Was on the Same Train. Takes Usual Course.

A peculiar coincidence was the fact that Governor Nash, of Ohio, while en route to Wheeling on the Roosevelt special on the Wheeling & Lake Erie road yesterday morning, received at Navarre a telegram from his private secretary at Columbus, stating that an application on the governor of New York for a requisition was desired from Cleveland. Governor Nash could have brought the matter before Governor Roosevelt then and there, but he stated to the Intelligencer representative that he wired back to Columbus to let application take the usual course, as he did not care to worry Governor Roosevelt with such matters of routine duty during his present arduous journey over the country. The telegram was as follows:

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 18, 1900. Hon. George K. Nash, Governor of Ohio, Navarre, Ohio: Application for requisition from Cuyahoga county on governor of New York for Harry Hillard Stewart, charged by indictment with murder in the first degree. Papers excellent.

C. C. LENHIT. The crime on which Stewart is wanted is the awful killing of his infant child at Cleveland by cutting her throat with a razor. Stewart was arrested in New York City.

The following New York special dispatch gives the bare details of the case:

"Harry Stewart, twenty-six years old, of Cleveland, was arrested here today on the charge of murder. Stewart left his wife and family in Cleveland two weeks ago, and came to New York, supposedly bringing with him his two-months-old girl baby. Soon after a dispatch was received here, asking the police to locate him, as he had stolen his baby. He was found working for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company as a stenographer. He refused information about his child. Last night the detective bureau received the following dispatch:

"Arrest on charge of murder Harry H. Stewart. The body of the child has been found. Do not delay. He may be advised and skip."

"GEORGE C. CORNER, Chief of Police." "Stewart refused to make any statements. He was remanded for forty-eight hours, in order to give the Ohio authorities an opportunity to send forward extradition papers."

NOT DANGEROUS,

But Demented, was Henry Howard Stewart, Says His Sister—Refuses to See the Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Miss Laura Stewart, sister of Henry Howard Stewart, who is wanted by the Cleveland police for the murder of his child, today visited her brother at the Jefferson prison, where he is confined. She is twenty-three years old, and a student of medicine in Philadelphia. Miss Stewart said that her brother had been demented for years. "He was not dangerous, but flighty," she added. He had scarlet fever when a child, and last year he had an operation performed upon him for appendicitis. The family moved from Denver to Cleveland, and in 1897 my brother disappeared. He roamed about the country for a year, and I got letters from him that were foolish. When he returned he went under the care of a physician."

Miss Stewart wanted to know when her brother would be taken back to Cleveland. She was told at the prison that it might be to-morrow.

Stewart refuses to see newspaper men.

Requisition for Stewart.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 18.—Governor Nash today issued a requisition on the governor of New York for Stewart.

AMUSEMENTS.

Mr. Charles Frohman, who has produced more plays, and has had more successes, than any manager in this country or Europe, has again scored a triumph. When he secured J. M. Barrie, the author of the famous novel, "The Little Minister," to make an adaptation of that famous story for the stage he thought that the play would be a success, but it has gone far beyond his expectations. This can be realized when it is stated as a positive fact that "The Little Minister" has been the success of the century. Everyone seems to be familiar with the novel, and its types of characters. They are so peculiar that those who have read the story are naturally anxious to see what kind of a play the author has made of it. That he has succeeded admirably is shown by the fact that everyone with one accord praises it. Manager Feinler is highly delighted at having been able to procure it. It will be seen here to-night at the Opera House. That it will be greeted by an extremely large audience, and fashionable, is an assured fact. The demands for seats has been of such a nature that before the company arrives every seat will undoubtedly be sold.

Dockstader's Minstrels.

When experienced men like Primrose and Dockstader get down to the work of organizing a new minstrel entertainment the public anticipates much in the line of un, originality, new jokes and brilliant accessories. And this is just what they have done this season. The favorites will appear at the Opera House on Tuesday, October 23, with an unequalled company of singers, comedians and special artists that cannot be excelled. Mr. Primrose introduces a new act which demands rich environment, and words fail to give an adequate idea of their marvelous beauty and elegance. Mr. Dockstader, whose impersonations of McKinley, Bryan, Roosevelt, Hanna and other political leaders are side-splitting, is helped by a railway station scene that is remarkable for its realistic beauty. He makes his speeches from the rear end of a Pullman coach. Among the comedians who keep the house in a roar are Nell O'Brien, Larry Dooley and Charley Kent.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Manager Feinler has booked what may be considered a decided novelty, and a welcome one, too, viz: a first-class production of the much-abused old play, "Uncle Tom's Cabin." This attraction, which is known as Al. W. Martin's, will be seen at the Grand during the half week commencing Monday night. Mr. Martin has taken much pains in the selection of the cast for his production, and has engaged actors for their special fitness for the various parts rather than for their ability to play some instrument in the band, which has been the rule of late years with managers of like attractions.

"A Hole in the Ground."

"A Hole in the Ground," Hoyt's stinging rebuke to that portion of train crews, station agents, baggage men and other minor railroad officials who fail to realize that they occupy their positions for the accommodation of the public, will be at the Opera House next Monday evening. The part of the "Stranger," a very unique character creation, is again in the hands of Charles Cowles, whose clever rendition of the same in the past caused his friends and acquaintances to dub him "A Stranger." Cowles fits the part and the part fits Cowles, consequently an interesting character ably impersonated is the result. Barry Maxwell, who created the quaint character of the tramp base ball umpire, has been especially engaged, and he will be seen again in this character, which did more to bring him to the front as a comedian than all the other roles he has undertaken.

"Midnight in Chinatown."

In spite of the attraction on the streets, there was a fair sized and very appreciative audience at the Grand Opera House last night, to witness the first production in this city of "Midnight in Chinatown." It is a big scenic melodrama, which appeals to all classes and made a splendid impression upon all who saw it. There are many startling and realistic scenes, and thrilling climaxes. The company is capable and well balanced, the leading roles being exceptionally well sustained. "Midnight in Chinatown" will be repeated to-night.

THE AMERICAN HABIT.

One in Every Three Affected.

Of the 75,000,000 people in America, it is estimated that 25,000,000, or one in every three, are partially disabled from a broken down nervous system. America is the greatest consumer of coffee in the world. Can you draw the correct inference from these two facts?

Many a person will exclaim, "Nonsense!" It is easy for any thoughtful person to jump at a conclusion that a philosopher would study carefully over before reaching. Think of the members of your own family; how many of them are perfectly and completely well in every respect? How many of your friends are perfectly healthy? Inquire of them and you will be surprised to learn that the average of one in every three, who are sick, in the main, stands true. Health depends, primarily, upon a perfectly poised nervous organization, and the greatest known enemy to the nervous system is coffee. Its active principle is caffeine, which is produced by the destruction of forces climaxes in some organic discase. It may be the kidneys become affected and Bright's disease sets up, it may be weak eyes, may be catarrh, stomach trouble, palpitation and heart failure, (which is becoming more and more noticeable among Americans).

Somewhere, you may depend upon it, this work will show forth in the form of disease. It may become so fixed and chronic that it cannot be thrown off. It is hard to induce a man or a woman to give up coffee when they have become addicted to its use, but if such people can be given Postum Food Coffee, they will quickly change for the better, for the food drink, when properly made, has even a more beautiful color than the ordinary coffee, and has the delicious, toothsome flavor of old government Java of the milder and higher priced grades.

The work of reorganization begins at once, for the tearing down element of coffee has been eliminated, and in its place the strong rebuilding effects of the elements contained in the food coffee, go directly to work to rebuild the broken down delicate gray matter in the nerve centers and brain. This is just plain, old-fashioned common sense that any thoughtful person can make use of; in fact, hundreds of thousands of brain workers in America have already recovered the face and are using Postum Food coffee, to their very great benefit and relief.

Lost at Sea.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—It was learned today that three Brooklyn men, Frederick V. and William H. Langston and Otto Segelke were lost at sea in last Tuesday's wind storm. The men sailed from Atlantic Highlands for Gravesend Bay, L. I., in the sloop Alaris and have not been heard from since. A pilot boat reported to-day the finding of a dingy, bearing the name Alaris and from this it is believed that the men were drowned. An ocean-going tug has been sent out to search for the yacht, however, in the hope that she may be still afloat.
